WAR AT HAND.

Since our last issue the house and senate have adopted a set of resolutions directing the president to use both the land and naval forces of the United States if necessary to end the war in Cuba and free the people of that island. On receiving notice from the president to this effect, the Spanish representative left Washington, while our minister has left Madrid, so that all we now lack of war with Spain is the initial blow, and they may be struck ere the STATESMAN reaches its readers.

An army of over 20,000 men is assembled at New Orleans, Mobile, Tampa and Chickamauga, ready to be thrown into Cuba at short notice, and arrangements are in progress to afford sufficient transportation facilities. Cuba will thus be made the theater of the war on land, but at the same time a large army will be needed to protect our coast from possible invasion. This force will probably be composed of volunteers, mainly of the national guard of the states, and it will be concentrated in camps of occupation and instruction while waiting for the demand for their services on the field of war. Such camps of instruction will be very valuable for the national guard, who will profit more in a few weeks under such conditions than they can from years of desultory drilling and encampments at home. The camps will be located at points from which exposed points on the coast can be easily reached, and if the war should continue and grow into such proportions as to require the use of a large army in the field, the intervening time can be very profitably employed.

Wisconsin troops called out for this service are likely to be sent toward the southern seaboard. Plans have already been made for an extensive encampment of troops at Chickamauga, between Chattanooga and Atlanta, on the old battle field of Chickamauga, which has been converted into a national park to preserve its historic associations. Chickamauga is filled with reminders of the patriotic deeds of American soldiers, when the blue and the gray met in one of the most desperate conflicts of the war of the rebellion. Under such influences the patriotism and enthusiasm of the volunteers will be stirred to their depths, and the lesson will be productive of good results. The south is full of such historic places, and on these old battle grounds the war spirit will take a new growth. Chickamauga park is covered with monuments erected to commemorate the valor of the troops from various states of the north in the great battle which was fought there. From thence to Atlanta every foot of the way is historic, marking the scenes of bloody conflicts nearly forty years ago.

JOHN WANNAMAKER of Philadelphia has set an example which will be followed by all employers of labor in the country. Besides offering his services to the government to raise a regiment of soldiers for the war, he issued a notice to his employees that all who enlist shall receive their full pay during their absence in the service and have their places again on their return, while $1,000 will be given to the family of each one who may lose his life during the war. It may be a mixture of patriotism, politics and advertising, but it is worthy of commendation for all that. Mr. Wannamaker is a great advertiser of his business. He is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania. But he is also a patriot, and one whose action is to be admired. In their admiration of the patriotism exhibited by him the people can afford to overlook the business and political parts of his action.

WAR on the ocean and in Cuba, with the organization of a strong army at home for the emergencies that may arise are likely to be the leading features of the contest with Spain this summer. If the war proves short, it will be so much the better; if it is protracted and needs a large military and naval force, they will grow to the necessity. War on the island of Cuba during the wet season now about to come on will be no child's play, but probably the government knows what it is about. But whatever demand the government makes upon the people of this country will be honored, regardless of the consequences. An army of 100,000 men can be put into the field in a month if necessary. Spain is bankrupt and she has lost thousands of soldiers in the Cuban war. She is nearly at the end of her resources, while ours all remain.

The travel to Klondike has fallen off about five-sixths of what was expected this spring, and it is evident that Alaska will be less crowded than was expected last fall. Too many have suffered privation and almost death in that country, and returned tell the story for the Klondike fever to continue very high. The people are cooling off, few caring to risk their lives for a few ounces of gold.

LUMBER LETTER.

We had quite a heavy snow storm Tuesday morning. Our public schools opened last Monday, after a 2-weeks' vacation. Mrs. Wm. Schultz is on the sick list. We wish her a speedy recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel Beisler attended the funeral of Mrs. A. Guidek at St. Bridget last Wednesday. A number of our people attended the entertainment at the Ashford Catholic school house last Sunday evening. An immense supply of lumber is arriving every week at Peter Wolf's yards; and, judging by the teams we see hauling lumber out into the country daily, there must be considerable building going on in this vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. L. Schultz went to Fond du Lac last Tuesday to attend the funeral of her sister, Miss Emma Koepnick, who died at the home of her parents in that city last Sunday at the age of 23 years. The deceased was well known and had many friends in this vicinity who, together with her parents, mourn her demise. May she rest in peace.

BOLTONVILLE BUDGET.

Michael Lambrecht is on the sick list. Miss Jennie Mulvaney spent Sunday at home. Rev. Montanus visited at Barton last Monday. Richard Heinemann is the owner of a new bicycle. John Schoetz made a trip to Milwaukee this week. J. Lussenden was at Saukville on business lately. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neibler spent Sunday at West Bend. Miss Annie Mulvaney is visiting her friends in the Cream City. Albert Hepp made a business trip to Milwaukee last Monday. F. M. Schuler is having his woodshed remodeled for a summer kitchen. A number of our young people attended the Public school entertainment at Kewaskum last Saturday evening. Messrs. Ed. and Dan Dullea left for Minnesota last Thursday. The latter went to seek employment, while the former intends to visit relatives for some time before returning.

The 2-year-old son of W. L. Ferguson of Bolton, Miss., had whooping cough. "After several physicians had prescribed for him, without giving relief," writes Mr. Ferguson, "I purchased my wife to try one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The first dose had the desired effect, and in 48 hours he was entirely free from all cough. I consider your remedy the best in the market, especially for children, and recommend it at all times." The 25 and 50c sizes are for sale by L. Rosenheimer.

Indian Antipathy to Fish. At a meeting in Baltimore of the American Folklore society Dr. Washington Matthews of Washington read a paper on "Ichthyophobia," which he described as an antipathy to fish. This aversion is especially strong in the Navajo, Apache and other Indian tribes of the far southwest, who will not eat fish or have anything to do with articles made in the shape of fish. This "taboo" with the Navajos extends to all things connected with water. A probable reason why no more children of these tribes are sent east to be educated, Dr. Matthews thought, was a fear that they might be required to overcome this cherished "taboo" superstition, which is as firmly rooted as any religion. A legend to account for this fish "taboo" was given. There was a time when food was scarce, and the mountain Indians had a big powwow with the river Indians. The result was that the river Indians agreed to kill no deer, but live entirely on fish, and the mountain Indians agreed to eat no fish, but live entirely upon deer. This made food plenty for both. In the discussion of the paper it was stated that the Zunni Indians will not eat fish because savage tribes in desert lands regard water as sacred because of its scarcity, and this reverence extends to animal life in water. Several members thought perhaps this idea conveyed the true reason for the fish "taboo." Baltimore Sun.

Immigrants and New York. Ernest Ingersoll writes for St. Nicholas a paper on the Greater New York entitled "Reasoning Out a Metropolis." Mr. Ingersoll says: The merchants of New York sent to the continent of Europe more ships than the merchants of other cities, who traded mainly with Great Britain, so that this city was better known throughout Europe, and her vessels were the handiest for emigrants from France, Germany and Holland. Agents of the New York merchants at the end of the government, who were seeking and encouraging immigration, could show that this port was the most advantageous landing place for a man who was going on west, and the sea captains explained that it was the safest and quickest port to make because the course lay south of the stormy, foggy region north of Cape Cod, and the city was much closer to the open sea than either Philadelphia or Baltimore. At any rate immigration increased in favor of New York as time went on, and the stream of incoming people swelled until in the decade from 1884 to 1894 it amounted to about 500,000 immigrants a year, 590,666 arriving in 1890 alone, not counting those from Canada and Mexico.

Mistakes of the "Publisher's Reader." I was speaking of some of my experiences as a publisher's "reader," a few years ago, in a recent conversation with a friend, who told me that Mr. John Morley had read "Mr. Isaacs" for Messrs. Macmillan and had advised against its publication on the ground that while it would be most creditable to have on their list, there would be no sale for it. In the light of subsequent events this is rather amusing, but it only proves that even so astute a critic as Mr. Morley is not infallible—in other words, that he is human.—Critic.

SCOTT SAYINGS.

Farmers hope they have seen the last snow storm of the season, as the one of last Wednesday, considerably delayed them in their spring sowing. Mr. Gessner made over 40 gallons of syrup this spring. Mr. and Mrs. Nigh of Barton, were the guests of J. Aupperle's family Sunday at St. Bridget last Wednesday. H. J. Ebenreiter of Kewaskum was a caller in this neighborhood this week. Wheelmen may again be seen in this vicinity on a fair Sunday afternoon. Miss Louisa and Emma Gessner were guests at Mr. Glass's Sunday. A party of young people were entertained at Mr. Doman's Sunday evening. Mat. Stadler is doing carpenter work for his brother Jacob. Miss Louisa Backhaus was one of the lucky ones to win a prize at the medicine show at Beechwood. She won a new dress. Mrs. Schroter is suffering from a bad cold, and Mrs. Etta from a gripe. Chas. Row and Frank Melter of Seymour, who have been visiting relatives in this town, have returned to their homes. John Aupperle attended the meeting of Modern Woodmen at Boltonville last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Brontenberg was a guest of Mrs. G. Seefeld Wednesday. Henry Aupperle of Milwaukee is visiting relatives here. Mrs. Brazelton spent last Wednesday evening at Boltonville. Miss Bartel, who had been working at J. Kluth's, has returned to her home near Beechwood. We are sorry to state that Mr. Stahl's child, who accidentally got a piece of bone in its throat, several weeks ago, is not recovering as speedily as was hoped for.

Sunday afternoon a large number of people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hack to celebrate the occasion of the latter's 50th anniversary. Besides the neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell from the town line were present. All enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess, and we join with them in wishing her many returns of the day.

DUNDEE DOINGS. Mrs. Thos. White is on the sick list. James Murray made a business trip to Hartford Thursday. Rev. B. J. Burke made a brief call on friends here Wednesday. Joseph Koenig of Fond du Lac gave our saloon cheques a call Tuesday. Our local cheese factory opened last Thursday with 1200 pounds of milk. E. J. Arimond transacted business in Campbellsport and Kewaskum Monday. Edward Gariety is visiting with his brother Michael at New Cassel this week. Quite a number of our young people attended the dance at Elksville Sunday evening. E. T. Calvey and C. Kirchner, transacted business at Fond du Lac Wednesday. Matt. Hosterman, the well driller of Hartford, transacted business here Tuesday. Messrs. Joe. Calloun and Robert Raymond were the guests of friends in this vicinity Sunday. Mrs. Patrick Murray and son Joseph were the guests of friends at Eden and Marblehead Sunday. Messrs. Schimmelpennig and Fleischmann of Campbellsport transacted business in our village Tuesday. If you are in need of a new milk can, call on E. J. Arimond; he sells the Wm. Noltz 4X can for $2.75. E. J. Arimond is making some improvements on one of his houses. Dr. J. J. O'Neal will occupy the same as soon as it is finished. A large crowd attended the raffle and dance last Wednesday eve. Mr. Dooley of Cascade held the lucky number, 45, that won the silk quilt. The ladies of the congregation passed a lunch at 11 P. M. and the amount derived from the affair was $29.50 which now almost makes enough to buy an organ.

Weekly Newspaper's Value. A writer in the Review of Reviews sums up the attributes of the weekly as follows: "Each copy is read not only by the five people usually credited to the ordinary paper, but by twice that number in many instances, for many subscribers pass their paper on to inmates of less fortunate homes. These publications are preeminently the home papers of newspapers. They are not superficially scanned while men travel to business and then left for brakemen to gather up. They go directly into homes, and the reading of them is a duty as well as a pleasure. Hence their peculiar value to advertisers and their value as molders of public opinion."

MAKING EDITORS.—A sign over a weekly newspaper office at Billville, Ga., reads: "News paper Business Taught Here. Editors Graduated in Three Weeks for the Cash. Make an Editor of Yourself on Reasonable Terms." The sign attracted the curiosity of a visitor to the town, and he went in and called on the editor who proposed to do so much for the country in so short a time. "Yes, sir," he said, in reply to a question, "we do what we say. We've graduated 20 editors in the last year, and they're all running flourishing newspapers, and abusing the government. All you need to enter the class is a pair of scissors and six dollars."—X.

BEECHWOOD BEAMLETS. Chas. Petermann, one of our blacksmiths, is crowded with work, which indicates success. G. A. Kreuzinger leased his creamery at Campbellsport to Joney Bros. of Brownsville last Monday. The Cactus Oil Co. have moved their outfit to Dundee, where they will give performances and sell medicines. Chas. Koch, our merchant, was kept busy delivering potatoes to his brother August at Kewaskum last Tuesday. Louis Schaefer, who had been called to assist his cousin, John Schaefer, at Kewaskum, has returned home again. Menske & Reysen, our masons are at present engaged in erecting a solid wall, which is to be the foundation of a residence for Herman Weinbauer. Theodore Mertes held the lucky number that drew the lady's gold watch, which was given away by the Cactus Oil Co. last Wednesday night. Ed. Stahl, who had been at home from Milwaukee for a few days, was suddenly called to the side of his infant child, which was in a critical condition from the effects of an operation. At the present writing, however, the baby is slowly gaining.

Brandt has put in a Champion wagon scale at his place—a thing that was needed here long ago. John Lay moved his household goods to Clintonville last Tuesday, and himself and wife followed Friday. John will go into the furniture business at that place. The following attended the Public school entertainment at Kewaskum last Saturday night, viz: Rosa Petri, Katie Martin, Sophia Brandt, John Brandt, George and Will Foerster. Petri Bros. now have the Earle bicycles, which are high grade wheels, on sale at their place, and have sold several of them already, though the season has but fairly opened.

Free admission, free lunch and free dance. Stephen Ketter was kicked by one of the horses in his barn last Monday and sustained a fracture of his right thigh, and will be laid up for some time as a result thereof. OBITUARY.—Catherine Kudeck (nee Kraus) died of heart disease, at her home last Monday, in the 51st year of her age. She immigrated to this country from Bohemia with her parents in 1859, and married Anton Kudeck in 1870; six children were born to them—4 girls and 2 boys, who with her husband mourn her demise. The funeral took place at 10 a. m. Wednesday with services at St. Bridget church and interment in the adjoining cemetery. May she rest in peace.

How to Raise War Money. Members of the Ways and Means committee of the house are busily engaged with the treasury officials in the work preliminary to the drafting of a war revenue measure to be introduced in congress immediately upon the opening of hostilities with Spain. An increase in the internal revenue tax on beer from $1 to $2 per barrel and a large increase in the tax on manufactured tobacco, including cigars and cigarettes, have been practically agreed upon. Bank checks, bills of exchange, drafts, deeds, mortgages and other paper of this class, patent medicines and nostrums in all probability will also be added to the list. A rough estimate of the receipts to be derived from this source is that the increase on these articles alone will approximate if not exceed $10,000,000 a year. Beer, it is thought, will produce an increase of $5,000,000, manufactured tobacco an increase of $3,000,000 or more, and commercial paper and patent medicines $2,000,000. Another source of revenue, which is almost certain to be used, is transactions in railroad and other listed stocks. It is believed that the returns from this source will be large. In all the figures, so far, the remaining industries and the professions which were taxed for strictly war revenues during the rebellion have been left out of the account. A bill providing for a temporary loan of $100,000,000 and a permanent loan of from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 at 3 per cent., payable in coin, has been prepared by the Ways and Means committee and will be immediately introduced in case of war.—X.

Benny Fraser of Clark county is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity. Charles Sprowdow has greatly improved his house by giving it a coat of paint. W. J. Romaine and wife and George Romaine and family spent Sunday at J. W. Bells. Mr. and Mrs. Treat of the Cactus Oil Co. made a brief call in our burg on the 14th inst. Messrs. Joe and Lawrence Doyle started for the north on the 14th inst. to work on the north. Martin Blackmore and Philip Kaiser passed through here last Wednesday enroute to Campbellsport. An erroneous statement was made last week in saying that J. Rinze has moved into Sprowdow's house, though he intends to move in the near future. "I feel it my duty to give you a truthful statement of what Chamberlain's Cholera, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy did," writes J. S. Collins of Moore, S. C. "I had a child about two years old, that had the diarrhoea for two months. I tried all the best known remedies, but none gave the least relief. When this remedy came to hand, I gave it as directed, and in two days the child was completely cured." Sold by L. Rosenheimer.
