HEARTIEST GREETINGS.

Progress of Presidential Train Impeded by Demonstrative Crowds.

New Orleans, La., May 2.—Coming across the cotton belt and the lowlying valley of the Yazoo the President's special train reached New Orleans yesterday afternoon. The town was in gala attire. It was never again as far from the President as it is today. A resident in office has visited the city.

It was another day of delight for the members of the President's party. Everywhere Mr. McKinley has been greeted with the sincerest marks of affection and esteem. At some of the stops the crowds actually impeded the progress of the train and the engineer was obliged to slow down to avoid danger.

The air was full of the blare of bands, the booming of cannon and the scream of whistles from the hundreds of people who lined the streets. The train drew into the New Orleans station. Here the President and his party were met by the cheering throngs.

A GALLOWAY HERD.

Author of "The Lilac Sunbonnet," "The Raiders," "The Stuck Minister," "Dog, Myrtle and Pat," Etc., Etc.

CHAPTER XXXI.—(Continued.) While he bent over his work, oblivious to all else, two pairs of bright eyes stole to the barrel, and looked over in wonder and delight.

"Hooley" and his brother, better known as "Sawney Bean's Deil," the "Hooley" had revealed the existence of this fascinating prisoner to her brother with mysterious words.

"Gin I tell ye something, Deil," she said, "ye'll swear to tell meebly?" "I'll say as sure as afove," said the "Hooley."

"No; ye said that afore, an' ye said an' told my father, ye'll hae to cross it in blud this time," said the "Hooley," who was far advanced in the treacherous work of the occult sciences.

Whereupon she drew out of her pocket a thin black leather-covered little book of some twenty leaves, covered with such signs as children draw when they are writing their letters.

"Hooley" drew back and he took a look at the book. He saw that it was a book of magic, and he was very much interested.

"Hooley" answered by a rapid twirl of the pointed bone between her fingers and thumb, while she held her right hand over her forehead.

"Ow! ye're ruddy!" said the "Deil," wringing his arm out of his grasp.

Earth Hunger the Cause of War.

The greatest wars in history have really been commercial wars. The heroic struggle to the death of the ancient world between Rome and Carthage was for the control of the trade of the Mediterranean, and the wars of modern history were fought in the main to secure the command of the leading trade routes. Our long wars with Spain, France and Holland were of this character, and the rewards of victory were reaped by our manufacturers and our merchants. "Earth hunger" is an almost meaningless phrase at the present day, except with reference to commerce. Even Russia, whose industries are still in their infancy, looks forward to the time when she will produce for herself all her manifold requirements and so become rich.—London Telegraph.

Western Horses Scarce.

There seems to be a general opinion among the horse raisers of the Black Hills that the government will have to lower the standard of horseflesh for cavalry purposes before any great number of horses can be furnished. J. P. Gammon, a horseman of the Black Hills, states that it will be difficult for the government to get the necessary number of western horses for the new regiments to be shipped at Fort Meade. The contract price is not high enough to attract owners of good horses, as they get as good prices in the open market and not subject to severe horse inspectors. Gammon states that the number of good horses on the Black Hills ranges is limited.—Deadwood (S. D.) Cor. Omaha Bee.

It's Easy To Take

"Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. I quickly secured a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure, giving her three doses. The croup was mastered and our little darling speedily recovered!" So writes A. L. Spafford, Chester, Mich.

Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health.

You can get it in this way.

We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.

A Peculiar Death.

Mrs. Paulina Luedke (nee Petermann), sister of August Petermann, died yesterday last Monday at her home, 595 Potter ave., Milwaukee. The Milwaukee Sentinel gives the following: "She was apparently well and happy the day before, and worked about the house as usual. About 5 o'clock in the morning her husband was awakened by her groans, and arose to find her dying at his side. Before a physician could respond, she was dead. Assistant Health Commissioner A. J. Patek conducted a post mortem examination yesterday, but was unable to definitely decide upon the cause of death and took the stomach of the woman to Analyst W. C. Bennett of the Health Department for investigation." Mrs. Luedke was 40 years of age and leaves besides her husband 5 small children, the youngest of which is 6 months old. The funeral took place at Milwaukee Tuesday at 2 p. m.

Band Convention.

The Northwestern Band Convention will be held in the city of Mayville, Dodge county, on June 16th, and an invitation will be sent out to 30 different bands in the counties of Washington and Dodge. The "Journal" Band, of Milwaukee, has already accepted the invitation and plans have been outlined for an Excursion from Milwaukee to Mayville.

Band Convention.

The Band Convention has been arranged by the Hook and Ladder Band of Mayville. The members of the band being also members of the Fire Department, will be backed by the firemen of the above named city, who lend a helping hand to the Band Boys in their enterprise.

Band Convention.

The committee of arrangements consists of nine prominent business men of the city of Mayville. They all hustle for the celebration and it is expected that many hundreds of guests from Milwaukee and other cities will participate. Mayville has the reputation of being in line with the best of resorts for amusement. The location is quite picturesque as well as romantic and the park on the shores of Rock River is by no means one of the least. The Turnfest, which was held there two years ago brought many thousands of people to that city and all spoke highly of the entertainment Mayville had in store for them.

Band Convention.

The feature of the convention will be that about thirty bands will play four pieces of music in unison and then selections by each band will follow, making the celebration one grand concert and a musical contest, interesting for all musicians as well as for all lovers of good music.

Band Convention.

A. Holzmann of New York City, composer of "Hunky Dory," "Smoky Mokes," "The Calantha Waltzes," etc. has furnished the music, to be played in unison, free of charge.

Band Convention.

"I have been suffering from Dyspepsia for the past twenty years and have been unable after trying all preparations and physicians to get any relief. After taking one bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure I found relief and am now in better health than I have been for twenty years. I can not praise Kodol Dyspepsia Cure too highly," writes Mrs. C. W. Roberts, North Creek, Ark. All druggists.

Band Convention.

The Young People's Social Circle has issued some very pretty invitations for a May social, which will be given in Marx's hall next Friday night, and will undoubtedly prove the social event of the season.

Band Convention.

—Smith Bros. had quite a lot of goods damaged in their hardware store last Monday afternoon when a shelf filled with stock, which had not been securely fastened to the wall fell over. Several stoves, on which the wreck fell were broken and many other articles damaged. The firm estimates their loss at about $100.

Band Convention.

—D. C. Mayer met with an accident last Tuesday afternoon while out driving with one of his broncos, which he had hitched up single for the first time. He was on his way home, and when he reached within a mile east of here, the animal began to kick so fiercely that Mr. Mayer thought it unsafe to remain in the rig, and by jumping out, accidentally got caught in the wheel and fell, receiving some bad bruises on his face. The horse kept on kicking until it released itself from the rig and then came home.

Band Convention.

A free exhibition was tendered our burg last Friday by a quintet of the fair sex. The gang, it seemed par-took too freely of intoxicating drinks and consequently were all in high spirits. After having left our little hamlet, they made a raid upon the rail fences along the road (in short they measured the width of the road) but with successful manuevering landed safely at home. This however did not satisfy their craving for adventure, so after making themselves in masculine dress they proceeded to the home of one of our citizens, where another farce was enacted. Phil. however was not so well pleased with his unexpected visitors and he was wise enough not to inform the public of the proceedings of the members of the gang.
