is drying out nicely and in most sections farmers were able during the latter part of the week to do some of the much-needed cultivation of corn and potatoes.

The very decided increase of temperature during the week has been very beneficial to all crops, especially corn, and in most sections of the state the outlook is decidedly promising. A week or ten days of dry weather with full sunshine is needed.

Winter rye is headed out well. The growth of straw is very rank and in some sections there is complaint of lodging. Winter wheat is in promising condition and two weeks of warm weather would bring it nearly to maturity.

Oats, barley, spring wheat and rye, especially on high ground, have made excellent growth. As a rule the growth of straw is unusually heavy and there is a tendency to lodging. The outlook for these crops is, however, decidedly promising.

The high temperature with abundant moisture in the soil has brought corn forward very rapidly and in some of the southern counties the stand is reported about ten inches high. The fields are quite weedy, as a rule, on account of the continued wet weather, which prevented cultivation. In the central section, where the rains were excessive and continuous, much replanting has been necessary.

As a rule potatoes are in promising condition in the southern counties. In the principal potato counties there has, however, been too much rain and the fields are much in need of cultivation. Potato bugs are very numerous and doing considerable damage. Dry weather is needed for this crop.

Clover is rapidly nearing maturity and in some sections some has been cut. The crop is very heavy and dry weather is needed to secure it. Timothy is very rank and everything points to a very heavy crop. Pastures are furnishing an abundance of feed.

Sugar beets are coming up nicely. Field peas and beans are doing well. Gardens are generally in satisfactory condition.

Strawberries are ripening. The vines are generally well loaded. Apples are setting well. Cherries are ripening and the crop is generally satisfactory.

Cutting a Halleluam. During a severe hailstorm in the Himalayas our native gardener brought out a hatchet and placed it edge upward in the garden to "cut the storm," as he said. Catlin, in his "North American Indians," describes a ceremony of the Mandan Indians in which hatchets and edged tools are sacrificed to the "spirits of the waters" to avert a recurrence of the great deluge, of which the tribe has the tradition. - Notes and Queries.

She Might Wish. "I have always allowed my wife to wish something for herself for every birthday since we have been married." "What does she wish generally?" "Well, the last fifteen times she has been wishing for a piano."

Grammatical Discussion. Young Arduppe—is it right to say "dear" or "dearest" to a woman? Miss Arrows—Miss Arrows—Oh, both are allowable. For instance, I deem you a nice young man, but I cannot consider you at all.

Had to Hunt For It. She (at the theater)—I don't understand what the detective is supposed to be doing in this piece. He—fancy he is looking for the plot.

It requires less effort to be polite than disagreeable.—Dallas News.

Weekly Crop Bulletin. (For week ending Monday, June 19, 1905)

The week just closed has been very favorable for the growth of crops and the advancement of farm work, except in some of the north-central counties, where the wet weather continued. This section comprises most of Outagamie, Langlade, Oneida, Forest, and portions of Marathon and Lincoln counties, and the excessive rainfall of the current week, following the almost unprecedented rains of last week, has proven very discouraging to the farmers in that section of the state. Elsewhere the ground
