PANAMA POSTS COMBINED

PANAMA CHIEF TO TAKE CHARGE OF RYAN-BELMONT TRACTION LINES IN NEW YORK.

NEW SYSTEM FOR CANAL

Clash with Stevens, Criticism and Social Affair at Capital Also Given as Causes for Resignation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Announcement was made at the war department today that the office of chairman and chief engineer of construction of the Panama canal would be combined and that John F. Stevens, the present chief engineer, would be given the appointment, the understanding being that he will maintain a residence on the isthmus.

Theodore P. Shonts resigned as chairman of the isthmian canal commission to take an undoubtedly much higher salary than he has received from the government, the presidency of the Interborough-Metropolitan company.

CAREER OF SHONTS NOTABLE

Retiring Head of Panama Commission Expected to Retire Early.

Theodore P. Shonts, just resigned as head of the Panama canal commission, was president of the Toledo, Peoria & Western road for more than a year at the time of his appointment in 1905. He began his railway career in 1881. He was born in Great Britain, in the town of Glasgow, fifty years ago and graduated with the class of 1876 at Monmouth college. In July, 1881, he became president of the Iowa Construction company, which was then building a railroad, and a year later he was made superintendent of the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa railroad, which position he occupied for four years.

Interborough-Metropolitan company of New York—the Belmont-Ryan syndicate that controls the subway and elevated rail system of Greater New York.

The resignation of Chairman Shonts, it also was stated, will be followed by his resignation as president of the Panama railway company.

President Roosevelt has accepted the resignation to take effect March 4, in a letter as follows:

I accept your resignation as chairman of the Panama canal commission, to take effect on March 4, with extreme reluctance. I do so merely because I do not feel justified in preventing your acceptance of the position you have been asked to take in New York.

There were rumors of differences over the matter of letting the canal contract that possibly may have hastened Mr. Shonts' resignation.

Mr. Shonts got $200,000 a year from the government. News of the resignation and of Mr. Stevens' election as president of the Interborough-Metropolitan company has taken place, according to advice from New York, caused no surprise among senators who have been closely identified with Panama canal affairs.

SENATOR R. A. ALGER DIES.

MICHIGAN MAN PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

Death Ends Remarkable Career, Which Began When He Was Orphaned Boy at 12 Working as Farm Hand.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—United States Senator Russell A. Alger of Michigan died suddenly at his home in this city at 8:45 o'clock this morning. There were practically no premonitory symptoms that the end was near. At half past 8 o'clock the senator left his home and went to the Michigan temple in the city. He returned at 10 o'clock and went to bed. A few minutes later the senator suffered a rupture of the heart from which he had suffered for a long time and death came quickly.

Was Ill for Some Time. The senator had not been feeling well for several days. Tuesday night he had expected to attend a reception of Representative William Alden Smith, but at the last moment word came from that he would not be able to come. His physician had advised him against going out that night because of his not feeling well. Mr. Alger had suffered for years from chronic valvular disease of the heart.

Senator Alger was in the Senate chamber Tuesday afternoon, where he stayed throughout most of the session listening to the discussion of the Bryan-Vanderbilt bill. About 4 o'clock he retired to the cloak room where he sat with Col. Hansell, sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, and Senator Warner of Missouri, telling war stories.

Worked Way Through College. Russell Alexander Alger was born in Madison county, Ohio, February 27, 1830. He was left an orphan at 12 years of age and for seven years he worked on a farm, earning money with which to attend school during the winters. After he had completed his education he taught school for a short time and then admitted to the bar in 1850. He practiced law in Cleveland for a short time and then returned to Michigan, where he became a partner in a small way. In September, 1861, he enlisted in the Second Michigan regiment and went to the front.

He rose from the rank of captain to that of major-general of volunteers. His gallant service led to his appointment at Booneville, Ky., as described by Gen. Sheridan in his "Personal Memoirs."

It was as Gen. Alger fought the battle of Antietam, where he was charged with intercepting a funeral cortege with an automobile.

ALL AFTER THE MONEY. FOND DU LAC, Wis., Jan. 25.—As the result of a balance of $81,500 from the sale of the estate of Theodore Koopke, two actions have already been brought in circuit court and another is said to be pending. At the regular January term of court the money was given to the clerk of courts, and was practically granted the money for the care of her two children. Peter Richter then brought suit for the money on account of a judgment. He got the money and it is said that the Commercial bank now intends to try it.

SURVEY WORK PROGRESSES. FOND DU LAC, Wis., Jan. 25.—The work of surveying the proposed route for the Fox River Valley Electric railroad is being pushed rapidly and has been completed as far as 10 miles north of Clintonville. It is planned to complete the surveying as soon as the weather improves. The construction work begins early in the spring. During the winter the railroad work has been delayed to some extent by the snow.

To Hold Funeral Saturday. The news of the death was communicated to President Roosevelt and Vice President Fairbanks, the latter being the first to call at the residence. The funeral was followed by Senator-elect William Alden Smith and by Truman Newberry, assistant secretary of the Senate.

The funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the family residence in this city. Burial will be taken to Detroit, Mich., for burial.

Senator Alger is survived by his widow and five children as follows: Mrs. Charles B. Pike of Chicago; Mrs. H. B. Sheldon of Detroit; Mrs. Frank H. Bailey of Harrisonburg, Va.; Russell A. Alger, Jr., Detroit, who is now in Florida; and Capt. P. M. Alger, now in the service of the United States.

The Senate adjourned at 12:17 on account of the death of Senator Alger.

The body is expected to arrive in Detroit about 11 o'clock Sunday morning. By request of Mrs. Alger, Mrs. Ecker, an intimate friend and business associate, will take charge of the funeral arrangements in Detroit, which will consist of religious service at the Alger family home at 2 Monday afternoon. It has not yet been determined whether or not a military escort shall be sent.

The House also adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late senator.

SWETTENHAM CASE ENDS.

President Roosevelt Dismisses Incident from His Consideration—Latest Death Estimate Is 2000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The President has finally dismissed the incident connected with the refusal of Gov. Swettenham of Jamaica to aid from Admiral Davis. The latest report of conditions in Jamaica is the following cablegram from American Vice Consul Orrett: "Estimated loss by earthquake 2000. Five lives lost. Loss by earthquake impossible to say."

Kingston, Jan. 24.—Two earthquake shocks, the heaviest since the destructive ones of January 14, were felt here yesterday afternoon. Several buildings were thrown down and there was great alarm among the people. No one was injured.

A careful comparison made at the navy department between the letters as furnished by Admiral Davis and those that appeared in the press show that they are substantially alike. Admiral Davis is pleased that the President has dismissed the incident from his consideration. Several circumstances are combining to create feeling against Swettenham.

Kingston supplies of food were running short. Ships with supplies arrived, but matters are made uncertain by the refusal of the chief of the navy department of the government, the London Tribune, is incensed because Swettenham refused to aid from Admiral Davis.

A dispatch from Kingston, dated yesterday, says: "The correspondence between Gov. Swettenham and Admiral Davis, published this morning, has intensified the strong public feeling against the governor."

Mail Order Merchant Takes the Oath.
R. H. McDonald of Barton, who was recently convicted by the federal authorities of using the mails to defraud, Monday appeared before United States Commissioner Bloodgood, took the poor man's oath and was discharged from the house of correction where he had been confined.

McDonald was sentenced to imprisonment for thirty days and the payment of a fine of $100. According to the federal law, the prisoner was compelled to serve his imprisonment sentence and then thirty days additional for the fine, after which he could obtain his freedom by taking an oath to the effect that he had no property with which to pay the fine. His sixty days expired Sunday.

Prior to his arrest, McDonald conducted a mail order business, representing to be a merchant, and by this method obtaining goods on credit from Milwaukee and Chicago wholesale houses.

A Mild Winter.
The winter up to date has been mild and open. Much discussion has been indulged in regarding the theory that the seasons are undergoing a material change in this country. Statistics and records are quoted to show that the "good old-fashioned" winter has become a thing of the past, and that mild and open winters are becoming more frequent and pronounced. Various theories are advanced to prove that this is a fundamental and lasting change, due to the wider area of land under cultivation, the changing of the earth's electrical currents, or changes in the sun itself. Most scientists however agree that while these various factors may affect temperature and climate to a certain extent, nevertheless there is no reason to believe that real and lasting changes have occurred with respect to the seasons.

For Protection of Freight.
The North-Western railroad has made something of an innovation with the purpose of protecting itself against damage to freights. Several freight and passenger agents of the Madison division met in convention at Madison and organized under the name of the North-Western Agents' association and elected these officers: President, J. P. Gething, Madison; vice president, John Fox, Elroy; secretary, H. B. Adams, Caledonia.

This plan will be tried on four divisions, the Galena, the Iowa, the Wisconsin and the Madison. Inspectors will be appointed whose duty it will be to go with freight trains wherever they deem it advisable, making suggestions to conductors and brakemen in relation to handling freight —Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Graw recommends that the rural carriers maximum salary be raised to $900 per annum. The resignations of 4451 rural letter carriers were accepted during the year. This is the greatest number resigning in any one year in the history of the service. Under the law the maximum compensation which may be paid a rural carrier is $720 per annum. Inasmuch as rural carriers are required to furnish and maintain their horses and vehicles, and in view of the rigorous conditions under which they must perform their duties and the increased cost of living, it is recommended that the maximum salary be raised to $900 per annum.

Now, it is plain that there are only two things to be done—lay the old clock aside for good and all, or let us fix it for you.
