Take Notice! The postmaster general has issued the following order, which went into effect on January 1. It applies to all newspapers which circulate through the mails:

A reasonable time will be allowed publishers to secure renewals of subscriptions, but unless subscriptions are expressly renewed after the term for which they are paid, within the following periods:

Dailies, within three months; Weeklies, within one year;

they shall be counted in the legitimate list of subscribers, and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at the second-class postage rate of one cent a pound, but may be mailed at the transient second-class postal rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed.

This order means that subscribers to the STATESMAN who are in arrears for one year or more must renew or pay up their subscriptions at once in order to enable us to continue sending their papers through the mails.

Our readers will find the date of expiration on their paper and by referring to this they can readily see when their subscription expires. If it has expired send us your renewal at your first opportunity so that we can continue to send the STATESMAN to you. KEWASKUM STATESMAN.

Twenty Years Too Late. A young farmer near town who does not believe in patronizing home merchants sent to a mail order house for a suit of clothes. In the pocket of the pants he found the following note: "Should this fall into the hands of a good looking man who desires to correspond with a young lady of sweet disposition, kindly address, etc." The aforesaid mail order man promptly sent a letter to the address and a few days ago received the following reply:

"Sir: My wife received a letter from you addressed in her maiden name. Twenty years ago when she worked in a factory she might have written the note. She is now the mother of seventeen children and my lawful wife. If you do not cut out writing to her, I will take a trip to your town and make you look like two cents worth of dog meat."-Ex.

Many Color Lines In Cuba. There are social distinctions in Cuba based upon color. There is not one but several color lines, though these are not eternal, hard, fast and unchangeable, as in the United States. In Cuba social life is run largely by social clubs. There are in almost every town and village negro clubs, two or three grades of mulatto clubs and white clubs. In one and in all functions may appear the husband, excluding the wife; in another, the wife, but not the husband; in a third, their children, but neither the father nor mother. To the world this will appear incredible, almost incomprehensible. Here it is convention, fixed, settled, accepted and operative. These distinctions, however, run but for a lifetime.

Too Much For Him. "Andrew," said a devoted wife to her husband, "I want a hundred." "A hundred what?" exclaimed the husband. "Dollars," she replied calmly. "What for?" "Oh, a whole lot of things." "Um-um," he hesitated. "I guess I shall have to check your extravagance, my dear." "Do," she smiled, "and make it payable to my order, please."

He collapsed then and there.-Brooklyn Citizen.

The Persian Language. Persian is said to be not a very difficult language. The modern Persian is very much like the English in its sensible rejection of the inflections that burden so many of the world's tongues. There is no difference of termination to mark the gender either in nouns or adjectives, and all luminative things are neuter. In other words the Persian language conforms to the English.

Illegal. Ethel-That sixteen-year-old boy asked me to marry him. Edith-And you threw him over? Ethel-Yes; told him it was against the law to catch lobster so young.-Judge's Library.

Not Depressed. "He says his whole life is a fizzle." "Is he so pessimistic?" "Not a bit of it. He's merely the clerk that attends to the soda water drinks."-Baltimore American.

It is for want of application rather than want of men fall of success.-La Rochefoucauld.

You can't think of even one reason why goods that we sell should ever be bought anywhere else.

There isn't less to pay by buying away from home.

There aren't newer designs than we offer.

There isn't anything like as convenient a service.

You can't handle the goods before you decide to take them.

And you can't be SURE of what you are getting unless you handle the goods beforehand.

For these reasons we submit that buying at home results in as much advantage to you as to us.

TESTING THE EYES. Sometimes when people get spectacles which suit them, they go on wearing them for years without having their sight tested to discover whether any change has taken place. This is wrong. All who wear glasses should have their eyes tested at intervals, even if the necessity be not apparent to them.

As a general rule spectacles for old sight require changing about every three years, but it is desirable that the sight should be carefully tested every two years. Whenever you feel uneasy in your spectacles, don't hesitate to call and see us, even if you have worn them a short time only, as we are glad to help you. If no change is necessary we will tell you.

GIRLHOOD AND Scott's Emulsion are linked together.

The girl who takes Scott's Emulsion has plenty of rich, red blood; she is plump, active and energetic.

The reason is that at a period when a girl's digestion is weak, Scott's Emulsion provides her with powerful nourishment in easily digested form.

It is a food that builds and keeps up a girl's strength.
