THE STORY OF ANETTE.

CHAPTER VI.—(Continued.)

"How can you be so cowardly?" I cry indignantly. "You told me you got the bog-myrtle from that very place, and you would see an animal die before your eyes?"

"It is quite impossible to save the poor beast," he continues, "I would do anything practicable. Do let me help you, you cannot get down there alone."

"But I do not need him and an wildly scolding over when to my delight I see Mohun running towards the twins as fast as he can along the lower path."

"Just as he knew what to do in the previous emergency when Christie was hurt, so again he takes in the whole situation at a glance. He disappears from my sight for an instant and goes towards the right wing of the house."

"I am in a hurry; please let me go." "I will not," he says, "Nan, you shall tell me. I have a right to know. I want to know what is on your birthday."

"I do not love you!" he cries again, seizing me in a tight grip. "Look me in the eyes and tell me if you do not love me!"

Don't forget the Leap Year dance on Easter Monday evening, April 20, given in John Gales' Hall. A good time is promised if the weather is nice.

Fred Zuehlke and William Rauch from near Elmore rented the Matt Hoerig 40 acre farm this year for $25. The farm is in section 2, town of Wayne.

George Schmidt and John Breseman have won the reputation as great pedestrians. They started out Sunday morning and walked to Waupun, Mayville, Knowles and Brownsville and returned here Tuesday evening.

BOLTONVILLE BUDGET.

Farmers hereabouts have begun seeding.

Walter and Joe Geib spent Sunday at Waubesa.

Mrs. J. Schoetz was a West Bend caller last Tuesday.

Mrs. G. C. Lussenden is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Edith Smith is home from Waubesa on an Easter vacation.

J. Burgess and wife spent Monday with friends in the village.

Ed. Riley and wife of West Bend were callers here last Sunday.

Dr. Morgenroth is putting in cement walks about his residence.

J. Stahler moved his sawing outfit from the mill yard on Thursday.

Jessie Row spent Friday and Saturday with relatives at Batavia.

Olga Goerler of Aurora spent the latter part of last week at her home here.

Invitations are out for a Leap Year dance given by the R. N. A. on April 25th.

A. Rodenkirch of West Bend was a guest of C. Klauke and wife Sunday afternoon.

H. Garbisch went to Kewaskum Tuesday where he purchased a double carriage.

Bertha Ghirle, Juanita and Fred Stautz spent Sunday with relatives in our village.

John Bremser and Susan Berres of St. Michaels were guests of C. Klauke and wife Sunday.

We are glad to report that the son of Mr. Laatch, who was ill with diphtheria, is recovering.

M. Bolton and sister went to Cascade Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Strong, a former neighbor.

A silver gravestone was found on the road south of Matt. Geib's house. Owner may call for it at the latter place.

Friends of E. L. Morgenroth gave him a pleasant surprise in honor of his birthday anniversary Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Logue of Waubesa drove over Saturday, the latter remaining until Monday as a guest of Mrs. J. R. Smith.

Willard Bierdsdorf of Plymouth was a guest of the J. Frohmann family on Sunday and on his return was accompanied by his wife who had spent several days here.

George C. Lussenden, a veteran of the Civil war, passed away in death at Moline, Mich., last week Friday, April 10. The remains were brought here for burial Sunday. Deceased was born in Kent, England, March 10th, 1840. In 1846 his family came to this country and settled in Boltonville in 1851. He was married to Miss Mary Lussenden on March 3rd, 1866, and they continued to reside at Boltonville until 1899, when they moved to Moline, Mich., at which place Mr. Lussenden's death occurred. He is survived by his wife and three children, namely: Ernest of Grand Rapids, Mich., Willett of Land Lake, Mich., and Leonard of Moline, Mich.

Mrs. Mary Strong (nee Campbell) passed away in death at her home in Cascade last Friday morning after an illness of two days' duration. Deceased was born in the city of New York in the year 1835. At an early age she came with her parents to this state where they settled on a farm near Kewaskum. In 1853 she was united in marriage to James Strong, who together with four sons and one daughter still survive. Immediately after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Strong settled on a farm about one mile north of this village where for over 55 years they shared together life's joys and sorrows. About six months ago they decided to retire from farm life and after selling their farm they purchased a beautiful home in Cascade, Sheboygan County, where they intended to spend their remaining years enjoying the fruits of their labors. But death, the grim Reaper, has deprived the aged husband of a devoted wife and the children of a fond, loving mother who will long be held sacred in their memory. Those who survive are James of Chilton, Peter of Two Rivers, John and Nick of Cascade and Agnes (Mrs. O'Malley) of Greenbush. Last Monday morning at 10 o'clock funeral services took place at St. Mary's church at Cascade, Rev. B. J. Burke, pastor of the church, officiating. The remains were laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery. May her soul rest in peace.

A Great Land Opening.

A number of exceptional opportunities will be offered this spring by the Government for enterprising and intelligent farmers to secure choice farms on a dozen or more large irrigation projects which are now nearing completion.

Owing to the rapid narrowing of the limits of the unoccupied public domain, it is doubtful if these opportunities will ever occur again. It is probable, therefore, that the West will see one of the greatest influxes of homeseekers in 1908 that has been witnessed in many years. The great fertility and wonderful crop yields from irrigated lands, and the favorable terms the Government offers settlers, warrants the belief that before the year closes not a single farm will be without its enterman. These farms are located in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada.

Uncle Sam has 412 choice 40 acre farms in Montana which he offers to lay, on very easy terms, to practical farmers who are citizens of the United States. These farms are in eastern Montana, in the beautiful valley of the Yellowstone River, one of the richest agricultural sections of the Northwest. Each is located within three miles of a railroad, and each is irrigated by one of the best irrigation systems in the world.

The lands lie at an elevation of 3000 feet above sea level. The climate is delightful, the soil of exceptional fertility, producing abundant crops when watered. Wheat, oats, rye, barley and alfalfa are the principal crops grown. Alfalfa yields 5 tons per acre and is selling today at $5 per ton in the stack. Apples, small fruits, and vegetables do well here. An especially profitable crop is sugar beets, which last year in the valley yielded nearly $50 per acre net when properly cultivated.

A letter addressed to The Statistician, U. S. Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C., will secure full information concerning the location, soil, climate, crop possibilities, and terms of disposal.

SUBSCRIBERS IN ARRARS.

The postmaster general has issued the following order, which went into effect on January 1. It applies to all newspapers which circulate through the mails:

A reasonable time will be allowed publishers to secure renewals of subscriptions, but unless subscriptions are expressly renewed after the term for which they are paid, within the following periods:

Dailies, within three months; Weeklies, within one year; they shall be counted in the legitimate list of subscribers, and copies mailed on account thereof shall not be accepted for mailing at the second-class postage rate of one cent a pound, but may be mailed at the transient second-class postal rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed.

This order means that subscribers to the STATESMAN who are in arrears for one year or more must renew or pay up their subscriptions at once in order to enable us to continue sending their papers through the mails.

Our readers will find the date of expiration of their paper and by referring to this they can readily see when their subscription expires. If it has expired send us your renewal at your first opportunity so that we can continue to send the STATESMAN to you. KEWASKUM STATESMAN.

May Turn Black.

Professor McMullan Brown, ethnologist, holds that the future Australian people will in all probability be black. The Polynesians, he said in a lecture at Sydney, came originally not from America, as has been supposed, but from Asia. They were whites and changed color, just as the future Australian may do as the centuries go on, at least in the tropical regions of the north. The violet rays of the sun will turn him black in course of time.

Sorry He Spoke.

"Really, Miss Primm, you ought to get married," remarked Wedderly. "You'll soon be in the spinster class if you don't hurry up and catch on."

"Oh, don't worry about me, Mr. Wedderly," replied Miss Primm. "If I were as easy to please as your wife I would have been married long ago." London Telegraph.

Some Other Fellows.

"With $100,000," said the man of expansive ideas, "I could make a fortune in Wall Street."

"Yes," replied the piker, "but whose fortune would you make?"—Washington Star.

An Apt Illustration.

Miss Kinky—What does white folks mean when they talk about patnia? Is it? Mr. Jackson—Dat's about de same as butter'n' de po'k chop.—Kansas City Times.

Rejoice upon it that the man who does not worthily estimate his own deed forefathers will himself do very little to add credit or do honor to his country.—William E. Gladstone.

His Burial Was a Man!

When William Allen took up in the early seventies and surprised the country by being elected governor of Ohio on the Democratic ticket one of the obstacles he triumphed over was the charge of being an old man. He addressed a great meeting at Mozart hall in Cincinnati the night following the day in which this ill advised charge had been brought against him by a responsible Republican leader. Strong, vigorous and well preserved as he was and retaining untarnished that quality of voice which had designated him as "Foghorn Allen" when he was in the senate, he was still politician enough to use it for all it was worth to him. After stating the charge in all its bearings he straightened himself to his full height of more than six feet and, beginning in a loud voice, asked, "Am I a man?" The next question was in a voice pitched a scale higher and asked, "Do I look like a man?" But the third, in which he put out all of his tremendous vocal power, thundered to shake the roof in roaring, "Do I talk like a man?" The audience was thrilled. Such high physical power in a man of that age appealed to it irresistibly.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Fascination of Burglary.

"My champion burglar," said Mr. Holmes, the police court missionary, "is a bookbinder by trade, who has been in jail on and off for half a century."

Mr. Holmes' rambles with this chronic breaker of the law constitute an instructive scene from his work. He behaved to the erring bookbinder quite as a brother, the man had the center of the house and enjoyed the friendship of the family. How was he in the habit of repaying this hospitality? By going out to burgle. Twice Mr. Holmes set him up, but in vain. The only charm that life has for the burglar is the opportunity of being in the opportunity it vouchsafes for committing burglary.

"Why on earth don't you leave off burglary?" Mr. Holmes asked him once. "Mr. Holmes," was his reply, "there's no fascination in the world to equal it. The silence of the night, the element of danger, the need of keeping every sense on the alert—it's grand."—Cassell's Journal.

Dealing in "Cats and Dogs."

No antiquarian pursues a more profitable or fascinating calling than the dealer in "cats and dogs," as the antiquities of Wall street are dubbed. "Cats and dogs" are the remnants of old stock bond and notes of railroad, industrial or mining companies on which payment of interest, dividends or principal has been in default for years. Some of these securities are worthless and obsolete, some of doubtful value, while a few are worth their weight in gold. Only the expert in obsolete securities can detect their worth. Many of these securities can be picked up at the official auction room of Wall street. Many brokers closely scrutinize the securities that are offered at this auction room, and only a few months ago 100,000 shares of stock in a certain mining company were sold for a sum from which the broker hopes to realize a big sum.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

CALIFORNIA.
While you are chilled by frosts and snow here sit in a few days and breathe the sun. (By William Henry Forster.)
Should I tell you that I have found ripe barley and wild oats at this time of the year, some of your readers might doubt what I tell you; but it is true nevertheless. On Sunday last I went out to the Ocean Beach, a resort by the seashore, and found both barley and wild oats in the sand dunes ripe, or rather dried up. As a rule the crops have progressed about as far as they will have about two months later in Wisconsin. The fruit trees in the valley have finished blossoming and winter wheat is beginning to head in spots. But the hay crop and grass is going to be very short this season as the winter rains were not as heavy as usual, and in spots the sod is already turning yellow. Unless we have rain soon the grain will not be long enough to reach even with the header. The fruit crop on the other hand will doubtless be great, especially in the irrigated belt, for rains only spoil, rot or blight fruit blossoms. In many mountain districts the ground is pulverized to dust among the trees to sustain moisture, and the flavor of such fruit is far superior to that raised upon irrigated ground. Last autumn while coming west the train stopped at Colfax far up in the mountains, and several of the passengers picked mountain apples. But they found it impossible to eat them, and in disgust threw them away. I was at Colfax a few weeks ago and stopped at one of the fruit packing plants and tasted some of the same kind of apples. Well to a Californian they would be grand, fine, delicious. I will say they were very good, and well preserved; but to one who is used to good Wisconsin, Michigan and New York apples, they seem phony. This is the case with all western fruit in comparison to eastern, European and Asiatic varieties. A California peach is not to be compared with Michigan or Missouri stock; but it will stand shipping better; because its flesh is harder and dryer. A Florida or Texas orange has a superior flavor to the California stock of the same grade; but they will not last as well, or appear as enticing, and therefore are not as salable as the western stock. The orange trees are now budding and will soon be in bloom; and many a bud will be picked in dry sand or moist cotton and sent to all parts of the United States, to delight friends. The weather has been so delightful that thousands of hobos are now sleeping out doors again. It is customary for cow-boys, sheep-herders, farm hands and ranchers to do the same, but they usually carry their own bedding. From this you will get the idea that California still adheres to the old biblical traditions when the cripple and bed-ridden beggar was enjoined to take up his bed and walk. There is a great deal of feeling against the Chink (Chinaman) and the Jap, especially in this city, Los Angeles and Sacramento; but the fruit-growers are favoring the yellow man, as he is more careful and painstaking than the white hobo, and he is less addicted to the drink habit, 'tho the Chink is a great gambler and smoker. Nearly all hotel and restaurant cooks are Chinks, and I am told that it is not because they love the Chinaman, but because he attends strictly to business and is always on hand, and never on a spree. "Tho he drinks; he drinks, for drink; and not for drink." White hobos may take a job and if the task is arduous they may stop at any moment and jump the job. At Colfax I went into an eating house and ordered supper. The waiter was drunk and so was the cook; and so after a long wait I was told that the cook was to full, and the waiter had gone on a spree. It can easily be understood why the temperance cause has grown so rapidly during the past three years and has taken on such a tremendous growth east of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio rivers. The landowners are not temperate themselves; but they cannot get the negroes and poor whites to work while they can obtain liquor, and so they will sooner close the saloon and deprive themselves of an easy drink than to allow liquor to be freely dispensed to all who wish to drink and refuse to work until pressed by poverty and want. I believe that within a few years all of California with the exception of a few of the larger cities will go dry.

FARM MACHINERY.

We have received several car loads of the latest improved Farm Machinery which we are now showing at our New Warehouse. No matter what you need in the line of machinery we are positive that we have it, and can suit you. We sell the New Beaver Dam Spring Trip Seeders made withorwith-out grass seed attachments for two, three or four horse hitch in either a spring trip or slip tooth. The Beaver Dam patent spring trip adjustable cultivator tooth with reversible tooth points can be adjusted through a very simple and effective device to cultivate deep or shallow without turning a nut. Points are uniform and reversible. It is to your advantage not to buy a new seeder until you have seen the BEAVER DAM.

NO ONE CAN ALWAYS AVOID Catching Cold on the Street Car

Many people persist in riding on the street cars, insufficiently protected by clothing. They start out perhaps in the heat of the day and do not feel the need of wraps. The rapid moving of the car cools the body unduly. When they board the car perhaps they are slightly perspiring. When the body is in this condition it is easily chilled. This is especially true when a person is sitting. Beginning a street car ride in the middle of the day and ending it in the evening almost invariably requires extra wraps, but people do not observe these precautions, hence they catch cold.

Colds are very frequent in the spring on this account, and as the summer advances, they do not decrease. During the spring months, no one should feel riding on the car without being provided with a wrap.

A cold caught in the spring is liable to last through the entire summer. Great caution should be observed at this season against exposure to cold. During the first few pleasant days of spring, the liability of catching cold is great.

Do not wonder so many people acquire muscular rheumatism and catarrhal diseases during this season.

However, in spite of the greatest precautions, colds will be caught. At the appearance of the first symptoms, Peruna should be taken according to directions on the bottle, and continued until every symptom disappears. Do not put it off. Do not waste time by taking other remedies. Begin at once, and take Peruna and continue taking it until you are positive that the cold has entirely disappeared. This may save you a long and perhaps serious illness later on.

Bad Effects from Cold.

Mr. M. J. Decker, Secretary Building Material Trades Union, 121 Washington St., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I have found your medicine to be most efficacious in getting rid of bad effects from cold, and more especially in driving away all symptoms of catarrh, with which I am frequently troubled."

"The relief Peruna gives in catarrhal troubles alone is well worth the price paid. I have used the remedy for several years now."

Spells of Coughing.

Mr. C. E. Long writes from Atwood, Colorado, as follows:

"When I wrote you for advice my little three-year-old girl had a cough that had been troubling her for four months. She took cold easily, and would wheeze and have spells of coughing that would sometimes last for a half hour."

"Now we can never thank you enough for the change you have made in our little one's health. Before she began taking your Peruna she suffered every-thing in the way of cough, colds and croup, but now she has taken not only a bottle of Peruna, and is well and strong as she has ever been in her life."

Per-na for Colds.

Mr. James Morrison, 68 East 10th St., Waterson, N. J., writes:

"I have given Peruna a fair trial, and I find it to be just what you claim it to be. I cannot praise it too highly. I have used two bottles in my family for colds, and everything imaginable. I can safely say that your medicine is the best I have ever used."

EDITOR DECKER, COLUMBUS, DIES

VETERAN PUBLISHER OF THE REPUBLICAN SUCCEUMS AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS.

CAME TO WISCONSIN IN 1855.

Established Paper Thirty-nine Years Ago—Spent Half Century in Newspaper Work.

WIFE AND DAUGHTER SURVIVE.

COLUMBUS, Wis., April 11.—[Special.]—John R. Decker, the veteran editor and publisher of the Columbus Republican, who has been ill for some time, died this morning at his home in West Columbus. The death of the pioneer editor did not come as a surprise, inasmuch as he had been rapidly failing of late.

Born in New York. Mr. Decker was born in 1842 at Sinclairville, Chautauque county, N. Y. In 1848 his parents removed to Erie county, N. Y., ten years later joining the great tide of York state people moving to Wisconsin, settling at Waupun, so that at the age of 13 Mr. Decker found himself one of the pioneer boys of the west.

After expending in different offices, Mr. Decker bought the Waupun Times in 1867, which he successfully published for one year. The material of the Times office was old and well worn, and when in 1868 an opportunity was offered at Columbus for a new paper with an entire new outfit, Mr. Decker hastened to the city and purchased the Times and in the last days of September went to Chicago and realized for once the height of his ambition in selecting new material for the Times. He was employed in those days by printers in small places.

Mr. Decker was near the end of his life when he came to Columbus. He had been in the city for some time, and was engaged in the printing of a book. He was a man of great energy and ability, and his death is a great loss to the community.

Mr. Decker was a member of the Republican party, and was a prominent figure in the community. He was a man of great energy and ability, and his death is a great loss to the community.

MAN EATING TIGER.

India Native Always Known Where He May Be Found.

I have lived for weeks alongside quite small, well defined ferrets containing tigers. Looking down from the hillside I could always tell when a tiger was on foot, where he was walking and when he lay down to rest, for all these movements were reported by screaming birds and chattering apes from the treetops.

By the like geography and by the woodcraft which is born in them, by the strength and habits of countless generations, the villagers are perfectly well posted regarding the great beasts, and particularly regarding the tigers, in their neighborhood. The man eater is well known over the whole of his sometimes very extensive but personal reputation.

It is easy enough to build a little leafy bower in a tree over a pool and to sit and doze there night after night till the tiger comes to drink in the moonlight and could always tell when a tiger was on foot, where he was walking and when he lay down to rest, for all these movements were reported by screaming birds and chattering apes from the treetops.
