AWARDED CONTRACT FOR HIGHWAY 55

According to an agreement reached by the Washington County highway committee...

The last section of Washington county's proposed paving for 1922 was awarded Wednesday at West Bend by the county highway commission...

Highway 55 runs through West Bend, Kewaskum and Barton. The section between Barton and West Bend is to be built first...

The county will utilize its equipment for the building of highway 29 to connect the city with highway 15...

Washington county will build 2 1/2 miles of cement road this summer. Two cross country highways, namely 58 and 59, will be completed this year...

John A. Hazelwood chairman of the highway commission presided. He said the right of petition was as fundamental as the right of free speech...

Mr. Donaghey's points were that the present route was chosen because it was the most practical, and for the reason that it avoided two railway crossings...

He said that the present route was preferable because of maintenance costs, and this was the principal reason for its adoption...

Notice is hereby given to the qualified electors of the Town of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wis., that the annual town meeting for the election of officers and the transaction of such other business as may legally come before such meeting...

Auctions On Thursday, April 6th, 1922, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, the undersigned will sell at Public Auction, to be held on the premises in the town of Kewaskum, the Henry Bruessel farm...

OUR CALIFORNIA EDITOR WRITES

The Statesman office is in receipt of another interesting letter from W. J. Parsons from Orange, California, which reads as follows: Orange, Calif., March 21, 1922. The Statesman, Kewaskum, Wis., Gentlemen-

I have scribbled the enclosed under difficulties, am supposed to be in bed, Dr. Dohman (a Kewaskum boy) ordered me, but I was never noted for my obedience. Perhaps the waste basket will be a fitting place for the article...

Weather conditions in southern California since the beginning of the year 1922 have been such that perhaps Wisconsin people who still remain back in the old state may be interested...

Miss Elsie Christensen is much improved and she expects to return to school Monday, April 3. School will close for the Easter vacation on Friday, April 7, and reopen on Monday, April 17.

After the first of this year the new law for automobile trucks will be enforced, and which is as follows: On and after January 1, 1922, no motor truck, motor delivery wagon, passenger automobile bus, or trailer or semi-trailer hauled or used in connection therewith shall be operated upon any highway in Wisconsin unless the said motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer shall have a sign attached to or let on each side thereof, giving its weight without load, the actual advertised load carrying capacity of such motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer, and the total weight of the vehicle and load, the last named being the total of the two above weights.

The lettering shall not be easily erased or erased. The law does not specify the size of the letters and figures on each side of the vehicles, or whether they shall be painted on the truck or on a plate sign, but we suggest that the letters be at least one inch in height.

Secretary Hall suggests that the three weights demanded by the law, two sides of the truck or car, and one out load, the actual advertised carrying capacity, and the total weight of the vehicle and load, be denoted in the signs on the sides by the following expressions, respectively, "tare", "weight", and "gross", with each word followed by number of tons.

ELECTION TUESDAY TO BE SPIRITED

Election in this village next Tuesday will probably not be a very spirited one, as there is not much opposition on the village ticket. There are two candidates in the field for supervisor, N. W. Rosenheimer and Emil C. Hackhaus. The former was nominated at caucus. As there was no candidate nominated for trustee, it is a question as to whether or not this vacancy will be filled at election. In the town, things look different, as there is opposition for supervisor, treasurer, and assessor and a very spirited election is looked forward to, for all committees are working hard to be elected.

The Judicial Election. For the office of judge of circuit court there are two candidates in the field, namely David C. Schaeffer, Milwaukee and C. M. Davidson of Beaver Dam, present judge.

Judge Agnew was born and raised on a farm and remained there until he was twenty-five years of age except when attending college. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, practiced law at Oconomowoc for many years, served as City Mayor of his city two terms, was District Attorney of Waushara County, Municipal Judge for the Western District of Waushara County, has been elected County Judge of his county three successive times and is now serving an unexpired term.

He has been on the bench sixteen years dealing out justice to the people. He is loved by his people because he is truthful, honest and fearless. He is a friend of the common people and readily adheres to their rights and concedes their rights to them. He has a reputation of being kind and generous to the unfortunate and needy and is always free to offer his assistance to them.

In regards to Judge Davison, the West Bend News has the following to say, and upon which we feel fully describe the facts in regard to Mr. Davison's qualifications: "Judge C. M. Davison of Beaver Dam, the News at former occasions had the pleasure to point to the very favorable impression Judge Davison made while presiding at the court sessions at West Bend as well as otherwise. After his nomination by Gov. Blaine, on September 24, 1921, he went to work with a will to fill a vacancy on that bench, awaiting him. Service is what he wanted to give and at all times gave. The cases which he submits to the jury are fully developed on both sides, and his instructions are plain, to the point and easily understood by every jurymen. In civil matters he is safe, sane and progressive, carefully guarding property interests. In criminal matters his chief object is to restore the victim and protect the innocent. Persons committing brutal crimes against individuals are dangerous to society and must be rigidly restrained, but in crimes against property, first offenders should be shown mercy where there is hope of redemption. "Justice Tempered with Mercy" is Judge Davison's motto. Judge Davison in the six months of his occupancy of the circuit judgeship has tried 287 cases with only two appeals. He has tried 83 jury cases without one appeal. He has worked night and day making good, and he should be retained in office.

One of the candidates for the Supreme Court bench is Judge Barr W. Jones who also was appointed by Gov. Blaine to fill a vacancy on that bench. Judge Jones now is a candidate for this judgeship to fill the unexpired term. He has received the unqualified endorsement of the leaders of all factions of the Democratic and Republican parties. April 12, 1922 at two o'clock P. M. for furnishing all material and labor necessary to complete a Sanitary Sewer System and a Sewage Disposal Plant for said Village, said plans and specifications having been heretofore approved by the Village Board and are on file with the Village Clerk. Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the Engineer in Sheboygan, Wisconsin, and copies of said plans and specifications may be obtained by parties desiring to bid by making application to the Engineer.

The right is reserved by the Board to reject any and all bids. A certified check of 10% must be included with the bid as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into contract with the Village Board if the work is awarded to him. Contractors are invited to bid on two units, one consisting of the installation of the Sanitary Sewer System and the other the construction of a Sewage Disposal Plant. EXPRESS COMPANY SEES BOOM AHEAD

The express business is a good harbinger of trade, according to A. P. Schaeffer, agent in charge of the local express office, who declares it is significant that the American Railway Express Company is preparing for a heavy movement of express traffic during the remainder of this month and April.

Fluctuation in the express business, according to Mr. Schaeffer usually precedes like changes in general business by several weeks. The express people are confident that business resumption is near at hand. At their New York office, it is stated that an unusual number of buyers have visited New York City recently and that many contracts have a full corps of traveling salesman on the road.

The express company is getting ready for a return of the usual package business, and the first two months of the year showed a noticeable increase in this traffic. As the first step in the preparations made for business, the express company is experimenting with special collapsible packing trucks, which are expected to give even greater protection from crushing, soiling, damage by moisture and pilfering of all small shipments.

In addition to this, the carrier has purchased 1,000 packing trucks, which are used not only for protective purpose, but also to save extra handling of shipments, and to facilitate direct routing of traffic between specific points. A study of the express business in 1921 shows that the American Railway Express handled 189,311,820 shipments. The express carrier employs 20,000 motor and horse-drawn vehicles throughout the country, and these comprise 11,000 single and double wagons, 1,047 electric motor trucks, 2,000 gasoline motor trucks and 3-000 sleighs. It operates 50,000 platform trucks at the various railroad depots throughout the country.

The following article appeared in the Milwaukee Sentinel of Friday, March 24, relating to the death of Herman Reuter, a customer of Milwaukee. Mr. Reuter is well known in this village, having been called upon many times to make up casts for a number of home talent plays presented in this village. For the benefit of our readers, and especially for the benefit of those who had the pleasure of personally being acquainted with Mr. Reuter, we take pleasure in publishing the article which is as follows:

Herman Reuter, 58, for forty-five years a resident of Milwaukee, died Thursday noon at his home, 69 Third Street, after an illness of one week. He was 72 years old, and had been a resident of Milwaukee for sixty-eight years.

Mr. Reuter was born in Germany on Oct. 9, 1849. When he was 4 years old, he came to America with his parents, who settled in Milwaukee. In 1876 Mr. Reuter married Miss Louise Frattinger.

Besides his widow Mr. Reuter is survived by four children: Sister Carl Louise, Chicago; Julia E. Louise and Herman Jr. Funeral services were held on Saturday at 2:30 o'clock, from the residence, with interment at Union cemetery.

SLAUGHTER OF INNOCENTS

The deaths of three women employees in a factory fire at Waupun on March 2nd again emphasize the great danger of fire to human life, and the necessity of the greatest care.

Although the exit facilities were ample three women failed to get beyond the small room in which they worked, perhaps because they "lost their heads" which is liable to happen in any fire.

Such sad events occur not merely in factories but more often in homes, the humble cottage as well as the costly mansion.

Through newspaper clippings we learned that in 1921, in Wisconsin, 15 persons died and 4 suffered burns by reason of using kerosene to start or quicken a fire; 6 died and 12 were injured because of careless use of gasoline for cleaning purposes indoors; playing with matches cost the lives of 9 children and injury to 3 others; clothes ignited from bonfires called for 2 young lives, and 2 others suffered bad burns; playing around stove and grate fire caused the death of 3 and 4 were injured; 18 persons died and 17 were injured in building fires starting from various causes. Often the report read "overcome while they slept". In one case three out of one family perished. Lightning cost 18 human lives and 17 persons were stunned.

Seventy-seven deaths and 103 injuries through fire was the dark record of the year as far as disclosed by such clippings, and we are sure many such news items did not reach us.

Another feature of this slaughter is that the majority of the unfortunate victims were women and young children.

It must be pointed out also that most of these fires and resulting deaths and injuries could have been prevented easily.

When will this slaughter of innocents cease? Why use the deadly coal oil to start or quicken a fire? Why use or store the deadlier gasoline indoors? Why permit infants to play with matches, or around stove, grate or bonfires? Why neglect the heating plant, smokepipes and chimneys? Why live or work in isolated buildings not protected by a good lightning rod? Why be careless in the face of these frightful penalties? Why not profit by repeated cautions along these lines?

The answers mean life and death, not merely loss of property.

THE EDITOR

"He has given all his life to his town; he has spent thousands of dollars to promote its growth; he has watched every house on the town-site rise, and has made an item in his paper about it; he has written up the weddings of many of the grandmothers and grandfathers of the town; he has chronicled the birth of their children and children's children. The old scrapbooks are filled with kind things he has written. Old men and old women scan these wrinkled pages with eyes that have lost their luster, and on the rusty clippings pasted there fall many tears. In this book many a woman reads the little verse below the name of a child whom only she and God remember. In some other scrapbook, a man, long since out of the current of life, reads the story of his little triumph in the world; in the family Bible is a clipping—yellow and crisp with years that tells of a daughter's wedding and the social glory that descended upon the home for that one great day."—From "In Our Town" by William Allen White.

Simple Origin of Names.

To primitive man the crow seemed to "koo"—hence the animal's name. The Greeks limited the crow's sound with the word "korax" and from this by way of the "curaw" springs our name for the bird. The cuckoo named him self.

THE LAWS OF THE SEVERAL STATES require insurance companies to make and file annual statements showing their financial condition at the close of every calendar year. Necessarily these statements are intricate and technical and require experts to understand them fully. That is why few policyholders try to; they are willing to let Insurance Departments do it for them. After all, what a policyholder in a life insurance company most wants to know is: Has my company been fair and square in its dealings with me and will it continue to be so with my beneficiaries?

The annual statement of The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company shows how its policyholders feel about the matter, because of all the insurance issued by it in 1921, more than 45% was issued upon applications of men already insured in the Northwestern. That is pretty good evidence that policyholders consider the Company "fair and square", and when a company forms the habit it will continue to be "fair and square" after its policies mature.

A policy "matures" when it becomes payable to the insured or to the beneficiary or beneficiaries named therein. It is of the utmost importance that a company always have sufficient funds with which to pay claims promptly when called upon to do so. The law requires all life insurance companies constantly to maintain a sinking fund for that purpose and prescribes the method of computing the fund, which is called the "reserve". On January 1, 1922 the law required the Northwestern to have "reserve" amounting to over 456 million dollars, and on that day it had assets to the amount of 507 million dollars. If these assets were good, then the reserve was safe.

Just exactly how good these assets are may be judged from the fact that 224 million dollars of them are in first lien, real estate mortgages (155 million in farm and 69 million in city loans) on property valued at 724 million; 180 million in United States and other high-grade bonds, and 76 million in advances made to policyholders upon the security of the cash value of their own policies.

The statement shows that the Northwestern had a "reserve for contingencies" over all liabilities amounting to some 24 million dollars.

The Northwestern did not break any records in writing new policies in 1921, but it progressed and prospered. It had the biggest and best financial year in its history, permitting it to continue its established "dividend scale" throughout 1922. This means that the cost of insurance to its policyholders will be less in 1922 than it was in 1921.

If policyholders have noticed, every time they pay their premiums, they get a refund. We have all become accustomed to refer to this refund as a "dividend". It is not a dividend, however, in the commercial sense. Here is how it arises: Premiums in a mutual company are computed with an allowance for safety and when the cost of the insurance for the year is ascertained, any excess is returned to policyholders. The net cost of insurance, therefore, depends upon this refund of the unused part of the premium.

Policyholders are interested in "expenses" for the smaller the expenses the larger the "dividends". One item of expense should interest policyholders especially, and that is "taxes". For the privilege of doing business for their policyholders, life insurance companies are subject to heavy burdens of taxation, both state and national. Taxes are charged as an expense and if they did not exist, the net cost of insurance would be just that much lower.

Despite this heavy item, The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company has kept up, and we believe it will keep up, its returns to policyholders; and this it can do because of careful selection of risks, expert and advantageous investment of funds and rigid economy of management.

Just a word as to "management". The Company is required annually to appoint an Examining Committee, consisting of five men who are not interested in the Company in any way except as policyholders, to make a complete examination of it. The Committee of 1921 was headed by Hon. Antone Kuckuk, of Shawano, Wisconsin, as Chairman, and, among other things, it reported as follows: "From an examination, we are satisfied that the Company is in sound financial condition and conservatively managed, and we are convinced that the policyholders are amply justified in continuing to invest their money in the Company."

The management will be pleased to mail, upon request, a detailed synopsis of the Annual Statement.

HOW FLYING-BOAT VICTIMS PERISHED

Pilot Moore Relates Details of How Five of His Passengers Died at Sea.

L. E. SMITH THE LAST TO DIE

Wife Passed Away in Husband's Arms—Flier Says He Saw Ships Pass and Waved to Them in Vain.

Miami, Fla., March 29.—Robert Moore, pilot of the wrecked flying boat Miss Almal, was rapidly improving and was able to relate more details of how five of his passengers, one by one, died of exposure and slipped into the sea.

His and Lawrence E. Smith, the last of the victims to die, became so attached to each other, that in Smith's last hours they were alternately in laughter and tears.

Moore, to keep up Smith's spirits, would tell jokes and picture the beautiful island where they soon would land.

Finally Smith realized he was dying. He took three $1 bills from his pocket and wrote his initials on each and directed Moore, if he lived, to deliver the bills to Smith's three sons in Kansas City.

After Smith died the pilot hated to cast the body into the sea and kept it for hours on the bottom of the upturned flying boat.

Moore said the women crew weaker as winds rose during the first night. "At least 12 times they were swept over," he said, "but I swam out and brought them back each time."

"The next day our hopes rose as we saw other boats pass, but none came nearer than a mile and a half from us. I tried to keep up the morale of the others by telling them they were soldiers. It helped me, I thought, but one of the women, Mrs. Smith, became despondent.

"We weathered the storm of Wednesday night after a terrible experience, and Mrs. Buite died on Thursday. I saw Mr. and Mrs. Smith clasped in each other's arms and one of them suggested that they close their eyes and jump overboard. But they didn't, and Mrs. Smith died in her husband's arms. We released the bodies of the two women and they floated away.

"Thursday, as dusk approached, Smith grew delirious and I strapped him on. At times he appeared rattled and at other times I thought we were about being rescued. I told him I thought we would get saved, and he said:

"I don't see how we can hold out much longer. Don't you think I had a brave wife? I assured him that I had never seen a more courageous woman.

"All right, Bob," he answered. "Promise that if you return you will tell her sons how brave their mother was. Tell them the facts and tell them how you saw her die. Tell them for me, boy."

"I pushed his body into the sea and all alone kept up my courage as best I could. The sun's heat had blistered me and the thirst was maddening. I chewed the ends of my fingers until blood came to appease my thirst. I saw boats pass and waved to them, but none saw me. As dusk approached Friday night I began to believe it was all up. I tied a rope to my neck, but I was so weak that it seemed there wasn't much use. I guess I was unconscious when the boat came after me, for I don't remember much more."

EIGHT BOY SCOUTS DROWNED

Three Masters and Five Youths Perish When Overloaded Boat Sinks in Michigan Lake.

South Bend, Ind., March 28.—Eight persons—five boy scouts, a scout executive and two scoutmasters—were drowned in Michigan lake, about ten miles northwest of Dowagiac, Mich., when a motorboat which they occupied foundered in the rough waters of the lake. The persons drowned all were residents of this city. They are: Scout Executive Joseph Taylor, James Taylor, ten; his son; Vernon C. Murphy, scoutmaster; Hudson Taylor, scoutmaster; Clinton Matthews, Kenneth Burroughs, William Kingsley, Philip Neitzel. The bodies were recovered. The fatality took place 60 rods from the shore after the party had left for an island in the center of the lake, on which the boy scouts were establishing a new camp for the summer. The coroner of Dowagiac gave it as his opinion that the boat was overloaded.

SENATE PASSES JAP AMENDMENT

Body Unanimously Ratifies Lodge's Motion to Bar Japanese Homeland.

BLAZES WAY OUT OF SNAR

Democrats Construe Senator Lodge's Move as Victory for Senator Hitchcock and His Supporters Who Questioned Validity of Treaty.

Washington, March 29.—The supplemental agreement negotiated by the Washington arms conference to take the Japanese homeland out of the four-power Pacific treaty was ratified by the United States senate.

A supplementary resolution involving the domestic issues and mandatory rights reservation, accepted at the arms conference but not voted on when the main treaty was ratified Friday, was attached as a reservation of ratification.

The agreement was ratified unanimously, 73 to 0, the Democrats controlling Senate. Lodge's move in incorporating the declaration in the resolution of ratification as a victory for Senator Hitchcock and his supporters.

Senator Lodge finally decided to offer it as a reservation of the Japanese homeland agreement and to incorporate both in the same resolution of ratification.

During the day Senator Lodge had made three separate proposals in an effort to straighten out the senate muddle over the declaration involving domestic questions and mandatory rights.

He first proposed joint ratification of it and supplementary agreement taking the Japanese homeland out of the pact.

He then discarded this plan, after conferring with other administration spokesmen, and suggested separate ratification of the declaration and the agreement.

He finally proposed that the declaration be disposed of as a reservation to the agreement and that both be incorporated in the same resolution of ratification, and this action was taken.

In forcing the incorporation of the domestic issues reservation in the ratification of the main treaty, Senator Hitchcock warned that Japan might not ratify the declaration involving domestic issues like Japanese immigration if it were kept separate from the treaty.

"If we treat it as a separate document and ratify it, we leave it in the power of Japan to say she will not ratify it," he said. "Japan then will be able to ratify the four-power treaty which we are supposed to have ratified Friday, and shake her fingers at us as far as the plan covering immigration is concerned, because Japan will no longer have any interest in the declaration when she sees that we refuse to consider it as a binding part of the treaty itself."

"The only nation in the world with which we have a real controversy over immigration is Japan. It is the one big thing we have had trouble with Japan over."

"The plan respecting immigration was at the demand of the American delegation to the arms conference and it is the one thing concerning the four-power treaty which really gives protection to the United States."

"Senators say there has been great danger of trouble between the United States and Japan in the Pacific. What was it over? It was over the immigration question. That has been the burning cause of trouble. We have had weeks of negotiation with Japan over that question. It is the one thing Japan has clung to and insisted on in her controversies with the United States."

Before the vote on the supplemental agreement the senate defeated an attempt to amend it, to further lessen any perils of war to the United States. By a vote of 53 to 20 it rejected an amendment offered by Senator Robertson (Dem.) of Arkansas to strike out of the agreement of protection the name of Kara Futo, the southern portion of Sakhalin, off the Siberian coast, which was ceded to Japan by Russia under the treaty of Portsmouth in 1905.

DUN'S TRADE REVIEW

More Optimistic Note Marks Reports From the West.

Recent Gains in Certain Basic Industries, Notably Iron and Steel, Are Being Extended.

New York, March 28.—Actual improvement in general business is still slow to materialize, but encouraging phases are attaining increased prominence. Some progress toward revival of activity is recorded each week and strengthening of sentiment upon which commercial recovery so largely depends has continued.

Recent gains in certain basic industries, notably in iron and steel, are being extended, and the expansion of building operations in most parts of the country is a highly favorable augury. Belief in a gradual betterment of conditions finds more frequent expression even in lines where results have been less satisfactory, and existing and threatened labor troubles, although causing uncertainty, do not check the growth of confidence.

A more optimistic note has marked reports from the West since the appreciable rise in prices of agricultural products which has enhanced the public purchasing power in that section, and the depleted state of most merchandise stocks leads to more numerous replenishment orders as consumption demands broaden.

The fact that there is still much unemployment of workers, however, presumes any widespread activity in retail distribution and a reluctance to buy very far ahead is a feature commented upon in practically all advices from wholesale channels.

NATION-WIDE STRIKE O. K'D

International Officers of the Miners' Union Indorse Action of the Committee.

Cleveland, O., March 27.—By unanimous vote the policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America in session here, indorsed the action of the International officers in calling a nationwide strike in both bituminous and anthracite coal fields of the United States and Canada, and ordered all union men, except those necessary to keep the mines in condition, to lay down their tools on that date.

At the same time a resolution, calling upon the 200,000 nonunion miners to join their 600,000 organized fellow-workmen in the walkout, was adopted.

HUNGRY RUSS WORSHIP YANK

American Relief Agent Treated as a God at Kuroodova, in the Samara District.

London, March 28.—To be worshipped as a god, before whom old men fell on their knees in adoration, was the experience of Henry C. Wolfe of Coshocton, O., an American relief administration worker in the Samara district, according to a report received by the administration's headquarters here. While Mr. Wolfe was inspecting the home of a member of the local chief kitchen committee at Kuroodova a number of the old men forced their way into the room, where they knelt before him, weeping, making the sign of the cross, and touching their foreheads to the floor.

The men explained that they wanted to worship the representative of the American relief administration.

Healthy Housewife---Happy Home

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Form Many

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of housework cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done.

Many women struggle along for years, suffering from some form of female trouble that make their lives miserable and their homes far from happy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound and again afterwards. It helped them—let it help you.

Hard Nervous Spells. Horatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 95 pounds when my husband's mother persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do."

Now you can get yeast the way you want it

For the first time you can get a pure whole yeast in agreeable and convenient tablet form

Of surpassing interest to you thousands of men and women who understand the remarkable health-building properties of yeast is the knowledge that you can now get yeast the way you want it.

Ever since the therapeutic value of yeast was definitely determined by leading scientists, there has been an insistent demand for a pure whole yeast of high vitamin potency—that would keep that would be easy and agreeable to take; that could be conveniently carried about in the pocket, and, finally, that would not form gas nor cause flatulency or belching.

In Yeast Foam Tablets these demands have been met.

A food—not a medicine
Yeast has within itself the amazing therapeutic element, vitamin, the corrective properties of which are more astounding than any known drug or medicine.

If you wish to take drugs or medicine, do so on the advice of your physician. If you wish to take a supplementary food, for its tonic action on the whole body, take pure, whole, concentrated yeast—Yeast Foam Tablets.

What this new yeast does

"Foods which lack vitamin will not maintain health," says a noted medical authority, "and many foods which originally contained this element reach our table with all vitamin eliminated, due to various heating and preparing processes."

The vitamin thus eliminated is restored through the addition to your regular food of Yeast Foam Tablets. They stimulate the appetite, aid digestion and enable the body to convert food into firm, healthy tissue.

What to take Yeast Foam Tablets for

For that ill health, commonly known as a run-down condition, and all its distressing symptoms such as sluggishness, anaemia, failing strength and endurance, lost appetite and malnutrition, you will find nothing more efficacious than a prompt treatment of Yeast Foam Tablets. They are sold by all druggists.

Northwestern Yeast Co., Chicago
Makers of the famous baking yeast, Yeast Foam and Magic Yeast

Extraordinary advantages of Yeast Foam Tablets

The only pure whole yeast in easy-to-take tablet form.

They contain no drugs or other ingredients.

They do not form gas nor cause belching.

Each lot is tested to insure high and uniform vitamin potency.

We Sell Genuine International Repairs

By the INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY

REPAIRS made for International implements and other farm equipment by the Harvester Company are the only repairs made from the original patterns. All others are copied from copies, and in this roundabout reproduction they may lose in correctness of shape, sharpness of detail, closeness in fitting, and quality of material. These repairs are made for Deering, McCormick, Milwaukee, Titan and other International-made machines.

Genuine IHC Repairs

Are Better in Quality
Fit Better and Wear Longer

The Harvester Company stands back of its machines. Be fair in the matter. Do not substitute imitation repairs for the genuine and expect best service. Repairs made by other concerns and marked "Made for" or "Will fit" are not genuine IHC repairs. They often lack weight, are not always correct in shape, are imperfectly finished, do not fit properly, or are made of inferior material. Judge David W. Agnew of Waukesha, Wisconsin Candidate for Circuit Judge

Judge Agnew was born and raised on a farm and remained there until he was twenty-five years of age except when attending college. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, practiced law at Oconomowoc for many years; served as City Mayor of his City two terms; was District Attorney of Waukesha County, Municipal Judge for the Western District of Waukesha County; has been elected County Judge of his County three successive times and is now serving an unexpired term.

He has been on the Bench sixteen years dealing out justice to his people. He is loved by his people because he is truthful, honest and fearless. He is a friend of the common people and readily adheres to their rights and concedes their rights to them. He has a reputation of being kind and generous to the unfortunate and needy and is always free to offer his assistance to them.

The Voters of the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit can make no mistake by casting their ballot for him.

Should there be sent out by his opponent any false statements or rumors at the eleventh hour for the purpose of prejudicing the voter as to his past conduct as a man and as a citizen, consider where it came from and what the motive is and discourage such methods of campaigning by voting for Judge Agnew.

August Kumrow and son lost a valuable cow which they purchased from Otto Dickmann some time ago.

Wm. Hess of New Fane, August Schanz, Steve Klein, Art. Buss, Dan Buss, Chas. Roether, Charles Schief, Edw. Campbell, boarded a train here on Thursday for Fond du Lac where they attended the road hearing held in the court house there.

Thirteen benevolent devotion was observed at the Holy Trinity church here on Tuesday. The epistle mass was read at 7 A. M. During the day the Blessed Sacrament was exposed for the veneration of the faithful. High mass was read at 10 A. M. and concluding services were conducted at 7:15 P. M. Rev. Vort was assisted by Revs. Heide of West Bend, Ruhman of Deerpark, July and Bertram of Campbellport.

Beat in mind the day and date.

—A deal was closed this week whereby Mich. Johannes, residing three miles southwest of this village, traded the former Joe Weinert 80-acre farm, located three miles east of Wayne for the Peter Boegel blacksmith shop at Elmor. Mr. Boegel, who is an efficient blacksmith, which trade he has followed for many years, has decided to take up farming, and will take possession of the farm in the near future. Mr. Johannes is as yet undecided as to what he will do with the blacksmith shop.

—A number of citizens of this village and vicinity have the past two weeks had installed metal weather-strips in all of the windows of their residence by J. E. Burke, manufacturer and inventor of the Metal Weather Stripping of Fond du Lac. The metal weather strips are recommended to be the strongest and most practical on the market, guaranteed in every way to be air and dust proof, preventing all window leakage, rattling of windows and also to prevent the window sills from decaying through about by moisture soaking into the wood work. It is permanent and concealed, and adaptable for all windows of any size and description. Mr. Burke who has a number of crews at work installing the metal weather strips, has been kept busy with one of his crews installing them in the residences of Adolph Rosenheimer Sr., Adolph Rosenheimer, Jr., Miss Ida Schmidt, L. P. Rosenheimer, August Pross, S. C. Wollonski, D. M. Rosenheimer, Wm. Butzloff and E. E. Colvin. In an interview with Mr. Burke by one of the Statesman staff, he states that those which he has installed are meeting with the same hearty approval of the owners as at other places, and as a result prospects of installing many more here this year look very bright, judging from the number of inquiries that are being received daily. Mr. Burke is thoroughly acquainted with this new system being the originator and inventor of same. He resides at 311 North Park Ave., Fond du Lac, Wis. from where he will cheerfully furnish estimates to anyone interested by just dropping a post card to the above address.

WOMEN MUST DO IT

Every woman knows that her house has to be cleaned thoroughly every Spring. During Winter, dust, dirt and germs accumulate on the carpets, under the rugs, in the curtains, on every place. Just so with your system—it should be given a thorough cleaning, purging every spring.

HOLLISTER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN Tea does the job slick and quick. Without fail, make every member of the family take it once-a-week during this month. Can't the best? as a Spring laxative, cleanser, purifier. Especially good for women and children.—Edw. C. Miller.—Advertisement.

At this new low price Samson Trucks are the greatest truck value ever offered.

The economy of Samson trucks is found not only in the low investment, but also in their every day performances. Their true value is reflected in the work they will do day in and day out at low cost.

By their special design large loading space is furnished on the long, low heavy frame, and the load is evenly distributed on all four wheels. This eliminates undue strain on any one part and adds years of life. It also has the great added advantage of the same size pneumatic tires throughout.

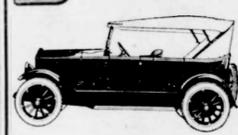

Samson Quick-Trip Trucks are sturdy and dependable. They are noted for their abundant and unflinching power. Their ability to climb steep hills and negotiate bad roads is a revelation.

Let us demonstrate these famous trucks to you. It will cost you nothing and oblige you in no way. Call us at once.

THE FIRST KISS.

Milla hung wearily upon his arm, and they dawdled, drifting from one side of the pavement to the other as they slowly advanced.

Pausing in an Alley, He Read Her Note.

"Well, tonight, Milla," he said, "I can't tomorrow night, she told him with obvious regret. 'Isn't it the worst luck! I got an aunt comin' to visit from Chicago, and she's crazy about playing 'Five Hundred' and rumma and papa said I had to stay in to make four to play it. She's liable to be here three or four days, and I guess I got to be around home pretty much all the time she's here. It's the worst luck!"

He was doubtful, but ventured to be literary. "Well, what can't be helped must be endured. I'll come around when she's gone."

She glanced up at the dark front of the house. "I guess the family's gone to bed," she said absently.

Writer Asserts that "Flu" is Spread by Practice of Doffing the Hat in Salutation.

Influenza has always been widely mysterious in its operations. Long ago one of our warships was off the west African coast, says London Answers, when a dense black mist advanced from the shore and swept over the vessel.

A traveler found influenza to be unusually severe in Mexico, where, as he remarked, there is so much hat-doffing.

RETAIN TAX LAW SECRECY CLAUSE

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE VOTES DOWN REPEAL BILL.

BLAINE VEToes SUBSTITUTE

Political Move Charged by Opponents of Administration—More Time Provided for Probe of Income Tax Returns.

Madison—Decisive votes in both houses of the legislature in special session rejected Gov. Blaine's bills to repeal the secrecy clause of the income tax law.

The senate killed the Severson bill, calling for repeal of the secrecy clause, and by a vote of 19 to 12 adopted the Skogmo substitute, opening income returns to all public officials in their official capacity.

The assembly, by a 51 to 38 vote, defeated a motion to reject the Catlin substitute to the Dahl repeal bill. It adopted the substitute by a 57 to 32 vote and the amended bill was then passed, 58 to 30.

The amended bills open income records to "any state, county or local officer in so far as the same pertains to his official duties," and not to the public generally, as asked by Gov. Blaine in his call for the special session.

Gov. Blaine announced that he would veto the amended bill and word from opposition leaders was to the effect that there would be no attempt to pass the measure over the governor's veto.

Seek to Alter Bill. Defeated in the first skirmish, administration leaders offered amendments to the amended bills to open income records as all other public records.

Senator Severson, who introduced the senate amendment, declared the secrecy clause fight would be carried into the next election on this issue and described the Skogmo substitute as "a humbug and a fraud."

The senate voted, 19 to 12, to reject the Severson amendment to the Skogmo substitute. The Severson amendment provided that "the income returns, or a copy thereof, or any papers or records in connection therewith of any person, corporation, joint stock company, or association, shall constitute public records and be open to inspection as such under the same rules and regulations as govern the inspections of public records generally."

Political Move Charged. Opposition legislators asserted that Gov. Blaine's veto of the Chapin bill, giving all public officials authority to review income tax records, will establish that his motive in calling the special session was to create a political issue for the coming campaign.

Administrative leaders in both houses let it be known that the political fight was under way, with every member of the legislature on record. They assert that the amendment accepted by both houses in no way meets the objection of the governor to the secrecy clause and that his fight will be carried to the voters.

More Time to Probe Returns. Under two other measures enacted at the special session, the tax commission is given authority to investigate income reports of corporations and individuals in the state over a period of six years, and is provided with an appropriation of $65,000 annually to prosecute this work.

Eleven field auditors of the commission will be placed in the field permanently to probe returns made by the larger firms of the state, with a view to recovering additional unreported taxes for the soldier's bonus fund, and soldier's educational bonus fund and the general income tax fund, 70 per cent of which goes to the cities, 20 per cent to counties and 10 per cent to the state.

From the returns of field investigators, it is expected by Gov. Blaine, that sufficient funds will be made available to permit construction of the Wisconsin General hospital, on which establishment of a four medical course at the University of Wisconsin depends. Already $750,000 of the $1,350,000 needed to complete this project is available from the service recognition fund.

Under another measure passed by the special session, assessments will be doubled where it is evident that attempt has been made to withhold report of earnings.

Where corporations have gone into bankruptcy, still owing taxes to the state, stockholders are liable for full payment, the tax commission reports. The commission plans a sweeping investigation now that broad authority has been granted it by the legislature.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars of additional tax will be paid into the treasury through the investigations to be put under way, the tax commission believes. Special attention will be paid to the income reports of corporations for 1917, 1918 and 1919, the war period, when earnings were exceptionally large.

Legislators expect that increased funds for income tax investigation work will likely be appropriated to the tax commission at the next regular session should the present probe result in the discovery of large amounts of additional revenue.

Gasoline. Gasoline gives off a very explosive vapor, even at ordinary temperature. This vapor is heavier than air and may be present near the floor of a room in which the odor of gasoline is scarcely noticeable to a person standing.

Animals Cause Asthma. Certain people are liable to attacks of asthma when brought into contact with cats, dogs, etc. This is due to an emanation from the skin or fur of the animal.

The Kitchen Cabinet

"Suppose that this here vessel," says the skipper with a grin, "Should lose her bearings, run away and bump upon a stone, 'Suppose she'd shiver and go down, when save ourselves we couldn't." The mate replies, "Oh, blow me eyes! Suppose again she shouldn't." —Wallace Irwin.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE SEASON

Did you ever try breaded pork chops? Order the chops cut thicker than usual, cut out the bone and skewer and press into shape. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Put in a frying pan and sprinkle the top of each with dried crumbs. Pour in boiling water to one-half the depth of the chops, cover closely and bake in a slow oven one and one-half hours. Remove chops, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake until the crumbs are brown. Arrange on a hot platter and garnish with celery tips. Serve with.

Oatmeal Soup.—Soak over night one cupful of oatmeal in two quarts of mutton broth or water; in the morning add one cupful of tomato pulp and serve hot. Strain before serving, or if for the children's luncheon, serve without straining.

Hot Chicken Salad.—Mix one pint of cooked chicken cut in cubes, one cupful of cooked peas, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper, one tablespoonful of onion juice, one pimento and one teaspoonful of lemon juice; set aside in a cool place for at least an hour. Make a sauce, using one-fourth of a cupful of butter, the same of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, a cupful each of cream and chicken broth. Add the seasoned ingredients and let stand over hot water until ready to serve.

Drifting down, drifting down! Light as dream, from far-off sky; Flitting swiftly o'er field and town; Ever the wild, wide dancers fly.

Tenderly touching the raged trees, Velline their somberness, drear and brown. With a mantle fair, which a king might prize, Drifting, drifting, drifting down!

TESTED RECIPES

Tartlets or small pies are so nice to serve and so well liked that the following recipe will be enjoyed.

Pineapple Tartlets.—Cover dulced tart pans with a plain paste, prick well with a fork and bake in a hot oven. When a delicate brown remove from the oven, shake the shells from tin and replace the tarts in the tin and fill with the following mixture: Cook one cupful of grated pineapple, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, the grated rind and juice of an orange, a few grains of salt, two egg yolks slightly beaten; when of the consistency of custard chill and fill the shells. Spread each with a meringue made of using the egg whites beaten stiff and one-fourth of a cupful of powdered sugar. Brown slightly in the oven, and serve cold.

Creamy Fudge.—Take two cupfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, one-third of a cupful of corn syrup and four tablespoonfuls of cocoa. Boil to the soft ball stage and set away to cool in the dish. When cool stir and beat. Add flavoring and nuts and drop before the mixture gets too stiff, by spoonfuls on waxed paper. Maple corn syrup may be used and a flavoring of maple, which will make a most delicious maple fudge.

Warren Stew.—Cut cold roast beef into small pieces, add one onion cut fine, take any leftover gravy, add one cupful of strained tomato and chicken slightly. Season lightly with cayenne, salt, parsley and a teaspoonful of curry powder if one likes that seasoning. Brown the onion in a little fat, add to the beef in a casserole with the other ingredients and cook until tender. Then prepare dumplings, place over the top, cover and cook ten or fifteen minutes, according to the size of the dumplings.

Nellie Maxwell Buddhism's Sacred Place. Diamond mountain, in Korea, is a sacred place of Buddhism, the priests of which, coming from China in proselyting endeavor, settled there several centuries ago. Because, says the Christian Science Monitor, the Buddhists are tree lovers, E. H. Wilson, on his exploration trip to Korea for the Arnold Arboretum of Boston, found that Arnold Arboretum's ex or modern sawmill had invaded this area, and he discovered many new varieties of trees and flowers with which the United States and other countries will be enriched.

Typographical Errors!

"The bride was gowned in white lace. The bridesmaids' gowns were punk. The whole color scheme of the decorations was punk."—New York paper. Probably the bridegroom was also in the punk of condition.

One to Spare.

An old lady saw two boys fighting in the street. She went up to the bigger of the two, and cried: "You wicked boy, you will kill him." "I don't care," answered the boy. "I've got another at home."

CHRISTMAS TIME FOR DOLLY

After Small Maiden's Plea Few Daddies Could Have Refused to Buy Toys She Wanted.

Little Lady Patricia walked down to the corner store with her dad. She carried her favorite doll and displayed all motherly pride and care. In the store there was a toy department not yet cleared of its Yuletide trappings. The little mother discovered a small red chair, a doll buggy and several other things that caught her youthful fancy. She demanded that they be bought immediately.

"Oh, no, Patsy we mustn't do that," the dad protested. "Christmas is over." Patsy thought a moment then called her father to one side and whispered, quite confidentially, in his ear: "Sh-h-h-h! Not so loud, father, it's going to be dolly's Christmas and she mustn't hear us."

SORRY HE GAVE BOY RIFLE

Why Fond Uncle Has Grave Doubts Concerning the Future of His Small Nephew.

Do the child's toys make the man? Uncle Ed, who is proud of his bright-eyed Bobby, his brother's four-year-old son, before Christmas hoped they did. Now he hopes they don't.

When Uncle Ed was a boy he played with a rifle. The toy, he always confides to himself, was the foundation of his winning a sharpshooter's badge in the army. That was the main reason that he gave Bobby an air rifle for Christmas last year.

Ed, since then, has imagined Bobby shouldering the "weapon" and playing soldier. He learned his mistake yesterday when he visited his brother's home, because Bobby met him at the door, pointed the rifle at his face and commanded: "Stick 'um up! Stick 'um up!" "Why didn't I give him a Bible?" Ed mourns now.

Matter of Climate.

"What does that picture represent?" asked Mr. Wadleigh. "Venus rising from the sea," said the art dealer.

"Gosh!" She hasn't any clothes on. I couldn't find a picture like that in my house. Show me a hunting scene." "Here you are, sir. Diana of the chase?" "She's not dressed, either. Better show me a picture of some Eskimos hunting seals."

The "Strike" Is On.

The customer called the waiter. "There's a clunk of wood in my sausage," said he. "I expect to be served with the dog, but I'll be hanged if I'll eat the kumel, too?"

Chesterfield CIGARETTES of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—blended. "I like 'em" "They Satisfy"

All He Got. Two tramps approached a likely looking dwelling on the country road and tossed up with their last half-penny which of the two should call there and solicit alms. One waited at the entrance gate, and the other walked up the drive toward the hall door. In a few seconds the latter reappeared. "Well, did he give you anything?" asked his expectant companion eagerly. "Oh, yes," was the reply. "He had a bulldog by the hand, and he gave me one minute to leave his garden. And here I am!"—Scotsman.

Must Have Been a Bostonian.

An English teacher asked the class to write a sentence that meant the same thing as "A whiff is as good as a nod to a blind horse." Some answers were good and some were bad, but she nearly fainted when she read this one: "The closing of the right optic is as sufficient as a rapid inclination of the cranium to a sightless quadruped."—Exchange.

The Wool Combers.

In the Latin quarter of Paris one often sees groups of bareheaded women, sitting in some quiet corner of the street, perhaps within a church door, picking and combing the wool of their mattresses. No matter how poor a French peasant may be, he almost always possesses a comfortable bed with a wool mattress.

DYED HER BABY'S COAT, A SKIRT AND CURTAINS WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her old, worn, faded things new. Even if she has never dyed before, she can put a new, rich color into shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything. Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade or run.—advertisement.

Hens in Trouble.

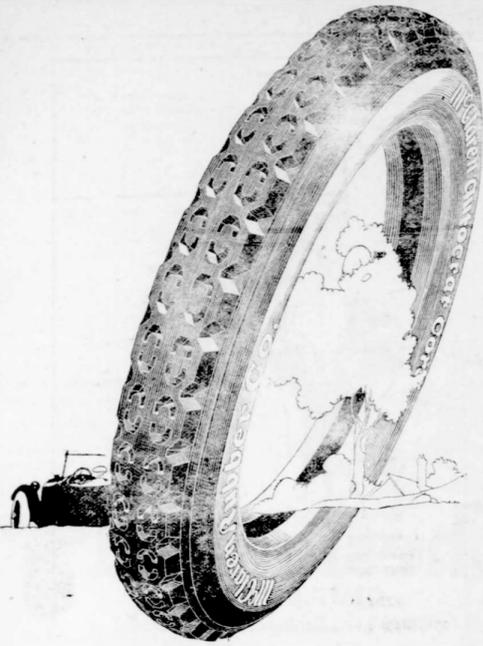

Lucile was sent to a neighbor to get some eggs. The neighbor informed her that the hens were molting, and she could not let her have any.

Heaven!

Jimmie was very fond of bread and preserves, and one day just before supper he came in, asking: "Mother, may I have some bread and preserves?" "Jimmie, I've told you a dozen times that you cannot have preserves before dinner. Run out and play a while."
