CLUB WORK IN WASHINGTON CO.

Previous experience of soy bean growers in Washington County has proved conclusively the value of inoculation in growing this crop. For the convenience of those who do not want to send to Madison for the culture, your County Agent has a supply at his office. The price is 25 cents for one bottle, that is enough to inoculate 30 lbs. of seed.

CLUB WORK IN WASHINGTON CO.

Mr. B. F. Zaffke, Assistant State Club Leader of Wisconsin, spent Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with County Agent Milton H. Button, visiting various schools of the county in the interest of the boys and girls corn and pig clubs. The rules of the clubs are as follows:

Club

Any boy or girl of Washington county between the ages of 10 and 19 is eligible to join. All corn club members are given a 10 lb. sample of cold-resistant golden glow seed corn on the condition that they plant this in a place where it will not mix with other corn and that in the fall they will return to Milton H. Button, County Agent, 30 lbs. of seed. The corn, record books will be furnished each club member in which a record may be kept of the expense of growing the corn. A ten year sample is to be exhibited at the Washington County Fair next fall. The competition to be by towns. The winner from each town is awarded a one week's trip to Madison to be taken the following June with all expenses paid by the Washington County Fair Association. The second prize in the town contest is $8.00 and the third prize $2.00. Loving cups are awarded to the first three prize winners in the sweepstakes in which the winners from each town compete.

Membership in the corn acre contest is limited to 75. Seventy boys and girls have already joined, and the first five boys or girls to send in their names will get the remaining corn. The club will then be closed for this year.

Pig Club

In the pig club contest any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 19 may join. Each member is given his choice of raising a Duroc Jersey, Chester White, Poland China, or Berkshire. A weaning gilt of any breed is to cost the club member $15.00. If the club member has not the necessary money to pay for this gilt arrangements will be made with the bank at which the club member's father does his banking to borrow this money for one year without interest. Record books are furnished each club member, and the club member is to keep an account of the expense of raising the gilt. The gilts are to be shown at the Washington County Fair, where the following prizes are offered: 1st, $6.00; 2nd, $5.00; 3rd, $4.00; 4th, $3.00; 5th, $2.00; 6th, $1.00.

These gilts are to be bred for March farrow, and next year at this time, you will buy from your another gilt, paying you $15.00 for this gilt. If you pay $15.00 you can pay off the note you signed this year.

Pig club members of last year may raise a gilt from their club pig of last year and are thus held over as club members.

All boys or girls interested in club work should write Milton H. Button, County Agent at once.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned at the office of Jos. F. Huber, secretary of the Washington County Agricultural Society, in the new County office at West Bend, Wis., up to 12 m., on Thursday, June 1, 1922, for the erection of an educational building on the Fair Grounds in the city of West Bend, according to plans and specifications on file at the office of said Jos. F. Huber. The committee reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids.

NOTICE

OSCAR MIRITZ DROPS DEAD

Oscar Miritz, a native of the town of Kewaskum, and well known in this village, dropped dead at his farm home in the town of Empire on Wednesday morning. Cause of his death being heart trouble. The Fond du Lac Commonwealth of Wednesday's edition has the following to say in regards to Mr. Miritz's death:

"Oscar P. Miritz, 54, chairman of the town of Empire and a prominent farmer, dropped dead at 8:45 o'clock Wednesday morning while occupied with some farm chores at his farm in company with his two sons, Ervin and Oscar Jr. He lived but a few moments after the fatal attack. He was unable to speak.

Mr. Miritz has been an active and leading member of the county board for several years and the news of his death will come as a great shock to his fellow members and to his many friends and acquaintances.

He has been suffering at times for the past two months with leakage of the heart. He was apparently in his usual health on Wednesday morning just previous to the attack. He and his two sons were engaged in some work at the granary on the farm when Mr. Miritz fell over. His sons tried to resuscitate him, but could do nothing.

Mr. Miritz was born in Washington county, 34 years ago and was married about 30 years ago. He has been a resident of Empire 25 years.

In addition to farming the deceased took an active interest in the South Empire Cooperative cheese factory, of which he was president and general manager.

Mr. Miritz leaves his wife, five children who are Ervin, Oscar Jr., Mrs. Victor Schroeder, Fond du Lac; Miss Georgia, and Daniel at home; a brother, Charles of Wheatland, Wyo.; four sisters, Mrs. A. H. Broden, Racine; Mrs. Paul Hantsinger, Waupun; Mrs. Henry Koehler, Milwaukee; and Miss Hattie Miritz, Chicago.

DEATH OF THOMAS CURRAN

At his home in the village of Campbellsport on Saturday at 10:50 p. m. occurred the death of Thomas Curran, aged 82 years, a pioneer of the town of Ashford. Mr. Curran was born in 1840 in Providence, R. I., coming to this state with his parents when a boy of nine years. The family settled on a farm in the town of Ashford, where he resided until 1872, when he moved to the village of Campbellsport, where he has since resided. In 1872, he was married to Miss Katherine McLaughlin, who preceded him in death several years ago. The surviving relatives are two sons, Emmett and Frank Curran and two daughters, the Misses Esther and Belle Curran, and two grandchildren, Miss Mary McInnis and Gerald Curran, all of Campbellsport.

The funeral was held at 10 a. m., Tuesday, with services in the St. Matthew's church, Campbellsport. Rev. Fr. J. B. McFarland, Eden and Fr. Vogt, Kewaskum, officiated. Interment was made in the Union cemetery.

The Undelivered Package

NEW DRUG STORE OPENS TODAY

Otto Graf, who has leased the former Mrs. John Guth saloon property, now owned by L. Rosenheimer, located on the corner of Main street and Fond du Lac avenue, in which he has equipped a well known drug store, known as the Graf Pharmacy, will open for business today (Saturday). The building has undergone a complete renovation, and Mr. Graf has equipped same with all the latest and most modern furniture suitable for a drug store and soda fountain trade. Mr. Graf who is a registered pharmacist having been in the business for twenty years, will keep in stock at all times pure and fresh drugs, sundries, toilet articles, perfumes, cigars, candies, stationery, and Luicks ice cream. His prescription department will be his specialty.

Mr. and Mrs. Graf moved to this village three weeks ago and since that time have been busily engaged in getting things lined up. In the nice, neat and artistic manner in which everything has been arranged, gives it the appearance of a well regulated and managed city drug store equal to those found anywhere in this community. That Mr. Graf will be successful here there remains no doubt.

MOVIES GREETED BY A PACKED HOUSE

Charlie Chaplin in "The Kid" was greeted by one of the largest crowds of movie fans that ever assembled at the Opera House last Sunday evening. It is estimated that over 450 people were packed into the hall, which was taxed to its capacity. Many who had come from miles around had to be turned away. The picture was one of Chaplin's best productions, and was very interesting from start to finish. It contained one of the most pathetic scenes ever filmed, when the authorities insisted on separating Charlie and the Kid, on the grounds that Charlie was not a fit guardian for him. Other scenes in the picture were such as to keep the audience anxiously waiting to learn what the outcome of it all would be. Pictures of this quality are bound to draw large crowds and plainly shows what class of pictures the movie fans of this community want to be treated to. Manager Aaton always caters to the wants of the people and ever tries to give them the best. The community cannot go wrong by attending the Kewaskum movies and getting the best.

CARD OF THANKS

We hereby wish to give our heartfelt thanks to the Rev. Kanies, the choir members and to our neighbors and sympathizers who extended us words of sympathy and aid during our late bereavement, also for the beautiful floral gifts and to all who respected the departed one by attending the funeral.

CLASS PLAY MAY THIRTIETH

The Senior Class play of the Kewaskum High School, "The Elopement of Ellen", will be given on Tuesday evening, May 30th, at the Kewaskum Opera House. The cast of characters are hard at work rehearsing some under the able and efficient coaching of Miss Emma Windau. The play is one which is sure to please and will offer a wholesome and social entertainment for both young and old. Judging from the rapid progress the cast has been making all can rest assured that it will be a grand success in every respect. The cast of characters is as follows:

Molly.....Norma Bunkelman
Richard Ford.....Raymond Quade
Robert Shepard.....Arnold Boegel
Max Ten Eyck.....Alfred Schaefer
Dorothy March.....Evelyn Perschbacher
John Hume.....Edwin Morgenroth

Music will be furnished by the West Bend Symphony orchestra. A dance will follow the play.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Having rented the L. Rosenheimer building, formerly known as the American House on the corner of Main St. and Fond du Lac Ave., Kewaskum, Wis., in which I will conduct a first class drug store, I wish to announce that I will be ready for business today (Saturday). I am a registered pharmacist, and will take care of your wants in a most satisfactory manner. I will keep in stock at all times a complete line of pure and fresh drugs, sundries, toilet articles, perfumes, cigars, candies, Luicks's ice cream, stationery. My prescription Department is my specialty. I invite the general public to step into my place of business and become acquainted.

Otto Graf.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

The L. Rosenheimer Realty company is kept busy these days selling and buying lands and other property. The past week the following deals were disposed of: Sold the Geo. Knoebel farm in the town of Wayne to August Hoerth of the town of Ashford. This is one of the choicest farms in the town of Wayne, consisting of 145 acres, and is located on Highway 55. They look in exchange the 80-acre farm formerly owned by Mr. Hoerth and again sold this farm to John L. Gudex, who already owned the Cedar Lawn Stock Farm across the road.

This gives Mr. Gudex one of the choicest 160-acre farms in that section of Fond du Lac county. Possession to the farms will be given June 1st. Mr. Knoebel will hold an auction of his personal property on Wednesday, May 24, and Mr. Hoerth will move down his personal property from the town of Ashford. It is quite noticeable this season that the Rosenheimer Realty Co., is more active than most of their competitors are as it appears that there is more real estate moving in the vicinity of Kewaskum than in any section of this or the neighboring counties.

KILLED ON BARTON HILL

The road over the Barton hill keeps up its record of danger to the very extent of its existence. The worst of all accidents that are on its record happened last Friday evening about 8:45 o'clock. Driving three 3-ton government trucks from West Allis to Shawano, where they are to be used for highway work, John Glawe and four other men had made a detour on Highway 55 between here and Barton. Arriving in the village, they became puzzled over the continuation of the highway, and while two trucks stopped at the sign board that plainly indicated its course in a northerly direction, Glawe drove on with his truck to the end of Main street which was only three-quarters blocked to allow access to the houses in that part of the village. He then turned onto the old Highway 55, back towards this city, and at the point where the relocated highway touches the old highway which has been cut away, the truck and its driver went over the edge and plunged down a twelve foot ravine. Glawe's head and chest were crushed, resulting in instant death. The cab and other parts of the truck were considerably damaged.

The body was taken to Andrew Kapferer undertaking parlor and Saturday noon was shipped to Shawano, where the unfortunate man had his home. He was about fifty years old, was married but had no children—West Bend News.

Board of Public Works

Kewaskum, Wis., May 16, 1922. Pursuant to adjournment the Village Board met as a Board of Public Works with all members present. Pres. Morgenroth acting as chairman. The Board proceeded to make out schedules of the assessment for sewerage for the entire village, according to the plans heretofore adopted pursuant to the Ordinance (No. 33) passed by the Village Board on the 8th day of March 1922.

After viewing the premises the Board made out the schedules of assessments against the various lots and parcels of lands fronting and abutting upon the lines upon which sewers are to be constructed, and that such report is open for view at the office of the Village Clerk and will be so continued for the space of 10 days from date hereof to-wit, until the 31st day of May, A. D. 1922 on which day the Board will be in session as per official notice given.

The Board determined the approximate amount to be paid for sewerage by the Village at large, the sum of $13,800.00. On motion made and carried the clerk was instructed to publish the notice in the official paper, that the Board will be in session to hear objections to said report, on the 31st day of May, 1922 at 1:30 o'clock P. M.

On motion the Board adjourned. S. N. Casper, Village Clerk.

OPENING GAME ON MAY 28th

The opening game of base ball will be played here on Sunday afternoon, May 28, when the locals will cross bats with the Keovons team. The visitors are a strong aggregation, and are bound to give the locals a run for their money. The members of the local team have been hard at work getting the diamond into first class shape. Same has been skinned, and is now in as good a condition as can be found anywhere in this community. Good fast brand of amateur base ball can therefore be looked forward to this summer on the home grounds. The boys are practicing daily and are determined to win the opening game. So be on deck and cheer for the home team.

KOHLER-CROOK WEDDING

A very pretty wedding took place at the St. Matthew's church, Campbellsport on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock when Miss Dolores Kohler and Harry R. Crook were united in holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. B. July performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a pretty suit of Poiret, with her color, embroidered in blue, and a hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Thelma Scholler, a cousin of the bride of Random Lake who was bridesmaid wore a gray and humming bird hiee taffeta. She carried an arm bouquet of Killarney roses. Frederick Crook of Ripon, a brother of the groom, was best man.

After the ceremony the bridal party together with a few invited guests repaired to the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held and at 11 o'clock the wedding dinner was served. The centerpiece on the table was a wedding cake, with ribbon streamers, topped with white flowers, marked with a card and flower. The home was decorated with pink, white and orchid crepe paper streamers and cut flowers. The five course dinner was served by Mrs. Julia Weis, assisted by Mrs. James G. Gifford, Mrs. B. Glass and Miss Edith Crook. The newly weds left the same day for a wedding trip, keeping their destination a secret. They will be at home to their many friends at Campbellsport after June 1.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kohler of Campbellsport. She is a graduate of the Campbellsport high school with the class of 1919 and has been employed at the Campbellsport office. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crook, of Ripon, and is an auto mechanic at the Pesch and Beisler garage at Campbellsport.

George Walsh's newest role, that of Frank Theydon in the William Fox motion picture version of Louis Tracy's famous novel, "Number 17," which is coming to the Opera House on Sunday, May 21, is said to be far and away the best thing he has done on the screen.

As a novel, "Number 17" is a succession of vivid pictures of exciting adventure, with a background of mystery and love; and every thrilling incident has been visualized in the film story. Mr. Walsh's role is that of a young author, who beset by a gang of ruthless enemies, fights a tremendous battle of wits with them, with the New York underworld as the battlefield.

The leading woman is Mildred Reardon, clever and pretty, who plays the part of Evelyn Forbes. Harold Thomas, well known for his work in strong dramatic roles, appears as Wong Li Fu, leader of the gang of criminals. Others in the cast are Charles Mussette, Lillian Beck, Louis R. Wolheim, Charles Slattery, Jack Newton, Spencer Charters and Lillian Griffiths. George F. Beranger is the director.

NEW PARLEY BID IS TURNED DOWN

United States Government Refuses to Join The Hague Conference.

INVITATION IS DECLINED

Washington Authorities Won't Participate in Latest Attempt to Force Peace—Reply Sent After Conference at White House.

Washington, May 17.—The United States government declined to participate in the economic conference to be held at The Hague, starting June 15, for consideration of the Russian problems.

The reply of Secretary Hughes, drafted after a White House conference with President Harding, was made public at the State department.

The text of the reply follows: "This government has carefully considered the invitation extended to it by the president of the Genoa conference, under the conditions set forth in the agreement of the inviting powers to join the proposed commission to meet at The Hague on June 15. This government is most desirous to aid in every practicable way the consideration of the economic exigencies in Russia and wishes again to express the deep friendship felt by the people of the United States for the people of Russia and their great interest in all proceedings looking to the return of the prosperity to which their capacities and resources entitle them.

The American people have given the most tangible evidence of their unshakable interest in the economic recuperation of Russia and this government would be most reluctant to abstain from any opportunity of helpfulness.

"This government, however, is unable to conclude that it can helpfully participate in the meetings at The Hague, as this would appear to be a continuance under a different nomenclature of the Genoa conference and destined to encounter the same difficulties, if the attitude disclosed in the Russian memorandum of May 11 remains unchanged.

"The immediate and ultimate question would appear to be the restoration of productivity in Russia, the essential conditions of which are still to be secured and must, in the nature of things, be provided within Russia herself.

"While this government has believed that these conditions are reasonably clear, it has always been ready to join with the government in extending the present invitation, and arranging for an inquiry by experts into the economic situation in Russia and the necessary remedies. Such an inquiry would appropriately deal with the economic prerequisites of that restoration of production in Russia without which there would appear to be lacking any sound basis for credits.

"It should be added that this government is most willing to give serious attention to any proposals issuing from the Genoa conference, or any later conference, but it regards the present suggestions, in apparent response to the Russian memorandum of May 11, as lacking, in view of the terms of that memorandum, in the definiteness which would make possible the concurrence of this government in the proposed plan."

The inviting powers referred to in the cubbed summary of the proposed plan are understood to be Italy, Belgium, Great Britain and Japan.

Genoa, May 17.—The Genoa subcommittee on Russian affairs ratified the proposal for a meeting of the allies at The Hague on June 15 to appoint a commission of experts to study the Russian problem in detail.

M. Rakowski, one of the spokesmen for the Russian delegation, made a statement indicating Russia would accept The Hague commission proposal "under protest."

The phrase "under protest" saves the faces of the Russian delegation, and particularly its chief, M. Tchetcherin.

At the same time it permits preparations for the next conference—a continuation of the Genoa conference—to continue.

CHARGES COAL PRICE BOOST

Boston Fuel Commissioner Says People There are Paying $5,600,000 More Than During War.

Boston, May 17.—Fuel Commissioner Eugene Hultman issued a statement saying the people of Boston are paying $5,600,000 more a year for coal than they paid under the "fair price" scale established by the government during the war. Mr. Hultman said dealers had eliminated all competition in the coal trade.

MUSICIANS WANT BEER

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 15.—A resolution urging congress to amend the Volstead law to permit the sale of beer and light wines was adopted here at the annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians.

$1,250,000 Booze Profits

Vancouver, B. C., May 15.—A dispatch from Victoria says that an unofficial estimate of the total profits from the government sale of liquor in British Columbia during the six months will be $1,250,000.

Cash for Daughters

Washington, May 16.—An appropriation of $200,000 to enable Attorney General Daugherty to conduct a vigorous campaign of prosecution of war contract frauds was reported favorably by the house.

Cox Declines to Run

Dayton, O., May 16.—Former Gov. James M. Cox, who was the Democratic candidate for President in 1920, declined the invitation of a political club to enter the race for governor of Ohio this year.

SENATE ORDERS BIG STEEL QUIZ

Proposed Merger of Independents Attacked by La Follette as Conspiracy.

DEMANDS IMMEDIATE ACTION

His Resolution Directing the Attorney General and Federal Trade Commission to Get Busy Is Adopted Unanimously.

Washington, May 15.—Immediate action by the government to stop the merger of steel companies under the lead of the Bethlehem and Lackawanna concerns was demanded by the senate in adopting the La Follette resolution, directing the attorney general and federal trade commission to act.

The resolution was passed by unanimous vote after Senator La Follette had explained the nature of the proposed merger and related the steps taken by the steel companies to combine. He quoted numerous financial papers to prove that formation of the combine already is under way.

"That the attorney general and the federal trade commission be requested to inform the senate as soon as possible what steps they have taken or propose to take to ascertain the purposes and probable effects of the proposed merger; what have been the results of an investigation which they may have conducted, and what actions they have instituted to protect the public interests.

"That the attorney general be further requested to inform the senate whether or not it is advisable, in his opinion, to proceed under the appropriate provisions of the Sherman law and the Clayton law to prevent and restrain this impending combination."

Senator La Follette declared that if the merger is formed the entire steel industry will be in the hands of two large concerns, the United States Steel corporation and the new combine. These two concerns, he said, would be able to fix prices on every product of the steel mills. The threat to prevent the merger, he said, was now before it became really effective. He asserted that unless the attorney general moves quickly it will be too late, adding:

"This is the age of steel. Iron and steel lie at the base of every human activity. Without steel our farms cannot be cultivated, our industries would be prostrated and our homes could not be built.

"The men who control this basic commodity control the nation. A little more than twenty years ago they secured complete control of one-half the steel industry by the formation of a corporation so great that it staggered the nation. They could control the other half of the industry only by agreements and understandings with the so-called independent companies.

"These agreements, arrived at through the medium of Gary dinners, worked well during the periods of prosperity, but they were inconceivable and, like all gentlemen's agreements, were apt to be broken when in periods of depression there was a scramble for business.

"Today they are proposing to bring the other half of the industry under one consolidated control, so that in future instead of one party ruling through the medium of understandings to which there were a dozen or more parties, they will be able to make firm and binding contracts through the two great corporations which will dominate the industry.

"Gary dinners will no longer be necessary. Instead, the heads of the two great corporations will be able to sit down at a lunch table and without fear of detection, fix the price of every pound of steel sold in the United States."

Senator La Follette quoted newspaper reports to show that Kuhn, Loeb & Co. are the fiscal agents in the proposed merger.

ROBBERS ARE FOILED U. S. MARKET REPORT

Rock Island Trainman Kills One, Wounds Another.

Eight Masked Men Foiled in Attempt to Hold Up Train in Arizona.

Tucson, Ariz., May 16.—With two well-directed bullets, Express Messenger H. Stewart frustrated a spectacular attempt by eight masked robbers to rob Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific train No. 3, the Golden State Limited, bound from Chicago to Los Angeles. Stewart killed one of the eight men, apparently wounded a second and routed the band single-handed.

Passengers were not interested in the holdup, which was staged near James, a flag station eight miles west of Tucson.

The body of the slain robber, whose hands were incased in rubber gloves, was recognized by Sheriff McDaniel of Pinal county as that of a Tucson peddler named. Beside his body was found a stick of dynamite, with which the robbers intended to blow strong boxes in the mail and baggage cars.

A red fuse, a railroad stop signal, was used by the robbers who hid in an isolated spot midway between James and Cortaro at 1:10 in the morning.

When Conductor Madigan thrust his head out of a vestibule of one of the passenger coaches to ascertain what had occurred, a member of the band, who had opened fire. Meanwhile Messenger Stewart had thrown open the door of the baggage car. When Stewart saw that Madigan was in danger, he killed with one shot the robber who had fired at the conductor. Stewart then wheeled and sent another bullet at four robbers who were advancing on the baggage and mail cars. One, apparently hit, staggered and shouted to his comrades. Then all seven of them turned and scurried to two automobiles and sped west in their cars.

TRUST IN MERGER DENIED

General Counsel for Steel Companies Says Proposed Consolidation Not Violation of Law.

New York, May 17.—Denial that the proposed six-company steel merger would be a violation of the Sherman law or Clayton act was made by Thomas L. Chadbourne, general counsel for the companies concerned in the merger.

The companies named in the proposed consolidation plan are the Midvale Steel, Republic Iron and Steel, Steel and Tube Company of America, Frick Hill Steel, Inland Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube company. Mr. Chadbourne's denial was occasioned by the inquiry received by the companies from the federal trade commission, requesting full information of the proposed merger.

"We have not only turned the corner," was Mr. Edgerton's summary of a survey of industry just completed. "We are now leaving it very far behind. Business is on the upgrade in practically all of the basic industries."

The survey was made by questionnaires answered by white, were received within the last 24 hours so that it was declared to represent conditions as of today.

WISCONSIN STATE NEWS

Waukesha—Mrs. Frieda Zimmerman, charged with the murder of her two stepchildren, who were drowned in a cistern on the Zimmerman farm near Oconomowoc, was acquitted by a jury in Circuit court at Waukesha after deliberation of seven hours. Mrs. Zimmerman had been on trial on a first degree murder charge growing out of the deaths of her stepchildren, Ruth, 7 years old, and Elmer, 3 years old, who were drowned on Dec. 16, 1921. Despite her protestations of innocence and her reiteration of the story that the children had fallen into the cistern in attempting to release a duck, officials held Mrs. Zimmerman for murder, basing their charge upon alleged discrepancies in her story of the events connected with the tragedy and upon the fact that a quarrel with her husband, growing out of charges that the children were not being properly cared for, had preceded their deaths by only four days.

Madison—Ten automobiles ranging from a $22,500 special model to the most inexpensive of cars, all the property of Victor H. Arnold, president of the Madison Bond Co., are being scrubbed up preparatory for selling to increase the assets of the bond company, adjudged bankrupt by the United States district court. Deeds to the Arnold home at Madison have been turned over to John S. Allen, receiver for the company, and all property being prepared for sale. Arnold gained a name as "Madison's Santa Claus" last December when he gave a $25,000 Christmas party for the city's poor.

Birchwood—According to a careful check of cattle throughout the state, it has been found that the average value of dairy cows is higher in Barron county than in any other of the 28 counties in northern Wisconsin. The estimated average value of dairy cows in Barron county, Jan. 1, 1922, was $57. Richland, La Crosse and Waukesha county cattle are valued from $59 to $72. The cattle in Barron county totals a value of approximately $5,000,000. Crops are practically up to normal throughout the county, despite the backward spring.

Madison—An insect survey of the Wisconsin cranberry boss is to be made by the state department of agriculture in an effort to curb pests now affecting condition of the crop. Control of the fireworm and the tipworm is the aim of the state. Its action in ordering an insect survey followed a meeting of the Cranberry Growers' association just held to consider means of reducing heavy losses. They asked the department of agriculture to aid in the work.

Madison—New Wisconsin road maps, designed by the state highway commission were received in Madison for distribution. They will be placed on sale all over the state. Several changes in roads, and the present status of the surfaces of the state and in detail by the new maps. Hard-surfaced roads are shown on the map in red, and the dirt roads in purple. The map also shows all camping sites in the state for motorists.

Madison—Building contracts awarded in Wisconsin during April amounted to $3,720,000, or 34 per cent more than the amount for April, 1921, according to a construction report. Total building contracts let in Wisconsin during the first four months of 1922 have amounted to $23,900,400, an increase of 36 per cent over the first four months of 1921.

Green Bay—That Green Bay industries which have been shut down or curtailed by the general business depression are recovering is indicated by the fact that surplus labor is being absorbed. So fast is this labor being absorbed that forecasts have been made by employment experts that there will be a shortage of workers by June 1.

Portage—Damage estimated at $15,000 was caused by fire of undetermined origin which destroyed 10 buildings in the business district of Packwaukee, a town of 800 population in Marquette county, 17 miles north of Portage.

Madison—Fruit trees should not be sprayed while in bloom, J. G. Moore, horticulturist of the College of Agriculture, warned Wisconsin fruit growers. He said that injury not only to the fruit yield but as well to the bees visiting the trees might result.

Tomah—Large numbers of inquiries are being received from western states for dairy cattle, particularly Holsteins and Guernseys, according to E. L. Liddle, Monroe county agricultural agent.

Madison—A short course in business management for officers of agricultural co-operative associations of Wisconsin is planned for this summer by the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin and the state department of markets.

La Crosse—Special services to consecrate the Memorial road of elms on the La Crosse-Onalaska highway will be held on the afternoon of Memorial day, May 30. The elms are already planted.

Monroe—A protest against "freak" postcards and envelopes, particularly those affairs that are easily lost, was adopted at the annual convention of the Green County Rural Carriers' association. Federal regulations were asked in the direction of standardizing mail matter.

Merrill—From twenty-five to thirty registered Holsteins will be offered for sale on May 27 by Lincoln county. The county sold twenty head a year ago at an average of $150 each.

HAD TO STAY IN BED FOR WEEKS

Omaha Citizen Says He is Now Rid of Troubles That Had Kept Him Miserable for Years.

"I was almost out of commission when I began taking Tanlac, but it has made me feel like a new man in a short time," said W. S. Meadville, 7044 North Twenty-ninth St., Omaha, Neb.

"My liver and kidneys were out of order and I had terrible pains in my back and sides and was so bad I often had to stay in bed for two weeks at a time.

"The results I got from Tanlac were a very glad surprise to me. It benefited me in every way and I believe the improvement I received will be lasting and I feel stronger and better than in many a day."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

MRS. HATFIELD SABINA, OHIO

In Pitiable Condition when she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook and dress. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish." Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial. It surely helped Mrs. Hatfield, just as it has many, many other women.

And jumping down from the window seat, he began to dance round his much portlier comrades, belting, then sprang upon him; they wrestled vigorously, broke a chair and went to the floor with a crash that gave the chandelier in Mrs. Meigs' parlor, below, an attack of jingles.

"You let me up!" Fred gasped. "You take your solemn oath to shut up? You goin' to swear it?" "All right, I give my solemn oath," said Fred; and they rose, arranging their tangled attire.

"Well," said Fred, "when you goin' to call on her?" "You look here!" Ramsey approached him dangerously. "You just gave me your word."

"I beg!" Fred cried, retreating. "I mean, aside from all that, why, I just thought maybe after such an evening you'd feel as a gentleman you ought to go and ask after her health."

"Now, see here—"

"No, I mean it; you ought to," Fred insisted, earnestly, and as his roommate glared at him with complete stupefaction, he added, in explanation, "You ought to go next Callers' Night, and send in your card, and say you felt you ought to ask if she'd suffered any from the night air. Even if you couldn't manage to say that, you ought to start to say it, anyhow, because you—Keep off of me! I'm only tryin' to do you a good turn, ain't I?"

"You save your good turns for yourself," Ramsey growled, still advancing upon him.

"That the beautiful Mitchell, evading him, fled to the other end of the room, tucked up his cap and changed his number. "Come on, die bag of beans, let's be on our way to the 'frat house'; it's time. We'll call this all off."

"You better!" Ramsey warned him; and they trotted out together.

But as they went along, Fred took Ramsey's arm confidentially, and said: "Now, honestly, Ram, ole man, when are you goin' to—"

Ramsey was still red. "You look here! Just say one more word—"

"Oh, no," Fred expostulated. "I mean seriously, Ramsey. Honestly, I mean seriously. Aren't you seriously goin' to call on her some Callers' Night?"

"No, I'm not."

"But why not?"

"Because I don't want to."

"Well, seriously, Ramsey, there's only one Callers' Night before vacation, and so I suppose it hardly will be worth while; but I expect you'll see quite a little of her at home this summer?"

"No, I won't. I won't see her at all. She isn't goin' to be home this summer, and I wouldn't see anything of her if she was."

"Where's she goin' to be?"

"In Chicago."

"She is?" said Fred, stily. "When'd she tell you?"

And upon his release he complained that the attack was unprovoked. "I didn't say anything on earth to even hint you might want to go out and see if anybody in particular had got back to college yet. I didn't even mention the name of Dora Yo— Keep off of me! My goodness, but you are sensitive!"

As a matter of fact, neither of them saw Dora until the first meeting of the Luncheon, whether they went as sophomores to take their pleasure in the agony of freshmen debaters, Ramsey was now able to attend the Luncheon, not with complacency but at least without shuddering over the recollection of his own spectacular first appearance there.

He had made subsequent appearances, far from brilliant, yet not disgraceful, and as a spectator, at least, he usually felt rather at his ease in the place. It cannot be asserted, however, that he appeared entirely at his ease this evening after he had read the "Programme" chalked upon the large easel blackboard beside the chairman's desk.

Three "Freshman Debates" were announced and a "Sophomore Oration," "D. Yocum, '18." Ramsey made immediate and conspicuous efforts to avoid sitting next to his roommate, but was not so adroit as to be successful. However, Fred was merciful; the fluctuations of his friend's complexion were an inspiration more to pity than to loathing.

The three debates all concerned the "Causes of the War in Europe," and honors appeared to rest with a small and stout, stolidly "pro-German" girl.

"What place you meant?"

"The Yocum place," said Mr. Mitchell. "I hear the old gentleman's mighty prosperous these days. They keep things up to the mark, don't they, Ramsey?"

"I don't know whether they do or whether they don't," Ramsey returned shortly.

Fred appeared to muse regretfully. "It looks kind of empty now, though," he said, "with only Mr. and Mrs. Yocum and their married daughters, and eight or nine children on the front porch!"

"You wait till I get you where they can't see us!" Ramsey warned him hoarsely.

"You can't do it," said Fred, manfully triumphant. "We'll both sit right here in plain sight of the whole Yocum family connection till you promise not to touch me."

And he leaned, leaning back implacably against the Yocum's iron fence. Ramsey was scandalized.

"Come on!" he said hoarsely. "Don't stop here!"

"I will, and if you go on alone I'll yell at you. You got to stand right here with all of 'em lookin' at you until—"

"I promise! My heavens, come on!" Fred consented to end the moment of agony; and for the rest of the summer found it impossible to persuade Ramsey to pass that house in his company. "I won't do it!" Ramsey told him. "Your word of honor means nothing to me; you're liable to do anything that comes into your head, and I'm gettin' old enough to not get a reputation."

When the debates and the verdicts were concluded, the orator appeared, and Fred's compassion extended itself so far that he even refrained from looking inquisitively at the boy in the next seat to his; but he made one side of a wager, mentally—that if Ramsey had consented to be thoroughly confessed to feeling kind of funny.

Dora was charmingly dressed, and she was pale; but these notable eye-lashes of hers were all the more notable against her pallor. And as she spoke with fire, it was natural that her color should come back quite flamboyantly and that her eyes should flash in shelter of the lashes. "The Christian Spirit and Internationalism" was her subject, yet she showed no meek sample of a Christian Spirit herself when she came to attacking war-makers generally, as well as all those "half-developed tribesmen" and "victims of heredity" who believed that war might ever be justified under any circumstances of atrocity. She was eloquent truly, and a picture of grace and girlish dignity, even when she was most victorious. Nothing could have been more militant than her denunciation of militancy.

"She's an actual wonder," Fred said, when the two had got back to Mrs. Meigs' afterward. "Don't you look at me like that; I'm talkin' about her as a public character, and there's nothin' personal about it. You let me alone."

Ramsey was not clear as to his duty. "Well—"

"If any person makes a public speech," Fred protested, "I got a perfect right to discuss 'em, no matter what you think of 'em"—and he added hastily—"or don't think of 'em!"

WILL NOT TAKE UP RUSS PROBLEM

League Council Refers Question to the Genoa Conference.

REQUEST MADE BY NORWAY

Presented to the Body by Doctor Nansen—Zionist Pressure Forces League of Nations to Consider Palestine Mandate.

Geneva, May 17.—The council of the League of Nations refused to take up the Russian problem, and referred to the Genoa conference the Norwegian government's request for an immediate inquiry by the league into the general situation in Russia and the effect of the famine in economic reconstruction in Europe.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, who presented the Norwegian government's request, and who is the league's high commissioner for Russian relief, fought hard to prevent the question going to Genoa. He said handing it to Genoa was equivalent to burying it.

Protest by Marquis Imperiali. Marquis Imperiali of Italy protested this, saying he was confident the conference at Genoa would give the question fullest consideration.

Doctor Nansen, however, insisted the Genoa conference was about to break up without, according to the press reports, having solved the Russian problem.

Doctor Nansen insisted that a permanent body should be set up to deal with the problem to a temporary organization like Genoa, adding that the members of the council would have failed in their first duty to their governments if they refused to act in this matter.

All the members of the council, however, supported Lord Balfour's resolution, passing the question to a Genoa conference, but only after he agreed to reconsider it if it should be buried at Genoa.

Doctor Nansen accepted this compromise resolution.

Text of Telegram to Genoa. The telegram sent to the Genoa conference reads as follows: "The council having heard a discussion on the economic consequences of the famine, desires to recommend to the Genoa conference or some commission growing out of the Genoa conference that all available information be coordinated on the effect which the famine must have on European reconstruction."

Doctor Nansen praised the work of the American relief administration in Russia, and said the Americans were now feeding nearly 5,000,000 people. But, he declared, all the relief organizations in Russia could not expect to overcome the famine, which probably would be just as bad next year, since the coming of next year's crop would be only 20 per cent of the previous year's.

Zionists Force League's Hand. Pressure from Zionists in all parts of the world has led the council of the League of Nations to reconsider its decision not to take up the Palestine mandate at its present session, and the question of placing it on the agenda will be discussed tomorrow.

It is still regarded as highly improbable, however, that any action looking to confirmation of the British mandate will be taken at this session, because of the opposition from French and Italian quarters.

The Zionist representatives here are pressing for a decision, and say a delay of another three months will mean just that much time lost in establishing the Jewish national home.

NO IRISH PEACE YET, BELIEF

Dail Eireann Committee Reports on its Deliberations—Not Made Public.

Dublin, May 17.—The peace committee of Dail Eireann, which has been engaged for some days in efforts to find a basis for unity of the Irish factions, has concluded its deliberations, it was officially announced here. The report was presented to the Dail, but the announcement gave no clue to the nature of the report.

The impression prevalent in Dublin was that the conference had failed to agree on any plan and that today's meeting would have to face a final breakdown of the attempts to reconcile the two factions.

BEAT PREMIER IN COMMONS

British Government Meets Defeat in House on Minor Question of Teachers' Pensions.

London, May 17.—The British government met defeat in the house of commons by a vote of 151 to 148, on a bill dealing with a question of teachers' pensions.

Loud cries of "resign" greeted the announcement of the vote.

This is the third time the present coalition government has been defeated in a vote in the house, in each case the reversal having come on a comparatively minor question.

Forty Hurt When Stand Falls

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 17.—Forty persons were injured when a photographer stand built to take pictures of a Knights Templar parade, collapsed.

Safety Lunches

When animals like cows, sheep or deer go through the performance of "chewing the cud" they are carrying out a function which their ancestors discovered was a means of aiding them to escape from their enemies. These animals of long ago were always in danger of attack, so they got into the habit of eating as much grass and herbage as they could in a short time, and then retiring to a place of safety.

BARES GREAT PROFITS

REPORT TO SENATE HITS THE GRAIN EXPORTERS.

Trade Commission Probe Finds Ship ports Turn Over Capital Hundred Times in Year.

Washington, May 17.—Swollen profits by grain exporters and practical control of the American trade by foreign-owned companies were featured in a report submitted to the senate by the federal trade commission in pursuance of a resolution asking an investigation of the grain export trade.

Average profits of grain exporters in 1920 and 1921 ranged from 38 to 58 per cent, the commission said, while some of the companies turned over their capital "more than 100 times a year."

The United States Grain corporation, conducted on a "non-profit basis," had net profits of $31,000,000 for the period from September, 1917, to February, 1921, the commission said. The company's profit was estimated at 4 cents a bushel on wheat handled prior to June, 1919, and 3 cents a bushel thereafter.

The bulk of American grain exported, the commission said, is handled by a small number of firms.

"A large proportion of the grain exported from the United States in 1920 and 1921 was handled by foreign houses with branches in this country and by American concerns wholly or partly foreign owned," the report read.

The commission said there was "little fixed investment" used in the grain export trade.

"Almost all the funds employed are in liquid form and a large proportion generally borrowed, it stated.

TONY MARSH GIVEN A NAME

Peggy's Little Son Adopted by Husband of Danesau—Given Step-father's Name.

New York, May 17.—Tony, five-year-old son of Peggy Marsh, the housewife, for the first time in his career has a name all his own—"Anthony Field Johnson." The "Johnson" is for the late Henry Field of Chicago, who, according to Peggy's suit, was the father of her son. She fought a long but unsuccessful battle in the courts in order that Tony might be legally recognized as his son and share the millions of the Field estate. The "Johnson" is for her dancing partner husband, Albert "Buster" Johnson, who adopted Tony for his own son.

"FIFI" LOSES COURT FIGHT

Judge Moreshauser Refuses to Make Stillman Pay for Recent Canadian Hearings.

White Plains, N. Y., May 17.—Supreme Court Justice Moreshauser decided Mrs. Anne U. Stillman's application for an order requiring James A. Stillman to pay $3,000 to defray the cost of recent Canadian hearings in the Stillman divorce suit.

Mrs. Stillman obtained authority to conduct the hearing before a commissioner for the purpose of combating testimony as to her alleged relations with Fred Beattisau, Indian guide in Canada, and obtaining evidence designed to prove that some of Mr. Stillman's witnesses had been offered bribes to testify.

DEFICIT IN FRENCH BUDGET

Parliament Informed, That Revenue for 1923 Will Fall Behind

Paris, May 17.—The French budget for 1923, submitted to parliament by the government, provides for expenditures amounting to 23,180,000,000 francs (normal value $4,636,000,000), with receipts amounting to only 19,250,000,000 francs, of which 1,250,000,000 would be derived from the sale of war stocks, taxes on war profits and other temporary resources.

The budget provides that the deficit shall be raised through loans. This deficit represents approximately the interest paid on money advanced by France for reparations' expenses chargeable to Germany.

WON'T CHANGE SHIP'S NAME

President Harding Asks Shipping Board Not to Rechristen Leviathan for Him.

Washington, May 17.—President Harding has requested the shipping board to modify its decision and to retain the name of Leviathan for the big liner taken over from Germany and used in transporting troops during the war. It was said in administration circles. The board had contemplated renaming the vessel the President Harding.

TO BAR HIGHER COAL PRICES

Secretary Hoover May Act to Prevent Raising Charges for Bituminous Product.

Washington, May 17.—Steps are being taken by the government to forestall tendencies toward rising prices of bituminous coal at the mines, it was said at the White House. Secretary Hoover of the Department of Commerce has the matter of investigation and action in his charge. It was said.

PE-RU-NA

For Coughs, Colds and Catarrh

Mr. E. W. Marshall, Brampton, Michigan, suffering from Systemic Catarrh Involving Head, Nose, Throat and Stomach, claims a complete cure. His letter is convincing. "For the past two years I have been troubled with systemic catarrh. I tried several boxes of Pe-Ru-NA tablets and they have effected a complete cure. I do not hesitate to recommend Pe-Ru-NA for all catarrhal conditions."

Mr. Marshall is just one of many thousands who have been benefited by Dr. Hartman's famous medicine in the past fifty years.

It is by stimulating the digestion, enriching the blood and toning up the nerves that Pe-Ru-NA is able to exert such a soothing, healing influence upon the mucous membranes which line the body. It is a wonderfully effective remedy to restore strength after a protracted sickness, the grip or Spanish influenza.

Keep in the House Sold Everywhere

Doubtful Proposition.

Representative Fear of Wisconsin said at a dinner in Milwaukee: "There has been a lot of talk to the contrary, but nevertheless the cost of all kinds of wearing apparel keeps unreasonably high."

A rich Milwaukee banker sat at luncheon the other day when a servant entered and said: "There's a second-hand clothes man at the back door, sir."

"Good," said the rich banker. "Ask him if he can let me have a second-hand pair of shoes at a reasonable price."

TO MAKE HEADWAY IN WORLD

Consecrate and Concentrate, Is the Advice Given by Writer in Forbes Magazine.

You want to make headway in the world, of course. See if this thought can help you: First, consecrate yourself to your calling; then concentrate. The lives of most men of notable achievement have been characterized by consecration and concentration. Before one can consecrate oneself, one must be possessed by some bigger and broader and better idea than mere money making. There must be something in the work that appeals to one. The work must appear to be worth while, worth effort and industry and sacrifice. You could not, for exam-

ONE DAY ONLY

They Come Many Miles to See Him

Dr. Doran is a regular graduate in medicine and surgery and is licensed by the State of Wisconsin. He visits professionally the more important towns and cities, and offers to all who call on this trip consultation and examination free, except the expense of treatment when desired.

According to his method of coming to your nearest city to see patients he gives all sick people an opportunity to obtain the best that medical science can offer right at home. He does not operate for chronic appendicitis, gall stones, ulcers of stomach, tonsils or adenoids.

He has to his credit many wonderful results in disease of the stomach, liver, bowels, blood, skin, nerves, heart, kidney, bladder, bedwetting, catarrh, leg ulcers and rectal ailments.

If you have been ailing for any length of time and do not get any better, do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease are very often the cause of your long standing trouble.

Remember the above date, that examination on this trip will be free and that his treatment is different.

Married ladies must come with their husbands, and children with their parents.

20 Reasons Why You Will Like the International New 4 Cultivator

1. The only balanced frame, pivot axle cultivator that retains its vertical pivot at all times.
2. Weight carried on two polished steel balls placed directly under frame arch.
3. Single master lever for balancing frame and raising both gangs simultaneously.
4. Each gang equipped with lever for regulating depth and raising to clear trash, independent of the other gang.
5. Width between gangs regulated by convenient lever without stopping team.
6. Singletree adjustment provides instant balance for any weight driver.
7. No neck weight when working and tongue does not fly up when gangs are raised.
8. Seat and pedal adjustment to accommodate any leg length.
9. I-beam gangs of high-carbon steel, heat treated. Light, rigid and strong.
10. Quickly and easily narrowed for 28-inch rows or expanded to 48 inches on wheel centers.
11. Driver always has clear view of row, making thorough cultivation possible.
12. Operates so easily it has been called "the cultivator for boys."
13. Special lever for leveling the cultivator frame.
14. Gangs always run parallel.
15. Gang control especially suited for hillside work.
16. Unusually strong wheels have 16 staggered spokes and dust-proof boxes fitted with hard oilers.
17. Range of shovel equipment to meet any soil or crop condition.
18. Wide range of gang equipment and special attachments for special purposes.
19. Seat folds over out of the way for adjusting the gangs.
20. No pivot lock needed. Wheels follow straight line unless pedals are pushed.

—The meeting held by the citizens of West Bend at the Commercial Club hall, for the purpose of protesting against the present poor passenger service by the North Western Railway, was of no avail as the company finds it impossible to better conditions at the present time.

—Edward F. Miller was at Edgerton, Wis., from Saturday until Monday, where he attended the funeral of Gertrude, aged 12 years, oldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Miller, who died at her home last week Friday morning after a six weeks' illness with pneumonia. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hermann celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home in the village last Sunday. Those present were: Marie, Kathryn, Helen, Rosalia, Marcella, Sylvester and Raymond Hermann, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sable and daughter Virginia of Milwaukee, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bath and son Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stein and son William of Milwaukee, Mike Bath Math, Bath and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bath of here. The guests were royally entertained by playing various games and social conversation. Mr. and Mrs. Hermann were presented with many beautiful and valuable gifts.

—The Kamminski Construction Company is getting along very nicely with their work of putting in the sewerage system. Pipes have now been laid over half of Main street, and it is expected that by the end of next week Fond du Lac avenue will also be finished. Just a word to tourists, who are traveling on Main street when same is barricaded where the company is digging, is a dangerous proposition and anyone who takes a chance of riding on said street is doing so at his own risk, the sewer at some places is over ten feet deep, and cars passing near by will cause same to cave in, which may result in accident that might prove serious if not fatal.

—A meeting of the Wisconsin and United Fire Underwriters was held in the office of the Kewaskum Limited Mutual Fire Insurance Company here last week Wednesday, May 10th. The following secretary of different companies attended: Herman Ringler, secretary of Herman Mutual Insurance Company of Iron Ridge; Geo. Janssen, secretary of Mayville Limited Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Mayville; Hilary Haessly, secretary of Theresa Limited Mutual Insurance Company of Theresa; John Bauernfeind, secretary of Sheboygan Falls Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Sheboygan Falls; Mr. Bolt and Mr. Kleider of Sheboygan Falls were also present.

RADIO SIGNALING HAZARDS

Few movements have spread like radio signaling. Receiving and sending radio apparatus is being installed, largely by amateurs, without any thought of safety from a fire hazard standpoint or bearing on the validity of insurance.

Wires and conductors outside connected with radio apparatus inside of building may introduce a considerable fire hazard due chiefly to lightning, the needed safeguards must be provided.

The Milwaukee Association of Commerce has sent out the following safe-rules:

All aerial and antenna wires should be rigidly supported on special insulators, and where run down or alongside of building should clear the building at least five inches.

Special approved composition tube insulators should protect wires passing through the walls of building.

Aerial and antenna wires, where not in use, should be connected to the ground by means of a single pole, double throw switch the blades of which have a periphery of at least three-quarters of an inch (sixty amperes or larger type).

Switch should be mounted on the outside of building, at least five inches from the wall in a convenient place near the entrance of the antenna wire. The base of the switch should be of special approved material.

GETTING RESULTS

BY LEARNING things rather than words, observing closely how things are done to produce results...

of the ever-expanding universe, you may set it down that you are marked for a mere imitating plodder...

No harm can come to you in exploring new fields. It is better to fail in untried of new ways painstakingly to avoid it...

Life is a search for substance on which life depends. It is through this search that we discover things and get from them useful results.

To take no part in this ever-expanding search is to admit defeat. You cannot long continue in the chase of honor and fame without soon feeling the exhilarating thrill of the ennobling adventure.

And when your blood runs hot your brain tingles with clearing vision, and your whole being becomes attuned to novel surroundings, you stretch out eager arms and cry in joyous voice for more, more!

And the beautiful part of such experience is that what in your days of weakness you considered draggery burden of results, resolves itself into a force of inspiration, bearing you on strong, swift wings to the top of your dreamland hill.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

INSPIRATION

A RECENT Sunday newspaper printed a picture of the head of one of New York's biggest banks. He was in a baseball uniform, and but for a moustache—an ornament now discarded by ball players—looked like a professional.

The picture was taken at an outing of the Bond club. The banker served as pitcher for the New York team. The type below recited the fact that he got his first job in an Albany bank because he was a crack ball player, applied himself to banking as eagerly as he had applied himself to baseball, and in a few years was well on his way to his present position.

It is needless to say that this particular baseball player didn't put all he had into the game. He was un-usually gifted as a pitcher, and might easily have got into one of the big leagues, too.

But as he had the good sense to know that baseball was not a steady business, and that banking was, and instead of seizing an opportunity to make fairly big money early in youth, he was content to try the banking business on a small salary.

Of course there are a good many men who started in the banking business when he did, and who are still about where they were when they started. But at least they still have steady jobs. If they had taken to baseball they would not be doing as well.

One object in referring to this particular case is to call attention to the fact that if you want inspiration in your work you can get it in the newspapers—plenty of it.

Brief bits of biography such as the one we have cited appear almost every day.

Seldom is a prominent man's name mentioned in connection with an important affair that you do not know something about how he started and why he succeeded.

If you want to read about the failures—and the horrible examples, you can read about them, too.

While this man was rising from a bank clerk to a bank president, another man who started as an im-

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"ELECTRICITY"

IN SEEKING the derivation of this word, one might be pardoned for supposing that it had something to do with the ancient word for lightning or even for steel or iron, because those substances have become connected in our minds with the substance itself. But "electricity" is one of those words which might be termed "natural errors," for it has its origin in the Greek word for amber—elektron. In fact, a literal translation of it would be "the quality of being like amber."

The connection is far from apparent until we dig back into Greek history and find that the scientists of ancient Athens discovered that, by rubbing a piece of amber vigorously they were able to attract light objects with it. We now know that the force which we call "electricity" was generated by the rubbing of the amber, by the friction applied to its surface, but the Greeks were of the opinion that this was a quality inherent in the amber itself. While the existence of this force has been apparent in the form of lightning, magnets and the like, for countless centuries, it was only in very recent times that it was recognized as a distinct power, to be studied and catalogued and used for the benefit of mankind. The name applied to it, however, was the name given by the Greeks to the substance which manifested it.

SUITABLE DISHES

A nice sandwich which the children all like and which is easily made is: Grape Sandwiches.—Butter 12 slices of bread and spread with grape marmalade, chopped nuts and chopped apples, using four tablespoonsful of chopped apples.

Pineapple Cake.—Cream one-half cupful of butter, add one-half cupful of sugar, one cupful milk, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, the whites of four eggs. Mix and bake in a loaf or in two layers, using vanilla for flavoring.

Prune Mince Pie.—Take one-half cupful of cooked beef, one-half cupful of orange juice, one tablespoonful of orange rind, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves, a little salt. Put the prunes and meat through a meat chopper. Lemon juice and rind are liked by some better than the orange juice in this combination, and the prunes need a bit of acid to give them flavor.

Almond Cookies.—Take one-half cupful of butter, cream it, add one cupful of sugar to which one-fourth of a cupful of almond paste has been rubbed until smooth; add one-half cupful of milk, three cupfuls of flour, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt and a few drops of almond extract. Mix and roll out one-half inch thick and cut with a doughnut cutter. Decorate with halves of almonds; sprinkle with sugar and bake.

Date Dessert.—Stuff dates with a mixture of chopped nuts and cheese; roll in sugar and serve four to six with whipped cream as dessert.

Everyday Good Things A good cake that will keep and be moist and tasty until it is all eaten is: Black Cake.—Take one cupful of brown sugar, four tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half cupful of grated chocolate dissolved in a little hot water and the cup being filled with milk, one and one-half cupfuls of sifted flour, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a little water and spices to taste. Bake in a sheet and ice. Cut in small squares when serving. This cake is better when two or three days old. Cover with the following icing:

Chocolate Icing.—Take one heaping teaspoonful of powdered sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, three teaspoonfuls of grated chocolate dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of hot coffee, one teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat the sugar and butter until creamy, then add the other ingredients and spread on the cake.

Bran Coffee.—This is a good, wholesome drink. To one quart of bran add two beaten eggs and one-half cupful of molasses. Chicky or other cereals may be added if desired. Mix well and place in a moderate oven, stirring often until it is browned evenly and lightly.

Picnic Salad.—Take two cupfuls of diced tongue, one-half cupful of chopped meats, one cupful of diced celery, one cupful of mayonnaise. Line paraffin cups with a six-inch square of paraffin paper, fill with the salad, cover and pack. Serve on lettuce with the mayonnaise, adding that when the salad is ready to be served.

Celery and Bacon Supper Dish.—Cook a cupful of celery cut in dice and stir it into a cupful of rich white sauce made by cooking together two tablespoonfuls of butter and flour and adding a cupful of rich milk. Season with salt and cayenne. Pour this sauce over buttered toast and place slices of cooked bacon on each. Serve at once.

Cherry Bread Pudding.—Slice bread, butter it and place in a deep pudding dish. Spread with a layer of cherries fresh or cooked; repeat until bread enough has been used. Pour over cherry juice to moisten and set to season. Serve either hot or cold as desired.

Bran Marmalade Pudding.—Shred six ounces of beef suet and mix with one-half pound of orange marmalade, one-quarter of a pound each of bran and bread crumbs, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of milk and two well-beaten eggs. Steam in a well greased mold for four hours.

EVERYDAY FISH DISHES

ONE may usually find good salt or smoked fish in the markets when the fresh fish are unobtainable. Finnan haddie is haddock which is dried and salted, then smoked, which gives it the flavor so well liked. It should be freshened very carefully not to lose that flavor. Twenty to thirty minutes' soaking in warm water is sufficient to remove the excess of salt. Picked up, added to cream and served with baked potatoes it is very good.

Codfish Salad

If the flaked fish is purchased, a thorough scalding will be all that is necessary to remove the salt, while the whole fish will need to be soaked overnight. Take one pound of salt fish, one-half cupful of stuffed olives, one cupful of finely diced celery, one teaspoonful of minced parsley, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, one tablespoonful of vinegar and a dash of red pepper. Freshen the codfish over night, then flake and cook gently for thirty minutes. Cool, add the olives, celery, parsley, seasonings, oil and vinegar and let stand an hour. Then toss together with boiled dressing and garnish with sliced olives and parsley.

BEET NEMATODES SPREAD BY DIRT

Refuse From Dumps Apparently Is Most Common Means of Spreading Parasites.

CROP ROTATION IS FAVORED

When Pests Are Found in Locality, Action Should Be Taken by Whole Community to Prevent Spread—Some Good Rules.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Dirt from the beet dumps apparently is the most common means of spreading the sugar-beet nematode and should be the first to receive attention in planning control measures, according to Farmers' Bulletin 1248, The Sugar Beet Nematode in the Western States, prepared by Gerald Thorne and L. A. Golding and now ready for distribution by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Prevent Scattering Soil.
Since the removal of dirt from the dumps seems to be the only practical method of disposing of the thousands of tons of soil annually screened from the dumps, says the bulletin, precautions must be taken to prevent scattering the soil containing nematodes. When boxes should be tight enough to prevent soil jarring out along the roads and in the fields. Dump dirt should be disposed of in holes, crumps, or waste corners where there is the least danger of its being scattered.

The practice of growing beets year after year on the same field gives the nematodes an excellent opportunity of becoming established if they are once introduced. A definite system of crop rotation is said to be advisable with not more than two years of beets in succession. The fertility of the soil will thus be maintained, and along the danger from insect pests and plant diseases will be avoided at the same time.

Make It Community Affair.
When nematodes are found in a locality, action should immediately be taken to prevent their spread, the bulletin advises. This should be made a community affair, and the following measures are being adopted by some of the farm bureaus:

The sugar company operating in the district is requested to refuse contracts for beets grown on soil that is known to be infested with the sugar-beet nematodes.

When infested soil happens to be planned the owner and the sugar company are to make arrangements for handling the beets from the infested areas separately and not allow the infested beets to go through the dumps while other beets are being handled.

The practice of throwing dump dirt along public highways should be prohibited, by law if necessary.

Copies of the bulletin may be had free by making a request to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

FRESHENING TIME IMPORTANT

Has Considerable to Do With Amount of Profit Cow Returns—Fall Is Favored.

The time of the year that a cow freshens has considerable to do with the profit she returns. An analysis of the figures obtained from many cow-raising associations shows that in most sections the cows that freshen during the fall and early winter produce the most milk and butter fat, and bring in the greatest profit over cost of feed.

PICRIC ACID NOW AVAILABLE

About 300,000 Pounds of Material in Storage at Edgewood, Md.—Cost Is Small.

In connection with the distribution of picric acid for land clearing now being carried on by the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, about 300,000 pounds of the material has been made available at Edgewood, Md., where it had been stored by the army to be used in the manufacture of poison gases. The comparatively low freight rates that will apply to this point are expected to make the offering of this supply very attractive to land-owners of the northeastern section of the country. The only charge made for the picric acid, which is shipped only in carload lots, is that to cover drying, carting, and shipping.

Brood Mares.

The two main things necessary in handling brood mares are feed and moderate exercise. Wheat bran and oats are the two best grain rations and are better if fed together.

LAST-MINUTE HINTS FOR CHICK SUCCESS

Let Hen Remain on Nest for 24 Hours After Hatching.

Use Good Insect Powder or Sodium Fluorid Two Days Before Little Felloes Are Due to Arrive—Use Grease Carefully.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
When the hen is hatching she should not be disturbed except to remove the shells, unless she becomes uneasy and steps on or picks the chicks. In such cases the chicks should be removed as soon as dry. Place them in a basket or box lined with flannel or some other soft material and cover the top, keeping the basket or box in a warm place until the eggs left under the hen are hatched.

Hens should be fed as soon as possible after the eggs are hatched, as feeding tends to keep them quiet; otherwise, many hens will leave the nest. In most cases it is best that the hen remain on the nest and brood the chicks for at least 24 hours after the hatching is over. Hens will successfully brood ten to fifteen chicks early in the breeding season and eighteen to twenty-five in warm weather, depending upon the size of the hen, so that often two broods of chicks which hatch at the same time can be put together and raised under one hen.

Powder the hen with a good insect powder or with sodium fluorid two days before the chicks are due to hatch. If lice appear on the chicks, or if they are troubled with "head lice," a very little grease, such as lard or vaseline, may be applied with the fingers on the head, neck, under the wings, and around the vent. Great care should be taken, however, not to get too much grease on the chicks, as it will stop their growth and in some cases prove fatal, say poultry experts of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"Toe punch" or mark each chick before transferring to the brood coop, so that the age can be readily determined after maturity.

EGG PRODUCTION INCREASED

Animal Feed of Some Kind, High in Protein, Is Essential for Laying Flock.

Meat scrap or some other animal feed high in protein is the one essential constituent of the mash which cannot well be omitted. The United States Department of Agriculture found that a pen of pullets, on free range, which did not get meat scrap or any other animal-protein feed laid only 90 eggs each in a year, compared with yields of from 125 to 150 eggs from pens fed rations containing meat scrap. The eggs from the pen where no meat scrap was fed cost 22 cents more a dozen for feed than when the meat scrap was included in the ration. Fish meal or fish scrap can be used to replace the meat scrap and compares favorably with a good grade of meat scrap containing the same per cent of protein.

Skim milk or buttermilk, either sweet or sour, is excellent for replacing part or all of the meat scrap. The milk may be used in mixing the mash if a moist mash is used, or it can be kept before the fowls as a drink. If clovered and fed thick or like cheese, hens will eat enough of it to replace all of the meat scrap needed. A little bone meal makes an excellent addition to the mash or it can be used to replace a part of the meat scrap. Green cut bone, if fresh and sweet, will also take the place of meat scrap if fed at the rate of one-third to one-half ounce daily per hen.

MUST PRODUCE FEEDER HOGS

Test to Be Made of Economically Raising Animals in South to Supply Corn Belt.

The possibility of economically producing feeder hogs in the South for supplying the corn belt with the extra hogs needed for consuming the corn crop will be investigated by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with some of the Southern states. This spring, work on the problem was begun at McNeill, Miss., 65 miles north of New Orleans. The Mississippi experiment station will assist in the work. The idea is to test out the growing and marketing of hogs at a weight of about 100 pounds, using both the hard and bacon types.

The growing of feeder hogs is an industry which should be developed, as the corn belt is in need of more hogs than are usually produced there. Similar experiments to those being made in the South will be tried later in the Northwest and Southwest.

BUY ONLY BEST DAIRY COWS

Selection of Most Profitable Producers at Start Determines Success of Herd.

The profit to be made from a dairy herd depends largely upon the selection of good dairy cows to start with. It requires from 50 to 75 per cent of the feed a cow is capable of consuming to maintain her body, it is therefore much cheaper to produce, say, 30 gallons of milk with ten cows than with 15 cows.

Demure Taffeta Frocks; Consider New Lingerie

FASHION never ignores taffetas—they are too well entrenched in the regard of every woman. Every summer brings demure frocks of this silk, usually in black or navy blue, decked out with simple trimmings and little brightening touches, and every summer they go daintily rustling their lady-like way through the affairs of afternoon. Designers take them for granted and complacently present such appealing frocks as those of black taffeta, shown here.

For Affairs of Afternoon.

Almost any seamstress can undertake to make either of these models. In the frock at the left, yards of little ruffles made of the silk account for all the decoration, edging the round neck and the elbow sleeves. Ruffles put on in deep points deck out the skirt and this self-trimming reaches its climax in little roses made of folds that are set about the waist. On dresses of this kind it is easy to introduce any brightening color by means of narrow ribbon in rosettes and falling ends, as in the dress at the right. It has a plain skirt scalloped about the bottom and achieves a bouffant line by introducing corded ruffles over the hips. Pippings of taffeta are used as a finish and to join the bodice and skirt. Taffeta banou necklines, with narrow flat bon with colored edges, hanging in the loops at each side, where the roses terminate, emphasize a front panel effect made by placing most of the fullness over the hips.

These same models, developed in the gayer colors, make enchanting dinner and dance frocks. Ruchings of taffeta, made of narrow strips frayed at the edges, covered cord, arranged in flat rosettes, flowers of the affeta, ruffles and other soft trimmings adorn them, with narrow ribbons and millinery flowers and fruits adding their bit by way of enhancing the bright charm of taffeta in plain or changeable weaves.

In May, as in January, the stores put on special displays of lingerie for the benefit of those who have put off buying their summertime under-garments, with narrow flat bon with colored edges, hanging in the loops at each side, where the roses terminate, emphasize a front panel effect made by placing most of the fullness over the hips.

Satin, Jersey and Flannel.
Satin, jersey and flannel—three fabrics apparently most antagonistic—were gracefully combined in a gray sport suit. The suit consisted of dress and sleeveless jacket. The dress was orange satin, made very simply with bateau neck and elbow sleeves. Its pockets were edged with a wide fold of white flannel, in sharp contrast with the sleeveless black jersey coat with white flannel outlining its side pockets.

"ON EASY STREET"

Women "Farmerettes" Make Money in Western Canada.

Many Are Taking Advantage of the Opportunity Offered by the Fertile Land and Fine Climate.

In many parts of Western Canada are to be found women owning and running farms for themselves, and what is more, making them pay. May Hazlett, an English girl, who lived on a farm in the Touchwood hills, in Saskatchewan, for the past four years, looking after her stock and cultivating her land, is one of these. The farm was originally her brother's homestead, at which time Miss Hazlett was a stenographer. Her brother was killed while fighting with the Canadian forces at Vimy Ridge. Neighbors advised Miss Hazlett to sell the farm, but she decided that she was tired of the "eternal pounding" and became a farmerette.

Mrs. Mary J. Blackburn, a pioneer woman farmer of Alberta, has just added 100 acres to her farm near Hardisty. Coming from Eastern Canada, Mrs. Blackburn homesteaded a quarter section in 1902. She had two Holstein heifers, a bull, and $17 in cash. She lived in a tent the first summer and in a sod shack in the winter. Her first crop put her, as she tells the story, "on easy street." In ten years she had a herd of 60 pure-bred Holstein cattle and was operating a prosperous dairy. A fine residence has supplanted the sod hut. "I milked my cows, raised my cattle, cut hay and stacked it all by myself," said Mrs. Blackburn. "I started on bare prairie with no money, and made good. I worked hard, but the experience was wonderful."

It has generally been conceded that farming is a man's job. It has long been considered that a woman's place on the farm was in the house, with a few attendant duties, looking after the chickens and the garden. But times are changing.

Demonstrative of the present feminine initiative, there are two young ladies farming extensively and with good profit too, in Western Canada. Some years ago a family located a 160-acre farm in the Oak Lake district, Manitoba. Later the father died, leaving his two daughters and aged wife a mortgaged quarter section. Instead of selling the effects and moving to town to take employment, the girls decided to work the place.

While the mother looked after the household duties the daughters did the farm work. They did the plowing, harrowing, seeding, haying, harvesting, stocking, feeding and other farm operations. Except at threshing time, the getting out of wheat, the help of man was never sought. Instead of a 160-acre place, with seven horses and ten cattle, which they started with, they have a 1,120-acre farm, twenty-five head of heavy horses and nearly a hundred head of cattle, mostly pure-breds.

FIRST TO COMPRESS FEET

Favorite of Chinese Emperor, Many Centuries Ago, Said to Have Originated the Custom.

J. P. Donovan, authority on Chinese customs, in an article called "Romance in Chinese Literature," published in the Forum, writes:

"The ideal of beauty and the mark of gentility for a woman used to be small feet, the compression of which was not imposed by law but was a craze of fashion, as slender waists were at one time in England. Several accounts are given as to the origin of the custom of foot-binding, but probably the following is the correct one:

"It is said that Yao Niang, the beautiful concubine of Emperor Li Yu (975 A. D.), was light and graceful in all her movements, being able to dance with ease and elegance. She gave so much pleasure to her lord and master that he caused to be made golden lily flowers with movable petals for Yao Niang to walk on from her apartments to the palace. To gratify the emperor still further, she compressed her feet, in order that they might look like a lily bud unopened, until they were three inches long."

More Quality for Less Money

There never was a time when Goodyear Tires were so good as now.

They are bigger, heavier and stronger today than any earlier Goodyears ever were.

Yet Goodyear prices are lower now than ever.

Not even in those remembered days before the war did Goodyear Tires sell at such low prices as today.

Look at the figures listed below.

They represent an average decrease of more than 60% from Goodyear prices of 1910.

When you can get these better Goodyears at such prices, there is no question of the tire value at your command.

Your Goodyear Service Station Dealer will tell you that never in his experience as a tire dealer has he known the equal of this value. See him today.

MAKE COLLECTION OF GERMS ODD CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Institutions in Europe and the United States That Preserved Them for Investigators.

The first "guide book" of what may be popularly called the germ "zoo" has just been issued by the British Medical Research Council. The body, as previously announced, hit on the happy idea of making a national collection of living germs of disease so that any doctor or investigator requiring some particular germ for his work might be able to get it at once, alive and active.

There are similar collections at the Pasteur Institute, Paris, at the Museum of Natural History, New York, and at Vienna. The British collection is housed at the Lister Institute, and fresh additions of new "strains" and "forms" are constantly being added.

The catalogue gives the name of each germ, the name of its donor, and the year of the gift.

Here's Good Advice: Relieve Your Fatigue With Sleep. Avoid Stimulants

THERE is nothing in the world so reconstructive as sound, refreshing sleep. During sleep the system rids itself of the fatigue poisons that have accumulated during the day. The food elements are taken up by the various tissues that require rebuilding nutriment.

It is important that you get plenty of health-bringing sleep. Anything that interferes with your sleep hampers and hinders you—mentally and physically.

A common cause of physical weakness and mental depression is the reaction following over-stimulation by the drug, caffeine, and other elements found in both coffee and tea.

If you have an idea that coffee or tea drinking may be injurious to your health, why not stop it for a week or so, and drink delicious, fragrant Postum instead.

Postum is a rich, golden-brown, pure cereal beverage. It contains no harmful elements of any kind. You can drink Postum as many times a day as you or the children desire a grateful, refreshing beverage.

Your grocer sells both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

This Paint
Doesn't Cost You a Cent

It isn't given away; still it doesn't cost you anything

LOWE Brothers High Standard Paint doesn't cost you anything because it saves you so much more than it costs.

Good paint preserves your buildings, just like your wife's canning preserves fruit.

In the old days, painting was done mostly for looks; but people know today that it makes buildings last longer.

High Standard brings more lastingness than any other paint we have ever seen. It looks better as long as it lasts, too.

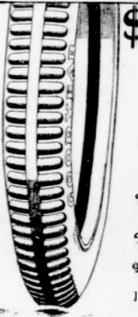

It saves you money right at the start because it spreads further; therefore less paint is needed.

Come in and see the sample panels and ask for details.

Usco for $10.90

WHEN the "Usco" Tire announced its new price of $10.90 it carried this understood contract with the buyer—

A price reduction made in good faith—using all the U. S. advanced art of tire making not only to get the price down, but to keep the quality up.

Today $10.90 is not the uncommon price it was last November.

But the "Usco" Tire is still the uncommon tire value it always has been.

Because in carrying out the "Usco" price reduction in good faith, we learned something about raising the quality, too.
