Single Tube Reflex Circuit. One Stage Radio (Aperiodic), and One Stage Audio, Reflexed With Crystal Detector.

By CARLTON E. BUTLER

Associate Member Institute of Radio Engineers and American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The reflex circuit is a single tube circuit in which the audio frequency is fed back into the radio frequency circuit.

Requiring but a single tube, the receiver can be assembled into a very small box complete with batteries for portable use. The controls of the set consist of but a single dial and a rheostat.

The tube itself does double duty in the receiver, amplifying the current first in the form of radio frequency, then it is detected by the crystal and returned to the tube to be amplified at audio frequency.

In addition to the advantages gained by the use of the reflex principle of construction, the use of the newly invented low-loss doughnut coil for a tuning inductor increases the volume at least 35 per cent more than when the ordinary variocoupler or variometer form of tuning is employed.

The advantage gained by the use of the low-loss doughnut coil, designed by Frank Reichmann, is due to the fact that the magnetic field of the coil is self-contained so that there is no spraying effect of lines of force as found with the open type of coils.

Several species of small jumping insects called flea beetles are common on garden plants at this time of the year. The western cabbage flea-beetle is about one-sixteenth inch long, shining bluish color, and feeds on cabbage, radishes, turnips and closely related plants.

The potato flea-beetle is quite similar to the above species, except that it is dull black in color and covered with short hairs. It usually appears somewhat later. This insect feeds on many plants, including potatoes, tomatoes, turnips, beans, sunflowers, etc.

A larger species, the humped flea-beetle, sometimes causes injury to a variety of crops. It is about one-eighth inch long, has a yellow thorax and two yellow stripes down the back.

Control measures for these insects have not been very satisfactory. Arsenate of lead, 1 pound to 5 gallons of water, sprayed on the foliage of the infested plants will kill them if it is eaten.

Many Causes for Sow's Desire to Eat Her Pigs

A sow's desire to eat her pigs may result from a number of causes, although it is not natural for a sow to destroy her young. When the sow is constipated she becomes feverish, develops an abnormal craving for appetite, and may kill her pigs and eat them.

Water for Fowls Quite as Important as Feed. Most efforts at increasing the egg production of hens deal with the problem primarily from the standpoint of feeding. If water is mentioned, it usually takes a rather insignificant place.

Standard-Bred Poultry Most Important Factor

Probably the most important factor that has contributed to the wonderful growth which the American poultry industry has experienced is the development and recognition of standard-bred poultry.

Cure Broody Hens

Those poultry raisers who depend on artificial incubation of eggs for their chicks or who buy baby chicks from hatcheries should watch their flocks carefully for signs of broodiness.

Mounting Tubes

Never mount the tubes in anything but the upright position. They will operate in any position, but the filament will not sag and touch the grid, making the tube inoperative, if mounted upright.

Bitter Milk Causes

Bitter milk may result from different causes, but weeds are one cause and the trouble generally occurs in late summer when the pastures are bare and the cows forced to eat the weeds.

Cost of Radio Current

The average American expenditure for maintenance of the family radio set is equal to the cost of electric current, about $30 a year.—Science Service.

Stock Improvement in Various States

Benefits of "Better Sires—Better Stock" Plan.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The current year promises to be one of marked activity in the improvement of domestic animals in the United States, judging from early reports received by the bureau of animal industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

The improvement of farm herds and flocks under the better-sires plan is especially marked in Kentucky, where county agents have made the work one of their important projects.

Recommend Alfalfa and Corn for Work Horses

During the last two years the Michigan Agricultural College has tested eight work teams on rations of corn and alfalfa on the one hand and corn, oats and timothy on the other.

The alfalfa-fed horses on an average worked 235 days out of 300, and the timothy-fed horses worked 232 days. The alfalfa-fed horses made an average gain of 21 pounds each for the year, while those fed timothy lost an average of 17 pounds a head for the year.

It is pointed out that the ration of 122 pounds of corn and 18 pounds of alfalfa hay for a 1,000-pound horse makes a feed higher in protein than necessary and lacking in dry matter.

Best Food for Goslings

The proper food for goslings is bread crumbs moistened with water for the first two or three days. A green sod should be placed near the nest, or where the goslings can help themselves.

Rye Makes Good Pasture

Rye makes a good pasture for cattle and other stock but, of course, they should not be turned on the rye and allowed to eat all they want at first unless they have been accustomed to green pasture.

Isolate Sick Fowls

The first thing to remember when a disease appears is to isolate the sick bird or birds, clean up the premises and thoroughly disinfect. The drinking water may be made sanitary by the addition of one teaspoonful of potassium permanganate to each gallon of drinking water.

Land Values Should Govern Price of Home

Many home builders at the outset of construction work after purchase of a lot for the new home are confronted with a serious problem, according to leaders in the home-building world.

Some Problems of Home Ownership

Preparation for home ownership cannot begin too early. The determination to acquire a home some day, and the belief that owning one is the normal part of every well-rounded life, are the first essentials and can be shared by children and their elders alike.

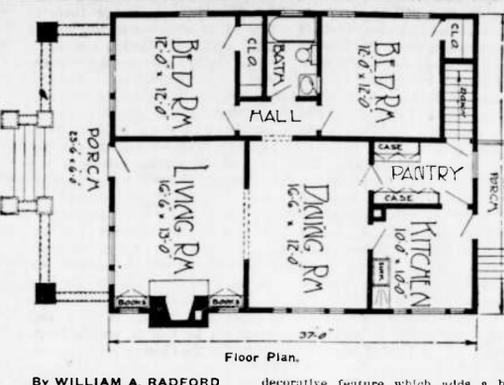

Shallac Finish

A shallac finish on furniture or woodwork can be made fairly waterproof by the application of two or three coats of banana oil.

Inside Woodwork

The colonial interior should be carried out with woodwork suitable for painting or enameling in the fashion of our forefathers.

Comfortable Five-room Bungalow Makes Desirable Country Home

Floor Plan.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all problems pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper.

Two things which are essential to make a country home complete are a porch and a fireplace, and these must be something more than mere architectural features.

A broad porch with its comfortable porch swing and easy chairs offers an inviting prospect as a spot where the family may enjoy the cool evening breeze after a strenuous day of work.

When the first chilly days of fall, with their prophesy of many long winter evenings ahead, have displaced the heat of summer, the family naturally turns to the living room with its big fireplace with a cheerful wood fire tempering the atmosphere and forming a center for the family group.

Both of these features are prominent in the bungalow pictured here. The porch is broad and gives the impression that it will afford a cool retreat even on the hottest day of summer.

Concealed Bed Adds More Room to House

Doctors tell us that sleeping porches do more to induce good health than any other one thing, yet home builders of moderate means cannot afford a sleeping porch and a sun porch, too.

Proper Lighting

A score of years ago, but little attention was paid to the close relationship of spiritual content and general health. The modern home emphasizes this relationship.

House Equipment

The actual value of the house, its upkeep and the health and comfort of the family are to a very large extent dependent on the character and quality of its heating, lighting, plumbing and mechanical equipment.

Shallac Finish

A shallac finish on furniture or woodwork can be made fairly waterproof by the application of two or three coats of banana oil.

Inside Woodwork

The colonial interior should be carried out with woodwork suitable for painting or enameling in the fashion of our forefathers.

Guard at New York State Penitentiary Suffered Ten Years From Catarrh

Mr. Charles S. Many, 12 West St., Ossining, N. Y., writes: "I had catarrh for ten years, tried a lot of medicines, spent a good deal of money, but it did me no good. Instead of getting better I grew worse. My eyes were bloodshot, my nose smelled bad, and I would get dizzy I would be forced to stop holding of something to keep from falling. I used about ten boxes of Pe-ru-na and am cured of catarrh, the dizzy feeling has gone and I am not bothered any more. I keep Pe-ru-na in the house and when I feel a cold coming I take a little. It does me good. Ask for the original and genuine Pe-ru-na the recognized trademark for catarrh and catarrhal conditions for more than fifty years. Your dealer has Pe-ru-na in tablet and liquid forms."

Women Good Judge

A Philadelphia judge, with a deep approach to the wisdom of Solomon, permitted a woman who had been beaten by a drunken husband of 30 years to pass sentence upon her unworthy spouse. The woman started off by telling the man that she ought to send him up for a year. He begged for mercy, but the judge, grumbling, said he would give him a week out of his $22 salary, and she placed on probation for a year. The woman was not a half bad judge, either.—Healy Culture.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

LOVE AND SACRIFICE

There is no depth to which love and sacrifice will not descend; no height to which they will not scale to accomplish their object.

When all men say "impossible," the steams are heaving against a mountain bog or girl, love and sacrifice come down and rescue him or her from peril.

WHO SAID

"Methods are the master of masters"

The man who strove these words lived his success in life to his methodical way of doing things.

Charles Maurice de Talleyrand-Perigord—better known as Talleyrand—was a man of methods and a man who thoroughly studied the problems that presented themselves before him for solution that he became one of the leading statesmen in the France of his day.

Your Last Name

IS IT BYRD?

BYRD does not at all from Bird in the derivation and the name is usually settled by saying that the name is from the common English word meaning bird, and the name probably used as a surname.

and sent as a messenger to Queen Anne to bear the tidings of the victory of Blenheim. By this wife William Byrd had two daughters, and by his second wife, Marion, daughter of Thomas Taylor, he had a son, known as Col. William Byrd, from whom all of the name and family are descended.

HOW IT WAS DECIDED

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

DAD meant him for a merchant, and his brother for a bank; Sister thought that acting as the very thing for Hank.

Mother—well, a lawyer mother meant her boy to be. Granddad was a sailor, so he meant him for the sea.

Now, of all his mentors only one, of course, could win. Maybe you may wonder whom he followed of his kin?

Well, he met a maiden, as will frequently occur, and the maid at once decided that the boy was meant for her.

SUMMER DRINKS

DURING the warm weather cool, sparkling drinks are always welcome.

Grape Granito. Put a pound of sugar into a pint of water, boil for five minutes. Take from the fire, add the juice of a lemon and an orange. When cool add a pint of grape juice and shaved ice to chill.

Indiana Punch. Boil a pound of sugar, a quart of water and the grated rind of a lemon for five minutes; strain, add a teaspoonful of bitter almond extract, the juice of three lemons, a teaspoonful of vanilla and two cupfuls of strong tea. When very cold add ice and a pint of effervescent water.

COOL FROCKS FOR HOT DAYS; COLONIAL FURNISHINGS BACK

EVER hotter, hotter, hotter glares the sun in town and country—ever thinner, briefer, cooler grow the frocks and suits we live in. As the thermometer mounts mercilessly upward stylists consider ways and means for clothing womanhood in the least burdensome of fabrics, made in the simplest styles—and for once in the history of the race, mere form regards his sisters' enviously.

Two Suits for Torrid Days.

ous simple models made of light-printed silks or silky cottons. Two-color combinations are greatly favored and in silk or crepe or chiffon dresses, flaring skirts, front fullness and side fullness, despite the supremacy of the straight-line dress. As a rule sleeves are long but there is a choice between those that flare at the forearm and those that fit closely.

Homemade Rugs in Pretty Designs.

Many women prefer to clothe their feet and hands in white and this convenient mode is approved, but white shoes piped with a color to match the color in the dress are making an impression, and those who can indulge in many hats may add a variety in light colors to their dependable white headwear.

Snake-Skin Gloves. The newest gloves from London are of snake or lizard skin. The python furnishes the largest source of supply, but many gloves are made from the skins of smaller snakes with more brilliant markings.

Tunics of Lace. The awakened interest in lace is exemplified in frocks which have a very long straight tunic of heavy real lace in a deep cream tone worn over a slip of black satin.

Only Half a Brim. Some of the Parisian summer hats have only half a brim. That is they are made with the brim extremely wide and drooping on one side and extremely narrow on the other.

Italians Insist Names Must Be "Naturalized"

William Shakespeare is nearly every country in the world, no matter what its language, but in Italy he is Guglielmo Shakespeare, just as George Washington is Giorgio Washington, remarks the Baltimore Sun. This is because of the growing nationalistic feeling among Italians which makes translation of all foreign proper names into Italian a corollary of patriotism.

Street Made Beautiful

The 3,000 delegates and visitors to the triennial convention of the Episcopal church at New Orleans, La., next October will pass through a street of blossoms when they walk up St. Charles avenue. A committee, provided with plants, shrubs, vines, trellises and watering cans made a careful house-to-house canvass giving out plants, and if nobody was at home, set out the flowers, watered them, and left a note of explanation to account for the vines and shrubbery mysteriously springing up in their gardens.

World's Oldest Forest

A hundred million years ago many millions of years before man himself appeared on the earth, there grew a forest near what is now Gibson, N. Y. Dr. John M. Clarke, New York state geologist and paleontologist, pronounced this grove the oldest known forest. He has resurrected it from the remains in the rocks, and he finds these ancient trees to have been much like modern tree ferns, probably attaining heights of 50 feet or more.

Fame

Fame is not futile. It is the passing salute to exceptional ability. The idea of every youth should be fame, fairly earned—in competition with others. The Olympic games of today typify to me the finest type of competition—the ideal of human contest and adventure. The better man, working to fit himself as best he can for the future, wins. And such fame is worth while and respectable.—Chauncey Depew, in Hearst's International Cosmopolitan.

Praising England

Gunga Das, the Indian lecturer, said in an address in Chicago: "Some of my fellow countrymen attack the English, but we all have to admit that the English have improved the Indian woman's status. 'Take the suttee. By the law of suttee the Indian woman mounted her dead husband's funeral pyre and was burned to death. 'In pre-English days, to put it in another way, the Indian widow was cremated—now she's remarried.'"

Boredom and Age

"Good Equipment Makes a Good Farmer Better"

A Better Day's Work

A time saver during the haying season, the McCormick or Deering Mower has earned a high reputation. Its ease of operation and absolute dependability make possible steady work without delays. Light draft is one big advantage. Roller and ball bearings reduce friction where the load is greatest, and an adjustable pinion and internal gear deliver power to the cutter bar with the least loss. More work can be done without tiring your horses.

Every necessary adjustment can be made from the driver's seat, which also saves time and makes the work lighter. These are some of the McCormick-Deering features that enable you to do a better day's work. Come in and see us about this mower. There is a size to meet your requirements.

We also have a complete line of McCormick-Deering haying machines, including side rakes and tedders, self-dump rakes, hay loaders, sweep rakes and stackers.

FIND 44 BODIES IN DANCE HALL

Wall of Boston Club Falls; Victims Crushed to Death.

Boston.—The number of victims known to have lost their lives when a wall of the Pickwick club, all-night Chinatown resort, crashed in upon a party of more than 100 dancers, greatly exceeded the number of bodies recovered and twenty-nine have been identified.

Forty-four bodies have been recovered and twenty-nine have been identified. Sixteen persons were in hospitals, four of them seriously hurt. Seven of the identified dead were women.

Among the bodies recovered was that of Police Inspector Benjamin Alexander. He was believed to have been in the club looking for a member of the underworld. His police pistol was found beside his body. The body of a patrolman, Paul Haloran, also was recovered.

Most of the bodies found were in an excavation alongside the old Freestory Dreyfus hotel building, which housed the Pickwick club. They had been thrown with the wreckage into a depth of 15 or 20 feet below street level and firemen had to dig through a mass of debris to reach them. A trench not more than a dozen feet wide had been opened up.

One man was shot and wounded and three others were arrested as suspicious persons when police found them rifling the cloakroom of the Pickwick club. This room was in the corner of the building left standing and was partially shielded by the falling floors.

"Over-riding" in the building, weakened by a fire ten weeks ago and flanked by a lot in which a building had been removed to make way for new construction, was the only reason, assigned by officials for the collapse of the building. Meanwhile, all other night clubs and resorts of the city have been closed pending inspection of their buildings and a theater and other buildings bordering on that which collapsed have been closed.

Offer $2,500 Reward for Every Bank Bandit Slain

Chicago.—Two thousand five hundred dollars for every bank bandit killed while robbing his trade.

That statement tells of the most drastic action against bank robbers ever taken by the Chicago and Cook County Bankers' association.

More than 100 Chicago banks placed on display placards, announcing this offer.

It is the largest award ever offered by any banker's association. Its officials declare. It applies to bandits killed only—not to robbers captured—and is a result of the present crime situation in the city.

N. Y. National City Bank Assets Total $1,154,730,350

New York.—A record in American banking history is established by the announcement of the National City bank that its assets on June 30 reached the sum of $1,154,730,350.

This marks an increase of about $12,000,000 over the bank's resources exactly six months earlier, and an increase of about $51,000,000 over the figure on April 6, when the last statement was published. The National City bank has long been the largest institution of its kind in the United States.

Its assets passed the $1,000,000,000 mark a year ago, when on June 30 they totaled $1,027,605,890.

Defense Day Test Pleases War Department Officials

Washington.—The nation on Saturday celebrated the one hundred and forty-ninth anniversary of its independence and theoretically mustered forces for the national defense.

War department officials expressed gratification over results of the mobilization as indicated in preliminary brief dispatches from various sections of the country.

All indications were that the War department's program to test the nation's defense machinery had gone over the top with flying colors.

Ibanez, Spanish Author, Weds Widow of Diplomat

New France.—Vicente Ibanez Ibanez, the Spanish novelist, and Dona Elena Ortuzar Bulnes, widow of a Chilean diplomat, were married at Montevideo. The first wife of Vicente Ibanez died in Valencia, Spain, in January. She had been ill for many years, but the novelist declared her death was due directly to the seizure of his property in Spain because of his writings against the Spanish monarch and the military directorate.

Seven Drown at Picnic

St. Thomas, Ont.—Three young children and one woman drowned and three other children are believed to have drowned when two flat-bottom boats fastened together capsized in Pinafore lake at a Sunday school picnic.

Asks Defense Day Set by Law

Washington.—Congress will be asked to pass legislation fixing a definite day for the celebration of the nation's war forces, according to General Hines, chief of staff of the army.

Cuba Sugar Crop a Record

Havana, Cuba.—Cuba's 1925 sugar crop of 5,100,000 tons, for which planters are reported to have received $123,379,000, was the largest production of the cane in the history of the island, according to an announcement by the department of agriculture.

De Bono Given High Post Rome.—The former supreme chief of the Fascist army, General De Bono, was appointed governor of Tripoli, Italian territory in Africa.

Both were in a serious condition from exposure and lack of nourishment. Mason was unconscious. They were brought to Chattanooga in ambulances summoned by Jim Thomas, a hunter, who found them while hunting stray hogs.

According to the pair's story after receiving treatment in a hospital they were set upon the night of their disappearance by five hooded men, dragged out to Doctor Mason's car, and chained to a tree. Each night they were blindfolded and removed to a new place.

County officials were at a loss to explain the kidnaping.

REFUSES TO HALT EVOLUTION TRIAL

U. S. Judge Gore Denies Scopes Petition for Injunction.

Cokeville, Tenn.—The American public is not to be denied its great summer spectacle, the Scopes evolution trial at Dayton.

Judge John J. Gore of the United States District court refused to grant an injunction to halt the trial. Prof. John R. Neal, chief counsel for Scopes, who filed the petition in the name of his client with signatures of Clarence Darrow and Bainbridge Colby attached, had two anxious hours fearing that the petition might be granted and the big case blow up.

Judge Gore, who was called from his vacation in the hills, did not pass upon the merits of the case, or upon any of the big points which are relied upon to carry it to the United States Supreme court.

He contented himself with denying the petition on the ground that he had no power to interfere with state courts except in bankruptcy proceedings, that the allegations were not sufficient and that he was not in the district where the alleged offense was committed.

The defense attorneys will go on with this method of getting this case into the Federal courts, but all chance of interfering with the Dayton trial has now passed except the action of the Dayton judge in motions filed to quash the indictment against Scopes.

It is possible that, fearing Judge John Raulston might grant this, the motion will not be argued until the evidence is in.

The evolutionists are determined to get their case before the country through the Dayton forum as an educational opportunity that may not come again in 50 years. The petition came again in 50 years. The petition came again in 50 years.

NIGHT AIR MAIL NOW A REALITY

New York-Chicago Linked by Latest Achievement.

Chicago.—Night air mail service between Chicago and New York was inaugurated with planes flying either way with matter for early delivery.

The departure of the first planes was regarded as an epochal event in aviation development in the United States, with the success of the government air mail to date pointing the way for further achievements.

The first planes to make off carried the greetings of public officials of one city to the other and also communications from heads of commercial organizations of the two cities telling of the importance of the service to the business of the nation.

To give Cleveland, which is on the route, the opportunity to view its arrival there in daylight, the first plane, a De Havilland with a 400-horsepower Liberty motor, to depart from New York in the inauguration of the service from this terminus, took off from the Maywood field at 7:30 daylight-saving time, just two hours ahead of the established schedule.

It carried, as a part of its first load, a box of flowers for Mr. John Coolidge, father of the President. The flowers were the gift of Vice President Charles G. Dawes, who took the principal part in the ceremonies inaugurating the service, with an address which was broadcast from every station in the Chicago district.

Heavyweight Steers at Highest Price Since '22

By Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Chicago, Union Stock Yards.—For Week Ending July 2.—Advancing 75 cents to $1 on runaway markets, heavyweight fed steers grading good to choice were carried to new high price levels for the year. Both medium and heavyweight steers reached $13.85, the highest since October, 1922. A meager supply of well-finished offerings arrived, which resulted in a veritable scramble to fill Eastern shipping orders.

Receipts increased over a week ago, higher prices stimulating demand, but in-between grades predominated and warm-up kinds were too numerous, common and medium-grade arrivals losing 50 cents. Many heavy steers cashed within a price spread of $12.50 to $13.25. Long yearlings topped for the week at $13.25.

A lively hog market continues. Top reached $14.25 against a high mark of $13.80 late last week. Shippers remained the "life" of the trade locality, taking 33,000 of the 33,000 head received during the first four days of the week.

Supplies of fat lambs both locally and around the market circles showed an increase of around 35 per cent, and values slumped generally 75 cents to $1. Bulk of desirable native lambs closed at $15.50 to $15.75 as against $16.25 to $16.50 a week ago.

Lomira, Wis., July 7.—The Lomira High School is to be discontinued. Action to this effect was taken at the annual meeting held last evening. There were 120 votes cast at the meeting, 67 against continuing the school and 52 for its continuance. L. A. Zoun, cashier of the Lomira State Bank, president of the school meeting. Apparently someone disappointed over the action in abolishing the school, vented their feelings upon Mr. Zoun by smashing the bank with yellow paint during the night. This morning the bank was smeared with paint. High taxes are given as the reason for discontinuing the school, many feeling that the school costs too much. There were three high school teachers employed and their yearly salaries amounted to $5,025. It will be necessary to keep up the building, even though no high school classes are conducted, as the grade school is housed in the same building. There are three teachers employed for the grades, Lomira has had a high school since 1908. It was on the accredited list of the University of Wisconsin and was considered one of the best of the small high schools of the state.

DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST LOMIRA

The village board of Lomira was served with a notice by a Juneau deputy sheriff naming the village a defendant in a $5000 damage suit. The complaining witness is Louis Knopp, aged 40, a resident of Ingram, Rusk county. Knopp was employed as a blacksmith in the Esser shop some three years ago. On May 23, Knopp came to Lomira in search of a job. That night Knopp drank some strong solution and became critically ill. Dr. Raymond of Brownsville was summoned and rendered medical aid. It was rumored at that time that he drank some horse liniment. The next day he was taken to the village lock-up and confined until evening. He was not placed under arrest while in Lomira. Sunday evening when Knopp awoke from his all day sleep he wandered around the village hall and took a swig out of the bottle which contained sulphuric acid used to charge the local fire chemical apparatus. He became violently ill and called for help. Marshall Klein was called and he in turn called up the county physician at Juneau. He was advised to bring Knopp to the county jail which he did. When Knopp arrived at Juneau Dr. Hembreit was summoned who pronounced him in a serious condition. The acid had burned his intestines and stomach to such an extent that the man's life was expected to be snuffed out at any time. He has not been able to eat any solid food and has lived on milk and water since being confined to the county jail.—Lomira Review.
