CALLED TO THEIR ETERNAL HOME

OTTO H. MILLER

Otto H. Miller passed away in death on Thursday, November 11, 1926 at his home in Milwaukee, 1068-4th street. He was born in 1877 in Sommerfeld Province of Brandenburg, Germany and came to America with his parents at the age of four years, settling at Boltonville, Wis., where he attended the public school. He then attended the Ripon high school. After which he successfully taught school for two years, and during this time he prepared himself for the Civil Service as postal clerk. He entered the service on October 1, 1901 and on January 2, 1902 was assigned to Station "2" where he served as clerk and later as assistant superintendent for 25 years. He was married on September 25, 1901 to Miss Lena Behrke at Kewaskum, whom he leaves to mourn, together with one daughter Anita, and one son Milton. He also leaves one brother Charles of Rye, Colorado and two sisters, Mrs. Otto Jokisch of Milwaukee and Mrs. Jacob Remmel of this village. The deceased was a kind and loving husband and father, and ever an efficient and faithful worker. His exemplary christian character won for him a host of friends, who mourn his early departure.

The funeral took place from the residence to the Evangelical Labor church on the corner of 8th and Davis street. Rev. Fleer officiated. Burial was made in Union cemetery.

IN MEMORY

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our hearts,
That never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled
The boon His love has given,
And though his body slumbers here
His soul is safe in Heaven.

G. CARL BAETZ

Chas. W. Baetz owner and operator of the Dundee cheese factory, Dundee, Wis., received the sad news of the death of his father, G. Carl Baetz, last Friday, Nov. 12th, 1926, which occurred at his home in Hillsbury, Dodge county, Wis., on above mentioned date, at 3 p. m., after an illness of four weeks with a complication of diseases brought about by the infirmities of old age. Deceased was born March 1, 1842 in Coburg, Germany. In 1852 he immigrated with his parents to America, and settled at Hillsbury. Coming to his present home at a time when all was still a virgin forest. Determined to make good, and realizing the great and important task ahead of him, Mr. Baetz found plenty of work to do from early morning till evening, clearing land and developing same into rich productive soil. In 1861, he was married to Johanna Liernan, who passed away in death on August 16, 1915. Mr. Baetz was the father of 12 children, four sons Edmund, Erwin, Arthur and William preceded him in death several years ago. Those surviving are: George Baetz of Thompson, North Dakota; August Baetz of Lake City, Florida; John Baetz of Newberry, Mich.; Edward Baetz of Chicago; Chas. W. Baetz of Dundee; Fred Baetz on the homestead; Johanna (Mrs. Chas. Schott) of Hot Springs, South Dakota, and Ida (Mrs. O. A. Alberts) of Lemman, South Dakota. Besides these he leaves to mourn, 16 grand children and 3 great grand children; and one brother George Baetz of Fond du Lac. Mr. Baetz was one of those sturdy pioneers, who enjoyed the best of health up to four weeks prior to his answering the final roll call. Though well advanced in years he kept himself busy the last few years in gardening, which was one of his hobbies. Aside from attending to his home duties, he took a deep interest in civic affairs and in the development of the community in which he resided, in all his business and social dealings he proved himself to be a man amongst men, a citizen, loyal and true and a giver who gave to those in timely need. His death is one which will be greatly mourned by all who knew him. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence. Rev. Collings officiated. The funeral was held under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge at Hartford. Burial was made at Hartford.

LORRA MAN IN ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Brooding over financial troubles, is what caused James Gill of Lorra to make an attempt to end his life by drinking poison at Milwaukee last Friday night. Quick response by Milwaukee police, however, is probably what foiled Mr. Gill's plot. Milwaukee police received a call Friday night from Gill to go to a certain address for a body. Police asked whose body it was and Gill said it was his, explaining that he had taken poison and would be dead when they reached him. Gill is 35 years old, and is now recovering from the effects of the poison at the Emergency hospital.

BREAKING HOME TIES

DOUBLE FEATURE AT OPERA HOUSE

Mistaken identity has formed the theme of many novels and stories and is the pet motif of the better known writers, but nowhere has the subject been better treated than in Jay Imman Kane's original screen story, "Red Handed."

The tale has been pictured by Pete Morrison under the title of "Bucking the Truth," a Universal-Laskat production, at the Opera House tomorrow and epitomizes the great West as only Morrison and his players can portray it.

The story concerns the efforts of Morrison to prove that he is not the murder suspect he is taken to be by the posse in pursuit of the alleged criminal. He is given aid by "Lightning" his famous horse, the most intelligent animal on the screen and who appears in all pictures in which his master plays.

Pretty Lone Reed, who supported Morrison in "The Escape," his previous production, is again seen as the heroine. She and Pete make a most capable and attractive team.

The supporting players include such well-known performers as Brinsley Shaw, Charles Gordon, William La Roche, Bruce Whitaker, O. Robertson, Vester Pegg and others.

In the wilds of the California mountains, near Big Bear, was the locale where most of "The Terror," Art Acord's starring vehicle, which will be shown at the Opera House tomorrow, Sunday, was filmed.

In these beautiful surroundings Cliff Smith, the director, guided his players through the action of an unusually dramatic tale of the West. Acord, with his horse Buddy, and his dog Rex, proves again that he is one of the West's outstanding horsemen, as he does feats seldom performed on horseback.

Daring rides up and down the mountain side and trips along dangerous mountain roads were the daily fare of the star during the "location" trip. Had his sure-footed mount slipped at times both Acord and his horse would have fallen hundreds of feet to their death.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. William Roehrdanz of the town of Barton had the happy occasion of celebrating their golden wedding anniversary at the homestead farm, now managed by their son August on Tuesday, November 9. The event started at 2 o'clock with a family dinner. The home was elaborately and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Roehrdanz were presented with many gifts.

Mr. Roehrdanz was born in Mecklenburg, Germany, on August 27, 1848. At the age of seven years he came with his parents to America, settling at Milwaukee. The family remained there three years and then moved on to a farm in the town of Kewaskum. Mrs. Roehrdanz was born in the town of Barton on June 18, 1854. Her maiden name was Helen Kocher. They were married in St. Peter's (Lutheran) church in Addison on November 9, 1876, following which they moved onto a farm in the town of Barton, where they have since resided. They are the proud parents of five children, namely: Ida (Mrs. Peter Kirchner) of Wayne; Elizabeth (Mrs. Orrin Gundersman) of Oconomowoc; Henry of Watertown; Marie (Mrs. L. A. Alich) of Oconomowoc, and August on the homestead.

HEATING PLANT FIRE HAZARDOUS

Stoves, furnaces, boilers, smokepipes and chimneys are all fireproof; still they set many fires. Together they constitute the main causes of fires in Wisconsin. They are intended to confine the fire, flame and smoke but cannot do so unless so well and properly built or installed. In the nature of things heat radiates from them. This makes a good, safe clearance to unprotected woodwork very important and necessary. The causes of heating plant fires are easily understood, and the remedies very simple; hence almost all of these fires mean gross neglect, carelessness and indifference on part of the owners and occupants. Now is the time for owners and local fire inspectors to carefully inspect the entire heating plant installation, and to promptly remedy all fire hazards. It will mean greater safety for shop, home and family. Only when you can answer the following questions satisfactorily have you given your family, employees and property the protection you owe them:

- Is the chimney free from cracks, loose brick and mortar, and is it clean?
 - Is any woodwork in direct contact with the chimney walls?
 - Is the stove, boiler or furnace sound?
 - Does the boiler or furnace rest on a brick or concrete base?
 - Have you a metal stoveboard under your stove and in front of the ash pit door?
 - Are ceilings, partitions and walls within two feet from the stove, furnace or boiler protected with metal or heavy asbestos?
 - Is there any smokepipe running through an attic, closet or other concealed space?
 - Is the smokepipe sound, well joined and wired, properly fitted into a chimney thimble, and is the pipe clean?
 - Is any wall paper up against the smokepipe?
 - Are any flue holes papered over, closed up with wood or stuffed with rags?
 - Do you overheat the stove or furnace, or leave drafts wide open?
- Industrial Commission.

ANOTHER SWINDLING STUNT

There is always something new in the swindling game being put out to catch the unwary and to separate them from their money. The latest is an alleged clothing concern that locates in a town, rents a building or office, advertises extensively and represents itself to be composed of tailors, offering suits for $29.50, giving a suit or overcoat free with each $29.50 purchase. Buyers are required to pay a five dollar deposit, when they are measured for suits, the balance of $24.50 to be paid when the suits are accepted. After a week's stay in the town the concern quietly decamps with the advance money paid them. This swindle was recently worked at Manitowoc and the swindlers got away with about $900.—Hartford Times.

ENTERTAINMENT AT GAGE SCHOOL

An interesting program will be given at the Gage school in the town of Auburn, by the pupils of the school, on Wednesday evening, November 24. Miss White, teacher, together with the pupils have worked hard to make the program a success, and kindly ask the public in general to show their appreciation for the efforts put forth by attending same, thus helping to make same a financial and social success. Ladies are requested to bring homemade candy. All are cordially invited to attend.

ASSESSED VALUATION OF COUNTY PROPERTY

With an aggregate assessed valuation of $48,120,454, property values, both real and personal, showed a considerable increase in 1926 in Washington county over the 1925 period. According to the annual report presented to the County Board of Supervisors by A. H. Bussewitz of Juneau, the assessor of incomes, this is given at $55,331,902.

The total assessed valuation of real estate in the county is $40,423,679, and the personal property $7,696,755, which is 86.95 per cent of the true value.

Mr. Bussewitz's report shows that there were 7,856 horses, mules and asses in the county, with an assessed value of $580,175, fixing the average value per head at $73.58. Evidently the horse, one of our most faithful animals, is getting lesser in number for in the 1925 report 8,077 numbers were listed for assessment in the county, showing a loss of 221.

A total of 37,390 meat cattle were assessed at $1,622,892, with an average value of $43.40. County assessors this year found more animals than in the preceding year, the increase this year being 1,120 head. The true value of these animals is $1,899,305.

A total of 1,605 sheep were assessed at $10,799; 7,257 swine at $111,982, and 6,182 wagons and sleighs at $98,350. Sheep decreased 17 in number, 169, and wagons, carriers and sleighs decreased 487.

Merchants' and manufacturers' stocks throughout the county were assessed at $2,237,962, which is an increase of $62,228 over 1925.

Valuations of public utilities in the county also show an increase, the total assessment being given at $431,025.

Bank stock shows a decrease of $32,552. The assessment for 1926 is given at $623,668.

Mr. Bussewitz's report further shows that there are 5,984 automobiles and trucks in the county, with an average value of $292.22, and an aggregate true value of $1,750,115. Of this number 3,892 autos and trucks are in the towns, and 2,092 in the cities and villages. There were 2 motorcycles in the county, showing that this form of conveyance lost heavily in number in recent years due to the big demand for automobiles, which are sold almost as cheap as a high-priced motorcycle. The only motorcycles listed were in the town of Hartford, and in the village of Barton.

All other personal property liable to taxation was assessed at $659,282.

Mr. Bussewitz states that the above statistics were compiled with great care, in an endeavor to get a just and equitable ratio between the different districts, so that the county taxes can be levied by the County Board in just proportion among the different assessment districts.—West Bend Pilot.

CARD PARTY AT WAYNE A. SUCESS

In spite of the extreme inclement weather conditions, the card party given by the St. Bridget's church in Frank Wietor's hall, Wayne, was very largely attended, and enjoyed by all present. The committee in charge wish to thank all who braved the severe snow storm to attend the same, thus making it an overwhelming success. Prizes were awarded as follows: Quilt on which tickets were sold was won by Mrs. John Murphy. Door prize, a sack of flour by Oscar Koerble. Skat, 1st—John Botzkovis; 2nd—Henry Rauch; Hearts schafkopf, 1st—Jacob Melnhardt; 2nd—Rudie Kullman. Diamond schafkopf, 1st—Nic. Beisberg; 2nd—Mrs. Frank Fleischmann. 500, 1st—Hubert Klein; 2nd—Val. Peters. Bunco, 1st—Pearl Schaeffer; 2nd—Mrs. Alvin Westerman.

SUPPER WELL ATTENDED

The annual supper given by the ladies of the Evangelical Peace church, in the school hall of the church on Thursday afternoon and evening, was bigger and better than ever before, thus turning out to be a grand financial and social success. The ladies desire to thank all who attended the same, and to all who donated for the event. All of which played its part in bringing this year's annual feast to a successful conclusion.

CARD PARTY AT HOLY TRINITY SCHOOL HALL

Everything is now in readiness for the prize card party to be held by the ladies of the Holy Trinity church, Kewaskum, in the Holy Trinity school hall of the church on Tuesday evening, November 23. The usual games, such as skat, schafkopf, 500, cinch and bunco will be played. A door prize will be given away free to the person holding the lucky number. The ladies extend a cordial invitation to all to attend the same.

Pure-Bred Sires Improve Herds

Increasing Interest Shown in Many Localities in Improving Stock.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

An increasing sentiment toward the breeding of improved live stock is apparent from frequent reports and inquiries received by the United States Department of Agriculture. These deal particularly with methods by which some localities are introducing pure-bred sires and rapidly grading up their herds and flocks. The department, acting as a clearing house for such information, is furnishing local officials and stockmen with methods, posters, and educational material.

Colorado county, Texas, is engaged in an energetic drive for better cattle. The Texas Hereford association and progressive cattlemen are co-operating in the work, the time being considered ripe for the introduction of more good pure-bred bulls on the range.

Plans in North Carolina.—Roman county, N. C. is planning rapid improvement of all its live stock and has as its first goal the enlistment of 100 or more live stock owners who will pledge themselves to use pure-bred sires exclusively.

Union county, Ky., which has 100 per cent pure-bred bulls, is now directing its efforts toward the banishment of scrub and grade sires of other kinds. So far as known all barns, stallions, and jacks also are pure-bred. A recent field day attended by a representative of the Department of Agriculture showed that public interest in improved domestic animals is already resulting in an improved high quality of young stock, especially beef calves.

In Campbell county, Ky., more than thirty dairymen are using pure-bred bulls exclusively. Local bank deposits have been so satisfactory that bankers in the locality are actively supporting the better livestock efforts.

Improvement in Connecticut.—New Haven county, Conn., is also rapidly improving its live stock, among which poultry is especially prominent. A total of 747 persons are using pure-bred sires for the larger animals and standard-bred roosters for improving their poultry flock. Numerous other localities are similarly interested.

According to records of the Department of Agriculture, in the last few years 43 counties in the United States have attained the distinction of having 100 or more live stock owners that are using pure-bred sires exclusively and have adopted breeding methods leading to still further improvement.

Fall Plowing Will Help Condition of the Soil

Fall plowing for spring crops will improve the physical condition of the soil, help control many insects, and relieve the pressure of early spring plowing. Blank fall plowing for sorghum is an excellent practice for central and western Kansas.

A good growth of alfalfa left on the field over winter will protect the plants during cold weather, catch and hold snow, strengthen the plants, and increase the yield of hay next season. Manure applied as a top dressing to alfalfa protects the plants during the cold weather and increases the yield to a marked extent. At the Kansas Agricultural Experiment station an annual application of manure at the rate of five tons per acre increased the average yield of hay 3,265 pounds per acre over a period of 14 years.

Carelessness Is Cause of Trouble in Tractor

Many of the troubles experienced with the engine and other parts of the tractor are due to a lack of knowledge or carelessness on the part of the operator. If the tractor operator would read and apply every word of the instruction book, the tractor would give much longer service at much less expense, according to R. L. Shaw, farm mechanics department, college of agriculture, University of Illinois. Keeping the tractor well lubricated, all the adjustments set properly, and the belts tight is too often overlooked. The operator should spend at least an hour every day in the care of the tractor.

DEFINITE CONCLUSIONS REACHED FROM FERTILIZER EXPERIMENTS

Pennsylvania Plots Show Results of Treatment.

The fertilizer experiments at the Pennsylvania State college were started in 1881 and have been in progress ever since. Prof. F. D. Gardner, head of the agronomy department, told the Crop Improvement association at the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation meeting held recently. "And it is now possible to draw some rather definite conclusions as to what may be expected from long-time fertilizer treatment."

"When applied at the rate of six tons per acre on these plots manure has been worth $2.85 per ton, but at the rate of 10 tons has been worth only $2.72 per ton, showing that the most profitable use of manure is to spread the limited amount over a larger acreage rather than applying it more heavily on a smaller acreage."

In the light of more than 40 years' results from these oldest of all fertility experiments in the United States, Professor Gardner draws the conclusions that complete fertilizers have maintained crop yields approximately as well as manure and just as economical if cost of the manure is taken into account.

For corn, six tons of manure supplemented with acid phosphate. For oats, on depleted soils, 200 pounds of acid phosphate. For wheat, complete fertilizer, 400 to 500 pounds per acre. For clover and timothy hay, nothing. For timothy, topdressing with nitrate of soda.

Sufficient lime in some form to grow good clover. Additional light is shed on the cause of winter-killing of wheat. A. W. Blair, soil chemist, writing in the New Jersey Agriculturist, states that soil acidity is a potent condition for this loss.

Experiments conducted by Professor Blair at the New Jersey experiment station showed that plots receiving sufficient lime to overcome the natural acidity of the soil came through the past winter with a good stand of wheat. Plots not receiving lime were practically devoid of wheat because of winter-killing.

Barnyard manure was found to a small degree to reduce the losses, but not sufficiently to warrant dependence on it for this purpose.

Surveys taken throughout New Jersey by the soil department of the experiment station indicate that a large proportion of the soils of the state have reached a condition of acidity that warrants application of lime. This treatment would considerably enhance the chances of carrying good stands of wheat through the winter.

Cropping Has Effect on Wheat Protein Content

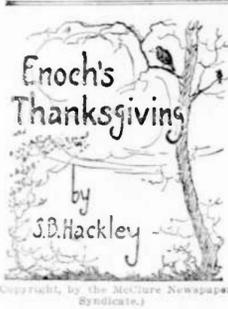

In these days when wheat with high protein content is selling at a premium on the markets farmers will strive to produce such wheat. A study of the effect of cropping systems on quality of wheat at the Kansas Agricultural college showed that certain crop rotations produced wheat of very high protein content.

In a rotation plan of four years of alfalfa, one year corn and two years wheat, alternating the corn and wheat as to the one or two year period, produced an average protein content of 15.2 per cent from the period 1910 to 1922. A rotation plan carried on at the same time and under the same conditions, but substituting brome grass for alfalfa, produced wheat of only 12.1 per cent protein. A plot planted to wheat continuously resulted in a relatively high protein content, 14.2 average for the period. This is accounted for by the fact that land plowed early has sufficient time for nitrate accumulation.

Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Day does come, No matter what the pain, The grief and the dread, The loss or gain, Thanksgiving Day does come With banners flying, With song of praise and prayer, Forever shaming, Our little doubts and fears, Our halting speech and tears. Thanksgiving Day does come, And we who doubt it, Can do the very least Without it! We need it more than they Who meet the morrow, Without a weary thought Of blighting sorrow.

Enoch's Thanksgiving

Copyright, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"My silver breastpin you gave me is gone," she told him nervously. "I could not find it anywhere this morning. I'm afraid I've lost it. I'll bring you back for it," Enoch suggested.

"For three weeks Enoch worked and suffered. Two days before Thanksgiving day, the day he had set to present himself for enlistment, he met Bate Owen, a neighbor lad."

"Enoch shook his head, but when Bate left him he sank on the fallen leaves and raised beseeching eyes to the November sky."

"Hear me, Lord," he cried. "If she—my girl never done that wrong, send me a sign and forgive me for thinkin' she might have! And if she did sin, show me what to do between now and Thursday."

"I wish I could know where my pin is!" she murmured on their way home. Enoch's hand, pressing his breast pocket, felt the uncomfortable roughness of the brooch within, but he grew cold at thought of restoring it to her. Had Abby been tempted to take David's money? He recalled that she had been unaccountably disturbed and troubled over the trivial loss of the brooch, and she had not

"Two hundred dollars is a lot of money—I wish I had the half," observed Abby wistfully. "Where does Davy keep it, Pauline?"

"He's got it in my little headed sack-a-banana in the left. He's afraid of burglars."

"When the girl was the bride-mender, Cleophas, rebuked Pauline. "Laws! Pauline tossed her head—'Abby's honest than you, Cleophas. You are a—honest! spite foolishly, Abby's got her woman's right to prefer Enoch Davy to our Davy.'"

Abby, walking with light swiftness through the reddening woods, stopped when she came to a dead poplar that, destitute of limbs and punctured by woodpeckers and ants, hung over the path.

"I'm goin' to ax that poplar! A cheerful voice sounded behind her, and a sunburned young man lifted her aside out of the way of the leaning tree. "It shan't fall on my girl while I'm fightin'! Yes, I'm goin', Abby. Something in me says: 'Enoch don't stay here takin' it easy makin' excuse your mammy's got but you.'"

She raised glowing eyes. "Oh, Enoch, I couldn't stand it if you didn't want to go! But I—oh, Enoch, you might not come back."

Enoch kissed her palling cheek. "There's worse things could happen us, honey."

"I know," she whispered; "sin brings folks the worst griefs."

"I'm not goin' to enlist until Thanksgiving day, three weeks yet," the boy said presently. "I've got to get the corn in and leave things in shape for winter first for mammy."

The next morning when Enoch met Abby in the woodland path and bent joyously over her she seemed scarcely to sense that he was kissing her.

"I didn't know you was around, Abigail!" Pauline frowned a bit resentfully. "You always did have the softest steppin' pair of feet—for all the world like a cat's."

"Where's Davy goin'?"

"Yes, and them that climbed that ladder and stole that hard-earned money ought to be made to suffer, be it man or woman." Cleophas remarked, and Enoch felt that he knew what was in his suspicious old brain.

Then, in the grass at the foot of the ladder, his troubled eyes fell on Abby's brooch. When his heart began to beat again, he set a cautious foot over the pin, and, unobserved, stooped and transferred the trinket to his pocket.

"I wish I could know where my pin is!" she murmured on their way home. Enoch's hand, pressing his breast pocket, felt the uncomfortable roughness of the brooch within, but he grew cold at thought of restoring it to her. Had Abby been tempted to take David's money? He recalled that she had been unaccountably disturbed and troubled over the trivial loss of the brooch, and she had not

"David knows that," his grand-mother droned drowsily; "she's lame is all that's keepin' him from enlistin', but it won't hinder his preachin'."

"Two hundred dollars is a lot of money—I wish I had the half," observed Abby wistfully. "Where does Davy keep it, Pauline?"

"He's got it in my little headed sack-a-banana in the left. He's afraid of burglars."

"When the girl was the bride-mender, Cleophas, rebuked Pauline. "Laws! Pauline tossed her head—'Abby's honest than you, Cleophas. You are a—honest! spite foolishly, Abby's got her woman's right to prefer Enoch Davy to our Davy.'"

Abby, walking with light swiftness through the reddening woods, stopped when she came to a dead poplar that, destitute of limbs and punctured by woodpeckers and ants, hung over the path.

"I'm goin' to ax that poplar! A cheerful voice sounded behind her, and a sunburned young man lifted her aside out of the way of the leaning tree. "It shan't fall on my girl while I'm fightin'! Yes, I'm goin', Abby. Something in me says: 'Enoch don't stay here takin' it easy makin' excuse your mammy's got but you.'"

Thankful Spirit Knows No Selfishness

There was once a man who patted himself on the back and said that he was thankful he was so much better than other men.

He lived on this earth several hundred years ago.

His name we do not know, but his whole group or sect has been damned by his selfish and ungracious act, and we cannot hear the word "Pharisee" without having an unpleasant sensation.

Constant Benedictions

Every day is a Thanksgiving day. Every morning a blessing of strength, every evening a bundle of mercies, for each of God's children! We may not see the angels or hear the sweep of their wings, but we receive the blessings of their hands.—Isaac W. Gowen.

Every woman likes to have at her finger tips a few "sure-fire" company desserts—to give confidence in times of stress. These three are simply delicious and they're so easily made that you can treat the family any day in the week without waiting for Sunday.

Lady-Finger Pudding.—Split twelve lady-fingers, spread with jam or jelly, and put together again. Make a soft custard of one-half cupful of sweetened condensed milk diluted with one and one-half cupfuls of hot water, three egg yolks, one-eighth teaspoonful of salt and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Place a layer of the lady-fingers in bottom of buttered dish and cover a meringue custard; repeat. Make a meringue of two egg whites, stiffly beaten, and four tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar. Cover top of pudding. Bake in a slow oven until meringue is slightly browned.

Southern Pecan Pie.—Dilute three-fourths cupful sweetened condensed milk with one and one-fourth cupfuls hot water and bring to scalding point in a double boiler. Cream two tablespoonfuls butter, add four tablespoonfuls flour gradually, then two egg yolks slightly beaten and one-fourth teaspoonful salt. Pour scalding milk over mixture gradually, stirring constantly; return to double boiler and cook fifteen minutes. Remove from fire, and add three-fourths cupful pecan meats cut into small pieces, and one teaspoonful vanilla. Pour into a baked pastry shell and cover top with meringue made of two egg whites stiffly beaten and four tablespoonfuls sugar. Brown lightly in a moderate oven.

Pineapple Tapioca With Custard Sauce.—Dilute three-fourths cupful sweetened condensed milk with two and one-fourth cupfuls hot water, stirring well. Bring to scalding point in a double boiler. Add three tablespoonfuls quick-cooking tapioca, one cupful grated or crushed pineapple, and one-fourth teaspoonful salt. Cook one-half hour. Remove from fire and add in two stiffly beaten egg whites. Chill. Make sauce as follows: Dilute one-half cupful sweetened condensed milk with one cupful hot water. Bring to scalding point in a double boiler. Pour slowly over two beaten egg yolks to which one-eighth teaspoonful salt has been added. Return to double boiler and cook until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly. Strain, cool and flavor with one teaspoonful of vanilla.

GOOD EVERYDAY DISHES

On the day that fresh gingerbread is baked, serve it with cottage cheese and apple sauce as a dessert.

Casserole Chuck Steak.—Cut a slice or two of chuck at least two inches thick and large enough to fill a casserole. Brown well in a little spot, place in the casserole with enough hot water, meat or vegetable stock to cover. Cover closely and simmer until tender in a hot oven. An hour before serving add six small whole onions, a few sliced carrots and potatoes; continue cooking until the vegetables are tender. Thicken the gravy and serve from the casserole.

Prune, Raisin and Cheese Salad.—Clean and steam two cupfuls of prunes. Remove the pits and fill with a mixture of chopped raisins, using one cupful; one-half cupful of grated cheese and one-half cupful of chopped nut meats. Arrange on lettuce with stalks of shredded celery and serve with bottled dressing.

Pineapple Delight.—Rub a salad bowl with a cut clove of garlic, then add one cupful of finely shredded cabbage, one-half cupful of finely cut celery and one-half cupful of sliced pineapple. Arrange on lettuce, serve with French dressing and garnish with slices of red pepper.

Stuffed Cabbage.—Remove the outer leaves of cabbage and wash them thoroughly. Heat two tablespoonfuls of oil and brown one chopped onion and a clove of garlic, also chopped. Add one-half cupful of washed rice, stirring carefully until the rice is brown. Add one cupful of chopped mutton and enough stock to cover the rice. Simmer slowly until the rice is tender.

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water
 Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. An inadequate substitute for money is "it's no disgrace to be poor."

Buick Thermostatic Control provides smooth Engine Performance at 0° or 90° in the shade

Thermostatic Circulation Control is a new reason why the Buick engine is so easy to start and so pleasant to drive, in all kinds of weather. Summer conditions prevail all year, under the Buick hood. At 90°, or at zero, this valuable Buick improvement reduces the warming-up period to less than three minutes!

For this, and many other vital reasons, the 1927 Buick is the Greatest Ever Built. The engine is vibrationless beyond belief. Drive it and see what that means.

It was with sorrow that the news came here announcing the death of Mrs. Helen Schoolcraft, age 74, native of this neighborhood. She was the oldest daughter of the late Harvey Carter, there were five sisters and one brother, Helen, Clara, George, Delia, Louisa and Hattie. Mr. Carter came to Wisconsin in 1847 from Ohio. On his travels from Milwaukee to Green Bay, he had a serious encounter with the famous Indian Chief John Kewaskum, when he reached this section he discovered a fine spring of water on the land where he settled and lived the remainder of his life with his family. When the joint school district was organized, the school house was built near the Carter home, and was known throughout this section as the Carter school district. It became a business center for political and religious gatherings.

McCormick-Deering Engines

With the sturdy, rugged McCormick-Deering Engine pumping the water, running the washing machine, etc., you know the work will be done. And without the engine overheating or running up the operating expense. Every part of the McCormick-Deering is built for steady, important work. Dirt, sand and trash mean little to the McCormick-Deering, as the crank-case is enclosed. The cylinder is removable; in case of wear a new one can be inserted at low cost. The large water hopper permits a generous supply—no overheating.

The Tudor is the most popular family sedan ever built. It is especially suitable for the family with small children as the little ones can't reach the door fasteners when left unattended in the rear seat. The big plate glass windows and one-piece windshield give clear vision in every direction—an important safety feature. In summer all four windows lower completely below the sills giving open car airiness. In winter they shut the weather out entirely and there is no car more comfortable. The all-steel body is finished in beautiful champagne green and the deep, soft upholstery harmonizes with the body color.

Let a new car quality in a fine finish—reason why this car is so popular. You'll enjoy every minute of it and it will be a pleasure to us to introduce you to such a fine family car.

Demand Judged by Condition.

The extension of the fluid milk market has certainly taught the necessity for cooling milk, night and morning, every day of the year, otherwise milk will not keep fresh and wholesome. Many plans have been suggested for milk houses, but all of them are designed to provide a convenient place to which the milk may be taken immediately after milking and there cooled and kept cool until time of delivery. The conditions which prevail at the source of daily milk supply decide after all the condition in which it will be received by the consumer. The only way to increase demand is to supply what the public wants, pure and well cooled. The most modern scientific dairy machinery cannot make milk better, it must be right to begin with on the farm.

Muscles of tough, live rubber lengthen its life

THE "muscles" of tough, live rubber give astonishing endurance and record-breaking long life—without adding weight—to Top Notch Buddy Boots. These ribs or muscles, strong as whalebone, add strength to the tops and prevent them from cracking. The tough grey soles stand up under the hardest going in muck and stumps, in ditches, slush or ice. The longest-wearing boot your money can buy. In short, hip and Storm King Lengths.

For dependable, distinctive boots, moccasins and rubbers, always look for the Top Notch Cross. The most reliable scores carry the complete Top Notch line for men, women and children. The Beacon Falls Rubber Shoe Co., Beacon Falls, Conn.
