KEWASKUM HIGH SCHOOL COLUMN

Jan. 14th with a very interesting game was played with the Lomira high school basketball team, the visitors won by a score of 19 to 25.

The Lomira school, the proceeds are to be toward the purchase of a motor car which will be placed in the teacher's room.

On Tuesday afternoon we had the pleasure of hearing a speaker on salesmanship, who also introduced a plan of making a little money for our Athletic association the plan is as follows.

Three teams were drawn up the Red, Blue and Green. The teams are to get as many subscriptions as possible for the following magazines: American Magazine, Woman's Home Companion, Mentor. So if a salesman calls at your home remember it is to the benefit of your high school.

We are again presenting a poem written by one of our Seniors.

WORK AFTER SCHOOL
Have you ever wondered while at work
Wondered like a merchant's clerk,
Trembled like a quarrelsome Turk;
Sitting like a dormant fool,
Thinking "I can do work after school"
From beginning to end your work will pile,
Higher than the pyramids near the Nile.
Many a student has spent his while
Staring like a sleeping fool—
Thinking "I can do work after school"
Have you ever thought of times
When your sweetheart, like a lion,
Came to you and said in rhyme,
"You're sitting like a quiescent fool,
Thinking "I can do work after school"
Have you ever thought of hardships
And of all the pretty lips—
When the teacher called in snips,
"You're sitting like a dormant fool,
You may work long after school."
—Harold F. Kocher.

WHAT LOMIRA HAS TO SAY ABOUT BALL GAME

The following article clipped from the Lomira Review, gives in part what the sport writer has to say about last Friday's basketball game between the Lomira high school team and the local quintette, played at the local high school gym, when our boys suffered an overwhelming defeat of 38 to 19:

"When it rains, it sometimes pours, this was true Friday evening at Kewaskum when Coach Packard's warriors decidedly defeated Kewaskum high school in the game of 38 to 19.
"Sometimes ago Kewaskum played here and almost defeated the local boys and according to dope were supposed to beat the edge over Lomira. This was upset, yet even in the first half when Lomira led by a score of 22 to 9. Lomira led nothing undone to make the evening an unpleasant one for Kewaskum. During the last half all the subs were given a try. Yet Lomira gathered 16 points to Kewaskum's 10. Kewaskum was outclassed in every stage of the game. Ability to weave thru the Kewaskum defense, enabled Lomira to score almost entirely with medium length or short shots."

HOLDS HIS FIRST INQUEST

Geness Reinders, one of our local farmers and undertakers who was elected coroner at the last primary election, held his first inquest, when he took charge of the office on January 1st. Mr. Reinders was called to Hartford last Saturday where he held an inquest over a suicide case. The suicide was a desperate one in which Mrs. Loe, aged about 35 years, a resident of Hartford, tried to end her life in three different ways. The first being by using a dagger to pierce his stomach. This, however, did not bring the desired results, he then used a chair to cut the arteries in his wrist, failing to accomplish his point in view, he then drowned himself in a spring in the basement of the building where he lived. Dependency over ill health is given as the cause of his act. Deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Loe and three brothers and three sisters.

$800,000 SHIPMENT OF FOX SKINS

That Ozaukee county is fast becoming the center of the fox fur industry of the world was established here with the shipment of 91 trunks, containing over 6000 skins of silver black fox, to the New York fur auction which opens in New York City on January 15th. The shipment is valued at about $800,000. The skins are from animals raised on the farms of Fromm Bros. & Nieman Co., and the associate farms in this county. The animals were raised here, then taken to the ranch at Hamburg, Wis., where they are allowed to run wild for several months to acquire the final prime on their furs, a lustre and beauty that brings high prices at sales. For the past several weeks the skins have been graded and sorted and classified at Hamburg by New York men in charge of the auction, and they were shipped to New York in trunks last week. Mr. John F. Nieman and Mr. George W. Wittenberg of this city will leave for New York City this week to attend the annual sale.—Cedarburg News.

$1998 FOR IMAGINARY CATARACTS

It is said that it cost a well known man residing not far distant from Hartford $1998 to have cataracts that were entered removed from his eyes, says the Hartford News. That new high price was reported by the Health Committee of the State Medical Society as being the price paid by this resident for ten drops of "medicine" to cure two cataracts. The bulletin goes on to say: "In the instance cited, two city slickers imposed upon a bedridden man this fall, convincing him first that he had cataracts of the eye, and finally that they had a specially prepared medicine that would avoid an operation. After the two treatments of five drops each, they collected $1,098 and needed to leave for parts unknown leaving behind them only a receipt." Hartford Times.

YESTERDAY AND TODAY

LOCAL WOMAN AWARDED $2500

Mrs. Herbert Backhaus was awarded $2500 at West Bend this week, when her case resulting from an automobile accident, came up for trial at the January term of circuit court. The case was settled out of court. Mrs. Backhaus, it will be remembered was struck by an automobile driven by William Hollup, a representative of the Oshkosh Mill Works company, one evening early last spring. The accident happened while she was on her way home, after having done some shopping in the evening at the local stores. When she reached a point near the John Tiss residence on North Fond du Lac avenue, she was struck by the oncoming car traveling in a northerly direction, and dragged along the pavement for a distance and then thrown to the side of the road, sustaining injuries to her head and body. The question of saving her life for a while at the time was very much in doubt.

BODIES OF DEAD COUPLE TAKEN TO MEDICAL SCHOOL

The bodies of Michael Konjevich and his bride of seven months, Eva found dead at their home near the Mayville Iron Co. mines with their throats slashed last week Tuesday, were taken to the Marquette Medical School at Milwaukee, Thursday afternoon by the M. & H. Transfer truck. Sheriff Wm. Rhode had been communicating with Elmer Call, brother of the dead woman, who resides at Wells-ville, Ohio. The brother wired that the body of his sister be sent to Wells-ville, provided there was insurance or any other money to defray the expenses. The wire stated that the letter would follow instructing the sheriff with regard to the future of Leslie Konjevich, left an orphan by the tragedy.—Mayville News.

GET MAIL SERVICE

City delivery of mail service will be established in Cedarburg on April 1st, according to the advice received from the postoffice department at Washington yesterday. The matter of establishing this service was brought to the attention of the department by Postmaster Jochem and Mayor Horn several months ago and resulted in an inspection of the office by Inspector Ramsbottom who made a favorable recommendation.—Cedarburg News

Picture two men, helpless in a huge iron vat. High above them is a raving maniac manipulating the controls of a giant crane that is swinging a huge ladle filled with molten steel. He is swinging it slowly but surely toward the helpless men in the vat. His sole intent is to dump the molten mass on the heads of the two men who cannot escape. As the ladle approaches the men great masses of liquid steel slop over and fall to the floor of the steel mill, spraying death to whoever steps in its path.

That is the start of one of the most powerful scenes in First National's forthcoming special, "Men of Steel", showing at the Opera House Theatre here Sunday. George Archibald directed. This scene was staged in the Ensley Mills of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company plant at Birmingham, Alabama. Milton Sills has the starring role in this picture. It is Sills and Victor McLaglen who are in the vat with death swinging toward them. Of course they are saved, but in the saving a more thrilling scene is shown than in the threat pictured above.

LOCAL LEGION POST PRAISED

Dr. Leo Brauchle, post commander of the Kewaskum post of the American Legion, received a letter from C. F. Snover, commander of the 2nd, district, of Ft. Atkinson, Wis., last week in which he gives high praise to the local post, in being one of the first ones in the second congressional district in sending in a report of nearly a 100 per cent membership fees for the year 1927. The letter, in part reads as follows: "My Dear Doctor:—You are doing great work at Kewaskum this year. Hope to see you post 100 per cent this month. Thanks for the splendid cooperation. Respectfully yours, Snover."

At the regular monthly meeting held at Eberle's Buffet last Monday evening, the local post decided to hold a dancing party at the Kewaskum Opera House some time next month. The general public can also rest assured that the post will hold some big celebration some time next summer. Just what it will be has not yet been decided upon.

MAY WANT FISHERMEN LICENSES

One of the early bills that will probably be introduced in the present session of the legislature and which will affect the state fish and game department of the conservation commission will be one requiring Wisconsin fishermen to have licenses. At present only persons coming from outside the state to fish in Wisconsin are required to pay a state fee for such a privilege. While the state conservation commissioner, Elmer Hall, has at this time no specific legislation to suggest to the legislature, members of this office are certain that several legislators feel that the commission should be provided with the extra source of revenue that would be set up with licensing of native fishermen in order to further its work of game protection and development of the fish and game in the wild spots of Wisconsin that are becoming popular summer places for persons from all over the nation.

CONGREGATION ELECTS OFFICERS

TWO DAY FARMERS' INSTITUTE HERE

A two day Farmers' Institute will be held at Kewaskum on January 18 and 19 at the Kewaskum Opera House. This institute will be attended by farmers and those interested in farming from Washington county.

Representatives from the College of Agriculture, successful Wisconsin farmers, and county agents will be present at the institute. They will bring with them many live, new topics for discussion. Every Wisconsin farmer is interested in the Wisconsin Swine program, Dairy Herd Improvement, Phosphate for farm soils, and co-operative marketing. These are but a few of the leading subjects that are included on the program.

Two problems that confront every Wisconsin farmer are adequate home grown winter feed supply and adequate summer feed supply, according to L. F. Craber, agronomy specialist from the College of Agriculture. Sweet clover is becoming very popular for pasturage as a result of excellent service that it performs. During the summer cows perform the labor of harvesting. It is urgent that they are supplied with adequate pasturage at this time. As sweet clover is good pasturage and also economical it is a profitable pasturage to use for the summer.

Previously summer feeding was made on permanent pastures consisting mostly of blue grass. The permanent pastures have also in the past been supplemented by summer silage for soiling crops. But because of the cost of labor, this practice has been doubtful as far as profits are concerned.

"But permanent pastures are not adequate as a rule on the dairy farm" concludes specialist Graber. By supplementing with a sweet clover pasture the strain of ever grazing on the blue grass permanent pasture will be relieved. The pastures will then be maintained in a productive condition. A further discussion of this subject will be given by George M. Briggs at the Farmers' Institute.

Factors Fixing Price of Hogs

Present and Prospective Supplies Are Among Dominant Influences.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Financial returns to hog producers depend to a considerable extent upon how well they adjust the volume of their production to the demand for the product. declares the Department of Agriculture as a result of a study of the factors that affect hog prices.

The dominant influences in the hog market, says the department, are the supply of hogs on the market and expected to arrive on the market within the next few months, the quantity of hog products in storage, the general price level, general business conditions, and the prices of alternative products. The general levels of demand, here and abroad, are both important, but ordinarily change only slowly.

Since the war, however, conditions have been so unstable that the purely mathematical formula has not given such satisfactory results.

Information From Surveys. The department believes that its pig surveys have provided the hog market with much better information as to prospective supplies than were available before the war, while the agricultural outlook reports of the department and similar information from other sources may be tending to change farmers' reactions.

Full details of the study have been published in Department Bulletin 1440-D, entitled "Factors Affecting the Price of Hogs," copies of which may be obtained from the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Diseases of Lambs Are Discussed in Bulletin

With the increase in the lamb feeding industry in Colorado diseases have made their appearance, and in some years losses have been excessive. As the winter feeding season is in full force a bulletin published by the Colorado experiment station on "Diseases of Colorado Feeding Lambs" becomes particularly timely.

This bulletin is prepared for the feeder, to whom it will furnish valuable information. It will also serve veterinarians who practice in lamb-feeding districts and to whom the feeder will naturally turn for advice and counsel.

Among the diseases which cause a loss in lambs on winter feed it deals briefly with the following: Hemorrhagic septicaemia, paratyphoid dysentery, coccidial dysentery, overeating, sore mouth, indigestion, bloating, diarrhoea, pneumonia, scab, ticks and others.

Hog-Price Cycle. The so-called "hog-price cycle" was found by the department to be due to the tendency of hog producers to over-produce when the relation of hog prices to corn prices was favorable, and to reduce too much when it was unfavorable. This excessive reaction, says the department, resulted from the accumulation of production changes during the interval before reduced or increased receipts and prices.

Comparing the corn-hog ratio, indicating what changes were likely to occur in breeding, with other factors indicating changes in the weight of hogs and the demands of the consumers, the department believes that very good forecasts of hog prices could have been made for the prewar period.

CULL DAMAGED CORN PRODUCTS TO PREVENT MARKET DISCOUNTS

Injured Ears Result in Low Grades Being Set.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Heavy losses may be sustained by corn growers this year unless damaged corn is culled from market shipments, the Department of Agriculture says in a warning to producers.

The corn crop, especially in many sections of Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, contains a large proportion of damaged ears, according to reports of producers, grain dealers and grain inspection records. Market discounts will be assured unless shipments are free from damaged corn, the department says.

Damaged ears in the corn when shelled result in low grades being assigned the corn which is being marketed and is graded by licensed grain inspectors. It was pointed out that low-grade corn takes a discount in price to approximate proportion to the quantity of low-grade corn sent to market.

To prevent market discounts where shelled corn contains damaged kernels, corn producers and country corn dealers are urged by the department to pick out the damaged ears either at the time corn is husked in the field, when it is put into cribs, or when it is shelled. To obtain best results, the damaged ears should be removed at each of these three operations.

By removing the damaged ears before the corn is shelled, says the department, the remainder of the corn can be stored with less danger of becoming damaged, and such corn generally will grade higher by one or more grades, and sell more readily at a higher price by several cents per bushel. The damaged ears, while practically worthless on the market, will make fairly good feed on the farm.

Timothy Declared Poor Feed for Producing Milk

Clover, alfalfa and other legumes make far better hay for dairy cows and produce better milk than the best timothy, says C. C. Hayden, chief of dairy husbandry, Ohio experiment station. Yet questions coming to his department daily reveal the fact that many farmers still feed their milk cows timothy hay and corn stover.

The milk from cows fed timothy hay or stover and dry grains is low in vitamins, Mr. Hayden continues, and is not as valuable for children as that from cows fed bright legume hay. If timothy must be grown for hay it is best if cut very soon after the heads appear.

If no clover or alfalfa is coming out for use next winter, the best substitutes are soy bean hay or field peas and oats. The peas and oats are seeded together as soon as the ground can be prepared and the soy beans are seeded after danger of frost.

Value of Lime Learned by Progressive Farmers

We cannot grow legumes successfully without the use of lime, and we cannot improve our farm lands to any great extent without legumes. Furthermore, legume crops, besides drawing nitrogen from the air and storing it in soils for the benefit of other crops, and supplying organic matter which is necessary to enrich the land, furnish the very best feed for live stock.

It is an old saying that "a limestone country is a rich country." It is always a good country for producing clover and the grasses and fine cattle, horses, sheep and hogs. But any soil can be made a limestone soil by applications of pulverized limestone, and for this reason the use of lime is on the increase in all lime-lean sections where progressive farmers have learned something of its value.

Young Cattle in Feed Lot

The practice of putting young cattle into the feed lot is much more common now than it used to be. Many cattle feeders who formerly purchased two and three-year-old steers for winter feeding are now purchasing calves and yearlings. The market preference is for younger and lighter weight finished beef instead of mature heavy cattle.

Amount to Feed

There are no set rules to determine the amount of feed a hen should eat. Usually, the more food a hen consumes the more eggs she will lay, provided she has the ability to lay economically and is fed a properly balanced ration. The common practice as followed by many successful poultrymen is to feed at the rate of two ounces of dry scratch grain and two ounces of mash per bird per day, feeding in addition to this, all of the palatable green foods the birds will eat.

Diseases of Trees

In forest production, as in the growing of other crops, diseases are very important. From the time tree seeds germinate until the mature trees are cut, they are subject to the attacks of fungi which retard their growth. Other fungi secure entrance to the heart wood of the tree through fine cracks and produce decay which renders the affected parts worthless. Estimates show that nearly one-fifth of the volume of the mature hardwoods of the East is a loss due to decay.

The KITCHEN CABINET

As the truest society approaches always nearer welfare, so the most excellent speed is finally made to all sciences. Science is useful to all men at all times, and in all places. She is when we hear inwardly. She is when we hear outwardly. Henry Thoreau.

EVERYDAY FOOD

When fresh mackerel cannot be obtained there is nothing better than the salted variety. It is packed in small wooden pails, with heads and tails removed so there is almost no waste. When soaked over night and then baked for twenty minutes, covered with cream, they are delicious eating.

Mackerel Potato Balls.—Cut enough pared potatoes into quarters to fill a pint cup. Turn into a saucepan and cover with boiling water and cook until tender. Mash and mix with flaked leftover cooked mackerel. Shape into balls, add seasoning and fry in fat after dipping the balls in egg.

Pacific Salad.—Take one cupful of cooked spaghetti cut into bits, one good-sized stalk of celery, two green peppers all cut fine, add two sweet cucumber pickles cut into thin slices and plenty of good boiled salad dressing.

Savory Loaf of Beef.—Take two pounds of beef from the top of the round, one cupful of bread crumbs, three-fourths of a cupful of milk, two tablespoonsful of butter, one egg, one and one-half tablespoonsful of salt, a dash of nutmeg and cayenne and the juice of one lemon. Add the dry ingredients, then the melted butter, lemon juice, egg well beaten and milk. Roll into a loaf and dust well with salt, pepper and bread crumbs; bake forty-five minutes, baste with butter and water or with a brown mushroom sauce. Serve with a brown mushroom sauce.

Rice and Coconut Custard.—Put one-half of a cupful of well-washed rice into a double boiler with three pints of milk, cook until very soft, then set aside to cool. Beat three eggs—leaving out the white of one—add one cupful of sugar, and one cupful of fresh grated coconut. Stir into the cold mixture and bake in a moderate oven. Cover with a meringue made from the beaten white and two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar. Brown and serve with cream.

A Day With Candies. A simple recipe for chocolate caramels is the following:

Chocolate Caramels.—Take one-half cupful of grated chocolate, one cupful of sugar, one cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of milk, one-fourth pound of grated chocolate and a tablespoonful of butter. Cook to soft ball stage and pour out into a buttered pan to cool. Cut into squares when cool enough.

Here is another:

Chocolate Caramels No. 2.—Take two cupfuls of brown sugar, one cupful of molasses, one-half cupful of milk, one-fourth pound of grated chocolate and a tablespoonful of butter. Boil twenty minutes, stirring constantly. Pour into buttered pans and mark off when cool.

Chocolate Creams.—Boil two cupfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of water and a pinch of cream of tartar until the sugar syrup makes a soft ball when dropped into cold water. Cool and stir until creamy, let stand well covered with buttered paper for two or three days to ripen. Then mold in balls, dip into baker's chocolate melted over hot water and place to cool on oiled sheets.

Orange Drops.—Grate rind from one orange, squeeze the juice, removing all seeds. Add to the juice and rind enough powdered sugar to make into small balls.

Ice Cream Candy.—Take two cupfuls of sugar, two-thirds of a cupful of cold water, one-half cupful of vinegar, boil without stirring until it makes a hard ball in water. Pour out to cool on a buttered platter and when cool pull, adding a few drops of flavoring.

Taffy.—Take two cupfuls of brown sugar, one-half cupful of butter, four tablespoonsful of molasses, two of water, two of vinegar. Boil fifteen minutes.

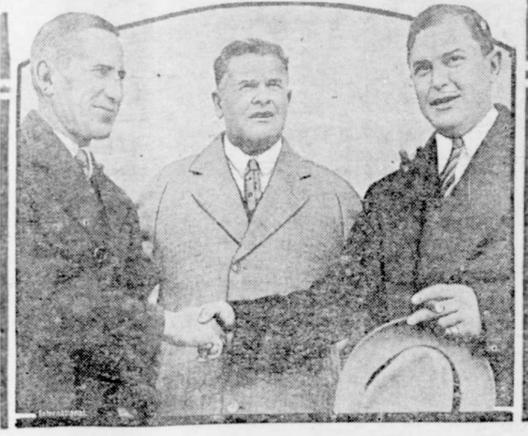

Wickory Nut Macaroons.—Take one pound of powdered sugar and chopped nuts, the unbroken whites of five eggs, one tablespoonful of flour and two teaspoonsful of baking powder. Mix all together and drop by teaspoonfuls on a baking sheet and bake a light brown.

Orange Angel Cake.—Cream two cupfuls of sugar and one-half cupful of butter, add four egg yolks, three squares of melted chocolate and one cupful of mashed potatoes. Stir two and one-half cupfuls of pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg, five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful each of cinnamon and cloves; add alternately with two-thirds cupful of milk, beat for two minutes, add one cupful of walnuts or slightly chopped. Then fold in the egg whites beaten stiff. Bake in layers for twenty minutes.

First Visiting Cards. The first reference to the use of visiting cards in England was written 127 years ago. Mrs. St. George, writing in her Journal under that date, wrote: "Madame de Busche called to take me to pay my visits. We only dropped tickets."

The "tickets" referred to are supposed to have been similar to the calling cards now in use. The cards were used for this purpose in China, however, as early as the T'ang dynasty, about A. D. 618.—Chicago Journalist.

Gridiron Stars Playing Superb Game at Hockey

Some of the new professionalized hockey players are stars of the gridiron, banished from the game because there is no place for amateur outlaws in football in Canada.

Rugby players starring on the ice include Charlie Dismore, Eddie Stewart, Duncan Munro, Nelson Stewart and Babe Siebert of Montreal Maroons; Lionel Conacher, Roger Smith and Duke McCarty, of Pittsburgh; Billy Brydce, Jess Spring, Leo Bourque and Bill Carson, of Toronto St. Patrick's; Billy Boucher and Aurel Joliat, of Montreal Canadiens; Billy Burch and Charlie Langlers, of New York Americans; King Clancy, George Boucher, Alex Smith and Hobley Smith, of Ottawa Senators; Babe Dye, of Chicago, and Frank Boucher, of the New York Rangers. Dye has some outlet in hockey's off season when he covets as an International league baseball star, while Conacher is being tried out by Toronto Leafs.

Three Americans Given Places on Oxford Teams

With the promotion of Charles F. Darlington, Jr., of Mount Kisco, N. Y., to the first rowing squad at Oxford, America now has two representatives on that group for the first time in many years.

Darlington, who rowed on the Harvard varsity crew for two years, was given a seat in Crew B of the Oxford university trial eights, following a short period of preliminary work. The other American is H. T. Kingsbury, who was given a seat on Crew A some time ago.

America also added another Oxford athletic triumph to its list when W. E. Lingelbach, Jr., of Philadelphia, Rhodes scholar from Pennsylvania, captured the University freshman's tennis championship.

Lingelbach's victory came only after a grueling match, stretching into four sets, with L. W. Meadley, an English student from University College.

Phillip Ostf, captain of the Haskell Indian school cross-country team and a Hindu Indian, is recognized as one of the greatest runners in the United States.

Connie Mack Had Clever Stunt to Fool Umpires

It was a clever ruse on the part of Connie Mack, present manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, that caused the abolition of the rule that a foul tip caught by the catcher retired the batter. Connie, then catching for the Washington team in the National league, was just as canny as a catcher as he since has proven himself to be as a manager.

It got to be a regular practice on the part of Connie, who thought it all out himself, to snap the fingers of his right hand against the tip of his catcher's mitt as the batter would swing at a ball, making it sound to the umpire for all the world like a foul tip. For awhile even the batter himself was deceived, and invariably he would be declared out by the umpire. Once this deception was discovered, however, a rule was incorporated that a foul must go at least ten feet in the air or ten feet away from the batter's box before the catcher from the foul would retire the batter. After that Connie's cleverness at including a foul tip was of no avail.

Kenan Gives $275,000 for a Tarheel Stadium

A gift of $275,000 for the construction of a football stadium at the University of North Carolina, has been made by William Rand Kenan, Jr., of New York, president of the Florida East Coast railway. Dr. H. W. Chase, president of the university, announces. The stadium will seat 24,000 persons and construction will begin immediately. The plans call for its completion in time for the opening of the football season next year.

The gift is in memory of the late Mary Hargrove and William Rand Kenan, mother and father of the donor, and it will be known as the Kenan Memorial stadium.

Sign Two Pirate Coaches

Jewel Ens and Oscar Stanton signed contracts to coach the Pittsburgh National league baseball team next season. Ens has been with the Pirates as a player and coach since 1922. Stanton, veteran big leaguer, was manager of the Evansville Three-I team last year. He was the Detroit first string catcher from 1908 until 1921. The next year he played with Sacramento, Calif., and then, after a year's lay-off, went to Toronto in 1924. In case of emergency he might be called on.

BREAST SHOT IS MOST EFFECTIVE

Used by Teams With So-Called Crisscross Offense.

Teams that use the so-called crisscross offense usually have as their main shot the breast shot. The player stops abruptly in a run, front foot pointing toward the basket, in a slight crouch. He holds the ball at his chest with fingers and thumbs, palms free, behind the ball. Wrists are straight, elbows in. Hands, arms, legs and the whole body come into play when the shot is made. As the ball is delivered the hands point toward the basket, palms away from the face, arms, body and legs extended in a complete "follow through."

Somewhat similar is the wrist-propelled chest shot. This is probably the fastest long shot in general use, and one every player should know, writes Mitchell V. Charney in the American Boy. The ball is held at the chest, fingers slightly behind the ball's center. The power in the shot comes from a sudden snap of the arms, wrists and hands, with both arms following through behind the ball. Body and leg position aren't a part of this shot, ordinarily; and there are a dozen variations. A valuable one is that letting a man shoot from a running position. He shoots the ball away at the highest point in a jump.

The underhand "loop shot" isn't much used any more, because guarding is becoming so efficient. If you're depending a good deal on such a shot, you'd do well to substitute one of the breast shots for it.

Last year Coach H. B. Tabor of the Benton Township (Ill.) high school had on his team a forward who was particularly good at long shots. Moreover, he came up to the basket for his short shots like a flash, and seemed to have all the making of a fine short-shot man. But Coach Tabor found that invariably this forward—Carmel Ross was his name—executed one part of the shot badly, and missed many baskets.

Ross always made his jump at the basket for a short shot more like a broad jump than a high jump. He would pass under the backstop almost before he had heaved the ball at the hoop, and because of this style he had to pitch it from a distance of several feet instead of from the very rim. Moreover, he always tried to turn in the air so as to come back onto the floor for the rebound.

So Coach Tabor gave Ross, and others on the team who had the same fault, hours of drill in the proper method of executing a short shot. He taught Ross, a right-handed player, to take off from his left foot at just the proper distance from the basket. He taught him to make use of the extra inches the cross-body stretch gave him—the added height he got by taking off from the left foot and shooting with the right hand extended up at full length. Ross learned to go almost straight up; to give the ball a little overhanded shove at the highest point of the jump and "lay" it in the basket; to throw his shoulders back a little to break his forward speed. He learned to send the ball off the tips of his fingers and thumb, palm to the front, and to shoot it only five or six inches above the basket.

And he learned to pivot back onto the floor, instead of trying to turn in the air. The turn was bad, because it prevented the complete follow-through the short shot demands. Besides, the short shot is supposed to be successful, and its execution must be based on the theory that it will be. So the turn isn't necessary.

Ross soon found that, rightly handled, it was successful. Any fellow can do the same thing.

Washington Pitchers

Clark Griffith is determined to have a winning pitching staff next season, and already has lined up 21 hurlers for 1927 spring training. Only three members of his present corps of flingers—Walter Johnson, Stanley Coveleskie and Fred Marberry—are sure of their jobs and Curley Ogden and George Murry, youngsters who did very well in the 1926 campaign, will be forced to fight it out with the newcomers for the other places on the pitching staff.

Keep in Trim!

Good Elimination is Essential to Good Health.

THE kidneys are the blood filters. If they fail to function properly there is apt to be a retention of toxic poisons in the blood. A dull, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic headaches, headaches, and dizziness are symptoms of this condition. Further evidence of impaired kidney function is often found in burning or scanty passage of secretions. Each year more and more people are learning the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, in this condition. Sincerely a weak or hampered kidney is a danger to health. ### The Road To Health!

Prof. Warner's
Favorite Prescription put me on the road to health when I was nearly down. I was so completely played out that I could hardly get around to do my work. I was weak,
nervous and all tired
out, could not sleep,
my head ached, my back hurt and I had pains thru my sides.
I was miserable. But,
after taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's

I was feeling fine, my nerves quieted down,
I could sleep and was free from all distress.

Drink Water If Back or Kidneys Hurt

Begin Taking Salts If You Feel
Backache or Have Bladder Weakness

The much rich food forms acids which irritate and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you release the bowels, removing acids, toxins and poisons, else you may feel a dull ache in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headaches, dizziness, the stomach sour, nausea is caused, and when the weather is hot you have rheumatic twinges.
The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging
you to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salt is made from the seed of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithiawater drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders. By all means, drink lots of good water every day.

HOLIDAYS FOR YEAR 1927

Workers are delighted with the 1927 calendar as they were with its predecessor of 1926. So are bank employees, postoffice clerks and mail carriers, for this year has five double holidays.

The first double holiday is Memorial Day, which falls on Monday. Next comes the Fourth of July, also falling on Monday. Labor Day will bring a double holiday and Christmas and New Years falling on Sunday will be celebrated on Monday. Business in general would be benefitted if these holidays fell at the beginning or close of the week each year.

Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, another legal holiday, falls on Tuesday; Lincoln's birthday, on February 12, falls on Saturday; Columbus day, Oct. 13, on Wednesday and Armistice day, November 11, on Friday. November 24 will be Thanksgiving day this year. The year opens and closes on a Saturday. Spring begins March 21 at 8:59 a. m., summer on June 22, at 2:22 a. m.; autumn on September 23, at 7:17 p. m., and winter on December 22 at 2:18 p. m.

Lent begins March 2. Lent starts March 2, Ash Wednesday; April 10 is Palm Sunday and Easter is April 17, two weeks later than in 1926. Ascension Day is May 26, Pentecost, June 5. Holy Trinity Sunday, June 12. The Assumption of the B. V. M., August 15 falls on Monday. All Saints, November 1, on Tuesday, and the Immaculate Conception of the B. V. M., December 8, on Thursday. Advent starts on November 27.

The Ember Days are: First week in Lent, March 9, 11 and 12; Pentecost week, June 8, 10 and 11; third week in September 21, 23 and 25; third week in December, 14, 16 and 17. But one 13th—that of May—will fall on Friday.

During 1927 there will be five eclipses: three of the sun and two of the moon. Of these only one of the lunar eclipses, June 14 and 15, will be visible in the United States.

The first eclipse of the year occurs on January 3, an annular or ring eclipse of the sun; the second, a total eclipse of the moon on June 14 and 15; the third a total eclipse of the moon on June 28 and 29, visible as a partial eclipse in Europe, the northern part of Africa and the northern half of Asia; the fourth will be a total eclipse of the moon on December 8, not visible in the United States and the fifth and last eclipse of the year will be a partial one of the sun on December 23, visible only in the Atlantic ocean.

DOLLAR BILLS TO BE SMALLER

Smaller dollar bills, about two-thirds the size of those in circulation now, are about to appear according to dispatches from the Department of the Treasury office in Washington. Dollar bills have a comparatively short life, averaging only a year. An attempt was made to popularize the silver dollar but without success in the east. Treasury officials have decided on the smaller dollar bill to reduce the cost of distribution. It is said that the saving in paper alone amounts to a million and a half dollars a year. It may be necessary to discard all old bill folds and get new ones to fit the new size money.

To Poison—Or, Not to Poison?

Congress is in a battle of the century, all its own, over the government's policy of poisoning alcohol. Senator Edwards of New Jersey is leading the forces which demand everything from the repeal of the Volstead law to a delivery of all correspondence between the Treasury Department, Wayne B. Wheeler, and the Prohibition forces. Wheeler and the Anti-Saloon League stand pat that the government is neither legally or morally guilty of "legalized murder"—for poisoned liquor which cost so heavily in human life during the holiday season.

Buick Ahead Again in the Yellowstone!

Again in 1926, more Buicks toured through Yellowstone Park than any other car except the one of lowest price.

Buick has held this same honor every year since the Park was opened to automobile travel.

This year there were 4,756 Buicks in a total of 44,472 cars registered. 101 different makes were represented in the registrations. One in every ten was a Buick.

Here is convincing evidence of Buick reliability—striking proof of the faith which Buick owners repose in their car.

They know Buick will take them and bring them back comfortably, safely and splendidly—across the Continent—or around the World.

GRIND!

Don't Let Whole Grain Cheat You

WHOLE GRAIN is bulky and it fills the animal's stomach, but it cheats you by satisfying the hunger through this bulk rather than through complete nourishment. Tests have been conducted by Government stations in past years, with healthy, full-toothed animals, to determine the seriousness of these feeding losses. The tests show an average loss of from 12 to 26 per cent. In other words, out of 100 bushels of whole corn fed, 26 bushels yield practically no nourishment while passing through the digestive tract. The unground oat diet shows a similar loss of 12 bushels out of every 100. Such feeding losses can easily spell the difference between possible loss and a handsome profit! Many farmers are putting various combinations of grains through the McCormick-Deering Feed Grinder, assuring their animals a nourishing ration that is quickly and completely assimilated. In the interests of greater stock-raising profits, investigate the McCormick-Deering at our store.

BUS STRIKES AUTO CONTAINING BASKETBALL QUINT

Four members of the Regner Drugs basketball team—Wm. Warnkey, Ray Haebig, Richard Kincaid and Orrin Klassen—and their coach, Math. H. Regner, had a close call from meeting with serious injuries at about 4:30 last Friday evening while enroute to Two Rivers. The Drugs were scheduled for a game in the lake city that evening and while the car of Mr. Regner—a Buick sedan—was passing over a hill on highway 17, between Sheboygan and Manitowish, it was sideswiped by a huge motor bus, operated by one of the traction companies, and damaged to the extent that it was unable to proceed and had to be towed to a garage at Sheboygan for repairs. Mr. Regner and his players were not injured in the least. The players and their coach reached Two Rivers over the interurban. The return trip was made over the Lake Shore division of the North-Western road.—West Bend Pilot.

Don't Gamble When You Buy Your Used Car

The used car you buy represents so many unused miles of transportation. The price should be in proportion to this unused mileage which remains in the car.

Whether or not you get the unused mileage you pay for, depends upon which car you buy and where you buy it.

The Ford has more mileage built into it per dollar of cost than any other car. A used Ford therefore has more unused mileage remaining in it than any other car that has been used to the same extent. Consequently it is the best used car you can buy.

Being authorized Ford dealers we are experts on Ford cars and can give you a better used Ford for your money than any "free lance" dealer who handles any and every make of car.

We know every nut and bolt in the Ford; we know exactly the real condition of every used Ford we take in and what it needs to put it in good running order.

We don't allow extravagant trade-in prices. We pay what the car is worth and sell it to you for that price plus the cost of renewing it. All work is done by our regular mechanics, with special Ford equipment and using only genuine Ford parts.

We have no interest in giving you anything but the biggest value possible because we want you to come back for your next car and we know that the only way we can bring you back is by giving you a full dollar's worth for every dollar you pay.

We have some very good used Fords at attractive prices on display now. Come in and see them and try them out if you want to. No obligation to buy.

THE DESTRUCTIVE THIRTEEN-POINTS

An analysis of the 1924 fire losses of the United States, by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, shows the following thirteen principal originating causes: "Exposure" and "cause unknown" fires are not considered.

1. Matches and smoking—carelessness which we must guard against—$30,231,840.
2. Defective chimneys and flues—can be easily prevented—$22,740,308.
3. Stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes—this and No. 2 most common at this season—$21,169,369.
4. Spontaneous combustion, starts fire in oily waste and rags, uncurd hay, saw dust and soft coal—$17,037,545.
5. Sparks on roofs, from chimneys, other fires, railway locomotives or smokstacks—$15,062,140.
6. Electricity, defective wiring causes a large percentage of home fires; many are caused by electric flat irons—$14,579,757.
7. Lightning, the largest cause of farm home and barn fires. Lightning rods offer the only protection—$11,680,516.
8. Petroleum and its products, gasoline improperly used, oil lamps and heaters, oil burners, etc.—$11,619,316.
9. Sparks from combustion, fires started by locomotives, threshing engines, etc., in grass, leaves and forests—$9,354,570.
10. Sparks from machinery, electric motors, overheated bearings, friction—$8,819,239.
11. Hot ashes and coals, open fires, coals falling from grates and stoves, putting hot ashes in wooden receptacles is a very costly habit—$6,146,304.
12. Open lights, city gas, gasoline gas, torches, oil lamps, lanterns and candles—$3,376,803.
13. Miscellaneous causes, rubbish, hot greases and tar, explosions, etc.—$93,168,629.

If you harbor any of these thirteen causes on your premises, they will surely bring you bad luck sooner or later, and the bad luck is really only carelessness, indifference and shiftlessness. We do not want to own up to these, so we call it "bad luck", and blame the good Lord.

Most of these causes can be eliminated easily by any thoughtful property owner. Study these thirteen harbingers of bad luck and see how many you can find on your own premises. Fire prevention is just common sense.

COOLED MILK IS BETTER MILK

Milk, is the very best of food known, but it is also easily spoiled. Contains all the elements for building up the human body, in just the right proportions, and in the most digestible form. On account of being in this form it is necessary to protect it in every way possible from outside contamination and high temperature. The only sure way of keeping clean fresh milk in its natural good condition for any length of time is to cool it at once to sixty degrees Fahrenheit, then its keeping quality will be assured. Milk left to cool by itself, even in cold weather will require several hours to bring it down to the proper temperature, and during that time the quality has positively been harmed. It has changed chemically from a perfectly good condition into a condition not so good. We must always remember that the consumer's only concern is the quality of the product as finally delivered to him by the dealer. Quality cannot be manufactured, it must be safeguarded at the source of supply.

C. E. Hodges, Unity, Ill., says: "Lithiated Buchu relieved me of a bad case of bladder irritation. I sleep nights and am better in day time. It has also helped my wife. I will tell or write my experience to any one. Lithiated Buchu acts on bladder as epsom salts do on the bowels. Drives out abnormal deposits and neutralizes excessive acids, thereby relieving irritation which causes 'getting up nights.' The tablets cost 2 cents at leading drug stores.
