BODY OF WEST BEND MAN FOUND IN POND

The badly decomposed body of John "Hogan" Bastian, son of Mrs. August Bastian of West Bend, was found floating in the mill race at the rear of the power plant by Night Engineer Joseph Kincaide, at about 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. Mr. Kincaide fastened the body so it would not float out of reach and then notified Coroner Clem Reinders from here, who took charge of the body, removing same to the Reinder's undertaking parlors here. The body was so badly decomposed that the only way it could be identified was by personal belongings, a pocket knife, spectacle case, and a key which fits his mother's door. His shoes also helped to identify him. Howard Bruhy and Oscar Haendel, brother-in-laws of the drowned man, identified the body. As there were no visible marks of violence on the body, it is thought that he came to his death by drowning, in an accidental manner. An inquest will be held in the city hall at West Bend next Tuesday. It is believed that Mr. Bastian was in the water four or five days, as he was last seen at his home last Thursday afternoon when he stated that he was going to work, and his family did not see him alive since. Deceased was born in West Bend on July 19, 1879. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. August Bastian, two brothers, Albert and Hugo, and three sisters, Alma, Elsie (Mrs. Oscar Haendel), Melinda (Mrs. Howard Bruhy), of West Bend. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon with services at the home of his mother. Rev. C. Ruppert officiated. Burial was made in the Union cemetery.

DUNDEE LUTH. CHURCH CELEBRATES

The Lutheran Trinity congregation of Dundee of which Rev. Carl Aeppler is pastor, will observe the 25th anniversary of the church building and the 50th anniversary of the Lutheran Trinity congregation on Sunday, Sept. 9th, 1928. The occasion will be observed by three services, the first one will be held at 10:30 a. m., the second one at 2:30 p. m., and the third one at 7:30 p. m. The sermons will be delivered by Rev. O. Dinner will be served on the church grounds at noon. Refreshments of all kinds will also be served on the church grounds.

On the 9th of September in the year 1878, the Evangelical Lutheran Trinity congregation of Dundee was founded by Carl Bartelt, Carl Dins, Julius Daluge Sr., Henry Hafemann, Albert Koehn, and the Rev. Wm. Hagedorn. Soon after, the Messrs. Frederic Mielke and Carl Kahn joined their ranks. All are now gathered to their fathers, but the Messrs Carl Dins, 94 years old, and Henry Hafemann, 82 years old.

The first service of the Rev. William Hagedorn was held on the 26th Sunday after Trinity in the year 1878 at the home of Henry Hafemann. The text was based on Math. 25, 31-46. The Rev. Wm. Hagedorn served the congregation until the 12th of August, 1883. On the fifth of July 1888 the Rev. Frederic Greve of Kewaskum was called as shepherd of the flock. From April 8th, 1894 until June 12th, 1898 the Rev. Emil Reuel took charge. In the year 1895 the congregation upon application became a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, and other states. From the middle of June until the 23rd of October, 1898 Rev. Frederic Greve of Kewaskum again served the congregation with Word and Sacrament. Occasionally the Rev. W. Schilling of New Fane also officiated. On the 28th of August 1898 the Rev. Frederic Motzkus of Ludington, Mich., was called. He was installed on the 23rd of October 1898 by Rev. F. Greve, in what is now, the school house. In March 1911 he accepted a call to Cameron, Barron County, Wis., where, on the 4th of May, 1916, he died as the result of a stroke.

In the spring of 1911 the Rev. F. Greve was again made vacancy pastor, and served until September of the same year. The present Rev. Aeppler was then called, and the morning of the 29th of October, 1911 the Rev. F. Greve installed him in Dundee, and in the afternoon at Waucousta.

During the Rev. F. Motzkus stay at Dundee, 25 years ago, the present church was erected; and the 26th of April 1903 the corner stone was laid. At its dedication on the 4th of October 1903 the officiating pastors were Rev. F. Greve, Rev. John Halboth, and Rev. F. Motzkus. The church was dedicated to the services of the Triune God.

The record of the congregation is: Baptisms, 370 children (191 boys and 179 girls). Confirmed 282 (149 boys and 133 girls). Married 80 couples. Died and buried, 130 (69 men and 61 women). Communed, 6400.

TRIED TO CHOKE WOMAN, CHARGE

Tom Gomez, Marblehead quarry worker, was being held at the county jail at Fond du Lac on charges of assault and battery and for being drunk and disorderly as the result of a fight Sunday noon during which he is alleged to have attempted to choke a woman and beat a fellow employe and Undersheriff Alfred Vande Zande. When the undersheriff went to Marblehead he found Gomez and Nick Albert fighting in the middle of the road. Gomez, it is said, kicked at the official's car and then attempted to strike him. Vande Zande overpowered him, he said, and handcuffed him. Both Gomez and Albert were taken to the county jail and held over night. Albert was released early Monday because he was not directly involved in the argument; but had attempted to pacify Gomez, it was said. Gomez, it is charged, went to the Geo. Turczi home in Marblehead during the noon hour and attempted to choke Mrs. Turczi. Albert intervened and took Gomez out on the highway, where he started to fight.

WASHINGTON CO. SPORTSMEN ASKED CLOSED SEASON

A petition was circulated in this village and county this week, to have the opening of the rabbit hunting season closed until November 1, instead of October 1st in this county. A. G. Langenbach of West Bend, president of the Washington County Fish and Game Protective association, has written to William Mauthe of Fond du Lac chairman of the conservation commission, stating that similar action taken by the commission last year brought good results and was satisfactory to hunters and conservationists of the county. Chairman Mauthe replied that the association should present a petition bearing 50 names and that upon receipt of such a petition a hearing would be ordered by the commission and definite action taken by the commission one way or the other at the next meeting to be held Sept. 21. The reason of having the season closed until Nov. 1st, is that rabbits are not fit to eat at this time and to shoot them now would merely lead to extermination of the cotton tails.

BALLOTS SHOW RAIL UNIONS WANT STRIKE

70,000 Men Plan to Quit Posts; Affecting 55 Roads.

Chicago.—Tabulation of first returns from the poll of 70,000 railway trainmen and conductors indicate, according to union leaders, an overwhelming majority favoring empowering heads of the brotherhoods to call a strike at their discretion.

Count of the votes is expected to be completed within a few days at headquarters in the Great Northern Hotel. Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railroad Conductors have been voting on the strike question for three weeks.

While the ballots showed that the sentiment of many of the members themselves was in favor of a strike, according to A. F. Whitney, president of the trainmen's organization, the union leaders are making plans to avert a walkout.

In a closed conference of general committees of the two unions involved, headed by Mr. Whitney and E. P. Curtis, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, details of a peace plan which was hoped would avert a strike were discussed.

ILLINOIS COAL PACT AWAITS MINERS' O. K.

Agreement Is to Be Used as Model in Other States, Pr. s. Lewis Says.

Chicago.—Improved conditions are in prospect throughout the bituminous coal mining area as a result of the agreement reached between representatives of the Illinois coal miners and operators in joint conference upon a new four-year contract which provides for a reduction of 15 to 20 per cent in the miners' wages.

While the agreement is yet to be ratified by the Illinois miners, there is every indication that this will be the result when the outcome of a referendum to be taken within the next two weeks is made known, according to union officials.

If ratified, the pact will become effective September 16 to continue in effect until March 31, 1932. It calls for a basic wage scale of $6.10 a day for the day worker and 91 cents a ton for the tonnage miner.

The joint conference agreement was not wholly satisfactory to either miners or operators, according to statements of W. J. Jenkins, chairman of the conference as well as president of the Illinois Operators' association, and Harry Fishwick, president of the Illinois Mine Workers' union, but was acceptable to them on the theory that it would result in improved conditions in the mining industry in the state.

There are now about 30,000 miners at work in the various fields in the state under individual agreements between miners and operators and this number will be increased by 20,000 under the new agreement, if ratified, it was said. No time will be lost in preparing for full scale resumption at the mines, it was stated.

The importance of the ratification of the Illinois agreement to other states was indicated by the statement of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, to the effect that the agreement would be used as a pattern in negotiating new wage contracts in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Iowa.

The agreement recognizes the right to install mechanical loaders and conveyors of all types, the loading of coal with such machinery to be paid for on a tonnage basis, if practicable.

It is specified that the commission shall complete this task at the earliest possible date. Until that time a scale of wages is provided.

French Air Chief and Four Others Killed

Paris.—A sudden nose dive of an airplane and its crash in flames have robbed France of her youngest cabinet member, Maurice Bokanowski, minister of commerce and aviation.

Four others, Gabriel Hamlin, pilot; Jean Volin, mechanic; Henri Wilkin, radio operator, and Edouard Lefranc, general secretary of an airplane company, also perished in the crash near Toul.

Just previous to boarding the plane Bokanowski, while chatting with Gen. Du Perray and Capt. Houbert, said: "Newspaper men insinuate that I never fly, that I take all possible precautions even when I approach a plane standing still. You see," he continued as he jumped into the cabin of the plane, "an airplane trip has no terrors for me." Five minutes later he was dead.

Now Market Milk by Co-operative

Reports Show Substantial Increase in Quantity for Last Year.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Such data as are available indicate that the quantity of fluid milk handled by co-operative associations has been increasing rapidly during the last three to five years.

Approximately 11,000,000,000 pounds of fluid milk was marketed through co-operative associations in 1927. This quantity is nearly one-fifth of the estimated quantity used in continental United States for household purposes last year.

A large fraction of the total fluid milk used in some of the larger cities passes through co-operative channels in moving from the producers to the consumers. Such is the case in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, New York city, Hartford, Boston, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit, Minneapolis and other cities.

There are three general types of co-operative enterprises engaged in marketing fluid milk. These are the Producers' Bargaining association, the Producers' Distributing association and the Consumers' Distributing association.

The producer-operated distributing association assembles, processes and delivers milk to consumers, such as hotels, restaurants and private families. About 40 per cent of the milk marketed co-operatively is handled by this kind of producers' organization.

At the present time there is but one outstanding consumers' co-operative for handling fluid milk. This is an association serving the residents of Minneapolis. The enterprise buys its supply of milk from a producers' association, puts it in bottles and distributes it to the homes of its members and others.

Three Requirements of a Good Alfalfa Seed Bed

Failure to obtain a good stand of alfalfa and to maintain it through the first winter frequently is caused by a poor seedbed. The three requirements of a good seedbed for alfalfa are: 1. A fine but firm soil.

Snow Is a Real Blanket for Clover Fields During Winter

Winterkilling of alfalfa and clover presents examples that seem to be contradictory. Dr. A. J. Pieters explained to a gathering of seedsmen recently, Doctor Pieters, who is one of the forage-crop specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, in discussing the adaptation of alfalfa and clover to climatic extremes and in resistance to diseases, said imported seed was, as a rule, inferior to native seed and that strains successful in one region in the United States were to be recommended only for other regions having approximately the same extremes of temperature.

Winterkilling in Northern Sections With Severe Cold.

Winterkilling of alfalfa and clover presents examples that seem to be contradictory. Dr. A. J. Pieters explained to a gathering of seedsmen recently, Doctor Pieters, who is one of the forage-crop specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, in discussing the adaptation of alfalfa and clover to climatic extremes and in resistance to diseases, said imported seed was, as a rule, inferior to native seed and that strains successful in one region in the United States were to be recommended only for other regions having approximately the same extremes of temperature.

Buying 2-Pound Package Bees Is Proper Method

For the average farmer or small beekeeper, who wants to keep a few bees or increase his apiary, there is no better way than buying package bees, having them come about ten days preceding fruit bloom. If properly handled, they build up rapidly to full colony size and produce a good crop the same season.

Plenty of available seedling time.

3. A good supply of available nutrients at seeding time. The best time to seed alfalfa is during August, and the showiest months should be for the alfalfa methods which will produce the required conditions to produce the others.

One of the most satisfactory methods of preparing the soil is to plow the land very shallowly immediately after harvest of the grain crop and then cover the stubble with the soil during the fall. This will prevent the growth of weeds and grasses. Disking should be done as far as possible during the fall because it leaves the soil loose and open. The frequent cultivation will make the soil fine, and by preventing the growth of weeds will prevent moisture and plant growth.

There are three general types of co-operative enterprises engaged in marketing fluid milk. These are the Producers' Bargaining association, the Producers' Distributing association and the Consumers' Distributing association.

Husking Corn With Most Economical

How times change! The corn husking machine has been looked upon as a man's way of husking corn. Today one is behind in the world who does not know something about husking down corn. Many of the farmers have proved the economy of the machine when rightly used.

Alfalfa, rape and clover are not available outside of the 70 parts, husked seed is 10 parts. 15 parts is better than 10 parts. 30 parts is 10 parts. 30 parts is 10 parts. 30 parts is 10 parts.

Treatment for Deterioration Same as for Deterioration

Deterioration of alfalfa and clover presents examples that seem to be contradictory. Dr. A. J. Pieters explained to a gathering of seedsmen recently, Doctor Pieters, who is one of the forage-crop specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, in discussing the adaptation of alfalfa and clover to climatic extremes and in resistance to diseases, said imported seed was, as a rule, inferior to native seed and that strains successful in one region in the United States were to be recommended only for other regions having approximately the same extremes of temperature.

MCCORMICK-DEERING Enclosed Gear ENSILAGE CUTTER

The McCormick-Deering No. 12 Ensilage Cutter is another international harvester achievement. It sets a new standard in ensilage-cutter design and construction. It is an ensilage cutter that embodies improved features from automobile and tractor construction.

The foundation of the No. 12 ensilage cutter is a one-piece frame enclosing the flywheel, cutter, transmission and drive. All the working parts are enclosed in an oil-tight housing, permitting all parts to run in a clean atmosphere. This construction, combined with the use of special heat-treated gears, assures exceptionally long life and quiet operation.

Other features of McCormick-Deering construction are:
—Flywheel type with four knives secured to flywheel of plate steel.
—Drive on feed apron with high and wide feed throat.
—Gears mounted on high-grade, anti-friction bearings.
—Depth of cut can be changed without stopping machine.

WEEK-END MENUS

For the housekeeper who is chief cook and hostess, the effort of preparing for week-end guests and keeping sweet is not an easy one. For one thing, she wants everything in and around the house to be in "apple-pie order"; then one wants leisure to enjoy the friends who come.

Planning every meal ahead is the easy way, then many things can be made several days before which will greatly lighten the work. Knowing just what to do saves time and temper. Cake which will keep moist for several days may be baked on Thursday; cookies will keep indefinitely. Hard-cooked eggs for stuffing or serving as an escalloped dish may be cooked and placed in the ice chest to wait for the time of serving for a day or two.

A jar of mayonnaise and one of French dressing take all the worry from preparing a salad. It is a good plan to have a few cent custards on ice, a bowl of jelly made from any of the prepared gelatins. Lemon is especially good to use in various ways. A spoonful of gelatin added to almost any salad improves it and extends the amount.

Cook the ham on Friday so that it will cool in its own liquor over night. The cheaper hams, such as smoked shoulders, need no soaking and when simmered in water to which two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one-fourth cupful of brown sugar and a half-dozen cloves are added, will be tender. Then the long cooking in the liquor helps both in the flavor and the moisture.

Carrots may be diced and cooked and put into the ice chest, then when needed, add to a salad or serve hot in a little butter or cream. Beans, peas and onions may all be previously cooked and served in this way.

Leftover Chicken With Ham.—Take two cupfuls of cooked guinea chicken cut into strips, add two-thirds of a cupful of cooked ham and one-fourth pound of mushrooms cut into strips. Sauté the mushrooms in three tablespoonfuls of butter, add the chicken and ham. Sprinkle with three tablespoonfuls of flour, add one cupful of milk and stir until the mixture is well cooked. Add salt and pepper and one-third of a cupful of cream. Keep hot over hot water and serve in potato cases.

Pea Soups and Salads.
 From the time of the early peas until winter when we may use the dried ones, pea soup may be served.

Cream of Pea Soup.—Cook two cupfuls of peas until tender, reserving a pint of water in which they were cooked.

Add two tablespoonfuls of flour and, when blended, one teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper and two cupfuls of scalded milk; cook five minutes with the pint of pea liquor, add the cooked peas, cook three minutes, rub through sieve, heat and serve.

St. Germaine Soup.—Cook two cupfuls of peas in one cupful of cold water, add three cupfuls of stock and when the peas are tender reserve one-third of a cupful; rub the remainder through a sieve. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and when smooth add the strained mixture. Boil five minutes, add one cupful of milk and the reserved peas. Stir and boil five minutes and serve very hot. Two teaspoonfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper with one-half an onion, a sprig of parsley and a blade of mace with a bit of bayleaf are all cooked with the peas.

Vegetable Salad.—Line a salad bowl with crisp fresh lettuce. Marinate fresh cooked vegetables separately in good fresh dressing to which a teaspoonful of parsley has been added. Arrange the mounds of vegetables on the plate or in the bowl in alternating colors. A spoonful of fresh cooked corn, a spoonful of minced beets, a mound of cubed cucumber and one of string beans or carrots. Tomatoes, peas, cucumbers, beans or diced turnips all make agreeable combinations. Serve with a highly seasoned mayonnaise or a boiled dressing.

Jellied Vegetables.—Fill small molds with small balls of turnip and green peas. Cover with aspic jelly and when firm remove to a thick slice of tomato, arrange in dressing. Serve as a garnish for cold meats.

Chicken Salad With Peas.—Mix equal amounts of cold cooked chicken cut into dice, cucumber pared and diced, cooked green peas and walnut meats broken into bits. Moisten with French dressing and serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise dressing.

Woman Hardest to Please
 Some one has found out that in 35 out of 50 cases it is the woman who seeks the divorce. That's what you might expect of the bargain-hunting set, we suppose, but we don't really blame them.—Capper's Weekly.

Mother Love
 Mother love in animals is a natural instinct that makes it possible for a cat to carry her kittens by the back of the neck and make them like it.—Toldo Blade.

BACK TO BONNETS IS LATEST; TAFFETA FOR EVENING WEAR

BACK to bonnets, so says the mode. That is, if you do not prefer one of the smart head-fitting toques which are also immensely popular this season. Fashion is smiling approval on both. The bonnet vogue started some time ago and it is growing more important every minute. The outstanding thing about the new bonnets is that they adopt a drooping side silhouette. That tional programs presented through style shows such as it has become the custom to stage not only in the larger cities but in lesser ones as well. At the same time these exhibitions are serving women as to fashion's trend, they are also cultivating a deeper appreciation of dress as an art in the best sense of the word. The lovely gown in the picture is typical of the exquisite apparel which makes them very different from the bonnets which have gone before.

This drooping wide side effect sometimes follows the simple natural lines. Then again it is achieved through most cunning plaits and fluted contours. Paris modistes are playing up these side brims which hug the face in every possible ingenious way.

It is really astonishing, the clever things designers are doing with bonnet brims. Sometimes they cut them away in a diagonal line across the eyes, developing Dutch bonnet flanges at the sides. Sometimes, too, the milliner plaits the brim across the neck at the back.

Even the soft vagabonds which are so popular an item for early fall emphasize the face-framing idea. The first hat in this picture, which is a new type vagabond, is trimmed with grosgrain ribbon in two tones.

Leather or stitched fabric belts, which are brass-eyleted, are often buckled about the crowns of these soft ripple-brim sports hats as per the model pictured last in this group.

Two colors of felt are worked together for the cloche at the top to the right. The autumn mode throughout entire costume styling features combinations of colors either in blends or contrasts.

A pleasing development in the bonnet vogue is that of the contrasted facing. This gives a splendid oppor-ty for color effects which add to becomingness. The hat in the oval to the right is dark brown with a russet facing, these favorite fall colorings repeated in the trimming.

The center all-over stitched hat is typical of the new trend in bonnet shapes.

What splendid opportunities we of this generation are privileged to enjoy, through the many educa-der cape and fichu effects, also floating draperies which are featured throughout the new stylings.

Another interesting item is the corsage bouquet of feather flowers. Corsage flowers are trending to the strikingly unique. They are being made of tinsel ribbons, of beads, or jewels and many trailing effects are observed.

Flashlights on Mode of Interest to Women
 Selvege-bordered fabrics are new. At the big games this fall will be seen the two-piece frock. New frocks are known by scarf necks, their tiers, and the up-in-front, down-in-back neckline.

The simple straightline coat is indispensable for trips to town, for shopping, and for week-ends.

If it's new it's uneven, is the present maxim of evening dress, and of der cape and fichu effects, also floating draperies which are featured throughout the new stylings.

Another interesting item is the corsage bouquet of feather flowers. Corsage flowers are trending to the strikingly unique. They are being made of tinsel ribbons, of beads, or jewels and many trailing effects are observed.

British Rubber Roads

A plan for widespread promotion of rubber roads in Great Britain has been reported to the United States Commerce department by its London office. For durability, cleanliness and freedom from road vibration, roads made from rubber blocks are said to be unequaled. A British rubber paving block company has been formed, with the idea of selling such roads for special "quiet areas" such as around hospitals, historic buildings, and bridges.

Charity covers a multitude of sins that should be allowed to remain uncovered.

Has Splendid Record in Planting Trees

During the last fifteen years Thomas C. Luther, champion planter of the American Tree association, has planted 8,000,000 trees in Saratoga county, New York. What was formerly a scarred and deforested area, victimized by ruthless lumber cutters, is now well on its way toward being the greatest private forest in the country.

"For every tree planted in the United States," says Mr. Luther, "four are cut down. And for every four trees cut down in Europe, twelve are planted. We are faced by different problems, of course, but nevertheless the figures are instructive. . . . It is my ambition to spread the doctrine of practical forestry in the United States, and by practical forestry I simply mean selective cutting and conscientious replanting."

With a Thomas Luther in every state, the noble theory of conservation would come dangerously near getting a practical trial.

Study to Improve Bowling

Science has been making an analysis of bowling to determine the rate of speed of the balls, how much they curve and other interesting factors about them, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Dr. L. W. Taylor of Oberlin college has devised an apparatus whereby the passage of a ball is registered to the hundredth of a second at twenty-inch intervals down the alley. A catapult is used to propel the ball. From facts so far learned, some of the accepted theories with regard to a ball's motion have been found incorrect, but friction seems to vary with the speed.

Learn From Mistakes

Learn from your mistakes, but do not cry over them. He who never makes a mistake never makes anything. The trouble with the man who never makes a mistake is that he does not know a mistake when he makes one. Wise men make mistakes; fools continue to make them.—Milwaukee Journal.

Hero's Brief Day

Fame is fleeting. The laurel wreath rests but a short time on the brow of one hero before it is transferred to another. The world wants little of us, but much of our works. Wise the man who leaves much for posterity and takes little for himself.—Grit.

No Germs in Hail

Hailstones do not contain germs, because they are formed by freezing in the higher levels of the air. Water is evaporated before it becomes hailstones and is practically the same as distilled water.

Would You Care To Dine In The Cow Barn?

No matter how nice you may keep your dairy barn, the fact remains nevertheless, that you would not care to set the dining table in there and eat a meal. This fact being admitted, how about keeping milk pails, strainers, milking machine parts, etc., out of the barn, and in the milk house instead. Milking utensils should be treated the same as tableware, and kept only in the milk house which should always be in such condition that none would object to dining there.

"Kialto's" Real Meaning

The word "Kialto" is a corruption of the two words "Ribo Alto," which literally mean "deep river." The corrupted form was applied as the name of an island in the Adriatic sea, which became the business center of the group of islands occupied by the city of Venice. By the process of the association of ideas the term "Kialto" is used as the synonym for the business center of the city.

I Trouble

Most of us have eye trouble. I want this, I want that, I want the other thing; I don't appreciate this, I don't appreciate that, I don't appreciate anything. Yes I'm in main trouble.—Atchison Globe.

Ancient Easter Custom

The custom of dyeing eggs at Easter can be traced back to very early times. Red was frequently employed, symbolizing the blood of Christ. Primitive persons used the juices of plants to dye the eggs.

Verdict Leaves Sting

"Not proven" is a verdict allowed in criminal cases in Scotland when the evidence is insufficient for a conviction, but strong enough to give probability to the charge. The prisoner cannot be tried again for the offense, but a moral stigma, however, remains on him for life.

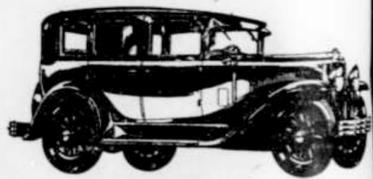

Where Science Tails

Medical science, lengthening the span of life, is constantly enlarging the number of old people. But progress and modern inventions are taking away the little tasks that used to keep them occupied.—Woman's Home Companion.

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... thrilling turning point in body design.

It will be limited, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much smaller cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

But it is not in the multiplication and beauty of exterior design that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. In fact, it holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with its Bodius by Fisher. And the volume as to how the great Buick factors to work day and night to supply the demand, is a tribute to the prominence of a wagon.
