GONE TO THE GREAT BEYOND

MRS. KATHRYN BATH

Mrs. Kathryn Bath (nee Schnetzler) who died at her home in this village on Friday morning, April 29th, at six o'clock, was born July 14, 1847, at Milwaukee, and had reached the age of 84 years, 9 months and 29 days. She grew to womanhood on a farm at Neno, town of Addison, Washington County, and on November 24, 1870, was united in marriage to Charles Bath, soon thereafter moving to Theresa, where they remained until 1877, when they then went to farming in the town of Kewaskum, 2 1/2 miles southeast of the village. In the year 1914 they retired from farm life and took up a residence in the village of Kewaskum. Their union was blessed with nine children; those living are: Jacob of Wabeno, Henry of Minneapolis, Minn., John of Port Washington, Catherina (Mrs. William Stein) of Milwaukee, Clara (Mrs. Jos. Herman), Mike and Louis of the village of Kewaskum, and Math, on the homestead in the town of Kewaskum. She also leaves 27 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. Her husband preceded her in death on August 13, 1927. One daughter, Elizabeth, died September 18, 1883.

Mrs. Bath possessed the qualities that made her an ideal wife and mother. Her life was filled with good works. Although her chief interest was in her home and family, yet she found time to assist others in time of need. She was a member of the Married Ladies' Sodality of the Holy Trinity church, which society attended the funeral in a body.

The funeral was held on Monday, May 2nd, from the house at 9:30 a. m. with services in the Holy Trinity Catholic church conducted by the Rev. Fr. Ph. J. Vogt. Burial was made in the congregation's cemetery.

FARMERS FAVOR PURCHASE OF FIRE TRUCK

According to reports from committees at a meeting in the Village Hall on Tuesday evening, May 3rd, a large number of farmers have been approached on the matter of rural fire protection and all are very much interested in the purchase of a modern fire truck.

As briefly outlined in a previous issue of the Statesman, the proposed plan is to purchase a modern fire truck, if enough money can be raised through subscriptions from the farmers within a radius of five or six miles from Kewaskum. The membership fee is to be $15, payable on or before September 1st, 1932. The membership, which would be for the life of the truck, would entitle the member to call the Kewaskum Fire Department, in case of fire, without further charge. Non-subscribers would be charged $50 for each call. The apparatus would be housed, manned and maintained by the Kewaskum Fire Department, in return for which the Village of Kewaskum would be permitted to use the truck in emergencies.

TWO AUTOS IN COLLISION

Last Friday afternoon, A. J. Krause of Wittenberg, Wis., enroute to his home from Milwaukee, driving a Nash sedan collided with S. Raphael of Milwaukee, driving a Dodge coupe, on Highway 55, in front of Rural Carrier Herbert Backhaus' house at the north end of the village limits. Mr. Krause was accompanied by his son, Vaughn, six years, while Mr. Raphael was alone.

That neither of the occupants were killed or seriously injured is a miracle. Vaughn, son of Mr. Krause, was forcibly thrown against the windshield, which broke, glass from which cut the lad about the face.

The collision happened as Mr. Krause turned left to pass a few automobiles and Mr. Raphael was driving south. The impact damaged both cars considerably. Mr. Krause's car was towed to Schaefer Brothers' garage, while the Rex garage had charge of the Raphael car. The latter's automobile, after several minor adjustments were

KEWASKUM WINS PRACTICE GAME

In the practice game between the local team, members of the Badger State League, and Waucousta, of the Fond-Do League, the locals were victorious by a score of 7 to 1.

In the lineup for the locals were fifteen players, and all gave a good account of themselves, considering that all practically had no previous practice. Three pitchers were used, each pitching three innings. They allowed their opponents only one hit, which was made in the first inning, and coupled with an error gave the visitors their lone run of the game. After this they were at the mercy of the twirlers, sixteen strikeouts being registered against them. The summary of the game is: Hits, Waucousta 1, Kewaskum 9; Two-base hits, Kewaskum, Kral and Schaefer; Struck out Kewaskum 4, Waucousta 16; Base on balls, Kewaskum 2, Waucousta 2. Errors, Kewaskum 3, Waucousta 9. Jack Kullman of West Bend was umpire behind catcher, and John Muckerheide on bases. A good size crowd was in attendance.

Kewaskum made two errors and Slinger five.

Lomira high school boys, in a practice game with the local high school team last Tuesday, were defeated by a score of 11 to 6. The visitors were the first to score, errors were numerous on both teams. Stenske and Klahn were the battery for the home team. Although somewhat wild Stenske pitched a good game and kept the hits well scattered. Kewaskum bunched their hits in a few innings, which enabled them to score eleven runs. Twelve Lomira boys were eliminated via the strikeout route, while five of the locals were given the same medicine. Lomira touched Stenske for seven hits, and the locals battered their opponent pitcher for ten hits.

HIGHWAY 67 TO BE PAVED IN 1933

The paving of Highway 67 which crosses the southeastern part of Fond du Lac county will be done in Sheboygan county this year, and in Fond du Lac county next year. At present the job is being held up on account of plans to re-locate the highway as it enters Plymouth.

The new pavement in Sheboygan county will extend west from Plymouth to the Fond du Lac county line, and in Fond du Lac county in a southeasterly direction to Highway 55 through Campbellsport to Lomira. In all probability when work of paving is approaching the Dodge county line, the officials of Dodge county will authorize the paving on said highway to Highway 41 in Lomira.

Lights of New York

By WALTER TRUMBULL

Young Oliver La Farge, who wrote "Laughing Boy," is now in Guatemala, the country which has the parrot on its stamps. Mr. La Farge, on an expedition backed by Columbia university, is living in a wild little Indian village, studying the ancient ceremonial. He believes he is far enough away from civilization so that the Indian customs are still in their native state, uncolored by contact with the white man. His only outside companion is a western Indian, who has been with him in other places. He acts as a sort of liaison officer with these other redmen.

Since the pipe and tomahawk chiefs have disappeared from the front of tobacco stores, about the only Indians we have in New York are members of the Tammany wigwam. The original Tammany was an ancient and noted Delaware chief, and his name meant "The Affable." The first Tammany society was organized in Philadelphia in 1796. In 1786 Tammany was organized in New York as a national organization, with thirteen branches, by William Mooney, a veteran of the Revolution. Originally, it was a patriotic and charitable society, and the emblem of the New York branch was the eagle. All except the New York branch passed out of existence, and the Delaware branch, in passing, apparently bequeathed New York its emblem, which was the tiger. The New York branch seems to have decided that charity begins at home, and turned its hand to politics. The original Tammany was so good a man that he was supposed to associate with spirits. According to Judge Seabury, some of his namesakes still do.

It was about two o'clock in the morning when the prominent clubman, with his suit, hat perched at a rakish angle, made his entrance. The only other inhabitant of the club at that hour fortunately happened to be one of his good friends. The newcomer announced he had just seen the most beautiful woman in the world. The friend demanded her whereabouts. "Well," said the first, "didn't exactly see her. Saw her photograph. Most beautiful woman in the world." "Don't believe it," said his friend. "Where's photograph?" "Come on, show you," said the discoverer.

So they left the club, hailed a taxi, and drove to upper Fifth avenue, where there was a darkened photographer's window. There they left the car and insisted that the taxi driver also dismount. Wanted to show him the most beautiful woman in the world. They couldn't see anything through the glass, so the first man lit a match. The second man lit a match. The taxi driver lit a match. All three flattened their noses against the window.

Down the avenue a bit, the watchman from a detective agency saw the flickering lights. He approached rapidly, but cautiously.

"What do you guys think you're doing?" he inquired. "Looking at most beautiful woman in the world," said the first and second prominent clubmen in chorus. "Gotta flashlight?" "The watchman had a flashlight. He threw it on the window. The first and second prominent clubmen, the taxi driver and the watchman looked at the picture of the most beautiful woman in the world.

A block away, a second watchman saw the beam from the flashlight and the group of figures. He came to investigate. He had a flashlight. In a moment, the first and second prominent clubmen, the taxi driver and the first and second watchmen were looking at the picture of the most beautiful woman in the world. Several blocks away, a policeman saw a flashlight. He watched it for a moment and saw two flashlights. He saw a parked taxi. Loosening his gun, he made for the scene. Well, he saw the picture of the most beautiful woman in the world.

And so it went. Demonstrating that there is no hour at which you cannot draw a crowd in New York.

HOW IT STARTED

By JEAN NEWTON

"DOWN AT THE HEEL"

THIS phrase is too well known to require any extended explanation. It is heard, seen and used by all of us, and always as a reflection on one's personal appearance and as an implication of either carelessness or poverty.

It will interest many of us to know that as in the case of so many of the expressions current nowadays on our lips and in our literature, the author of this line is none other than William Shakespeare.

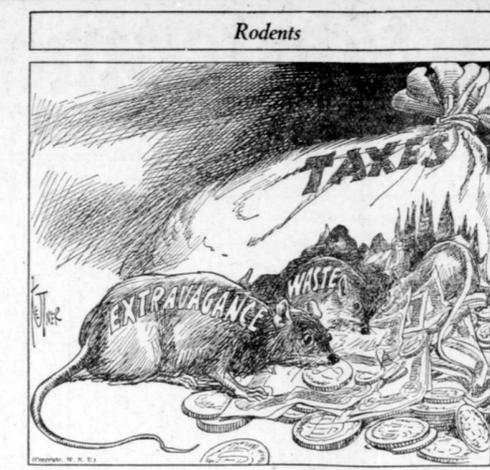

Its earliest recorded use is in his "King Lear, Act 2, Scene 2, published in 1605.

17 Convicts Escape on Obliging Freight Train

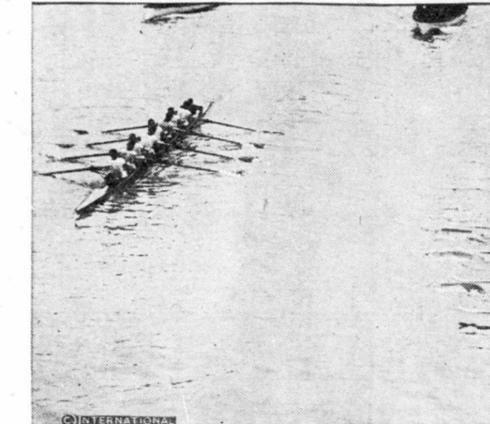

Denver.—Opportunity in the form of a freight train knocked once for a gang of prisoners in the county jail here. It only had to knock once. The gang had been put to work along the railroad tracks, under guard. The freight came along and stopped. One convict dashed toward the train. Guards caught him.

The train started away. The guards returned and lined up their prisoners for a count. Seventeen had boarded the freight and were gone.

The Kitchen Cabinet

BEVERAGES, HOT AND COLD

After-dinner coffee (cafe noir) is prepared by using twice the measure of coffee, or half the amount of water. Serve in after-dinner cups, (demi tasse) with or without sugar.

Cafe au Lait.—Prepare the coffee and scald the milk, using just as much boiling water as milk. Combine the two after the coffee is ready and serve in hot cups. This is a favorite breakfast coffee for the French nation. It is a most delightful way of serving coffee when cream is scarce.

Cocoa.—Mix four tablespoonsful each of sugar and cocoa and one-eighth teaspoonful of salt. Add three-fourths of a cupful of hot water, slowly stirring occasionally. Boil five minutes. Scald one quart of milk in a double boiler, add the cocoa mixture and beat two minutes with a wire egg beater. Add a pinch of cinnamon or a few drops of vanilla to flavor. Serve in tall cups with whipped cream or a marshmallow on top. Omit the vanilla if marshmallows are used.

Mint Punch.—Wash fresh mint, dry by shaking in a cloth. Pick off the leaves—there should be a quart. Put them into a pitcher and mash with a wooden pestle until soft. Add freshly boiled water to cover the leaves. Infuse ten minutes well covered, then strain, and when cool set into the refrigerator. When serving add two cupfuls of grape juice and enough lemon juice to bring out the flavor. Sweeten with granulated sugar and stir until dissolved. Just before serving add a quart of ginger ale. Turn into glasses with chipped ice and serve.

Delicia Punch.—Prepare a sirup by boiling one cupful of sugar with one-half cupful of water until it spins a thread; pour over the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, beat until fluffy, add one quart of English breakfast tea infusion that has been well chilled; add this mixture to one quart of ice cream flavored with lemon, mix carefully, turn into a freezer. Serve from a chilled punch bowl in tall thin glasses.

Importance of Mouth Hygiene

New York.—Need for mouth hygiene and the benefits to both the individual and the public derived from good teeth were graphically illustrated in a survey completed by the American Dental Association.

"Prevalence of decayed teeth and the accompanying handicaps to children is today appalling," Dr. Walker stated in summing up the facts. "Estimates of the percentage of children needing dental attention range from 75 to 98 per cent. But these facts are completely overshadowed by proofs found of benefits accruing to children and taxpayers from thorough dental hygiene."

The survey included statistics from Boston, New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Ga.; Cambridge, Mass.; Athens, Ga.; Toronto, Canada; Bridgeport, Conn.; Cleveland, Ohio; Eau Claire, Wis.;

No Snap for Members of U. S. Marine Band

Anyone who thinks a member of the United States Marine Band has a soft snap of it should take a trip to the Marine barracks and get a glimpse of the musicians at work. There's no chance for temperament in the daily routine of the Marine Band which is heard in the National 4-H club program of the National Farm and Home Hour on the first Saturday of each month.

Rehearsals are serious occasions when every man is tuned up to concert pitch, for every member of the band understands the high expectations of the American public when the United States Marine Band appears in radio broadcasts.

Captain Taylor Branson, renowned leader of the band, wields the baton for the organization, and his able direction and intimate understanding of arrangements play a big part in the splendid performances.

Besides the vigorous rehearsals, there are numerous engagements to be filled by the Marine Band which is in constant demand for, diplomatic functions, civic and patriotic parades, White House concerts and the various governmental and social affairs that play a part in the daily life of the Nation's Capital.

Oils From Orange Trees

Four rather distinct types of essential oils are secured from the orange tree and its fruit. Orange oil is derived by pressing the rind of either the sweet or bitter orange; bergamot oil, extracted from the rind of a special variety of orange cultivated almost exclusively in Italy and Corsica for its essential oil content; petit-grain oil, produced by distillation of the leaves and twigs of the bitter orange; and orange flower, or neroli oil, distilled or extracted from the fresh flowers of the bitter orange

Language of Broadcasts

The talking motion pictures and the radio are undeniably having an effect on language as it is spoken. The microphone has definite limits, which are even further limited by the films and their technique. Long words, and particularly sibilant words with nuance of inflection, do not reproduce properly. So for the making of "talkies" there has to be a vocabulary censorship. This censorship has weeded out a long list of words. It is noteworthy that most of those words which have been retained have been those belonging roughly speaking, to the Anglo-Saxon family. And many of those which have been banished are of distinctly Latin ancestry.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wisconsin News Briefly Told

New Glarus—Falling from a pole into a transformer, Andrew Wild, 40, was electrocuted at the municipal power plant. Shawano—Fishing will be prohibited in the Menominee Indian reservation during May this year because of fire hazards usual during that month. Milwaukee—Charles B. Perry, speaker of the Wisconsin assembly, has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor. Portage—Not satisfied with small change they found in his farm home, two robbers made him go to a bank in Cambria and cash a $200 certificate of deposit, George Jones told the sheriff here. Madison—The state emergency board has voted a $15,000 appropriation to the state department of agriculture and markets to bind rental of space for Wisconsin exhibitors at the 1933 Chicago World's fair. Whitewater—"The Drummer Boy of Shiloh," Capt. J. J. Downey, 84, who enlisted in the Union Army at the age of 14, is dead. The roll of his drum was familiar at Grand Army encampments for years. He had lived here since 1878. Waupun—Nearly one-third the population of the Wisconsin state prison here will be engaged in outside work when farm work is at its peak development this spring. Already 391 inmates are to work outside the walls, and this number will be increased to 500 soon. Fond du Lac—Adelaide Shipman, 19, awaiting trial in circuit court on a charge of arson as the result of fires at the home of her mother and at the First Baptist church, has been committed to the Wisconsin state general hospital in Madison for medical observation. Stevens Point—St. Stephen's Catholic congregation will build a new 10 room parochial school at a cost of $100,000 this year. This will be the second new parochial school for Stevens Point in less than a year. St. Peter's congregation recently opened a $150,000 building. Sheboygan—Organization of the Plymouth Cheese Corporation and purchase of the S. H. Conover Cheese company has been announced here by F. A. Cornelia, president of the new concern. Cornelia formerly served as general manager of the National Cheese Producers Federation. Kohler—The Waelderhaus, Miss Marie Kohler's gift to the Girl Scouts and the showplace of this model village, was badly damaged by a fire which started in the attic from an undetermined cause. The damage is estimated at $40,000. The cost of the whole structure was given as $100,000 when it was dedicated last July. Madison—According to a preliminary survey by the income tax division of the tax commission, both the normal income tax and the surtax, decided by the special session for unemployment relief will produce not to exceed $18,000,000 this year. The normal tax alone last year produced $17,500,000. The drop is a reflection of the shrinking incomes of the depression. Revenue from the normal levy is estimated at $12,000,000 and from the surtax at $6,000,000. Fond du Lac—Defeated in all previous efforts to restore Horicon marsh to pre-drainage levels, the state conservation commission, at a meeting here, decided to attempt to gain flowage rights on a lease basis. A previous order directing Paul D. Kelleter, conservation director to purchase approximately 1,000 acres at the southern end of the area was amended to apply to lake or purchase of the 1,000-acre limitation was stricken out to make the order apply to the entire marsh area. Money paid on the leases must apply on the purchase price if the land subsequently is purchased, it was stipulated. Milwaukee—Leading dairy companies here reduced the delivered price of standard grade milk from 9 to 8 cents per quart on May 1, which gives Milwaukee the lowest milk price of any metropolitan city in the United States. The wholesale price to be paid to farmers for bottled milk was cut from $2.10 to $1.70 per hundredweight. The farmers will actually receive but $1.21 to $1.22 as their net delivered price, because only about 55 per cent of the supply goes into bottles, while the remainder is manufactured into butter and cheese. The latter 45 per cent is called surplus and is paid for on the basis of the prevailing price for butter. Green Bay—A rooster's spur caused the death of Mrs. Agnes La Frombois, 73, Little Rapids, at a hospital here. Two weeks previously she was about to kill a rooster for a Sunday dinner when it clawed her with its spurs. Blood poisoning resulted from the scratch. Monroe—A mysterious fire that caused $10,000 damage in the agricultural hall at the Green county fair grounds aroused suspicion of incendiarism, which is being investigated by the state fire marshal. Stevens Point—The Portage county board has rejected a proposed bond issue of $250,000 to provide for build-eleven miles of concrete road. The state agreed to pay the principal on the bonds if the county would pay the interest. Milwaukee—Two years in the house of correction and a fine of $3,000 were penalties imposed in federal court here on Henry Goeden for the manufacture and sale of liquor. It was his fourth appearance in court on prohibition law charges. Ashland—Hobo jungles will not be tolerated in Ashland this year because they attract transients and deprive Ashland men of odd jobs. Ellsworth—Mike Sands, a farmer, must pay a fine of $200 or go to jail for six months as the result of his conviction for illegal spearing of trout. Colfax—Recent price wars between Colfax business men have sent the retail price of milk down to four cents a quart and the cost of shaves 10 cents each. Kaukauna—The Rt. Rev. Msgr. P. J. Lochman, 75, vicar general of the Green Bay diocese since 1904, died here after being in failing health for a year. Horicon—Consolidation of the Horicon State bank and the First National bank has been effected here, the former taking over all obligations and business of the national bank. Waukesha—Herman Koenig, 70, a farmer, received a prison sentence of four to five years for burning the barn of a neighbor. Conviction resulted from a confession that Koenig made to a cellmate in the county jail. Delavan—Howard Black and Eugene Olson, Chicago young men, who graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1931, were killed near here when their auto failed to negotiate a curve on highway 50 and crashed into a tree. Madison—Representatives of twelve states will attend the mid-west conference on bovine tuberculosis here May 25 and 26. Working models of infected animals will be a feature display at the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture. Green Bay—Mrs. Amelia Kropp, 50, reputedly wealthy widow, was found strangled to death in her home here after she had been missing for two days. The body was beneath a rug and two pieces of rope were wound around the throat. The house had been ransacked. Milwaukee—Joseph Coutley, 19-year-old father, whose baby girl died as the result of a hard spanking administered to stop her crying, pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter in municipal court. He was sentenced to a term of five to ten years in the Green Bay reformatory. Kenosha—Members of the Kenosha police force must use the utmost courtesy in making arrests, especially of speeders, according to an order issued by Chief John T. Sullivan. Another order threatens dismissal of any officer found loitering in a soft drink parlor while on duty. Waupaca—The second trial of Edward Riske, charged with the fatal poisoning of Louis Hoffman at a barn dance near New London last June, will be held at Waupaca in September. Judge Byron Park granted Riske a change of venue to Waushara county upon the plea that he could not obtain a fair trial in Waupaca county. Sparta—Death ended an aerial honeymoon when Mrs. William Schaefer, 22, a Brookfield, Ill., bride, was killed in an airplane crash twelve miles east of here. Her husband, William Schaefer, 27, was fatally injured and died in a hospital here. The plane crashed in a stump-covered field when the pilot tried to make a forced landing in a fog. Wisconsin Rapids—One of the largest deals in tax delinquent lands ever effected in Wisconsin was made recently when the Consolidated Paper & Paper Co. of this city purchased 1,840 acres in Caswell township, Port Edwards, Biron and Nekosha, which has large mills at Wisconsin Rapids, Port Edwards, Biron and Nekosha, purchased the cutover tract for the purpose of growing spruce, balsam and hemlock for pulp. Madison—Another tree was added to the Forest of Fame in the public square at Mt. Vernon, Dodge county, when dairymen and friends of the late Dr. Stephen M. Babcock, inventor of the Babcock butter fat test, met to plant an elm as a memorial to him. This tree was taken from the yard of the old Babcock home at Madison. The memorial grove contains many trees from the birthplaces or homes of the nation's most noted men. It was started in 1916. Madison—The state highway commission announces that the controversy over the price of cement for the 1932 highway program has been adjusted satisfactorily in such a manner that the Manitowish Port Cement company, the only cement firm having a plant in Wisconsin, will furnish 600,000 barrels at a reduction of about 13 cents a barrel. The controversy was brought about by a price war which resulted in lower bids offered to Illinois than were made in Wisconsin last November. Fort Atkinson—The room which last year was the pride of the 4H clubs throughout Wisconsin was destroyed when fire swept the farm home of Herbert Main. The room, which won the 4H award as being the best furnished in the state, had been decorated by Helen Main, junior in the Fort Atkinson high school. Bayfield—Taxpayers of the village of Iron River at their annual town meeting decided to do without electric street lights as a means of saving several thousand dollars per year. Neenah—Salaries of employees of the Neenah public school system will be reduced seven and one-half per cent next September. The pay cut will apply to teachers, janitors and administrative employees of both the public and vocational schools. Waukesha—The principal business structure in the village of Big Bend, known as the McKenna building, was destroyed by fire with loss of about $30,000. Four members of the Hallie Thompson family, living above their grocery store, had narrow escapes.

LA GUARDIA CHARGES RIGGING IN STOCKS He Says Financial Writers Were "Bribed." Washington—"Bribery" of New York newspaper writers and large payments for high-pressure publicity campaigns to "rig and rally" stocks were charged by Representative Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York before the senate committee investigating stock exchange speculation. Preeceded by two men staggering under a steel trunk containing its evidence, and guarded by police, the representative hustled into the committee room, where he charged the New York Stock exchange and some of its members with responsibility for the activities he cited. Asserting that the engaging of "dozens of high-pressure publicity men" to boost stock prices had been a common practice for ten years, Mr. La Guardia said he had just "connected" one of the men, "A. Newton Plummer, now under indictment, who spent upward of $286,000 furnished him for boosting stocks." Incidentally paying off in cash or check a half dozen reporters and financial writers for their stories. Mr. La Guardia left the trunkful of records for the committee's scrutiny after spreading samples of checks and correspondence through the day's records. "Any writer who took this money was deceiving not only his public, but also, I'm pretty sure, his editors," he said. "I believe," said the representative, "that the same sort of story could be told about almost every pool stock. I believe the same thing took place with the Kreuger stocks; 138,000 American Investors bought Kreuger bonds and more than 300,000 bought Kreuger stocks."

John J. Davis HOUSE TOLD HOW TO SAVE 200 MILLIONS Special Committee Proposes Many Economies. Washington—On the eve of the great battle between the federal bureaucracy and the taxpayers over the $200,000,000 economy program in the house, the special economy committee submitted a report containing an arresting survey of governmental extravagance. "Whereas during the war period and the decade subsequent," says the report, "this country experienced an era of increasing prosperity and swelling national wealth, we are now confronted with industrial stagnation, unemployment and a period of low commodity prices, and no less than a disappearing national income. "Moreover, during the year, 1931, the total cost of federal, state, county and municipal governments is reflected in all manufactured articles to the extent of approximately 47 per cent of the cost of producing them. This general situation existing in the country impressed upon the committee the imperative necessity of recommending strict economies with respect to which the committee, within the limited time at its disposal, could take intelligent action. In discussing the curtailment of benefits to World War veterans proposed in the omnibus economy bill the committee says that the cost of soldier relief "hangs over the future of the country like a black cloud, for under existing laws and assuming there will be no additional benefits granted, the cost of veterans relief ten years hence will substantially exceed $1,300,000,000 annually." The economy committee's report gave the following estimates of the savings expected from the omnibus economy bill: Reduction of pay of government employees..... $7,000,000 Consolidation of War and Navy departments, not less than..... 50,000,000 Limitation of veterans' benefits..... 48,714,000 Suspension of Saturday half holiday..... 9,000,000 Elimination of overtime pay..... 5,600,000 Abolition or reduction of Philippine scouts..... 5,000,000 Restriction of transfer of army and navy personnel..... 3,367,000 Enforced retirement of supernumerary civilian personnel..... 3,000,000 Reduction of railway mail clerks' subsistence allowance from $3 to $2 a day..... 3,000,000 Reorganization of shipping board..... 2,500,000 Suspension of extra pay increases..... 2,100,000 Abolition of army, navy and Panama transport services..... 1,500,000 Reduction of congressional mileage allowance..... 56,500 Total..... $200,838,500 This aggregate estimated saving would be increased if the economy resulting from consolidation of the War and Navy departments should exceed $50,000,000. The committee estimated this saving at from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. Major Cohen Appointed Senator From Georgia Atlanta, Ga.—Gov. Richard B. Russell, Jr., has appointed Maj. John S. Cohen, editor of the Atlanta Journal, to serve as United States senator from Georgia until next November. Major Cohen will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator William J. Harris. The Harris term does not expire until 1937 and Governor Russell will be a candidate for the place in the general election in the fall. Major Cohen, who has been Democratic national committeeman from Georgia since 1924, is a member of a distinguished southern family. Illinois Woman Killed When Plane Crashes Norwalk, Wis.—Mrs. William Scheffeld of Brookfield, Ill., was killed when an airplane in which she was a passenger crashed on a stump-covered field west of here. Her husband, also a passenger, was only slightly injured, but the pilot, William Adams, suffered fractures of the skull and both legs. The pilot, bound for Lacrosse, apparently became confused by fog, farmers said. The plane circled low as Adams evidently looked for a landing place. Suddenly it dived, crashing nose first into a stump. New Great Grandson for J. D. Rockefeller New York—John D. Rockefeller has become a great granddaddy for the fifth time. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller learned that a son was born to them at Doctors' hospital. The mother, the former Mary Todhunter Clark, was married to the son of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in June, 1930. Rich Man's Son Killed Chicago—Eugene Olson, twenty-two, son of Walter E. Olson, millionaire head of the Olson Rug company, was killed in an automobile accident as he was returning to the University of Wisconsin for a visit. Howard Black, twenty-three, his former classmate, was killed with him. English Editor Drowns Windermere, England.—E. T. Scott, editor of the Manchester Guardian, was drowned in Lake Windermere. Andes Volcanoes Again Erupt Buenos Aires.—Reports from Mendoza and San Luis, in western Argentina, said volcanic ashes had begun to fall there again, indicating new eruptions in the Andes. Watch for Mayor Walker New York—Mayor Walker was presented with a watch as a personal gift from the mayor of Elgin, Ill. Miss Ruth Weddon, twenty-one, winner of a beauty contest in Elgin, made the presentation.

United States Senator John J. Davis was renominated by the Republicans of Pennsylvania, defeating Gen. Smedley D. Butler.

TORNADOES SWEEP OVER THREE STATES

Nine Killed, Many Injured in Middle South. Memphis, Tenn.—A mounting death toll was anticipated as relief workers surveyed results of tornadoes which struck three states, leaving nine known dead and property damage exceeding $1,000,000. Originating in eastern Arkansas, the vicious whirlwinds leaped across the Mississippi river to cleave paths of destruction across Tennessee and Kentucky. More than thirty persons were reported injured and many of them were expected to die. Memphis narrowly escaped the windstorms. The heaviest sufferers were in little communities and on farms near here. Six persons were killed in Shelby county, of which Memphis is the seat. Three deaths were reported at Osceola, Ark. Among the dead was the wife of a Millington farmer and a six-year-old girl who was killed in the collapse of her home at Rosemark. At Osceola two cotton gins were wrecked. At Portersville, Ala., houses were wrecked and crops destroyed. Damage was also reported at Bowling Green, Ky., and in Simpson county, Mississippi.

Ambassador Sackett Is Honored by Germany

Tuebingen, Germany.—The honorary degree of doctor of science was conferred with solemn ceremony upon United States Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett by the ancient University of Tuebingen as an expression of Germany's thanks for the Hoover moratorium on reparations payments. The degree was conferred by the dean of the economic and scientific faculty, who paid warm tribute to the American proposals of last June for alleviating the reich's financial burdens. "In appreciation of the fact," he said, "that Ambassador Sackett recognized in good time the dangers which threatened the world's economy through Germany's economic crisis and energetically tried to ward off these dangers, proving himself Germany's warm-hearted friend, I confer this degree."

Davenport Cuts Salaries Davenport, Iowa.—Salaries of all regular school, park, library and Pane Knoll sanitarium employees will be cut 10 per cent on all incomes over $600 July 1. Hoover Picks Michigan Man Ann Arbor, Mich.—Harold D. Officially Named for Democratic Convention Washington.—The complete slate of officials for the Democratic national convention has been announced by Joutet Shouse, chairman of the arrangements committee. Senator Barkley of Kentucky, backed by the Roosevelt group, has already been named as the keynoter, and Shouse, behind whom the anti-Smith forces united, will be permanent chairman. Along with the minor officials, their selection must be ratified by the convention, considered a mere formality. The other officers are: Secretary of the convention, Robert Jackson, Democratic national committeeman from New Hampshire and secretary of the national committee. Parliamentarian—Representative Clarence Cannon of Missouri. Chief Tally Clerk—Kenneth Romney, sergeant at arms of the house. Chief Reading Clerk—Patrick J. Hagan, reading clerk of the house. Sergeant at Arms—Col. E. A. Halsey, secretary to the minority in the house. Ewing Laporte, ex-assistant secretary of the treasury, was appointed secretary of the arrangements committee. The resolutions committee has been called to meet in Chicago four days prior to the convention on June 27 to start writing the platform. Ford Tells President of His "Combine" Plan Washington.—After a surprise call at the White House, Henry Ford said he had advocated to President Hoover a plan of combining farming and industry under which factory workers could save $500 a year by raising part of their own foodstuffs. The automobile manufacturer said he had been working for three months to smooth out details of such a plan. He added, however, he was not yet ready to announce its details in full. Ford intimated that the idea he had been experimenting with on his Dearborn farm, with Ford factory hands, was to have men working in the plants spend part of their time in small-scale scientific farming. Brides Yield to Lure of Lovely Lace

WITH enchantment of springtime all about her, the bride of today must needs look her prettiest in order to tune in with the picture. In answering this challenge for bridal array of glamorous beauty, fashion turns to lovely lace as the happiest solution. Of course some brides are loath to depart from traditional satin, and so the mode enters into a compromise this season, announcing a fifty-fifty proposition of lace and satin for the smartest wedding gowns, or of all-lace if you really prefer. Fortunately for brides and others who look their wisest in lace, American lacemakers are producing replicas of antique designs and textures which are that authentic in motif and mesh as to defy experts, nor is the cost prohibitive. As to the picture herewith "the bride wore" or is wearing a gorgeous gown of off-white satin handsomely garnished with durable lace in a heirloom pattern—a lace that would be priceless if it were as "down-through-the-family" as it looks. The lace makes a bolero bodice, closely fitted with an under-the-bust waistline which is the very newest silhouette—infinately flattering to good figures. There's a quaint plume of lace, too, and you will please to note the pointed panels of matching lace which are so decorative on the skirt. The long, formal satin train also has a sumptuous lace border. The court veil is arranged from the confines of a charming little pearl and lace Juliet cap that forms an alluring aura about the bride's perfectly coiffed head, setting off to perfection her beautiful face. She carries calla lilies, for they are extremely popular for bridal bouquets. Her slippers are satin sandals. For those whose fancy turns to gossamer effects rather than stately satin an outstanding French creator of modes advocates the alliance of lace with dainty chiffon. When the lace is a filmy cobwebby sort, the effect is indescribably lovely and youthful. True to the high importance of cotton in the mode, fashion is arraying the bride's attendants in beguiling gaudies, especially the embroidered types, or if not organdie then most likely in dotted or plain net of exquisite quality. The very latest mode is to top the bridesmaids' frocks with cunning little jackets in bright shades, for white with touches of high color in the accessories is very smart for the wedding cortege. Another item of interest is the important wider-shoulder feeling which is expressed in gowns for the bridesmaids, either via capelets or epaulet silhouettes which cap fair shoulders. The gown worn by the matron of honor as shown in the picture features these new "lines," the wee caplet of crisp embroidered organdie standing out wide-shouldered in accordance with the latest mood of the mode. The durable meramee which fashions this charming frock is in an entrancing shade of turquoise blue. The embroidery forms a pattern which glistens like delicate frosting on its transparent organdie background. Her bouquet is sweet peas in delicate pink. (© 1932, Western Newspaper Union.)

SNAPPY CLOTHING FOR MOTOR TRAVEL All the ingenuity of the dressmaker's art has been turned loose this season on clothing for motor travel. An all-weather, all-time, all-service traveling costume consists of a long tweed coat, a matching skirt, a harmonizing sweater and a silk blouse as well as a silk dress to match the lining of the coat. With this combination one may be warmly dressed for traveling in cool climates, for boat trips, night motoring, etc., coolly dressed for warm climates, and immaculately and freshly gowned for dinner in a hotel—all without carrying extra luggage. One such combination worked out by a New York dressmaker for Collier's Weekly shows a coat of red, brown, black and beige mixed tweed (the red predominating) with a big roll collar, a soft, clinging sweater in two of these tones, a red silk blouse and a simple, tailored red silk dress. A woman may motor hundreds of miles in such a suit, wearing the skirt and sweater, changing into the dress for dinner, wearing the same chic little red felt hat and tweed coat, and feel delightfully fresh for the evening. Smart Style Calls for Tiny Bib for Grownups One of the smartest fashions recently brought out is the little bib of white, to add that touch of freshness that does such wonders with a dark frock. They are made precisely like a child's bib, buttoning at the back of the neck, and come in fabrics which range from sturdy pique and linen to hand-embroidered batiste, organdie and crepe de chine. Some have colored borders hand-fogged; others are edged with lace. They are simple things to make, and two or three would freshen up a wardrobe a bit the worse for winter wear. Buttons are very much in evidence for trimming this spring. Paris reports much yellow being shown at the spring openings. Jackets are on everything from sports frocks to evening gowns. Detachable coat and suit collars are an outstanding feature of the season. Silk pique is used for a new evening gown with a floating double scarf of chiffon. Rainbow stockings are a new hosiery note. Lace for evening frocks is still in favor. All-over prints are especially exciting this season. Smart women all have feathers in their caps this season. Crocheted edges give that much-desired handmade look to spring accessories.

WHITE BEACHWEAR

This pajama ensemble of diaphanous durenese mesh answers the call of the mode for all-white beach wear. The shops are also showing it in pastel or brighter shades according to the demands of one's bent and complexion. However, white is a great favorite this season and most women find it very flattering and youthful looking. The beauty about the new and exceedingly popular cotton mesh is that not only is it good to see upon but it launders so easily and is perfectly. Particular attention is called to the styling of this model which features the fitted double-breasted blouse, flaring trousers, an Eton jacket together with a generous use of buttons. The most famous designers are using a great many buttons this year.

THERE IS NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

We think we live in a complicated age, but more than three hundred years ago everything was just as topsy-turvy as it is today. Robert Burton, who was born in 1576, published a famous book called "The Anatomy of Melancholy" in 1621. And three hundred and eleven years ago he wrote in that book a number of paragraphs which have a very familiar sound in this year of grace, 1932. Here are some of them:

"News, news, every day. Those ordinary rumors of war, plagues, fires, foundations, thefts, murders, massacres, meteors, comets, spectrums, prodigies, apparitions, shipwrecks. A vast confusion of vows, wishes, actions, edicts, petitions, lawsuits, pleas, laws, proclamations, complaints, grievances. Then come tidings of weddings, entertainments, embassies, trophies, sports, plays, treason, robberies, enormous villainies of all kinds, funerals, death of princes, new discoveries, and expeditions. "Our summum bonum is commodity, and the goddess we adore, Dea Moneta, Queen Money. "So many professional Christians, yet so few imitators of Christ; so much talk of religion, so much science, yet so little conscience. "To see so many lawyers, yet so little justice; so many laws, yet never more disorders. Lawyers get more to hold their peace than we to say our very best.

"New books every day, pamphlets, stories, whole catalogues of volumes of all sorts, new paradoxes, schisms, heresies, controversies in philosophy, religion, etc."

Only the very young or the very inexperienced think that there is any material change in human nature and its manifestations from century to century.

LARGE 4-H CLUB ENROLLMENT

There are 592 boys and girls enrolled in the 4-H club work in Fond du Lac County for this season's work, states S. P. Murat, County Agent. There are 34 clubs organized. There are many clubs who have not sent in their enrollment as yet so it is expected that the total enrollment will be between 600 and 700 members. Enrollment for Fond du Lac County closes on May 1st.

In the girls' work there is a large increase in the baking and canning work, though sewing is still the most popular project. Calf club work leads of the agricultural projects, with large numbers also enrolled in pig, sheep, garden, potato, and corn projects. There are also a number enrolled in forestry and home beautification. In the forestry work, 300 trees are furnished by the State Conservation Commission for planting on land suitable for reforestation purposes. In the home beautification project, 60 shrubs and 20 trees are furnished for $3.50 for planting the home grounds. These shrubs and trees are small lining out stock and are planted in the garden for a year until they are large enough to transplant.

All clubs are required to send in their enrollment before May 1st. All agricultural projects must be started before May 15, while all girls in home economics must have their plans made for their first projects.

Clubs this year are larger than last year. This results in more interest at the club meetings, as well as a better social time.

The broadening of the plan to cover all tractor-operated machines makes it possible for a great many more farmers to take advantage of it. Farmers already provided with tractors and desiring to secure additional tractor-operated equipment for more economical crop production now have the opportunity of buying this needed equipment on the favorable terms of the crop price guaranty.

This definite price guaranty has the effect of removing all uncertainty as to market prices for wheat, corn, and cotton later in the year. The guaranteed prices are 70 cents a bushel, Chicago, for No. 2 Hard wheat; 50 cents a bushel, Chicago, No. 2 Yellow corn; and 84 cents a pound, New Orleans, for Middling cotton.

If market price quotations for these products do not reach the guaranteed price at the time payment becomes due on notes given and maturing this year, farmers purchasing after this date machines included in this special offer will receive equal to the difference.

The crop price guaranty plan has been accepted throughout the country as convincing evidence of the Harvester Company's faith in the fundamental soundness of agricultural prosperity and of its belief that prices for farm products must soon improve.

Turkey growers of one of the west coast states are reported as planning a certified breeder's association under the rules of which breeding turkeys will be graded by a licensed judge of the American Poultry association and minimum prices for birds in each of three classes set by the directors. Prices recommended for class A birds are $25 and $15; for class B, $15 and $8; and for commercial breeders, $10 and $6, the report states.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Washington County Agricultural Society the dates for the fair for this year were changed from August to Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 16, 17, and 18.

WILL SOON KNOW THE WORST

We are cheered by the news from Washington that Congress expects to finish its work by the early part of June and shut down shop until next December. We have no inside information as to what the ultimate tax program will be, or how the proposed reductions in government expenditures will finally come out. But we have lived in this world long enough to know that any certainty, even the worst, is better than an uncertainty. We know and hear of many businesses and industries which are marking time, waiting to find out for sure what Congress is going to do about taxes, before they can make their plans intelligently for going ahead. It may make all the difference in the world whether one kind of a tax or another kind is finally decided upon. But American business men and manufacturers have always had a happy faculty of adjusting themselves to conditions as they are, and when they know exactly what the conditions are we believe that there will be a rapid and general revival in manufacturing and trade.

Before the end of June the Presidential conventions will have been held and we will know exactly what each party promises in its platform, and who it offers as its candidate for the Presidency. That will remove another uncertainty. And we can then enjoy a pleasant summer, hoeing potatoes and fishing and talking politics, with the satisfying knowledge that there isn't any more that we, as individuals, can do about the situation until election day. So we might as well tend strictly to our own business from the Fourth of July to the eighth of November.

FOND DU LAC COUNTY 4-H NEWS

The 4-H club enrollment in Fond du Lac County this year shows a big increase in number over last year. The total enrollment to date is 768 club members in 55 organized clubs. There were 645 club members enrolled last year, while 578 were enrolled in 1930, and 336 in 1929.

Club work is now carried on in practically every section of Fond du Lac County. There has been a number of new clubs organized this year. There has also been a considerable increase in the size of the clubs. In several cases, two or more of the smaller clubs have consolidated into larger clubs. This tends to create more interest in the projects and also gives opportunity for more social activities such as games and programs when the business sessions are finished.

Material and record books will be sent out to the club members as soon as possible. All club members are expected to have their projects started by May 15. Local leaders will check their enrollment before June 1st and drop all those who have not started their projects.

Most of the clubs have held their organization meetings and have selected their leaders and officers of their club.

The clubs are planning many different activities in addition to their regular club projects. Some clubs have already entered groups in a County Song Contest, which will be held some time in July. From four to eight members from a club compete as a group in this contest. Certain songs are sung, copies of which may be obtained from Mr. Murat, County Agent, as well as complete details of the song contest.

A series of Community programs will be sponsored by the 4-H clubs. These programs will be held the latter part of June.

PRICE GUARANTY ON FARM MACHINERY

In response to popular demand the International Harvester Company has broadened its crop price guaranty offer, recently announced, to include besides tractors and combines every McCormick-Dering machine operated through a tractor hitch, power take-off, or tractor belt pulley. The importance of this action will be more fully realized when it is understood that tractors and power machines make up the major portion of the Company's implement business.

The broadening of the plan to cover all tractor-operated machines makes it possible for a great many more farmers to take advantage of it. Farmers already provided with tractors and desiring to secure additional tractor-operated equipment for more economical crop production now have the opportunity of buying this needed equipment on the favorable terms of the crop price guaranty.

In the opinion of authorities, this number could be reduced to 12 grades from which could be selected a formula that would meet the needs of both crops and soils in Wisconsin.
