

Fred Martin, Mrs. Rose Skaliskey Die

FRED MARTIN
Fred Martin, 77, of West Bend, former resident of Kewaskum many years and village board member, passed away at his home, 901 Cedar street in that city at 12:30 a. m. Thursday, Mar. 23, following an illness of more than two months with heart trouble. He had suffered with a heart ailment since January, but was able to be up and around until Tuesday of last week when he became seriously ill. From then on he failed gradually until he passed away. Mr. Martin observed his 77th birthday only a week before his demise.

Mr. Martin was born on Mar. 15, 1862 in the town of Barton, the son of the late Henry and Sophia Martin. There he grew to manhood and on Oct. 12, 1890 was married to Miss Clara Wernicke, who survives him. The couple made their home in the town of Barton seven years when they moved to Milwaukee. They lived in Milwaukee nine years and then came to the village of Kewaskum, making their home here for about seventeen years, during which they became widely known and enjoyed many friends in this vicinity. While a resident of Kewaskum Mr. Martin was employed as janitor of the old Kewaskum Public School on East Main street for a number of years prior to his retirement. He also served as a member of the village board. After leaving Kewaskum Mr. and Mrs. Martin spent two years in Florida, after which they settled in West Bend in 1926, where they have resided since.

Deceased was the father of two sons and a daughter, all of whom predeceased him. The boys passed away in infancy and the girl died at the age of six years. Mr. Martin, besides his widow, is survived by a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Schaefer of this village.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, Mar. 25, from the residence and at 2 p. m. at St. John's Lutheran church, West Bend. The Rev. J. F. Schaefer officiated and burial was made in Union cemetery, that city.

The many relatives and friends of Mr. Martin in the community regret his death and will mourn his loss. He was held in high esteem by all and was a good husband and father as well as a splendid citizen. We extend our sincere condolences to the bereaved survivors.

MRS. ROSE SKALISKEY
Mrs. Rose Skaliskey, 84, beloved mother of E. E. Skaliskey of Kewaskum, Washington county agricultural agent, was called in death last Sunday, Mar. 26, at her home at Marshall, Wis. Death was caused by a heart attack following a minor illness of four months.

Mrs. Skaliskey was born Sept. 8, 1854. She is survived by four children, Mary Emilie, Frank and Albert Skaliskey, all at home, and Earl E. Skaliskey of this village. She was a widow, her husband having preceded her in death in 1901.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning, Mar. 30, at Marshall and burial took place at Waterloo.

Mr. Skaliskey, county agent, and former principal of the Kewaskum High school, has many, many friends in the community and county, who will join us in extending sincere sympathy to him and other members of the family in their hour of great sorrow.

Locate Missing New Prospect Farmhand

Leopold Fassel, 29, New Prospect farmhand who had been missing from his employer's home since last Friday, Mar. 24, was located at a farm near St. Kilian Thursday. Sheriff L. H. Thalmheim of Fond du Lac county, who with deputies had conducted several searches in the New Prospect area, said he was not informed of Fassel's reasons for leaving the Erwin Matthies farm where he had been employed, without notification. Fassel had left his belongings there and had locked his car, evidently hitchhiking to the other farm.

Four officers and a group of farmers living in the vicinity of New Prospect searched the woods and marshes in that area for about five hours Sunday in search of Fassel. On Monday the sheriff and his deputies made a second search of the territory to no avail. The missing man was a former resident of Chicago and the sheriff communicate with individuals living at several addresses in that city to ascertain if he might have appeared there. No trace of the man was found until Thursday when he was located at St. Kilian.

According to Matthies, Fassel left the farm house shortly after breakfast Friday and was planning to cut wood in a nearby grove. Nothing more was heard of him. Matthies stated that Fassel had stayed at the farm the entire winter, helping with chores and other winter work for his board room and a small amount of money and that he had meant to employ him at regular farmhand wages during the summer. Fassel ordinarily would sit in the house and smoke after breakfast before starting his day's work. It was said, but on Friday left the house as soon as he had completed his meal.

The farmer had little information as to Fassel's previous residence, although several Chicago addresses, including one of a relief department, were found in his belongings. A passport found among his effects revealed that he had visited Austria in 1930. He was described as an industrious workman. Matthies said he left all of his clothing and a small amount due him in wages.

Louis Schaefer Hurt in Automobile Crash

Louis Schaefer, 55, brother of Mrs. Wm. F. Schultz of this village, and operator of a general store at Juneau, was in the Deaconess hospital at Beaver Dam Thursday from injuries sustained Wednesday evening when the car in which he was a passenger left Highway 26, south of Juneau, and turned over into a ditch.

Mr. Schaefer is a frequent visitor in Kewaskum and has a large number of friends in the community who hope his injuries are not as serious as reported in the daily papers, which stated he was in a critical condition, suffering from a possible broken neck and other injuries. According to reports, this is not true. Although he was injured, the extent of his injuries has not been made known here. A specialist was called to the hospital Thursday to ascertain the seriousness of his injuries.

Dodge County Traffic Officer Elmo Hall reported that the driver evidently was blinded by the heavy damp snow falling at the time which stuck to the windshield.

NOTE—Further details could not be obtained before going to press although latest reports are that Mrs. Wm. F. Schultz and Roman Smith of this village were also occupying the car and were involved in the crash, the party having been on their way back to Juneau to take Mr. Schaefer home after coming from Milwaukee. It is said Mrs. Schultz was also slightly injured while Mr. Smith escaped injury. Mrs. Schultz could not be contacted Thursday as she had remained in Juneau.

Firemen Plan Big Picnic to Mark 50th Anniversary
The members of the Kewaskum fire department are already hard at work making plans for a big picnic to be held on Sunday, Aug. 20, in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the department. The event will be held in Kewaskum's beautiful new park, which will be completed by that time. The department was organized in 1889.

One of the feature attractions of the picnic will be the appearance of Heine and His Grenadiers of WTMJ radio fame, who will play for the concert in the afternoon and the open air dance in the evening. A large, temporary platform will be erected for the dance. You'll all want to be there to welcome Harold "Droops" Stark, trombonist with Heine's band, back to Kewaskum, his former home. This will be his first appearance here since. When you read this "Droopy" start getting that attractive little "cookie duster" all slicked up and ready to make a hit in the old town.

Mark your calendar NOW for this gala event and drop all other plans. Besides the Sunday picnic plans are going ahead to make it a two day affair and also hold a preview celebration Saturday, Aug. 19. There will be bands and all sorts of amusements. Watch the Statesman for news of the event.

Town of Wayne Farmer Severely Beaten in Attack by Stranger

Carl Degnitz Unconscious in Hospital After Assault

Carl Degnitz, aged about 55, was mysteriously beaten between the hours of 6:45 and 7:45 p. m. Wednesday evening, March 29, in the barn on his farm located in the town of Wayne, about three and one-half miles west of Kewaskum, and was still unconscious at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, at the time of this writing on Thursday.

Degnitz's attacker is unidentified, although he is believed to have been a farm hand who asked him for work, as no attempt of robbery was made on the premises, according to Sheriff Leo Burg of Washington county, who, along with his deputies, are investigating.

According to Mr. Degnitz's sister, Minna, she and her brother were in the barn doing chores at the time. They were milking when a roughly dressed farm hand came into the barn and that her brother said he did not intend to hire anyone. The stranger said he wanted to talk to Mr. Degnitz and Minna left to return to the farmhouse to prepare supper. When her brother did not come in for his meal after an hour she went to the barn about 7:45 p. m. and found him lying unconscious on the floor. The farm hand disappeared.

From a neighbor's home she called Dr. N. E. Hausmann of Kewaskum and Sheriff Burg. Both agreed that Degnitz's attacker apparently used a club, with which he was struck over the head. Dr. Hausmann said that Degnitz suffered scalp wounds and probably a skull fracture. The injured man was removed to the hospital on Thursday. As a result of the snowfall Wednesday afternoon, officials were able to follow the tracks of the assailant in the snow. The "footsteps" were followed as far as Highway 28 where they disappeared. The Degnitz farm is located back off the road.

Minna Degnitz described the attacker as being about five feet, seven inches in height, aged about 25 years, and weighing about 150 pounds. He wore striped overalls and a striped jacket. The trousers were patched at the knee and the left pocket on the jacket was torn.

It has been reported that the license number of the automobile used by the attacker was obtained and it is expected that the facts regarding the case may be brought to light soon.

Hold Annual Rural School Board Meetings in County
Pointing out an innovation this year in the annual rural school board conventions, both as to the number of meetings and content of the programs, M. T. Buckley, West Bend, county superintendent of schools, announces that group meetings of the members of school boards will be held as follows:

For the towns of Wayne, Kewaskum and Farmington the meeting was held in the Kewaskum high school this morning, Friday, March 31.

For the towns of Addison, Barton, West Bend, and Trenton in the Barton state graded school on Friday afternoon, Mar. 31.

For the towns of Germantown, Richfield, and Erin in the Richfield state graded school on Saturday morning, April 1.

For the towns of Jackson, Polk, and Hartford in the Slinger high school on Saturday afternoon, April 1.

All morning meetings will begin promptly at 8:30. Afternoon meetings are scheduled at 1:30 sharp.

Grouping the meetings thus, says Mr. Buckley, is intended to bring them nearer to the members of the boards with a view of increasing attendance due to the fact that Washington county's attendance record at conventions is lower than the average for the state.

Mr. Buckley also points out that a decided change in the content of the programs has also been made. The change means that local rural teachers will contribute the major part of the program by staging demonstrations of a variety of educational activities. The sessions will last a half day at each meeting place.

Mr. Buckley says that the state department of education will be represented at the meetings by George Landgraf and that sufficient time will be provided for discussions of interest. Mr. Buckley submits the programs for the two meetings affecting the teachers of this locality.

The program for the Wayne, Kewaskum, and Farmington meeting was as follows:

Singing—Wayne Jr. 5—Miss Westerman, teacher.
Reading 1—Miss Marcella Schiefel, teacher.
Solo—Miss Westerman, teacher.
Value of County Library—Miss Woog, Farmington teacher, chairman.
The program for the Addison, West Bend, Barton, and Trenton convention follows:

Free Chest Clinic For Residents of County
Washington county is again giving its residents an opportunity of attending the free chest clinic in the county nurse's office in the court house, West Bend, April 6. Dr. K. P. Hoel, supt. of the Oak sanatorium in Pewaukee, will conduct this clinic. Clinic hours will be from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Fortunate, indeed, is the individual who discovers his infection early for early and adequate treatment means almost certain control of the disease. Many unrecognized cases of tuberculosis exist in our county, and since no one is immune, it requires knowledge on the part of each individual to combat the disease. When epidemics of other diseases occur, taking as many lives as tuberculosis does each year, they create a situation which everyone will cooperate to control. Tuberculosis, though just as disastrous, acts slowly, and although it causes more suffering and distress and economic loss, it has become customarily accepted as a necessary evil. It is in our effort to control tuberculosis that we offer you this opportunity of attending the chest clinic.

Will those people planning on attending the chest clinic call for an appointment to avoid waiting? Call West Bend 314-R.

Gertrude Lorber, County Nurse.

Resolution Honoring L. D. Guth Passed By the Assembly

The following resolution was passed by the Wisconsin legislature at Madison relating to the life and public service of the late Louis D. Guth of this village, a copy of which was transmitted to the Statesman office by Assemblyman Jos. A. Schmitz of Washington county:

JOINT RESOLUTION NO. A
Relating to the life and public service of L. D. Guth.

L. D. Guth, former assemblyman, assessor of incomes, and holder of various county, town, and village offices of Washington county, died at the age of eighty-one, at his home in Kewaskum, Wisconsin, on March 15, 1939.

Mr. Guth was born May 25, 1857, in the town of Polk, Washington county, Wisconsin, where he received his education in the common schools. Later he enrolled in Northwestern university at Watertown, where he was a student for two years, and then at the Milwaukee Spencerian Business college, from which he graduated on January 9, 1876.

For a short time, Mr. Guth resided at Minneapolis, Minnesota, but thereafter lived continuously in Kewaskum where he was engaged in the insurance business. In 1894, he served as chairman of the board of supervisors of his town, and later as special treasury agent for the state of Wisconsin. In 1898 he was elected to the state assembly as a Republican representative. Later he held office in the county and village boards of his county and then as an assessor of incomes for his district.

There was goodness in his tolerance and in his devotion to the interests of his fellow people. Mr. Guth will be remembered not because he passed from the scene of activity but because he lived and was a part of its bustle. Like many others, he has lived and made an intelligent contribution to the cause of human progress, he has labored diligently, and undramatically passed on. When the record of progress of his community is written, it will reflect in considerable degree his earnestness, sympathy, and devotion to social and economic betterment. His everyday life exemplified the idealism expressed so beautifully in the lines:

Let me live in my house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by,
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish, so am I,
Then why should I sit in the scorn-er's seat
Or hurt the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Mr. Guth is survived by his daughters, Mrs. E. M. Romaine and Mrs. J. F. Schaefer of Kewaskum, Mrs. Herbert Holz of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Harvey Brandt of Watertown, Wisconsin.

In view of the estimable character and faithful performance of his public duties; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the foregoing resolution be spread upon the assembly journal and that properly attested copies of this resolution be sent to the family of the deceased.

Weekly News Analysis Britain Drops 'Appeasement' But Policy Even Weaker Now By Joseph W. La Bine

EASTWARD THE MARCH OF EMPIRE GOES A week's supply of conquests and objectives.

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst, and not necessarily of the newspaper.

Europe

It is easier to hoot at a boxer from outside the ropes than within. If the average U. S. citizen were an Englishman he would be far less critical of a government which eschews war even if it means loss of prestige.

From the Czech crisis last September until mid-March, Mr. Chamberlain's "appeasement" cries grew progressively weaker as Britain and France strengthened their defense against possible aggression from Dictators Hitler and Mussolini.

(1) Hitler grabbed Czechoslovakia, whose boundaries were guaranteed last autumn by France and Britain. Mr. Chamberlain said it was no concern of his.

(2) Two days later Mr. Chamberlain suddenly whipped about-face, accusing Hitler of dishonesty and unwarranted aggression.

(3) Russia, for 15 years unwelcome in British circles, was asked to join London in a pact to "consult" in case of future German aggression.

(4) Britain reversed its course again and made no protest when Hitler occupied Memel, whose ownership by Lithuania was guaranteed by British-French signature of the Memel statute.

(5) Britain backed down on its pact with Russia, refusing any stronger measure than the useless "consultative" treaty.

The substance of these disjointed events is that Britain's "appeasement" policy has given way to no policy at all. It can well be doubted that London sincerely hoped its Russian overtures would have more than a temporary jolting effect on German territorial ambitions.

Whether the White House could pull a definite monetary program from such an exchange of theories is doubtful. But there are indications that the ideas of Mr. Eccles, famed advocate of spending, hold more promise than Mr. Pittman's.

Neither do White House and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace jibe. Defending an unchanged AAA for 1939, Mr. Wallace told the house agriculture committee that industrial recovery was a prerequisite to farm recovery, and that industrial activity should be increased 40 per cent as speedily as possible.

(2) Neutrality legislation expiring May 1 permits "cash and carry" sale to belligerents of anything but war materials. Nevada's Sen. Key Pittman has asked that munitions be placed on the allowed list.

(3) Washington's Sen. Homer T. Bone has offered, with bi-partisan support, a bill to tax profit out of war. The plan: Greatly increased tax rates would be imposed in case of conflict, lowering exemptions and imposing surtaxes on highest brackets ranging up to 93 per cent for individuals.

(4) Within 15 minutes, both senate and house passed the $358,000,000 emergency defense bill, authorizing 6,000 army planes, stronger Panama canal fortifications, bigger sea-coast and inland defenses, better army equipment and more effective hemispherical protection.

White House How to raise U. S. price levels is one of the administration's biggest problems. Republican laymen, and many Democrats, contend a retrenchment of federal spending would do the trick.

Politics

Smart politicians never count chickens before they hatch. But neither do astute political observers forget that it is a high-wire impossible job to bounce a favorite from the saddle. Although more than a year remains before Republican and Democratic parties hold their nominating conventions, New York's Republican District Attorney Tom Dewey and Texas' Democratic Vice President John Nance Garner have emerged definitely as men of the hour.

Garner. Sometimes disgustingly independent to President Roosevelt, the vice president has led a powerful Democratic revolt this session of congress and today controls approximately as many house and senate votes as the White House. Though 70 years old, he holds the favor of Emil Hurja, astute party analyst who has indicated there is little chance Garner can be bounced from favor in 1940. The chief Garner opponent is Postmaster General James Farley, whose vote-seeking efforts have been confined to east and northeast states while Mr. Garner concentrates on the Southwest.

Unpredictable as his father, Texas' Elliott Roosevelt gave politicians a puzzle by announcing that Mr. Garner is "in the driver's seat, well in the lead as a likely Democratic candidate for the presidency in 1940." That Son Elliott holds White House favor for this remark is seriously doubtful. Franklin Roosevelt prefers not to run again in 1940 but will do so unless the party accepts another man who will and can carry out his New Deal philosophy. John Garner would not be apt to do this.

Dewey. New York's district attorney lost the governorship to popular Herbert Lehman by less than 1 per cent of the popular vote last fall, but the mere fact that he lost—and that a few weeks earlier his case against James Hines had been tossed from court—cost Mr. Dewey much popularity. But since last November old guard Republicans have dropped from the picture. More over, able men like Michigan's Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg have shown disinclination to run. Realizing a candidate must be found soon, G. O. P. voters have unofficially settled on Dewey since he "came back" to congress since he was designed to carry the party.

People Resolved, by Michigan's new Gov. Luren D. Dickinson, that no official business will be transacted on the Sabbath.

COL. VLADIMIR S. HURBAN Though a Slovak, and although Hitler has made Slovaks independent of Czechs, Col. Hurban has so much dislike for Germany and Hungary, and so much pride in the late Czechoslovak nation, that he refused to surrender the Czech legation in Washington to the German ambassador. Born in the Carpathian mountains, he knew Magyar oppression as a child.

Col. Vladimir S. Hurban a soldier, he went to Russia 30 years ago to accept a professorship in the czar's war college. When the World War broke out he and 70,000 other Czechs joined the Russian army. During the revolution these Czechs made their historic movement to Vladivostok, where the group collected funds to send Hurban to Washington. There he joined Dr. Thomas Masaryk in founding the Czech National Council. After the government was established he returned to Washington as Czech military attaché, later going to Egypt as charge d'affaires, to Sweden as minister, and in 1936 back to Washington as minister. His greatest accomplishment here was consummation of the Czech-U. S. trade treaty last year, now abrogated under Hitler's "protectorate" regime.

Tropical Hospital at Naples In the future Naples will be the first Italian port of call for ships bearing patients afflicted with tropical diseases coming from both Libya and Ethiopia. According to the Agenzia Coloniale of Rome, the Tropical and Subtropical Diseases clinic attached to the Royal university of Naples has organized a free ambulatory for all who return even temporarily from the imperial territories and desire to continue the care of diseases contracted there.

Official Washington Is Watching Events in Europe With Uneasy Eye

State Department Voices Disgust of American People at Hitler's Dastardly Actions; Our National Resources Of War Materials Should Be Developed.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON. — Obviously, official Washington, as indeed the whole world, has been watching what has been going on in Europe in the last few weeks. They have been watching with more uneasiness, more genuine fear, how Hitler has been expanding the Reich, seizing, crushing, stealing, new territory, subjugating new peoples, as his insane ambition leads him on and on. Those charged with official responsibility have watched because there can be no mistake about the dangers inherent in this wild remaking of the map of the world.

Our government has had the courage to speak out, through its department of state. It has said the Hitler action in overpowering the peoples of Europe, the minority races, is a dastardly thing. There was nothing else that could be done about it. Secretary Hull and Under Secretary Welles, of the department of state, have left no doubt in the minds of other nations, however, that we, as a people, are angry about what Hitler has done. But again: we can do nothing more than protest, because the United States has no business going to war over some other nation's troubles.

But while our state department has been getting on record with its disgust, and there has been a great to-do about strengthening our national defense just in case trouble would break out and involve us, Washington bureaucrats and some selfish elements in congress have been foiling correction of our greatest weakness. President Roosevelt has used his most patriotic voice to force action by congress in development of airplanes for defense, in construction of new battle boats and has moved strongly for production of equipment, guns, and the like.

Strategic War Materials That Must Be Developed

But with all of this hullabaloo, we have not heard nor seen any plans for development of our national deposits of raw materials which are used in the stock pile of war resources. It might not be so important were it not a fact that a score or more of these materials have to be imported. I regret the necessity for being so bold, but it is proper to say that the navy and navy departments have advanced not a single program, or even a thought, as to how this nation could gain certain raw materials if we were to be involved in a war that would cut off importation of them.

The war department has prepared a list of some of these "strategic war materials" and it has listed some of the most important, such as nickel, tin, manganese, rubber, etc. That is as far as it has gone. It is true, and the swivel chair officers will stress the fact, that congress passed a law a few years back to say that the navy and navy departments have advanced not a single program, or even a thought, as to how this nation could gain certain raw materials if we were to be involved in a war that would cut off importation of them.

Reference was made the other day to testimony given two years ago before the senate finance committee. I looked it up and found that the late Francis P. Garvan, then president of the chemical foundation, had caused an investigation to be made of Alaskan metal resources. The report brought in by a Wisconsin university professor, who did the searching and digging on the ground, makes one wonder what undercurrent of influence has prevented the development of metal claims, such as nickel and tin, and why the few of the national legislators knew of the testimony.

Buying for Reserves Would Start Brand New Industries

In my conversations among Rocky Mountain congressmen, I could not avoid the conclusion that capital funds held in the United States will not be put to work on such things without some encouragement from officials in Washington. I know that some representatives and senators are of the opinion that the federal government ought to offer to buy these war essentials here and disregard foreign sources. They believe that a commitment to buy for reserves, if made by the federal government, would start brand new industries going in many, many parts of the United States. All of the while, however, we have the bureau of mines and the war department sitting back and making it hard for Americans to develop America.

This whole situation would be hardly worth analyzing were it not for the facts: 1. The federal government is spending billions for defense, along with other billions that are being wasted, and 2. It is a measure of safety to have all, or as much as possible, of the things we would need, in event of war, where they can be handled by Americans for Americans. And it is more important, because numerous reports have reached Washington in the last year to the effect that German, or Belgian or British capitalists have been making overtures to hold title to the great International Nickel corporation which owns the largest nickel mines in the world and does 88 per cent of the world's trade in nickel. The British thought it was wise to have the essential material available, when and if needed, and it had that conviction even with the largest nickel mine known now located on British territory at Sudbury, Ontario, Canada.

Admiral Stark Named Chief of Operations in U. S. Navy

WASHINGTON. — The navy announced the selection of Rear Admiral Harold R. Stark, 59 years old, as the new chief of operations, top post of the sea service. With President Roosevelt's approval, a dozen other assignments were made at the same time. Most of the changes take effect in June. Stark, short, ruddy faced commander of battle force cruisers, has been chief of ordnance.

Passes Century Mark—March 20 was the 100th anniversary of the settlement of the city of Waupun. A formal celebration will be held there July 1 to 4.

Cows Outnumber Humans—A recent survey shows that Jefferson county has 54,994 milk cows, which is a number 50 per cent greater than the county's population of 36,785.

Lax Motorists Tagged—Fond du Lac police swooped down on motorists there who "forgot" to apply for their license plates by Mar. 15 and distributed 175 arrest tags in one day.

Grandfather to 40—Carl Wittnebel, 66, who died recently at Ashippun, Washington county, is survived by five daughters, four sons, 40 grandchildren and 23 great grandchildren.

Infant Mortality Drops—Infant mortality in Wisconsin has decreased from 110 to 43.5 per 1,000 live births during the 27-year period from 1910 to 1937. The state's present record is 20 per cent better than the average of the nation.

Policeman Found Insane—Elk-horn's 250-pound policeman, George McCormick, who burned his home and then shot at other officers who arrested him, has been committed to the insane hospital at Waupun for an indefinite period.

Holdup Slayer Suicides—Michael Kalamayer, serving a life sentence for killing a detective when caught with companions in the act of robbing the Luick Dairy company safe at Milwaukee in November, 1937, hanged himself in his cell at Waupun prison.

Mill Manager Quits—H. W. Johannes, white manager of the Jommesee Indian lumber mill at Neopit, Shawano county, has tendered his resignation. A tribal committee visited Washington recently to ask removal of Johannes, charging that he had not handled the mill to the tribe's advantage.

Tax Collections Easy—Miss Daisy Buer finds that her job as treasurer of the village of Scandinavia, Waupaca county, offers no great problems this year, as the villagers have paid 98 per cent of their county taxes. Only five failed to pay and three of them have asked extensions to July 1.

1,400 Dairymen Meet—The sixty-seventh annual convention of the Wisconsin Dairymen's association at Sheboygan was attended by more than 1,400 leading dairy farmers. About 1,000 junior farmers attended sessions at the neighboring village of Kohler. The dairymen resentfully discussed market conditions that have cracked fluid milk prices in the cities and the faltering butter, cheese and condensary quotations.

Hannan Steps Down—Col. John Hannan, for 14 years president of the state board of control, has voluntarily relinquished that position "for the good of the service." He remains a member of the board and made the motion that resulted in election of Frank Klode, Milwaukee, as president. The other board member is Mrs. Lila Burton of Eagle, recently appointed by Gov. Heil, whose confirmation by the senate has been held up by anti-administration forces.

WAA Death Strikes Snag—The Heil administration program of abolishing much of what was created by the 1937 La Follette administration received its first serious setback when the senate agriculture and labor committee unanimously recommended the killing of the Brown bill to abolish the Wisconsin agricultural authority. Members of the committee are three Republicans, Shearer, Fisher and Fresh, and Connors, a Progressive. Opponents of the Brown bill have upheld the work of the WAA, citing the value of its advertising campaigns towards increasing the sale of Wisconsin dairy and farm products. They have also argued that the department of agriculture and markets could not do the work of the WAA effectively, because it is not authorized to accept funds from private industry, whereas the WAA being a private corporation, can accept such funds.

Three Get State Jobs—Gov. Heil has announced the appointment of Wilson Delzell, Stevens Point, as a member of the state board of normal school regents to succeed George Martens, recently killed in an automobile accident, and the reappointment of William E. O'Brien, Kenosha, to the state highway commission. O'Brien, a Democrat originally appointed by Gov. Schmedeman, has been popular with all factions and the senate unanimously confirmed him for another six-year term. The $4,200 a year position as chief of the state beverage inspection and enforcement division has gone to John W. Roach of Appleton, who received the appointment from State Treasurer John M. Smith. Roach, a Democrat, was chief of beverage tax enforcement under former Treasurer Robert K. Henry, later joining the Chicago office of the federal internal revenue department.

New Factory Planned—A new factory to produce paper milk bottles and paper boxes is to be built soon at Manitowoc by the Kieckhefer Container company of Milwaukee. It will employ about 200.

Electric Rates Reduced—The state public service commission has announced an agreement with the Wisconsin Public Service corporation for reduction in its commercial light rates in northeastern and central Wisconsin. The new schedule became effective with March meter readings.

SAFETY TALK

'Pedestrian Fault' THE National Safety Council charged pedestrians with a large share of the responsibility for traffic accidents that killed 5,000 persons in 1937. Of these 15,400 were pedestrians.

In "Accident Facts," a special review of 1937, the council said: "Many pedestrians are guilty of lack of caution in their streets and highways. Our state reports for 1937 show that 67 per cent of all fatal pedestrian accidents were caused by pedestrians acting in an obviously unsafe manner. In non-fatal accidents, pedestrian faults appeared in 50 per cent of the cases."

The council described things as jay-walking, failure to observe traffic lights, crossing streets, walking with careless disregard for traffic on rural roads, crossing streets in the middle of a block as "pedestrian faults."

Weekly Letter

From Washington County

Assemblyman

Jos. A. Schmitz

Wisconsin Legislature,
Madison

The past week proved to be a rather eventful one in as much as considerable important legislation was acted upon.

The assembly engrossed the James bill to repeal the teachers' tenure law, 51 to 46. It will now come up for final passage next week. The present teachers' tenure law, which the James bill would repeal, makes it impossible for school boards to discharge teachers who have served five years in one school district except for inefficiency or a misdemeanor. Another bill attacking this same law was introduced by Mr. Schenk, Madison. This would remove from tenure only those teachers who now serve in one room schools. This would affect about 6,000 teachers.

The Fitzsimons bill, which would prohibit the employment of both husband and wife in public service, if either earned $2,000 plus $400 for each dependent, was also engrossed by the assembly.

The ghost of prohibition fluttered about the assembly chambers for a few brief moments last Thursday, when a bill which would have given counties the option of going dry by holding an election to so determine was badly defeated by a vote of 60 to 33.

JUDGE VUCKLIN, DISTRICT ATTORNEY MEISTER, ATTORNEYS JOHN CANNON and TED SIMESTER, were very active in their appearance before the assembly judiciary committee last Tuesday on a bill which would have made the district attorneys of all counties act as divorce council, instead of having the divorce council appointed by the judges as is done at present. Their pleas caused the committee to recommend indefinite postponement of the measure.

MR. JOE WENNINGER of ALLEN, TON appeared before the same committee as president of the Washington County Bankers' association, to favor the passage of a bill which would provide that the half interest of a deceased joint tenant shall pass to the surviving co-tenant subject to the debts of the deceased joint tenant. MR. WENNINGER pleaded that "County bankers make many character loans to their customers and then find that when the borrower dies, that his property is in the name of both husband and wife. The banker then cannot collect from the estate, and must take a total loss in the loan." The new law would correct this. The committee, on the strength of this and other pleas, recommended to the assembly that the bill be passed.

MAYOR KNIPPEL, CITY CLERK WEISS, CARL PICK, and MIKE GONRING of WEST BEND visited the capitol on Thursday to support a retirement system for municipal employees which would make it possible for cities of the fourth class like West Bend and Hartford to set up a pension system for all city employees.

After this, your assemblyman took them to the governor's office for a visit. In the absence of Governor Heil, who had gone to Janesville, the party had a pleasant visit with the governor's two secretaries, Mr. McKeown and Mr. Maas, who it appeared were old friends of both MR. PICK and MR. GONRING.

Several weeks ago your assemblyman, together with about 25% of the population of Madison, was taken down with a severe attack of the flu. In consequence thereof, he spent four days at the Wisconsin General hospital, and missed one day's session of the legislature. Although this is a belated report thereon, I wish to convey the fact to my constituents in order to explain my failure to vote on several measures which came up for action during my absence.

What is expected to become one of the closest and most bitterly contested fights of the session will be precipitated in the senate this week when the first of two highly controversial labor bills, the Catlin bill, outlawing stranger picketing, comes for consideration. The fate of the bill seems likely to be decided by the votes of the members from the city districts, upon whom enormous pressure is being exerted by organized labor.

The Catlin bill provides there cannot be a dispute and no picketing of any plant unless there is a controversy between an employer and a majority of his employees.

The so-called "employment peace act," sponsored by the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, and having the practically unanimous backing of the farmers and rural representatives, will likely not be considered until next week.

FARM AND HOME LINES

Wisconsin farmers had the widest choice of commercial feeds in 1933 since farming was begun in this state. More than 4,200 brands of feed were registered for sale in Wisconsin last year.

Wisconsin fur farming has outgrown its pioneer methods of production and is now like other branches of farming, asking the state university for scientifically reliable information upon which it may build for the future. In recent years, cooperative oil associations have sprung up in large numbers in rural areas so that today there are probably more than 1,000 associations engaged in this type of business in the United States.

What to Eat and Why

C. Houston Goudiss Discusses Beverages of Various Kinds; Explains Their Role in the Diet

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS FOOD and drink are inseparably linked in any consideration of the nutritional needs of man. It is, therefore, in response to a fundamental need that we include some kind of beverage in every meal...

Approximately two-thirds of the body is composed of water. It is found in the muscles, in the brain tissue, in the various organs such as liver and kidneys, and even in the bones.

Stimulating Beverages The stimulating beverages are coffee, tea, chocolate and cocoa. When made with milk, chocolate and cocoa are rich in nutritive values, though their fuel value varies with the product used.

Beverages Classified The quantity of water needed by each person varies with the diet and with the season of the year, much larger amounts being required when the temperature is high.

Refreshment Beverages The refreshing beverages include fruit juices, fruitades and carbonated drinks, such as ginger ale and sarsaparilla. They are effective in quenching thirst and their appetizing flavors encourage the drinking of generous amounts of water.

Good for Flannels.—A teaspoon of glycerin in the rinsing water makes flannels come out like new. Salad Molds.—Muffin pans make good individual molds for gelatin salads and for macaroni and cheese mixtures.

Tenderfoot Triumph

IF EVER Americans deserved the title "tenderfoot," it was the band of emigrants, led by John Bidwell, which left Missouri in May, 1841, for the West. They had heard of the riches of California but knew nothing about the country they must cross to gain their promised land.

Bad Boy of the Mayflower

AMONG the Pilgrim Fathers who came over on the Mayflower was John Billington, accompanied by his wife and two sons, Francis and John Jr. Early in that historic voyage young John disgraced himself.

The Average Man

The average man is 5 feet, 10 inches tall; weighs 150 pounds; has enough fat to make seven bars of soap; enough iron to make one nail; enough sugar to fill a shaker; enough lime to whitewash a chicken coop; enough phosphorus to make 2,200 matches; enough magnesium for a dose of magnesia; total value 96 cents.

Gray Skipped No Step to Fly Air Leviathan

YOUNG America is naturally envious of Capt. Harold E. Gray, who will be at the controls when the Yankee Clipper, huge Pan-American Airways flying boat, takes off for its flight across the Atlantic.

Pierson Assists In Nazi Put-Out In Brazil Game

WARREN LEE PIERSON, head of the Export-Import bank, appears to rate an assist in the Nazi put-out in Brazil. The big credit deal, to clear the trade ways between the two countries, is widely accepted as a goose-egg for the Reich.

Suicide for Revenge

The faith of the Chinese in the existence and power of the dead and the firm belief of the avenging power of his own spirit when disembodied, has, in the past, led many Chinese to commit suicide and thus have his ghost come back and avenge itself on some enemy.
