GAME FRIDAY NIGHT
Kewaskum at Lomira
The Kewaskum High school basketball team defeated Brandon 34 to 27 last Friday night and pocketed the coveted championship of the Tri-County conference for the second straight year. It was their tenth victory in a row against no defeats.

Kewaskum played Rosendale on the same floor last night and plays at Lomira to-night to complete its season. Both of these are postponed affairs. All other teams in the conference have completed their season of 12 games. Kewaskum needs no more victories to win the title but two more victories will keep their record unblemished. And they really would have a record, losing only one game in two years. The setback was at Oakfield last season.

Taking for granted that Kewaskum wins its last two games they will have created every team in the league twice. North Fondy cops second place with 5 victories and 3 defeats. Campbellsport third with 7 and 5, Oakfield fourth with 6 and 6. Brandon fifth with 4 and 8, and Lomira and Rosendale tied in the cellar.

The Brandon game Friday was a little rough and tumble as Brandon had little to lose and everything to gain. As in a number of its previous games, Kewaskum played careful, deliberate ball and studied the tactics and strength of the opponents during the first half. Then, at the start of the second half they played like lightning and ran up a big lead which they had no trouble in holding during the rest of the game.

Kral and Dresher again carried the weight of the scoring for K. H. S. with 12 and 10 points respectively. Born gave birth to Brandon's chances with 10 markers.

The championship in the Tri-County loop gives Kewaskum high hopes for the district tournament at Campbellsport next week. The team will go there with the knowledge that there will be stiff competition. The first game will be with Elkhart Lake Wednesday. One other game will be played the same night at 7 o'clock.

Two in Cattle Killing Case Put on Probation

The final chapter of the cattle killing case on the Clara Voeks farm in the town of Fredonia Sept. 26, 1903, was written when the last two members of the gang were tried before Ozaukee County Judge Peter M. Hulraas. They were Ludwig Gross of the town of Farmington, Washington county, and Ed. Braeger, town of Grafton. Both were charged with being accessories after the fact and were placed on probation for one year, sentence being withheld.

Gross was charged with storing the stolen meat on his farm, which was left there after some of it had been taken along by one of the men. Later Braeger was said to have driven one of the rustlers to the Gross farm and helped transport meat back. The balance of the meat, which had spoiled, was buried on the Gross farm where it was found by officials of Washington and Ozaukee counties on Jan. 16.

The other members of the gang, all of Port Washington, were sentenced to the state prison at Wausau on Jan. 21. Frank Nitz, 35, was sentenced from two to four years; James Kaldenberg, 27, from two to four years, and Anthony Potasius, 26, from one to one and one-half years.

Youth Given Parole After Barley Theft

Sylvester Hourd, 20, of 331 East First street, Fond du Lac, who confessed selling 12 sacks of stolen barley to the L. Rosenheimer Malt & Grain company in this village last week Thursday, pleaded guilty in municipal court at Fond du Lac last Friday to a larceny charge and was given a 90-day jail sentence, suspended and paroled to the Fond du Lac county sheriff, Judge H. M. Polenz, further ordered that the defendant refrain from driving his car, unless he actually needed it to earn a living.

Hourd admitted theft of the barley from the William Mullen farm southwest of Fond du Lac early Thursday morning after questioning by Traffic Officer George Brandt of this village and Sheriff L. H. Thulheim of Fond du Lac later in the day. The theft was solved by Officer Brandt with the cooperation of Frank Keller, Sr., the miller at the local firm, who had purchased the grain.

After the barley had been purchased from Hourd at the Rosenheimer mill here Mr. Keller noticed that the sacks had been tied with clothes line rather than with the wire ordinarily used to hold the sacks closed. He became suspicious, took the license number of the car in which it was brought here and reported it to Officer Brandt, who went to Fond du Lac, made an investigation with officials there and the arrest and confession followed.

Wine Stock Raided on Fillmore Farm

State investigators of the beverage tax commission on Monday, Feb. 12, raided the home of Charles Degnitz near Fillmore and seized 1400 gallons of unstamped wine and other. A criminal warrant was issued and Degnitz was fined $50 and costs by Justice Lloyd Lind at West Bend. The total costs amounted to $57.23.

On Feb. 10 a purchase of unstamped wine was made by a state investigator at the Degnitz home which was followed by the raid by the investigators and Sheriff Leo Burg of this county.

The sale of wine at the Degnitz home figured in the recent trial of three Port Washington men found guilty of stealing cattle from the farm of Mrs. Clara Voeks in the town of Fredonia when they testified they drove to the "wine cellar" near Fillmore and bought several glasses of wine, also a gallon of wine on the day of the killing which they consumed the same day.

GAMES SUNDAY NIGHT

Hartford at Kewaskum
West Bend at Cedarburg
Mayville at Port Washington

The village basketball team clinched undisputed second place in the Land o' Rivers league last Friday night by winning its sixth consecutive game at the expense of the West Bend Benders. The contest was played on the Benders' floor and the final score was 21 to 18.

The victory gives the locals a record of 11 games won and 5 lost. The third place Mayville team, by losing to Hartford Sunday, lost all chances of catching Kewaskum. The teams play an 18 game schedule, two games remaining for the local team, which still has a chance for first place as well. Hartford has four games to play and should they lose 3 of these while Kewaskum is winning both of theirs, the teams will be tied. The locals get their crack at the league leaders this Sunday night in the local gym. Kewaskum's other game is a postponed contest at Port Washington.

In the game at West Bend Friday Kewaskum turned on the steam in the second half after the teams had battled evenly in the first portion. Some of the weakest offensive power of the season was shown by both teams in the first quarter. The Benders made one basket and Kewaskum a free throw to trail 2 to 1 going into the second period. Then the teams came to life and by halftime had battled to a 7-7 tie.

Kewaskum outscored West Bend again in the third quarter, 9 to 7, to lead 16-14. In the final stanza the local five easily outplayed the opponents and showed their best basketball of the game. Led by Carlson the boys noted 5 markers to the Benders' 3 and were able to ease up in the last few minutes. Free throws won the game, Kewaskum dropping 9 through the hoop against the enemy's 2. West Bend missed 6 out of 8 while Kewaskum was making 9 for 14.

Tops in the scoring column was Carlson of Kewaskum with 7 points on 2 buckets and 3 charity tosses. The best on the other side was 5 points by Oghafen. The victory was Kewaskum's third of the season over West Bend.

LAST HOME GAME SUNDAY WITH LEADING HARTFORD

Kewaskum will bring its home season to a close this Sunday evening, Feb. 25, in grand style by tackling the league-leading Hartford five. This is the game the team has been waiting for all winter, especially after losing two very close games at Hartford which all but kept them from winning the championship. Kewaskum has won six in a row and stands a good chance to upset the high classed leaders in this battle, which looms as the best of the season. Immediately following the game with Hartford the same Kewaskum team will play another exhibition game with the Gehl Manufacturing team of West Bend. See two games for only 20c—10c for children.

Wake up you fans, you've been giving the team just "lousy" support all season. Kewaskum's home talent team started out by themselves at the beginning of the campaign and went on unsupported and played swell basketball in every game. Otherwise they wouldn't be up in second place in the league they're in. They have a fine record, considering the much larger cities in the circuit, such as Hartford, Mayville, Port Washington, Cedarburg and West Bend. They've had competition against cities—not these small towns with only high school teams.

The attendance at games has really been shameful for a town of this size. (CONTINUED ON LOCALS PAGE)

Kewaskum High Goes to Dist. Tournament

Tri-County Champs Meet Elkhart Lake in First Tourney Game at Campbellsport Next Wednesday

Kewaskum High school's Tri-County title holders are all set for the W. A. A. Class C district basketball tournament to be held at Campbellsport next week. The tourney, which starts Wednesday evening, Feb. 23, and continues through Saturday, Mar. 2, will bring together the strongest of Class C schools from this section.

Five schools from the Tri-County league, three from the Eastern Wisconsin, and two from the Kettle Moraine league are assigned to this district. Selections for tournament competition were made at a meeting in Milwaukee Saturday afternoon. Of the ten teams in the district picked as eligible for the tournament, two have been eliminated in playoff games, leaving the following eight schools with the right to compete:

1. Kewaskum
2. North Fond du Lac
3. Campbellsport
4. Kohler
5. Elkhart Lake
6. Oakfield
7. New Holstein
8. Howards Grove

The teams eliminated in the playoffs were Waldo of the Kettle Moraine and Lomira of the Tri-County. New Holstein defeated Waldo 30 to 23 in overtime and Howards Grove whipped Lomira 31 to 18 to remain eligible to compete in the district event.

In the first tournament games next Wednesday night Campbellsport will battle Howards Grove starting at 7 p. m. and Elkhart Lake will meet Kewaskum in the second game of the evening. On the following night, the loser of the Campbellsport-Howards Grove game will play the Kewaskum-Elkhart Lake loser, Kohler will meet North Fond du Lac and New Holstein will take on Oakfield. Three more games will be played Friday night, Mar. 1, and on Saturday night the finals will be run off for first, second, and the consolation places. You will note in the above schedule of games that all four of the Tri-County teams meet schools from outside of the conference in their first game. Opponents are selected alphabetically.

Considering Kewaskum's clean record the boys should stand a good chance in the tournament. However, the teams are tough and anything can happen. The Tri-County teams entered are those placing 1, 2, 3 and 4 in the standings. In Elkhart Lake Kewaskum bumps into one of the strongest in the tourney and should get plenty of opposition. Elkhart placed near the top in the strong Eastern Wisconsin conference.

HENRY MEIS

Henry Meis, 53, father of Mrs. John Thelsen of Elmhor, died Sunday, Feb. 18, at his farm home near Lomira, where he had resided for 56 years. Death occurred after an illness of three days.

Mr. Meis is survived by two sons, John and Bernard of Lomira; three daughters, Mrs. Ben Weyer of Brownsville, Mrs. John Wessing of Lomira and Mrs. John Thelsen of Elmhor; several grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held at 9:30 a. m. on Wednesday, Feb. 21, from the home and at 10 a. m. at St. Mary's church in Lomira. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

EUROPE: Showdown Ahead

Almost six months to the day after Germany and Russia shocked the world with their non-aggression pact, Berlin paused to hail a new phase of Nazi-Communist relations.

and (2) veto a bill to raise mail carriers' salaries.

Congress meanwhile began its sixth week with members of the American Youth Congress hissing from the house gallery at everything in sight. Still unruffled by such major problems as economy, foreign relations and the reciprocal trade act, indicating another long session. But plenty of legislation was in the mill:

Neutrality. Passed by the senate 49 to 27 was a bill to boost the Export-Import bank's working capital by $100,000,000, paving the way for non-military loans to Finland and China. Interest on foreign policy thus shifted to the house, where the G. O. P. expected to fight against loans to belligerents. Meanwhile the senate foreign relations committee kept postponing action on the proposed embargo against Japan.

Defense. Less than 24 hours after it had okayed a $966,772,878 navy supply bill (cut $111,700,000 under budget estimates), the house naval committee repented and approved a $655,000,000 fleet expansion program. The latter bill would only authorize new construction; actual funds must come from separate legislation.

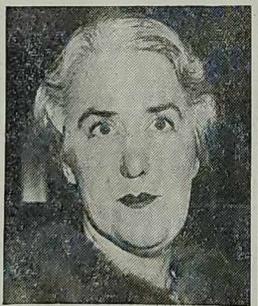

Agriculture. The house agriculture committee okayed a $350,000,000 bill to expand scope of the farm tenancy act, insuring mortgages of tenants who want to buy their own farms.

Labor. Chairman J. Warren Madden of NLRB told the house labor board committee that Reconstruction Finance corporation has agreed to withhold loans from firms found by NLRB to be violators of the Wagner act. This created a rumpus.

WHITE HOUSE: 'Missy' in Trouble

Several days after President Roosevelt appointed State Undersecretary Sumner Welles to make a European peace junket, arch-Republican papers like the Chicago Tribune published a juicy story. Its gist:

The peace mission was conceived by Welles himself, who slipped in through the White House back door one day and outlined his idea in glowing terms before Marguerite "Missy" LeHand, the presidential secretary "who is rated to have more influence in the throne room than anyone else." Said the Tribune story: "Missy" thought it a grand idea and laid it before the President. Mr. Roosevelt, who was in a most receptive mood for a new peace drive, beamed and called in Mr. Welles and commissioned him on the spot to set out upon the great adventure.

Whatever the facts, the President's two ace diplomats showed up in Washington next day and were reportedly displeased. Up from Miami came Joe Kennedy, ambassador to Britain. Home from Paris came Bill Bullitt, ambassador to France. Why, they allegedly asked, did the President prefer Mr. Welles' unseasoned opinions on Europe to their own painstaking studies?

Apprised of the gossip, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and White House Secretary Steve Early took pains to deny any rift. Said Mr. Hull: "I do not think a more capable person could be sent upon the European mission."

While Sumner Welles sailed for Europe to visit chancelleries in London, Berlin, Paris, Rome, etc., another presidential coup was coming home to roost. The Vatican, which holds no diplomatic status with the U. S. because of Protestant objections, nevertheless announced that Myron Taylor (whom the President named his "personal" envoy to Pope Pius XII) would be given official status as ambassador from the U. S. While Catholics fumed, the Vatican calmly pointed out that any agent must have diplomatic credentials if he is to be recognized.

LABOR: Biggest to Smallest

Settled at Detroit with unprecedented ease was a labor dispute of unprecedented size. Ending what threatened to be a lengthy hearing on election procedure, General Motors and four unions (one C. I. O. and three A. F. of L.) agreed on a basis for a collective bargaining election involving 58 G. M. plants and 125,000 employees. The principals filed a 160-page transcript asking NLRB to call an election.

BUSINESS: Insurance Quiz

Under the temporary national economy committee's spotlight in Washington went U. S. insurance companies. When the examination was finished, this thriving enterprise had acquired a lot of unpleasant publicity.

First witness was Leon Henderson, securities and exchange commissioner, who charged that life insurance companies hold a first mortgage on U. S. business. He went on to prove it:

SEC had studied 26 of the largest firms, finding (1) that they seem to be drifting from their original object of writing life insurance to handling investments, and (2) that their tremendous concentration of assets is probably robbing business enterprise of funds.

Facts were interesting. From 1929 to 1938, SEC found, 26 companies took in 42 1/2 billions. Of this, 10 1/2 billions was not disbursed but went into reserve, surplus and contingency funds. Still more interesting was the fact that SEC's 26 subjects increased their assets by 63 per cent from 1929 to 1935, yet life insurance in force went up only 10 per cent.

Next day John A. Stevenson, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, surprised TNEC and the nation by advocating a modernization of the 60-year-old mortality statistics, asserting that amounts collected for mortality have been too high in recent years. But, he added, it makes little difference in cost to the policyholder since excess income is returned in dividends.

COURTS: 3 Decisions

In Washington the U. S. Supreme court made news by three decisions: (1) On Lincoln's birthday, it saved four Florida Negroes from death, ruling that murder confessions were obtained by "secret, inquisitorial" police methods after five days of continuous grilling which violated the Negroes' constitutional rights.

(2) It created a furor by ruling that federal courts have no right to change National Labor Relations Board decisions on questions of disputed facts in labor controversies. (3) It enjoined Arkansas from imposing a tax on gasoline (in excess of 20 gallons) carried in fuel tanks of interstate buses when the gasoline is intended for use in other states. Three justices (Frankfurter, Black and Douglas) dissented, claiming the trade barrier question is a matter for congressional action.

AGRICULTURE: Parity for '40

While the farm bloc was busy trying to wheedle $200,000,000 for 1941 parity payments out of an economy department begun using the $225,000,000 authorized (but not provided for) last year. Payments would be made this year, it was ruled by the last congress, if 1939 average farm prices were less than 75 per cent of parity—which is the 1909-14 average as related to farm purchasing power.

Since prices were below parity, the agriculture department announced 1940 payments of 1.55 cents ($96,000,000) per pound on cotton; 10 cents ($7,100,000) a bushel on wheat; five cents ($48,600,000) a bushel on corn, and 1.7 cents ($300,000) a hundredweight on rice.

AVIATION: Boom

When Europe went to war, and especially when cash-and-carry neutrality took effect, everyone knew the U. S. aviation industry was in for boom times. After six months of war the boom had surpassed expectations. In southern California alone there was a backlog of some $200,000,000 in orders for the U. S. and foreign powers. But within 30 days, a survey indicated, mass deliveries will begin on thousands of ships.

Already filled since the boom began last summer have been orders for 1,450 combat planes; still uncompleted are 7,700 more. Major foreign sales have been to France and Britain, which ordered 5,000 ships. But only about 350 craft have been delivered of the 4,450 ordered by the U. S. army and navy.

Meanwhile, however, the U. S. is profiting on more recent designs, ships. Typical is the new four-motor bomber. Carrying four tons of bombs and a nine-man crew at 300 m. p. h., the ship will give any enemy a run for its money.

MISCELLANY: Import From Poland

At Berlin, Field Marshal Hermann Goering announced 1,000,000 Poles will be imported to work German farms, bolstering the Nazi ladder without taking men from the front lines.

At Albany, N. Y., 8,000 taxpayers protested, apparently with success, a proposed $15,000,000 personal income tax boost, also demanding reduction in the pending $396,700,000 budget.

At Washington the maritime commission announced plans for two giant trans-Pacific liners capable of conversion into aircraft carriers. Dimensions: 750 feet long with waterline beam of 98.2 feet. Speed: 24 knots. Accommodations: 1,000 passengers and 500 crewmen.

At Washington, the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, "radio priest," asked Martin Dies' un-Americanism committee. Meanwhile Dies said his alleged objective was an "expose" of alleged subversive activities in Hollywood.

1940 Congress Sets the Stage For Executive-Legislative Battle

Both Republican and Democratic Congressional Members Are Ready for Tussle Over President Roosevelt's Budget and Spending Plans.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—Congress soon will have completed the second month of its 1940 meeting and the most significant thing to come out of the session is a situation containing all of the elements necessary for another good battle between the legislative and executive branches of the government.

It is much too early to enter a forecast that President Roosevelt and his opponents—Democrats and Republicans—will come to grips. But a slip of even small caliber on the President's part would throw him into the path of a substantial section of the congressional membership. That is exactly what will happen. It is, conceivably, a thing which Mr. Roosevelt and the New Dealers hope will be avoided.

The condition stems from Mr. Roosevelt's budget message. As I reported to you early in January, the President's budget declarations sounded real. A good many folks suggested, however, that these pronouncements had come at the very beginning of the session and predicted a change in the scenery before the end. Those observers appeared to feel that the President was playing a bit of politics with the general subject of economy—spending.

But congress, generally, decided to take the President at his word. "If," they appeared to be saying, "the President really wants economy, if he wants to reduce government spending, boy, oh boy, we will be with him in a big way."

So it has come to pass that the President's own proposal conceivably can throw him into a place where plainly he does not wish to be, at least from a political standpoint. Heretofore, it will be recalled, there have been frequent declarations for reduction in government spending and each time it has been overcome by backdoor operations of New Dealers.

Economy-Minded Legislators Dominate Scene

As far as the play has progressed on the open stage, the economy-minded members of the house and the senate appear to dominate the scene. They have cut deeply into several of the President's pet projects. They have cut, or have proposed to cut, deeply into the President's program for national defense for which Mr. Roosevelt had ideas costing billions as against former years when the cost of army and navy development was measured in hundreds of millions. Moreover, the legislators have shown courage in nipping agricultural spending for a good many millions, and that hurt Secretary Wallace and his crew.

Now all of this has been going on when the "inner circle" of New Dealers still are clamoring for continuation of the fun they have been having in spending taxpayers' money. There is some doubt, too, that Mr. Roosevelt has changed over completely.

Attention might be called in this connection to the fact that, in the national budget itself, Mr. Roosevelt left numerous avenues of escape from what appeared to be a definite commitment towards retrenchment as stated in the budget message. Secretary Wallace touched off the match on one of these. Mr. Roosevelt said the agriculture appropriations had been squeezed down by the budget bureau to the very limit. If the funds were sufficient, according to the President, there had to be a continuation of good business. A good many of the folks in the department of agriculture have been saying both publicly and privately that the volume of business is going to slide off during the late winter and spring. Thus, more money will be needed.

Wallace Wants Share Of Government Spending

In the complaints by Secretary Wallace is another tipoff. The secretary feels that there is no logic in cutting the total expenses of the government completely out of his share of the swag. He fails to understand

STAGE IS SET

While William Bruckart feels it is a bit too early to make a definite forecast that the President and congress will come to blows over governmental items like the budget, economy, waste, and spending, he feels that congress has set the stage for such a battle. Naturally, the President doesn't want such a battle but his opponents don't mind, says Bruckart.

As of this time, then, congress surely has gone forward in a most determined fashion to cut off some of the excess spending. It has resisted pressure thus far. The battle lines are well formed—thus far.

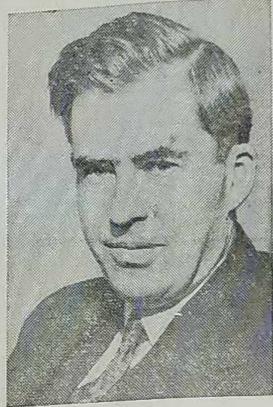

But, as I said at the beginning, one cannot predict with finality concerning the course of congressional temper when primaries are getting closer.

The things to watch for are these: as time goes on and the days of the session become fewer, will there be a lot of messages from the President, asking a few hundred thousand here, a few millions for over something else? Such as these were not included in the budget. They will be an extra, added attraction, as the circus press agent says.

Bituminous Coal Division Supervision, based on Sales Pacts

WASHINGTON.—The bituminous coal division said it planned to "deal cautiously" with regional marketing agencies formed by coal companies for the sale of bituminous coal. In an annual report, the division, a unit of the interior department, said it recognized the possibility that the agencies might become useful adjuncts to the coal act. It added, however, that it also realized that "without careful administration and why the cuts have not been made proportionately in amounts of estimates for other agencies of government. I think he has his teeth in something, there; but why pass over this point to suggest that if and when the congressional enthusiasm for economy wanes it will be easier to vote money for the agriculture program than for any other. It is just plain good politics. I imagine many members of the house and the senate feel that way, too. They believe they can always find justification for voting money to farmers.

While none can say definitely what goes on in the President's mind, there are many who believe Mr. Roosevelt would have preferred to see congress raise the present debt limit from $45,000,000,000 to $50,000,000,000, rather than take him so seriously on the suggested reduction in spending. It seems logical. He offered three propositions in his message: retrenchment in expenditures, raising the debt limit, and laying new taxes.

Now, most anybody knows that congress will do very little about new taxes in an election year. That left a choice between the curtailment of spending and raising the debt limit. The debt limit is more than just a sore spot. It is practically a carbuncle on the neck of congress, because there are so many thousands of letters coming in as a warning against getting the nation further into debt. Nothing was left, therefore, but the program that would reduce available funds for the fun-loving spenders.

These things present a picture which seems to show that the President's strategy may have failed. That is to say, he may have expected that congress would take the proposition of raising the debt limit as the easiest way out of its dilemma. It is sheer conjecture, of course; yet it has a basis in any sound analysis of what has happened.

President Is Missing Economy 'Sound Waves'

Undoubtedly, however, the President's advisors have failed to catch the sound waves that are reaching congress from "back home." There is a tremendously heavy mail on the subject of waste and spending and debt, arriving in congressional offices. This reaction is highly important. It reveals something more than just a desire on the part of many voters to see the government spending brought within bounds. It discloses, I believe, quite a definite trend away from New Deal ideals, because somehow, there is a growing conviction in many sections of the country that it is the reforms that are costing money.

This word from home has resulted thus far in offsetting the great pressure of various groups who are vociferous in their demands for more money. We had a flock of young voters—the American Youth Congress—around town ten days ago, and their leaders were unanimous in their calls for more money. They were as well trained as any college cheering section that I ever have seen. Of course, they may win out yet, but at the moment they are not winning much support for added money.

As of this time, then, congress surely has gone forward in a most determined fashion to cut off some of the excess spending. It has resisted pressure thus far. The battle lines are well formed—thus far.

But, as I said at the beginning, one cannot predict with finality concerning the course of congressional temper when primaries are getting closer.

The things to watch for are these: as time goes on and the days of the session become fewer, will there be a lot of messages from the President, asking a few hundred thousand here, a few millions for over something else? Such as these were not included in the budget. They will be an extra, added attraction, as the circus press agent says.

Will Enlarge License Plates

Geo. W. Rickman, commissioner of the state motor vehicle department, announced that production has been started on new automobile license plates which will bear four-inch numbers. The plates originally designed carry numerals two and seven-eighths inches high. There have been complaints about the size, particularly from policemen, who assert the figures are too small to be read at a distance. The change is being made without increasing the size of the plates or removing the slogan "America's Dairyland." This is accomplished by substituting, in vertical position, "Wis. '40" for the dash separating the digits. Production of plates under the original design was stopped at 430-351.

Cadet Burned to Death—William J. Birk, Jr., Chicago, a 14-year-old cadet, died in a fire as 329 of his classmates fled from sleeping flames that destroyed De Koven Hall, main building of St. John's Military academy at Delafield. Officials estimated damage at $15,000. Young Birk was trapped in a third floor bathroom.

Two Die Within Few Hours—Two Eau Claire brothers, partners in a tavern and soft drink place since 1901, died within a few hours of each other. William C. Bunde, 63, was found dead of heart attack and August, 61, died an hour and a half later after being informed of his brother's death. Both had been in ill health.

Cigarette Tax $1,500,000—Cigarette tax revenue has passed $1,500,000, John W. Roach, chief of the beverage tax division, reported to John M. Smith, state treasurer. The tax has been in effect for five months. It became operative on September 20, 1939, and exclusive of the floor tax levied on that date, it has been yielding more than $250,000 a month.

Education Bill 64 Million—Approximately $64,000,000 was spent for education by state and local governments during 1938, the state department of taxation announced. This figure includes disbursements for schools and libraries, but not costs of the University of Wisconsin, normal schools, and other technical and special educational institutions.

City Liquor Store Pays—Stoughton's municipal liquor store, the only one of its kind in Wisconsin, turned over to the city a net profit of $2,701 in 1939, according to the annual report presented to the common council by Samuel Teisberg, director. The net profit was the second largest in the five year history of the store. The largest profit was earned in 1937 when $2,767 was realized.

Canada and Hawaii have each sent six; China and the Philippine Islands, two each, and British West Indies, the Canal Zone, Korea, Palestine and Poland one each. Fourteen of the foreigners are taking medical courses.

Tax Bill $287,000,000—The federal, state and local governments levied or collected more than $287,000,000 in taxes in Wisconsin during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, the Wisconsin Taxpayers alliance reported. About 30 per cent of the total was collected by the federal government. General property taxes continue to be the most important source of revenue, representing 38c out of every tax dollar collected.

Leghorns Best Layers—The 1939 record of performance championship was awarded the White Leghorn poultry flock belonging to Ervin Siefert, Green Bay, the state department of agriculture announced. Of the 328 White Leghorns which Siefert entered in Wisconsin's tenth official ROP home trapnest project, 224 birds or 68.3 per cent of the trapnest flock, laid more than 200 eggs averaging more than 24 ounces to the dozen. This is the second consecutive award Siefert took.

"The Name Is Familiar"

Tom and Jerry

TAKE some egg whites, egg yolks, powdered sugar, brandy, rum and whiskey, mix it all up, and you have a Tom and Jerry. Take the name of America's greatest bartender, Jerry Thomas, mix that up, and you again have Tom and Jerry. Yes, it was Jerry Thomas, head bartender of the old Metropolitan hotel at Broadway and Prince street in New York city who concocted the drink that immortalizes his name.

Because his parents wanted him to become a minister and because he was the author of a book—the famous "Bartender's Guide"—he was called Professor Thomas. That was not such a far-fetched title for a bartender of the 1860s who could write a book—imagine a bartender of that era who could just write!

Jerry Thomas was born in New Haven, Conn., in 1825. His parents sent him to college so he could be a preacher. But, at the age of 20, he quit school to carry on an experiment to determine whether college men could imbibe alcoholic liquors in unlimited quantities. His conclusions were in the negative but he stayed close to the subject he loved by becoming principal bartender in a New Haven saloon.

In later years he became head bartender at the famous El Dorado in San Francisco where he invented the Blue Blazer, then he went to St. Louis where he invented the Tom and Jerry. He tended bar all over the United States, Central America and parts of Europe, starting the Europeans especially with his $4,000 worth of silver bar utensils and his unlimited repertoire of mixed drinks.

Butterick Patterns

LITERALLY hundreds of millions of Butterick patterns have been used all over the world. They have been a boon to hundreds of thousands of mothers in making clothes at home for their families. Now whom do they have to thank—Miss Butterick? Mrs. Butterick? No, neither. The inventor of this home dressmaking aid was a man, Ebenezer Butterick.

You'll find the tested recipes below practical when you entertain a crowd, and if you're planning a smaller party, my booklet entitled "Easy Entertaining" will give you suggestions for menus and recipes, too.

After some experiments he cut his first salable patterns June 16, 1863. The first patterns were folded by members of his family. In September he had to take extra rooms in a building—nearly a dozen and five girls were hired to do the folding—but Ebenezer still managed to keep his beard out of the way and kept on with the cutting.

The business moved to New York and continued to grow to the point where single cutting machines cut out thousands of patterns of each size at a single stroke. The word "Butterick" in electric lights on the top of the 15-story Butterick building, completed in 1904, was then the largest electric sign in the world. But the building was not finished until a year after Ebenezer Butterick died.

His private life was a very immoral one and he was so intent upon sports and gambling that he disliked to take time off from them long enough to be served a meal. He ordered one of his servants to slice meat, and put it between two pieces of bread, follow him with several of them and hand one to him when he was hungry. That's how the sandwich came into being and where it got its name. And it practically makes the earl of Sandwich the father of the American picnic.

He was a very contemptible person, hated more by the English people than any other nobleman of the Eighteenth century. Among other things, he was guilty of murdering his mistress—an even greater crime than inventing the thing that has made picnics possible—but not much greater.

PLAN REFRESHMENTS TO SUIT THE SEASON

See Recipes Below.

When You Serve a Crowd

Whether it's your responsibility to provide unusual eats for the Senior skating party, or an inexpensive menu for the church supper, cooking in quantities does present problems!

Unless you have recipes designed to serve large numbers, it's safer to make quick breads, cakes and cookies, according to standard family size recipes, doubling them, perhaps, but no more. Proportions of ingredients change as recipes become larger, and it's no simple matter for an amateur to guess at them.

Plan refreshments to suit the season and your guests. When equipment is limited, the help number to be served is large, select foods that are easily prepared and served, and foods that won't be hurt by standing.

For the simplest sort of refreshments after skating or skiing, hot spiced tea is ideal.

Clam chowder, with toasted crackers, makes a hearty, satisfying and substantial dish to serve after a sleigh ride in the frosty air. Spaghetti or macaroni make inexpensive, mainstay dishes for a church supper or midwinter meeting of the P. T. A. Served with a crisp salad, hard rolls and fresh fruit for dessert, Italian spaghetti makes an unusual and easy-to-serve meal.

You'll find the tested recipes below practical when you entertain a crowd, and if you're planning a smaller party, my booklet entitled "Easy Entertaining" will give you suggestions for menus and recipes, too.

Smart Sports Frock

With Useful Pockets

POCKET frocks are very smart, especially sports and resort types like this (1889-B), which gives pointed importance to the pockets that Paris is newly sponsoring as both decorative and useful. This charming design is really everything you want in a new dress for sports and daytime. It's young and casual. It buttons down the front so that it's easy to put on. The wide, inset belt and the shoulder portions, cut in one with the sleeves, make it flattering to the figure. You'll greatly enjoy adding this frock to your midwinter wardrobe right now—in bright wool or flat crepe if you're staying on the job, in pastel silk or cotton if you're flitting South. Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1889-B is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Corresponding bust measurements 30, 32, 34, 36 and 38. Size 14 (32) requires, with short sleeves, 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material; with long sleeves, 4 yards. For a pattern of this attractive model send 15 cents in coins, your name, address, style, number and size to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1324, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill.

Wise and Otherwise

When a fellow says "no man is perfect" you may be pretty sure he hasn't married a widow and heard about her first husband.

Logic is something you use to prove the other fellow wrong. Nothing succeeds like success. But failure succeeds as often.

It takes two to make a bargain—but usually only one gets it.

A doctor's pills might cure some ills, but not ill-humor. Give a revue producer an inch, says Marjorie, and he's got costumes for the whole chorus.

Contagious Laughter

While there is infection in disease and sorrow, there is nothing in the world so irresistibly contagious as laughter and good humor.—Charles Dickens.

Beware Coughs

from common colds That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back. CREOMULSION for Coughs, Chest Colds, Bronchitis

Clear Gain

Whatever happens beyond expectation should be counted clear gain.—Terence.

Watch Your Kidneys!

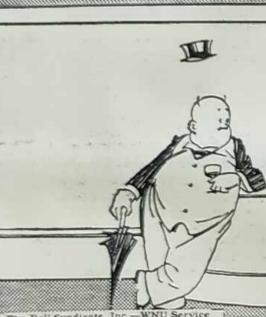

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste. Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes urinating, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nationwide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

One Sunday morning the pastor of a Negro congregation noticed that an old face had reappeared among his flock, and after the sermon made it a point to welcome the supposedly repentant backslider.

"This is the first time I have seen you at church for a long time," he said. "I'm sho'ly glad to see you here."

"Ah done had to come," explained Rastus. "Ah needs strengthenin', I've got a job white-washin' a chicken coop an' buildin' a fence round a watermelon patch."

Committees Meet to Plan Citizenship Day Program

A gathering of the various committees met at the court house in West Bend last Wednesday to hear Dr. C. L. Colbert present plans for the Citizenship program. The enthusiastic and interested group consisted of manufacturers, business men, lawyers, doctors, farmers, educators, county board members and others who are ready to do their part to make the Washington County Citizenship Day next May the best in the state.

Dr. Colbert indicated in detail the procedure to be followed Friday. An outline of Dr. Colbert was placed in the hands of all members of the Ways and Means committee. Considerable responsibility is placed upon the town chairman and the town representatives of the "Ways and Means committee." A meeting of the new voters will be called by the town chairman in the near future. At that meeting the new voters will organize by electing a chairman, secretary and treasurer, and an initial discussion will follow led by the town chairman and the instructor of the group. In no case is the instruction to be considered a school. It will take the form of a discussion where questions will be asked and answered in an informal manner.

The extension division of the University of Wisconsin provided charts on village, town, county, state and federal government. The county officers and agencies of county activities have supplemented this material by writing a county civics, which is fully and interestingly written. This bulletin will be placed in the hands of each voter with the hope that it will contribute to such understanding and enlightenment as will fit him more fully to meet the responsibilities of citizenship.

The outcome of this program in Manitowish resulted in the appointment of a committee by the officers of the National Teachers' association with a view to nationalize it. Then too, a committee of the federal government is investigating the work through the University of Wisconsin. This movement of citizenship training is in infancy and any contribution that Washington and other counties in Wisconsin make will do much to make it a regular experience in our civic life.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at the court house in West Bend on Wednesday evening, Feb. 28, at 8:30 o'clock. On account of

Village Gets $591.02 Return on Liquor Tax

Madison, Wis.—John M. Smith, state treasurer, has announced that Washington county municipalities' share of the state liquor tax for the last six months of 1939 is $19,639.88. This amount has been apportioned among the cities, towns, and villages of Washington county and is the largest amount ever returned by the state to the local units of government since the beverage tax division was created seven years ago.

The revenue from the state tax on intoxicating liquor, minus the cost of collection, is returned every six months by the state to the cities, towns, and villages to reduce the tax on general property. Local units of government share in the revenue in proportion to their population in the last federal census. The revenue returned to the cities, towns, and villages of the state for the last six months of 1939 is $2,172,150.26 and is apportioned on a basis of a population of 2,936,513 persons in the state. The amount returned for the first six months of 1939 was 49.6 cents per person, and 78.9 cents for the last six months of 1939, making a total of more than $1.28 returned by the state per capita for the year 1939.

Following is the apportionment made to cities, towns, and villages of Washington county, based on revenue derived during the last six months of 1939:

| Town | Population | Amount |

| Town Addison | 1616 | $1,195.36 |

School for Baseball Umpires Shuns Bottle-Ducking Course

When baseball teams head south for spring practice the umpires enter training, too, preparing for a summer of virtual isolation and desolation. During the season they must travel alone, live alone (and like it), endure stinging insults from audience and player alike—and still keep their tempers. They must even learn to duck pop bottles, for the big league fans and players seem to have a standing credo that most errors must be blamed on the umpire.

Picture Parade

When calling a player out, McGowan says you hold the head and thumb just so, possibly affecting a disdainful demeanor. To call a man safe: "You bend the knees and hold the hands like this." Walter Fry, a student, learns how to welcome a successful base-runner who's just scampered home from third. If it's a close decision, he'll hear boos from the grandstand in just a moment.

Umpires are trained by Bill McGowan, American league arbiter shown here giving lessons. Above, McGowan plays the erring diamond warrior as one of his students executes the correct (and effective) way of telling a player to get off the field. Right: Umpires must duck not only pop bottles, but foul balls as well. McGowan shows a student how to protect his arms from injury.

RULES, TOO—McGowan's students in the classroom.

Rome's World Fair
A mammoth aluminum arch 325 feet high and with a span of 756 feet will be the theme center of the Rome 1942 Universal exposition. It will be the biggest construction project ever attempted completely in light metal and will be built of aluminum made in Italy. The arch will be built with steps and fair visitors who enjoy climbing will be able to scale the highest point of the arch for a panoramic view of the Rome fair.

King's Heart to Battle
In Robert Bruce's last years he wished to join a military expedition to the Holy Land. Knowing that he would die before fulfilling his desire, he requested his friend, Lord James Douglas, to take his heart after death and carry it into battle. Douglas placed the heart in a silver casket and carried it into the battle in which he perished. One of his knights recovered Bruce's heart and took it back to Scotland, where it is buried in Melrose abbey.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON (Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

Alger's Theory Of Clock Watcher Gets a Setback
NEW YORK.—It is pleasant, indeed, to get something on Horatio Alger. Here's a boy who won his way to eminence by watching a clock, although he was 38 years old and had been just a clock-puncher instead of a watchmaker before this hair-pin turn in his career routed him to fame. We cite Dr. Frank Conrad, the "father of radio broadcasting," recently awarded the gold medal of the American institute for his "guiding genius in developing the world's first radio broadcasting system."

The master clock which ticked off his higher destiny hung in the plant of the Westinghouse company in Pittsburgh. It was a highly reputable old clock, but Mr. Conrad didn't altogether trust it. He and another employee made a bet as to which had the more accurate watch, through a week of time-keeping. Mr. Conrad refused to accept the decision of the office clock. In an unused garage near his home at Wilkensburg, he rigged a crude receiving apparatus to catch time signals from the naval station at Arlington, Va. He caught them, but he also caught some added starters which he could not at first explain. Employing a primitive direction-finding device, he located them as apparently springing from a slag heap about a block away. He didn't find the source there, but he did find it a few steps farther on with one John Coleman, among the lonely impresarios of the first feeble birth cries of radio.

That was in 1912. Mr. Conrad incidentally won the bet on his $5 watch against its $40 rival, but he forgot all about mere time signals. He and Coleman teamed their researches and began filtering ghostly phonograph recordings through the intervening slag heap. The rest is an old story—the historic KDKA Harding broadcast. Dr. Coleman's 200 radio patents, his honorary doctorate from the University of Pittsburgh and his award of the Lieberman, Edison, John Scott, and Lamme medals.

He is still curious and will take a sharp look at anything interesting or important, which alertness has led him into diligent research in botany, biology and astronomy. He has a lined, leathery face, steel-gray hair and, naturally, ever-watchful eyes.

General Trujillo After Players for Caribbean Team working for Gen. Rafael Leonidas Trujillo, boss of the Dominican republic. He has been accused of raiding the American National Negro league, and the Pittsburgh Crawfords have been mourning the loss of their star shortstop in safe when the general starts building up his infield.

The little, brown, diligent head-man of Santo Domingo is unpredictable. Since he took power 10 years ago, the junta of exiles here has been stacking him up as another Hitler. But just now, he signs a contract admitting 500 families of exiles from Germany and Poland, donates them 24,000 acres of land and says provision will be made for 100,000 additional settlers in the future. The contract grants citizenship to the newcomers and pledges their freedom from "molestation, discrimination or persecution."

He was a farm boy who learned fighting and black-playing with the marines, during an eight-year period, ending in 1924 with the end of occupation. He's a fast shortstop. In the Dominican army he romped up through grades from private to general.

In 1930, he tipped over old President Velasquez and took the country. In the framework of a democracy, he made himself a 100 per cent dictator and his enemies admit that he has made a tidy little nation out of a jungle. He put the opposition in jail.

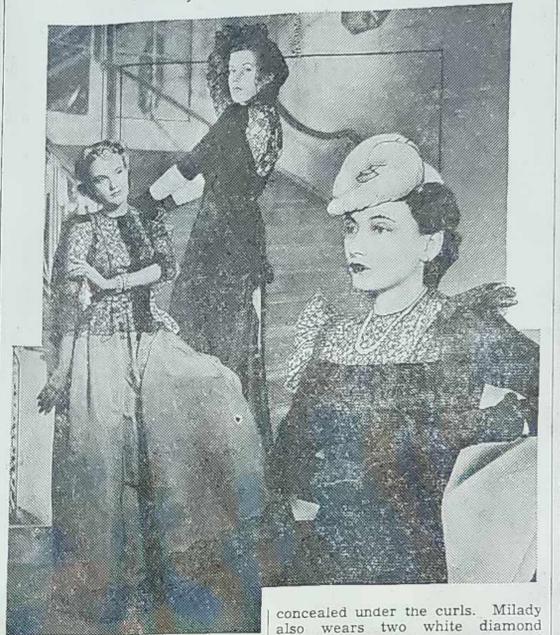

He has the cleanest of the Latin-American countries and boasts that there is neither crime nor unemployment in Santo Domingo. He decreed that all automobiles should have lettered on their license plates, "Viva Trujillo!" He also had Congress officially proclaim him, "benefactor of the fatherland."

He has a beautiful residential estate, patrolled night and day by the army, and three country estates, where meals are served on schedule, as he is apt to appear anywhere, any time—and he really is.

Every citizen carries a police card and is under the all-seeing eye of an omniscient police service. Nine high-powered automobiles, two ocean-going ships and a 345-foot mahogany-decked yacht keep the general on the move. He builds roads, bridges and factories, dredges swamps and reclaims land and builds up a dazzling wardrobe of uniform and diplomatic apparel, with duplicates for any of his palaces. He got a bad press in connection with the wholesale killings on the Haitian border in 1937, but he had a ready answer and he's still the boss.

Sheerest Black Lace Is Used In Unique and Fetching Ways

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

INTO the story of modern costume design the black magic of exquisitely sheer lace is writing a chapter of fascinating interest. The latest discovery about black lace is that instead of being "oldish" looking, as we were once led to believe, it really is as flattering to the debutante as it is to the woman who registers in the "life-begins-at-forty" class.

Note how artfully handsome black lace is introduced in the fashions pictured. If you are invited to an important function you could not make a more suitable choice than a gown of shimmering, crisp yellow tulle jacketed with a basque of fine black lace beautifully fashioned and daintily transparent, as shown in the illustration, to the left. A flattering lace jacket of this type is a grand possession, for you can wear it with various costumes. Being high necked and having three-quarter sleeves, it is not too formal for your "at home" receptions nor too informal for an important party elsewhere. The quaint use of wide black lace to border the yards and yards around hemline adds infinitely to the chic of this adorable gown.

With a dress so distinctive as this of course one will want a few superb jewels to flash forth fire and beauty. The ornament worn at the hairline in Hollywood style, is a new "headgem" worth noting, being a yellow diamond set in Spanish gold. It is suspended on a ribbon

Ornate Detail

Black and yellow braid in a scroll patterning has been used in a bolero fashion on an afternoon dress of teal blue sheer wool as pictured at the top. A broad girde of self fabric forms the wide corselet. Her black hat has a blue snood at the back. A smart version of the separate blouse and skirt for informal evenings is shown below.

Embroidery and quilting on the white crepe blouse, the outline stitch done in gold thread is very effective. This two-piece is practical because either piece may be worn with another mate. This blouse would look well with a street length skirt for less formal occasion. Braiding, embroidery and other ornate surface work continues to flourish in the spring mode.

Picked Up in Studios of Style Designers

Evening shoes are often elaborate and trimmed with black lace. Paris beauty specialists are launching new colors for finger-nails. Turbans are being worn with everything from dinner clothes to slacks. Bold geometric prints, cubes and stripes appear in some of the slira evening frocks for resort and early spring wear.

Amber Toned Frock Has Strong Appeal

A delicate sheer fabric and heavy silk jersey, both in a creamy amber tone, are combined in a romantic evening gown designed by Edith Head. The dress itself is made of sheer silk, cut with a swirling circular skirt and a bodice styled like a basque sweater. The bodice is embroidered in ropelike bands of gold threads and the whole creation is worn over a slip of matching silk jersey.

Flower Jewelry Is Harbinger of Spring

If you want to feel the exuberance of spring tingling through your veins and if you want to cause others to feel just like that at sight of you, be one of the first to brighten your costume with an ensemble of enamel flower jewelry. One of the prettiest designs is a bib necklace made of yellow-centered white enamel daisies. And here's good news—you can get bracelet and clips to match. With the new pastel frock you are wearing under your coat, a necklace of pearl material blown up into featherweight colorful flowers will be delectable. These perfectly charming flower gadgets do wonders for black or navy frocks. And do these gaily colorful jewelry flowerets flatter? Well, just look in the mirror and see.

There Were Two Irishmen—

By J. Y. BARBER (McClure Syndicate—WNU Service.)

SEUMAS GAVAN was Number One man and the only Irishman in the fourth ward—and there wasn't the whisper of a doubt about that. On Monday he lamented the need of hiring a dago to tend bar for him in his South street speakeasy, but by Saturday he was glad of it. Irishmen aren't temperamentally suited for co-operative occupations; they won't do as they're told. He was glad his blue-eyed Kathleen never argued with her father.

"Way back in the ancestry there may have been some weak strain that accounted for her passivity. It made Seumas more conscious than ever that he was the only Irishman in the ward. The only man of intellect and discernment, he'd almost say, except for that scavenger of the streets, Adolphus Gonwerz, whose insufferable exposures appeared now and again beneath the scrofulous lines of the local paper.

"Was a black day indeed when Kathleen met Adolphus Gonwerz in the bar where Kathleen had no business at all. And a curse on the day when she came to her kind old father, him that was nearly killed with worry over trying to get a respectable liquor license, to ask his good will to their marriage.

"He's not the man," Seumas said abruptly.

"How, not the man?" Kathleen said, too quietly even for her.

"He's the sort," said Seumas, "who writes about people that have died of murder. And it's insulting, he is, when he blackguards some worthy citizen in public life."

Seumas knew he would have no trouble with gentle Kathleen. She would not, she said, let him alone. She said why she wouldn't and it took her five minutes to say it.

"Bu-but, he's a drinking man, he is," Seumas said with appeal. "He drinks like a fish and he be no good at all."

"Aye," said Kathleen, "and that coming from you! May God have mercy on your soul for the narrowness of your heart. You've little to do to speak of that when it's your own grog he drinks. And it isn't true that he's no good. He's the best newspaper man in the town. And I like him. I love him!"

The debate had reached a point where Seumas realized he would have to assert himself. He leaned forward in his chair. He hissed softly. "I could break him. You know my power when I want to use it. Frame him! How would you like that?"

But Kathleen never moved. She looked at her father boldly. "Aye," she said. "Well, two can play at that game—if it's a fight you're looking for!" And with that she ran out of the room and out of the house and he didn't see her for days. The shame of it!

"I want to see her just try and marry that spalpeen!" Seumas said to himself all day on Friday. Customers heard him as he whispered under his breath. They thought he was reciting the list of witnesses who would appear when he came up for his license hearing on the morrow and they let him concentrate.

But Seumas had forgotten all about the hearing until his attorney came down and took him to court. His reception there lulled him to contentment. Mr. Gavan was well thought of up town in certain circles. Not for long, however, did he smile benignly this way and that. His bright green eyes froze to the witness box. For there in the middle of everything sat Adolphus Gonwerz.

Not being familiar with the expedients of the newspaper business Seumas didn't know that Adolphus had merely wandered in there in the course of his routine and that in ten minutes he would be discovered by a court attaché and thrown out on his neck. Seumas' pain was so great that he beat himself upon the chest. Could Kathleen have been so angry then to put this notorious exposé onto him?

"I'm going home," he said to his attorney. "I'm sick now. No, I don't care about the license; to hell with it." And so Mr. Gavan went home feeling the power ooze out of him with every step of the way.

Evening came and Seumas Gavan in the little office that he maintained upstairs. He sat sullenly beside the speaking tube that connected his office with the bar and he wished that he had anticipated Kathleen being at least half an Irishman. That was bitter, bitter! It made him very sorry. So absorbed was he that he failed to hear the buzzer until its third buzz.

The bartender's voice floated dimly to him through the tube: "Kathleen's come home!"

"Aye," Seumas said noncommittally. He was abruptly the old Seumas and he had the look of a hawk over a calf. It would be now and he would be brief but annihilating. The bartender took up a familiar refrain:

"Adolphus Gonwerz wants to know if he's good for your daughter—and he wants to congratulate you on getting your license today, sir!"

"It was incredible!" "Ha—have I got it?" "You have!" "He is!"

WASHINGTON DAY PROGRAM Washington's birthday was celebrated Thursday, February 22, by a public grouping and continuity story of the life of Washington. The Junior American history class had charge of the production and with a few exceptions took the entire casting. The story was a success, and the students were all worked in as a part of the story.

A number of the girls have managed to carry around the idea of their occupation by that they have been covered with threads. THE BUSINESS OF CITIZENSHIP In all this business of citizenship there are two things that have to be kept in mind. One is that the affairs of government must be run by one man or by the people themselves. A dictator controlled government needs no public intelligence. Citizens do not need it. They get direction, planning, and decrees from the leader. Various appeals to the people are made by him. He will make his people economically secure, he will convince them that belonging to the crowd is individual need, or a state of emergency exists. Another device is the will of a great cause. Somebody is going to save you. A person is keen for something to live for. It is just and wise to make such an appeal if it is done sincerely, but it can be used for a bad cause—imperialism, false glorification of a race, or crude national honor.

Some more stolen wisdom To do things well requires two things—you and hours. The only chance to get things done is the "here and now." The future is a large uncharted territory. The one who charts it will get the "white meat of life's roast."

POKING IN THE CLASSES We find that the seniors are hard to work on senior English themes and bookkeeping also keeps them busy. They say, however, that they like both, but Miss Browne and Miss Dachenbach have both come to the conclusion that they need some spelling and penmanship drill along with these two subjects.

with which they worked and the patience evidenced in doing a rather monotonous job. AS WE SEE OURSELVES Cleeseville has always been a community of ideas and ideals. This is evidenced by the fact that the school district has one of the most modern one room school buildings in the county. It has indoor retiring rooms, is electrically lighted and heated by an oil burner. Then too, the board for years has paid above the average salary to its teachers, and retains the teachers for a number of years. This condition results in effective cooperation on the part of parents, school board and teacher, which accounts for the large number of people present on existing day recently. Miss Loreta Goetz, the teacher, presented the culminating activity of a unit on safety.

SELLING YOURSELF Selling yourself is your ability to make somebody think you are an important person. You have to sell yourself to your first graders, by making them love their work; you have to sell yourself to the upper grade pupils by your ability to keep them efficiently supplied; you have to sell yourself to the school board by being a good school manager. If you sell yourself to all the groups you become a "big shot" in their estimation. That in the end is what selling yourself means; you make yourself important to people singly, in groups, or in public mass.

Another similar organization, namely, the American Student Union, met in national convention in Madison in December and was addressed by Earl Browder and adopted similar resolutions, and while the rank and file of the membership may not be associated with Communism, the fact is that many of the executive offices and committees dictating policy have been shown to be actual members of the Young Communist League, which in turn is dominated and controlled by the Communist party of America, which in turn takes its orders direct from Moscow.

I want the people of the Sixth Congressional District whom I have the honor to represent to know that I shall continue the fight in which I have been vigorously engaged on the floor of the House to expose these Communist influences and groups to the end that they may be thoroughly unroofed to the public view. I am convinced that when the American people realize that Communists owe no loyalty to the United States but have secretly pledged loyalty to the Soviet government of Russia and take orders from Stalin, they will demand vigorous action on the part of Congress to stamp out such destructive forces within our government. I realize as well as any person the tremendous problems that confront the youth of America today, and the open field that exists for the promotion of Communist propaganda among all classes of unemployed and disturbed citizens.

WASHINGTON NEWS FROM CONGRESSMAN FRANK B. KEEFFE

PUBLIC DETERMINED TO GET RID OF COMMUNISM The persistent and continuing work of committees and individuals in Congress determined to protect our democracy and constitutional government is beginning to make itself felt. The Communist front organization known as the League for World Peace and Democracy has disbanded and come out of business. The American Civil Liberties Union has taken definite action to expel Communists from their executive positions and all along the line a healthy public sentiment appears to be developing, manifesting that the American public is determined to expose and get rid of the internal threat of Communist dictatorship.

However, a great deal of work must still be done, as is evidenced by the fact that Communist elements in the American Youth Congress were defended by no less a person than Mrs. Roosevelt herself. She has at all times taken the position that Communist organizations have a right to share in the deliberations and activities of the American Youth Congress, and while I do not believe that the first lady of the land has in any manner placed her seal of approval upon Communism, yet the constant invitation of Communists to the White House gives aid and protection to them.

Invited to Conference Last Monday night Mrs. Roosevelt invited 15 senators and 27 representatives to a conference at the White House at which representatives of the American Youth Congress were in attendance. It is interesting to note whom she selected from the House to attend this conference. Of the 27 House members invited, there were listed 16 of the 27 who voted against continuing the Dies Committee investigation. Of the other 11, two were members of the Dies Committee—Representative Casey of Massachusetts and Representative Voorhis of California. One invited, a Representative from Pennsylvania, did not vote either way on the Dies resolution. Of the remaining 9 an investigation discloses that three are members of the House Appropriations committee, one the majority leader, and the other four, representatives who are extremely interested in the NYA and its work.

These simple facts ought to demonstrate the attitude of the White House toward this organization. The American Youth Congress has been under heavy fire by the Dies Committee and patriotic organizations, and while it is absolutely true that the great majority of young people connected with that organization have no association with Communists nor any other subversive groups, the fact remains that the Young Communist League has at all times exercised an influence in the American Youth Congress far out of proportion to its size.

FINLAND IS CONDEMNED At a recent meeting in New York of about 1000 members of the American Youth Congress, the group adopted resolutions with only five dissenting votes indicating its condemnation of Finland as being an "aggression nation against Soviet Russia," and condemning any action of the government that might render aid to Finland.

Another similar organization, namely, the American Student Union, met in national convention in Madison in December and was addressed by Earl Browder and adopted similar resolutions, and while the rank and file of the membership may not be associated with Communism, the fact is that many of the executive offices and committees dictating policy have been shown to be actual members of the Young Communist League, which in turn is dominated and controlled by the Communist party of America, which in turn takes its orders direct from Moscow.

I want the people of the Sixth Congressional District whom I have the honor to represent to know that I shall continue the fight in which I have been vigorously engaged on the floor of the House to expose these Communist influences and groups to the end that they may be thoroughly unroofed to the public view.
