Attend the County Fair This Week End

The old saying, "bigger and better than ever," may appear to be a trite expression but is definitely true when applied to the 1949 Washington county 4-H club fair, now running at the Slinger fairgrounds. Every foot of available exhibit and concession space is taken. About 20 tents were erected to shelter overflow livestock entries and the many commercial exhibits being shown at the fair. Included in this group of tents is one 50x100 foot tent under the supervision of the Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co. This tent features all types of electrical appliances for the home and farm use. Much farm machinery, furniture and household furnishings are on display.

An increased 4-H enrollment in the county helped to fill the tables and shelves of the main exhibit, building with clothing, canning, baking, vegetables and many other exhibits.

The Snapp shows and rides on the midway have a total of 13 rides, including a new ropeplane and a new ghost train. Five shows, including a motordrome, circus side show, and a trained animal show, all new features, are being shown on the midway for your entertainment.

A band concert and stage show is presented nightly beginning at 8:00 o'clock, also an afternoon program on Sunday.

Admission and parking are free. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend their county fair which ends Sunday.

Camera, Birdie Await Kewaskum's Kiddies at the Woodman Hall

Thursday, Aug. 4, is the big day for the picture taking of your youngsters! The Statesman is having pictures taken of all children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the Modern Woodman hall between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. absolutely free of charge. The Wolts Studios of Des Moines, Iowa, nationally known children's photographers, will be in charge of the photography. The Statesman wants a picture of your child to print in its forthcoming feature "Citizens of Tomorrow," a series of photographic studies of local children. The more we get the better the feature will be, so the cooperation of mothers and fathers is urged.

It often seems to parents that children are little one minute and are grown up the next, so fast does a child's growing stage pass. Here is a splendid opportunity to catch a likeness of your child or children at this present stage for the pleasure you will get out of it in future years and for the pleasure you will enjoy in seeing it in print. You will want to clip it from this, your home town newspaper, and preserve it for the youngsters when he or she grows up.

There is absolutely no charge or obligation for taking the pictures. Parents don't even have to be subscribers to the Statesman, nor even a reader. You do not have to purchase pictures either, though you may obtain a limited number of additional prints by arranging direct with the studio if you want them. That is entirely up to you! There is no age limit.

That children are looking forward to the fun, since our previous announcement of this coming event, is shown in numerous instances.

Games this Sunday—Granville at Kewaskum, Lannon at Mequon, Grafton at Menomonee Falls, Germantown bye.

The Utensils lost one by the skin of their teeth Sunday at Germantown when they were shaded, 7-6. Mequon gained a tie for the lead with Lannon by beating Falls. This tie will not be for long because Lannon and Mequon clash this Sunday.

Kewaskum's defeat was a tough one to absorb considering that the team outfit Germantown, 15 to 8, almost two to one but they couldn't push them across often enough when the opportunity was there. Heading the Utensils' barrage at the plate was Paul Krai, who connected safely four times in five trips, one going for two bases. Marx, Held and W. Tessar each lashed out two hits apiece. One of Tessar's blows was a long homer, Jim Simik of the losers tanned the horsehide for three safeties, including a homer and double.

John Tessar was on the bill for the Utensils. He pitched six and two-thirds frames, giving up seven bingles, whiffing three and walking eight. Marx relieved him in the sixth after Tessar had walked two and given up three successive hits—Marx put out the fire, allowing only one more hit and whiffing one. Schoeni stuck out the entire game for Germantown although he was pounded hard.

Rivers 9 Wins Double Header; in 2nd Place

The Hotack Chevrolets swept a doubleheader from Jackson Sunday and in taking the twin bill ran their streak to six victories in a row. The twin killing also elevated the team to unduplicated second place in the circuit, only one-half game behind Allenton. The league lead will be decided this Sunday when Kewaskum plays at Allenton. The scores at Jackson were 10-3 in the first game and 14-6 in the nightcap. One of the games was a postponed affair from earlier in the season. Both were seven-inning affairs.

Because Honeck wasn't feeling right "Hefty" Backhaus started both games. He finished the first contest and did an A-1 job, allowing only five hits, striking out eight and walking but one. Schmidt worked the first six frames for Jackson, giving up six hits, whiffing seven, and walking four. Heideke pitched the last inning and was touched for two bingles.

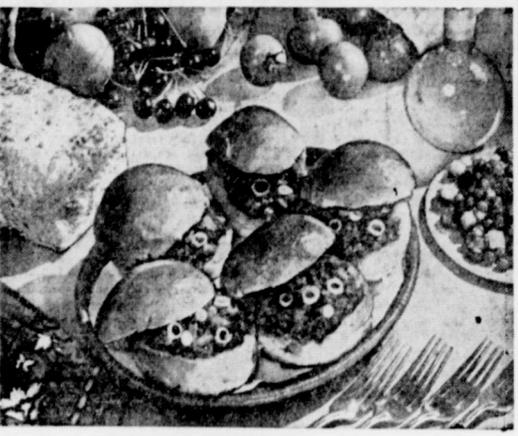

With one game already under the belt, Beckhaus did not have his usual effectiveness at the start of the second tussle. After giving up four hits and two runs in the first two frames, walking one and whiffing two, Honeck gave up six hits the rest of the way, striking out five. Jackson used three hurlers, Heideke, Gumm and Otting. Between them they struck out only two and Heideke walked one. Kewaskum pounded out 13 safeties off this trio. The teams were tied going into the last inning, 5-5, but then the locals went on a spree and before their half of the inning was over nine tallies had crossed the platter.

Krueger was the hitting ace in the opener, connecting for three safeties, including a double and homer. Dreher, Petermann and Korth each got two. Laduha was the only Jackson man with two. The big bats of Edwards, A. Bilgo and Petermann were responsible for nine of the teams 13 hits in the nightcap. Each collected three. One of Edwards' blows was a home run and Korth and Gumm also banged out round trippers. Herman slapped out three for three for Jackson.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Serve Juicy 'Burgers on your Picnic! (See Recipes Below)

Picnic Plans

WHEN YOU PLAN an outing good food that will please everyone has to be part of the picnic plan. In addition to this, have a "packable" lunch that you can carry in a shopping bag, string sack, bandana or hamper. The less preparation you have at the picnic grounds where everyone will be famishing, the better will be the lunch. If you want to cook the hamburgers or ribs or frankfurters on an outdoor grill, that's all to the good, since this whets appetite to a tantalizing sharpness. However, if you have to wash fruits and vegetables, and pare or scrape them when you get there, this may seem like something of a chore. These are things that can be done much more easily at home.

A SAVORY, well-seasoned meat should be the main interest of the lunch, however. For some this may be old-fashioned picnic "burgers, roasted frankfurters or barbecued ribs. These are easy to serve on buns which can be purchased ready made, and then simply split and buttered and even toasted while the meat cooks.

Picnic 'Burgers (Makes 12 'Burgers)
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat
1 pound ground beef
1/2 pound ground veal
1/2 pound ground pork
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 dozen hamburger buns

Brown onion in fat in a large skillet. Add meats, salt, pepper, soy sauce and dry mustard. Cook over low heat for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Split hamburger buns and fill with meat mixture. Top with picnic sauce:
1 cup tomato sauce, catsup or chili sauce
1/2 cup cider vinegar
6 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1/2 cup chopped green olives
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

Mix all ingredients together in a saucepan and cook gently over low heat for one-half hour, stirring occasionally. This makes two cups of sauce.
Is it barbecued ribs that you like on your picnic? Here's a delicious and easy way to prepare them: cook the ribs in a pressure saucepan at home to speed the process and then finish in the oven or at the picnic grounds in a skillet, basting them with the sauce.

'Barbecued Spareribs (Serves 5-6)
3 pounds spareribs, cut in pieces
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup water

When broiling meat on an outdoor grill, trim off excess fat and snip the edges so the pieces of meat won't curl. Let the fire burn down to red coals, then set a grill three to five inches above the coals and start broiling meat before flames die down.

When using a skillet on an outside grill, set it about 5 inches above the coals.
If you are using sauces for the meat, keep down the fat amount and use more catsup or chili sauce. The fat splutters!

To manage coffee, sugar and cream easily, place them in those drip-proof syrup pitchers.
When serving a large crowd with the hot coffee, place the filled cups on a shallow wooden box to prevent spilling hot coffee on someone's lap.
Before placing a utensil on the flame, rub it with a bar of wet soap. Then the soot which collects can be wiped off easily.

Before iron skillets and griddles are put away for another season, rub them thoroughly with unsalted fat and store in a dry place to prevent rusting.

Hashed Potatoes (Serves 6)
8 potatoes, cooked in jackets
4 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
3/8 teaspoon pepper
1 cup light cream or top milk
Peel and dice potatoes and cook in butter until slightly browned. Add seasonings. About five minutes before serving, add the cream and heat thoroughly.

Summer Cabbage Slaw (Serves 6)
3 ripe tomatoes, diced
1 1/2 cups finely shredded cabbage
1 cup sliced green onions
3/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon pepper
5 tablespoons light cream
1 1/2 tablespoons vinegar
Lettuce
Combine all vegetables in salad bowl. Add seasonings. Blend together cream and vinegar and pour over salad. Toss lightly and serve on lettuce.

A THOROUGHLY CHILLED watermelon makes delicious eating at a picnic. However, any of these other fruits, washed and well chilled before being wrapped, are excellent for a dessert choice: peaches, pears, apricots, cherries or other berries, grapes or melons.
One or two kinds of cookies make an appealing accompaniment for the fruit. You'll like either this:
Butterscotch Bars (Makes 3 dozen)
1/2 cup butter
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup chopped nuts
Melt butter in a heavy saucepan. Add sugar and bring to a boil over low heat, stirring constantly. Cool. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly. Stir in vanilla, then flour which has been sifted with baking powder. Fold in nuts. Pour into a greased and floured 7 x 9 inch pan and bake in a moderate (350°) oven for 30-35 minutes. Cool, then cut in bars.

When broiling meat on an outdoor grill, trim off excess fat and snip the edges so the pieces of meat won't curl. Let the fire burn down to red coals, then set a grill three to five inches above the coals and start broiling meat before flames die down.
When using a skillet on an outside grill, set it about 5 inches above the coals.
If you are using sauces for the meat, keep down the fat amount and use more catsup or chili sauce. The fat splutters!
To manage coffee, sugar and cream easily, place them in those drip-proof syrup pitchers.
When serving a large crowd with the hot coffee, place the filled cups on a shallow wooden box to prevent spilling hot coffee on someone's lap.
Before placing a utensil on the flame, rub it with a bar of wet soap. Then the soot which collects can be wiped off easily.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Mother's Tragedy

IN A TRAGIC letter from a north-Iowa town, Estelle Owens asks me for advice that is painful to give. Everything about mental illness is excruciatingly painful for all concerned, and in Estelle's case the patient is her dearly loved mother.
"I am 36, married to a fine man and with three daughters aged 14, 12 and 6," writes Estelle. "My brother, happily married, has four very small sons. We two are the sole support of our mother, who for more than four years has been an inmate of a private asylum. The charges for her care are $300 monthly, exclusive of such extra expenses as X-rays, clothing, dental plates and other details outside the regular routine.

"She shares a room with two other cases; with another 3-bed ward they have their own bathroom. But naturally she is not permitted freedom to bathe, and all doors and windows are locked at all times.
"My husband and my brother's wife are understanding and generous in this situation, for we all love—or did love, my mother," the letter goes on. "But we are faced now by the impossibility of continuing this arrangement, and I write to ask you if you know of any less expensive, perhaps semi-private institution? We could pay a hundred a month. To whom should we apply for information on this point?"

Disposed of Savings
"We have disposed of all our savings, cashed war bonds, and I am turning over every penny I make in boarding and tending small children, but it is not enough.
"We have determined among ourselves, and promised her, that we never will consider a public insane asylum for Mama, whose heart would break if we could be so hinted at. If we cannot have her in our home as she has irrational intervals when she is dangerous. But we are given hope of a cure

... food is poor in institutions ...
In her case, as the injury to the brain may absorb. Often it causes delusions, but at times she is just Mama again. Please help us to solve this agonizing problem."

Estelle, my answer is that you and your brother are risking your own marital happiness by this unrealistic attitude toward what is a terrible tragedy.
But the sensible course for you, the most hopeful and promising one, the least expensive and the most responsible, is to place your mother in the state institution, and begin to work for her comfort, your own, your husband's and your children's welfare, from there.

Dangerous Burden
You and your brother are putting a dangerous burden upon the generosity of your mates, and it is important to stop that at once. Worry about money, discussion of the waste of it, payment of outrageous charges and unexpected expenses creates a strain that no marriage can long endure.

For every reason your mother should be moved at once to the state asylum. Terrible words, aren't they? But so are the facts. In the public institution she will be much more intelligently handled, she will have access to modern and expensive methods and equipment not available in any private asylum, and — and note this carefully — it will be to no one's financial interest to keep her there.
It has been my experience, in the last two years, to make many visits to one of California's largest insane asylums. There are some fearful cases there, shut away from human sight, of course. But there are also scores of borderline cases; not a week goes by but what some sobered, healthy, cured woman returns to her home. There are sun-drenched wards containing ten or a dozen smooth beds each—oh, I've gone in at all hours unexpectedly and always found them so. There are long dining tables covered with white cloths, set decently with glass and china.
(The food is poor in all institutions.) The food in the army, in boarding schools, in boarding houses, is notoriously uninteresting. In the asylum I know, my patient complains loudly of meat loaf and fish chowder, meat loaf and fish chowder endlessly. The bread—oh, that's good. Milk? Yes, she gets a quart a day. Jam? Oh, yes, they are putting up cherries and apricots now. Sometimes she has to wipe dishes, clear tables. Sometimes she shells peas, peels potatoes. Every bright day she is out in the open.

If your mother is well enough to appreciate what sacrifices, what wreckage of your affairs and cost to your nerves are involved in the present arrangement, she should be the first to advocate the change. But whether she does or not, don't risk going on the way you are now or you'll all be lost.
One more consideration: your interest in, your visits to your own state asylum may be the means of a more general knowledge of one of the things for which we pay taxes, to make life bearable for our less fortunate friends.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Are there people who can't give you a straight answer?"
Answer: Yes. You will meet people who find it almost impossible to make a direct statement, even about the weather. It may be because as children they were criticized or punished so severely when they tried to do things on their own initiative that they dare not take a definite stand on anything whatever. Or they may be temperamentally "ambivalent" (facing both ways emotionally) and so obsessed by their inner contradictions that they cannot see one side of any question without being conscious that perhaps there is another.

Do deaf people feel more "isolated" than blind ones?
Answer: Yes, reports psychologist Helton McAndrew of Duke University in the Journal of Abnormal and Social Psychology. Tests showed that whereas blind children are aware of physical isolation, deaf ones feel mentally and socially isolated. In general, deaf children are less adaptable and less responsive, with a tendency to follow rigid patterns of behavior, presumably on the basis of the need a person who is unsure of himself has to "play safe." A comparison of deaf and blind adults might well show similar differences.

Is asthma primarily an "allergy"?
Answer: As a rule, No, write two members of the staff of New York Hospital in the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases. In but two of 51 cases of bronchial asthma was there any positive connection between the asthmatic symptoms and the patient's response to skin tests for allergic reactions, while in 32 cases the symptoms appeared after some sort of emotional disturbance, and in several others emotional factors were clearly involved. Even safely inhaled large quantities of "pollen sensitive" patients could pollen if their minds were at rest.

'Cancer' Causes Mental Agony
By Dr. James W. Barton
A FEW YEARS ago, if a physician told a patient that the symptoms of which he complained were caused by heart disease, the patient believed himself doomed. Today, most of us know that even if we have heart disease, we can live for years if we follow our doctor's advice and "take it easy."
Even in cases of high blood pressure and a vessel carrying blood to the heart muscle being clogged up or broken (coronary thrombosis), it is known that with care and rest, diet and exercise, further attacks may not occur and, that if they do occur they may not cause death. While the words "heart disease" and "coronary thrombosis" still may strike fear in our hearts, it is the word "cancer" that causes great fear and continuous worry, which really is chronic fear.
In the "American Journal of Psychiatry," Dr. J. B. Ficarra states that the word "cancer" stirs a tempest of mental agony. Because so many cases of cancer are not discovered until too late to save life, the family and relatives are told of the cancer, but in most cases the patient is not told although he may suspect the cause of his symptoms.
Strange as it seems, it is known that the young patient withstands the knowledge that he has cancer better than his family and relatives; he appears to be able to face his fate better than older patients. In elderly patients the sense of impending death is ever present. Old people fear it and are more nervous about it than young adults.
While some ailments cause nervous symptoms and the patient believes he has heart, kidney or other disease, the majority of patients who really have cancer do not "imagine" they have cancer. It is often the non-cancerous patient who believes he has cancer.

HEALTH NOTES

One of the jobs of the liver is manufacturing bile which breaks up fats for digestion. It is an anti-septic, destroying harmful organisms and a natural purgative preventing constipation.
Physicians believe that lack of rest does more harm to the body and brain than does the prescription of a quieting drug.
Every day we see epileptic children at school and camps, and epileptic adults gainfully employed in offices and factories. This great change has been brought about by research workers in epilepsy, who are now able to distinguish between epileptic and other mental and emotional ailments.
While there is no question that vitamin B1 helps the highstrung, nervous, hard-working individual, physicians say many who take the vitamin only think they are helped.

How It Started...

DUTCH AUCTION—"Dutch auction" is the name given to an auction operated in reverse. Instead of an article being offered for sale to the highest bidder, it is first priced and then sold, if necessary, at a lower figure although that lower figure, of course, is the highest anyone offers.
JINGOES—"Jingoes" are the blustering kind of patriots. The word comes from a music hall song popular at the end of the last century when there was some chance of the U. S. taking part in the Russo-Turkish war. A line of the song declared, "We don't want to fight, but, by jingo, if we do..."

Smile Awhile

It was during Franklin D. Roosevelt's third term that a grammar-school pupil was asked how he was getting along with his studies. He explained that he studied just hard enough to get passing grades.
"Oh, that will never do," said his shocked aunt, "don't you know that if you don't study very hard you will never grow up to be President of the United States?"
"I don't expect to, anyway," replied the lad with complete lack of ambition, "I'm a Republican."
An Englishman was sent by his company to investigate the possibilities of drilling oil wells in the wilds of Venezuela. He had been there a few days and had become quite chummy with a man who spoke English well. He was uncertain, however, of the man's nationality. He might have been an American or he might have been a Venezuelan who had learned English.
One day the Englishman asked the man, "Are you a foreigner here, too?"
The fellow gazed at him indignantly. "Foreigner?" he demanded wrathfully. "No! I'm an American."
An American general, attending an official dinner in London, found himself seated next to a Chinese. Figuring the man knew little or no English, he avoided speaking to him on his right. He felt, though, that he should give the Chinese some attention so after the soup plates had been removed he turned to the Chinese and asked, "Likee soup?" The man seemed startled at first but smiled and nodded his head. Nothing more was said.
After dessert and coffee the general suddenly became aware of the fact that his Chinese neighbor was standing and speaking brilliantly in perfect English. The American general fidgeted most uncomfortably for the full ten-minute speech.
As he sat down, Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese Ambassador and a graduate of Columbia University and Oxford, turned to the general and asked with a justifiable amount of sarcasm, "Likee speechee?"

Mosquito Net Saves Two From Charging Elephant

LONDON.—An elephant stampede was described in Salisbury by Capt. and Mrs. Bertie Celliers, Rhodesian hunters. They came upon tracks of elephants which natives said had been wrecking their huts.
The couple camped at night atop a high knoll and hung their double mosquito net from a tree. Thinking they were safe, they left their rifles 30 yards away. Awakened at dawn by a bull elephant heading straight toward them, they fled.
They saw the animal tear their net from the tree with his trunk. It got entangled in his tusks and swung over his head.
Terrified, he rushed back to his herd, but his ghostly appearance so scared them that they crashed away in panic. The faster he ran the faster they fled. They ran 18 miles.

Safety Alarm

Marbles can be used as a safety alarm to keep from burning the bottom out of a double boiler. Keep two or three in the pot all the time; when the water gets dangerously low, the marbles will dance up and down making a fearful racket to warn you that more water is needed.

Onion Odor

To eliminate the odor from a kitchen knife that's been used to cut up onions, hold the blade over the flame of a match. Don't hold it too long, though, and don't hold it over a gas flame because prolonged intense heat will spoil the temper of the blade.

Opening Cans

When you have trouble opening a tin can, you'll be able to get a tighter grip on it if you remove the paper label.

Towel Rack

A handy rack for your kitchen towels can be made by tacking a pinch-type clothespin to the wall near the sink. Or use a small spring mousetrap.

Pot Holders

Make your own pot holders by cutting squares from the unworn parts of discarded Turkish towels; set two squares together to make one good pot holder.

Polishing Stove

Before blackening or polishing a stove — especially if rust is present — go over it with sandpaper or emery cloth. If grease is on the stove, rub it first with a raw onion and then with newspaper.

Defrosting Refrigerator

To speed up the defrosting process in your refrigerator, remove the ice from the trays, fill them with boiling water and put them back in the freezing compartment.

Mighty Mite

The smallest stone breaker ever made to produce crushed stone by breaking it while in suspension is the Model 1212 double impeller breaker recently announced by the manufacturer. The mighty mite weighs four tons and takes stone up to 12 inches in size. It operates with whirling impellers which catch incoming stone and keep the pieces smashing against breaker bars until they are the right size desired. The impellers in the machine weigh a half-ton each.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Atlantic Pact Called War-Breeder; Truman Decries Economic 'Gloom'; Committee Slashes Funds for ERP

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

PEACE PACT: Avenue to War?

As he did in the Taft-Hartley repeal fight, Sen. Robert Taft (R., Ohio) would lead the opposition to senate ratification of the Atlantic pact. That is the treaty in which America joins its western allies in an agreement that an attack upon all—and that a signatory nation may take any reprisal steps it deems fit.

IN HIS SPEECH to the senate, Taft declared the pact was "inextricably linked" to the rearming of Europe, insisted this would lead to an armament race and pointed out that "armament races lead to war."

Thus did a highly effective senator most coherently raise the question of whether the pact really means peace or war. Taft was not without support in his conception of the pact's potentialities. Five senators jumped to their feet to applaud his remarks, and some 12 or 15 senators were applauding at the end.

This was construed by some observers as indicating the extent of the opposition. Taft was not wholly against the pact, despite his ringing denunciation. He asserted that, even now, he would be willing to change his mind if a reservation could be incorporated into ratification making plain that the treaty did not bind America to furnish arms.

Said Taft: "There is no question that the arms program and the treaty were negotiated together. There is no question in my mind that foreign nations which signed the treaty regarded the providing of arms as an essential part of it. . . if we ratify the pact and fail to furnish the military aid, I believe we will at once be accused of repudiation, and the pact will be completely discredited."

ERP FUNDS: Slash Voted

There appeared to be a change of sentiment regarding aid to Marshall plan countries. The senate appropriations committee had voted to slash 10 per cent from second-year funds asked for the activity.

The committee also tied up 50 million dollars of what was left in order to cut Spain in on the European recovery program should the administration see fit. The program would get something more than 3.75 billions. President Truman had asked approximately 4.20 billions. A committee member disclosed that one group within the membership had attempted to chop 19 per cent off the requested appropriation.

Chairman McKeller (D., Tenn.) estimated that the committee cut approximately 749 million dollars from President Truman's budget estimates for actual appropriations in foreign spending, which includes other programs besides the Marshall plan.

The sum voted for the Marshall plan would be spread over the 12 months ending June 30, 1950. This was nearly 210 million more than the house had voted—but the house bill would have permitted expenditure of the fund in 10½ months if necessary.

A committee aide explained to Washington newsmen that unless the loan is made to Spain, the withheld 50 million dollars could not be used for any other purpose.

RENT CONTROLS

Average 9,300 Units Being Freed Daily

According to recent dispatches out of Washington, rental dwellings have been coming off the control list at an average rate of 9,300 a day since the new rent law went into operation on April first.

Rent officials said, however, that few of the decontrol actions had affected any large metropolitan areas, and that some 14 million units still remained under the control.

JOBS:

Fewer & Fewer If there were any graphic proof needed of the continuing scarcity of jobs in the United States, it was provided by an instance in Pittsburgh.

A northside food processing plant needed five workmen. The company inserted a help-wanted ad in the newspapers. The ad offered "good, clean factory work."

Wrong Job?

You may be happy in your work and pleased with your occupational niche, but the fellow at the desk or machine next to you may not be.

It is the opinion of Robert C. Woellner, Chicago university professor, that at least half of all adults definitely are misplaced, or could have been better placed if modern vocational methods had been available during their formative years.

U.S. ECONOMY:

Truman Concedes

While there was some measure of contradiction in concept, President Truman, in his message to congress on the economic state of the nation had conceded that recession forces were alive.

However, in a neat bit of linguistic maneuvering, he declared the current situation one in which the national economy was in orderly retreat from a serious inflation. At the same time, however paradoxical the warning might seem, he declared that there could be no "greater economic folly" than an attempt to balance the federal budget in a "declining national economy."

He highlighted the contradiction by adding that such a move would only aggravate the recession forces against which his new policy was directed.

OF CHIEF INTEREST in his report was his abandonment of an earlier plan to demand four billion dollars in additional taxes. He lightly dismissed this former policy with the statement: "No major increase in taxes should be undertaken at this time." Instead, he proposed liberalization of allowances for past losses in computing income taxes and increasing estate and gift taxes.

The President's obvious reversal of policy was held to be little less pronounced than the findings of his council of economic advisors on whose report the President's message was based. They found that since January the forces threatening stability had become predominantly deflationary and that the weakening of markets had become general.

KRUG:

A Denial Drew Pearson was in hot water again. Generally accused of partial responsibility in the suicidal death of former defense secretary James Forrestal, the newspaper and radio columnist had reported the U. S. interior secretary Krug was very ill with "athlete's heart."

In a letter to Pearson, Krug's physician, Dr. R. Layman Sexton, asserted Krug is completely well and able to do twice the work of the average person.

Wherever one stood on the propriety of Pearson's discussion of the health of top government officials, it would be remembered that several of his reports on the condition of Forrestal's health—originally denied by the navy—were later admitted.

REUTHER:

Still on Top

With red-thatched, fiery Walter Reuther still at the helm, the United Auto Workers union, numbering some million members, could be expected to hold firm in any demands made for wage increases or social benefits.

BRUSHING aside token opposition from UAW's left wing elements, Reuther was elected to a third term as UAW president by a top-heavy majority. The voting which reelected Reuther was a new triumph for the right-wing forces in the union which catapulted him into office in 1946 and rewarded him with control of the other international offices and the board at the 1947 convention. His new term will expire in April, 1951.

UAW DELEGATES moved into the election of top officers after hearing Leon Keyserling, of President Truman's council of economic advisers, tell them that "as a general proposition the kind of wage policy which will help maintain full employment in this country, and which will maintain our economy on stable levels is one which adds to consumer purchasing power from year to year—because we have the capacity to produce more goods from year to year.

The auto workers union's big fight was with Ford motor company which, in opposing proposed wage rates, offered to peg wages at present levels for a given period, regardless of what cost-of-living developments brought about.

FORD contended the cost of living has gone down and there was no justification for pay raises, basing the argument on the UAW contract which called for pay hikes as the cost-of-living increased. Reuther opposed that line of reasoning, contending that the union's economists have proved, by a survey, that most industries can afford wage increases now.

MONOPOLY:

Clark Agitated

While President Truman was delighting business generally with his abandonment of any tax-increase proposals, U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark was agitated over the growth of "big" business and urging curbs on "concentration of economic power."

CLARK APPEARED very much disturbed by the situation and let go both barrels in his shots at big business as he testified in a congressional investigation into monopolistic practices.

He termed business monopoly an "economic blackjack" and urged that the federal government get busy doing something about it. He told a house judiciary subcommittee that many people were victims of three erroneous assumptions. He listed them as:

- 1. Assumption that competition continues to thrive as long as there are at least two or three or four in the field.
2. Assumption that the bigger the producer the better the quality of the goods and the cheaper the price to the public.
3. Assumption that companies become big because they deserve to be big—in other words, that they outdistance their competitors because they do a better job, render a greater service, or furnish better goods.

CLARK DECLARED he did not share any of these assumptions. Continuing his testimony before the committee, he said: "The fundamental issue is whether the economy of this country is to remain free and competitive, or whether it is to be subjected to private regimentation through monopoly control."

Under Fire

As an aftermath of the involved legal proceedings in the trial of Alger Hiss on a perjury charge growing out of spy investigations, Presiding Judge Samuel H. Kaufman, shown here, is under congressional fire. The senator was reported considering a probe of the conduct of the trial.

BIG STEEL:

Strike Pledged

There was trouble looming in big steel. CIO President Philip Murray had declared after fruitless government-called peace talks that a half-million steelworkers would be called out on strike at an early date.

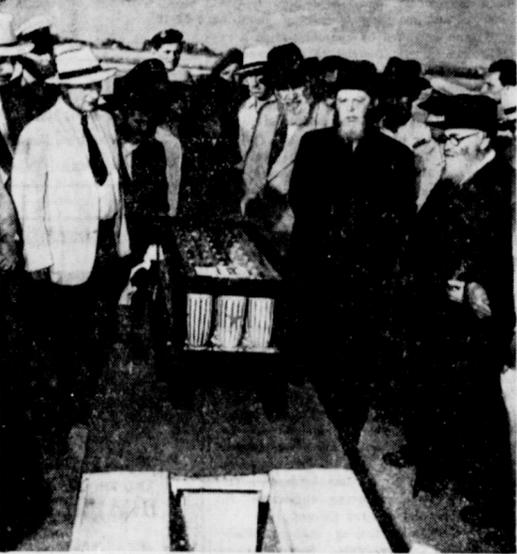

After conferences with federal conciliation director Cyrus S. Ching, the CIO chief said a "complete deadlock" The situation was critical.

Murray, who has made demands for an unspecified wage increase and pension benefits, said he would recommend a nationwide strike when his committee gathered in Philadelphia.

Murray said that the first half-million workers who walked out would be followed later by a similar number of his union as their contracts with nearly 200 basic steel and fabricating companies would expire between now and next October. It was reported that mediator Ching was ready to urge presidential intervention.

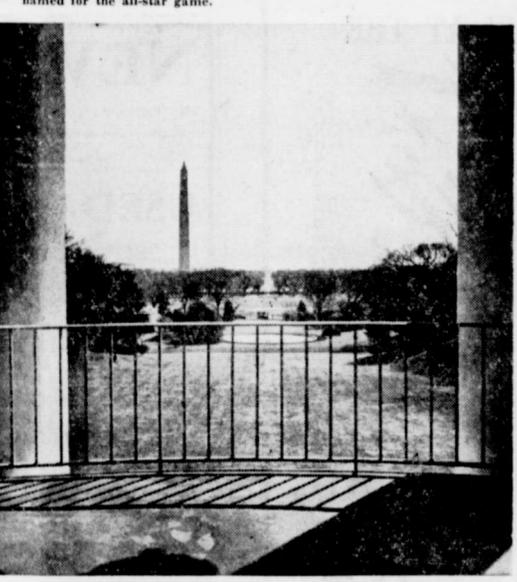

LAST SUMMER OF ROSE? . . . Tokyo Rose faces trial for treason.

JEWISH DEAD COME HOME . . . A longing experienced all through life was realized by 200,000 Jewish victims of Nazi atrocities after death when their ashes arrived in Israel, their promised land, for burial. The ashes, taken from the common graves of Austrian Jews cremated in various concentration camps, were flown to Israel in 39 urns. Here is a view of the urns, contained in a casket, after arrival at Lydda airport, Jerusalem. Religious Jews from all over the city greeted the cortege and attended the burial.

"CONGRATULATIONS JOE" . . . New York Yankee pitcher Vic Raschi (left) and Yankee catcher Yogi Berra (right) are praising outfielder Joe DiMaggio, off the sick list and going strong. Joe, who missed the first 65 games the Yankees played this season on account of a heel ailment, returned to the lineup and smacked five home runs in four days to lead the Yanks in a winning streak. To top it all, he was named for the all-star game.

BALCONY PANORAMA . . . The new balcony on the south side of the White House in Washington now is completed and here is what Mr. and Mrs. President will see as they enjoy the evening breezes on the new appendage to the executive mansion. The graceful Washington monument, a slender finger pointing to the sky, dominates the vista.

A SLIP . . . AND THE "LIP" . . . Disputing a slip of the tongue by Umpire Conlon is New York Giant manager, Leo (the Lip) Durocher, striking a natural pose at a Giant-Cub fracas at the Polo Grounds in New York. Lippy was right. The ump called two balls and a strike on batter Johnny Mize when it should have been three and one. Back on the diamond after five-day's suspension for saying the wrong thing to umpire in Chicago, Durocher is even lippier than ever.

DISSATISFIED . . . Myra Smith, 16-year-old orphan, has filed suit in Wichita, Kas., to change her guardian after charging her present guardian with refusal to allow her to accept music scholarships and other honors and a chance to go to the national camp at Interlochen, Mich.

INTENT . . . Ready for her opponent's service, Mrs. Patricia Todd of La Jolla, Calif., is shown as she advanced to the semi-finals in the Wimbledon (England) tennis championships.

PRETTY COMPETITOR . . . Miss Jacqueline Mercer, 19, Phoenix college sophomore, named "Miss Phoenix of 1949," will compete for title of "Miss Arizona" and the right to represent the state in the "Miss America" pageant of beauty at Atlantic City, N. J.

TEXAS "GAVELIER" . . . House speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), calls the house to order as the lower chamber meets in the house ways and means committee room, temporary quarters while the regular chamber was re-roofed and repaired.

EASE . . . While his Oxonian dad, Malcolm McLane, watches the boat races at Henley, England, six-month-old Robin McLane, reposes on the ground on the greensward and lazily counts his fingers. "Who cares who wins?"

Ain't It So Some fellows take longer to say good-night. It's just as the kiss may be. Virtually all our holidays were proclaimed by men. Perhaps if women set them there'd be more women golfers and women baseball experts. Echo: The only thing that ever cheated a woman out of the last word.

LAWN MOWER WITH SELF-EJECTING . . . Minneapolis Lady Asks About Waltzing Mouse . . . BLADES PRESENTS NEW PROBLEMS

By H. I. PHILLIPS

'ANSWER MAN'

Q.—Miss Sapho Hosley, Cos Cob, Conn., writes in to find out if there is such a thing as a lawn mower with self-ejecting extra blades, and, if so, where she should throw the old ones.

A.—An engineer in Cleveland, Ohio, is said to have invented a look-sharp-feel-sharp-be-sharp lawn mower with a pack of 10 blades. We forget his last name, but his first name is Esau. Old lawn mower blades should be thrown off a bridge, never put in a medicine cabinet.

Q.—Edgar Woolbaum of Delaware Water Gap asks, "How many hairs are there on the back of a bee, and is it true a bee likes them parted in the middle?"

A.—There are said to be 234,582 hairs on the back of an adult bee, provided it as never had dandruff. Drones part their hair in the middle. Busy bees have no time to bother about such things.

Q.—A lady in Minneapolis asks: "How many turns does a waltzing mouse make per minute, and is food a factor?"

A.—According to the last quarterly report of the Waltzing Mice Research Bureau, these creatures average three turns per second. This is sometimes slowed down by mice cutting in during the waltz. A pastry diet is bad, too.

Q.—A mother in Hoboken, N. J., asks: "Is it true that tattooed women are barred from Miss America contests?"

A.—No, but there seems to be no demand for them. The rules are, however, very broad. A woman in Derby, Conn., dyed her skin red, white and blue, and only lost the victory in a Miss Barber Pole of 1948 contest by three lengths.

Q.—A seamstress from Tallahassee, Fla., writes to ask: "Can corsick be used to stuff a sofa?"

A.—Yes, corsick can be used, and it is good fun, too. Short lengths of corsick make it more exciting. Golden Bantam corn is best. Some people have done wonders stuffing sofas with lint collected from black pants.

Q.—A man in Baltimore, Md., asks: "Will a halibut live in captivity, and where can halibut bowls be bought?"

A.—A man named Krosshievovitzsky in Butte, Mont., once kept a male halibut in the bathtub of his home for seven months under the impression it was a salmon. The barracuda is preferred as a house pet if what you want is adventure.

Q.—A young woman in Houston, Tex., wants to know who invented the clamrake?

A.—I'm glad she asked that question. The curator of the International Clamrake Museum and Oyster Fork Institute says it was designed by an Englishman named Zilch, patented by two Frenchmen and built by a Canadian clam trapper. This makes it a Russian invention.

UNREST ON CRUSOE'S ISLAND

("Unrest is reported sweeping Robinson Crusoe's island in the South Pacific."—News item.)

Crusoe—Friday, you don't seem co-operative today. What's wrong?

Friday—I've been Friday long enough, I wanna be Thursday.

Crusoe—Why?

Friday—It shortens the week.

Crusoe—Come, come, you must be joking.

Friday—Not at all. I may even want to make it seem shorter by having my name changed to Wednesday.

Crusoe—We're the only two men on this island. We've been getting along famously. You've been my right-hand man.

Friday—Yes, but I feel a pull to the left.

Crusoe—Not here, surely. We've been very happy together, have we not?

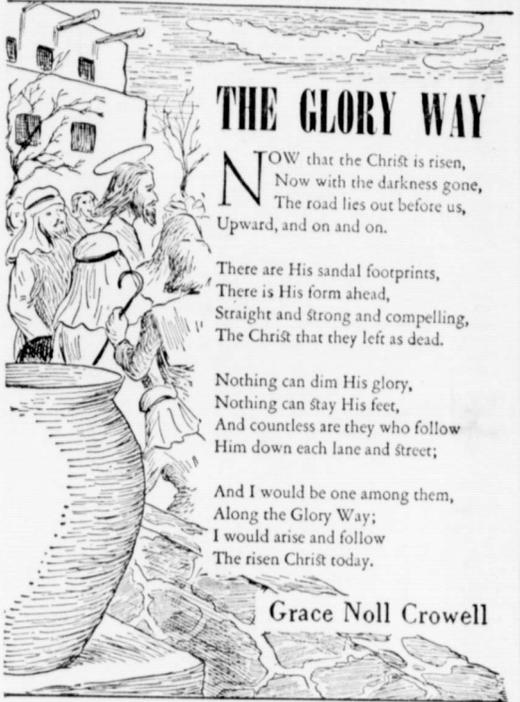

Friday—There must be a capitalistic plot behind it somehow. I'm so happy it must be wrong, one way or another.

Crusoe—Now run along and fetch me some coconuts.

Friday—There you go exploiting me!

Crusoe—Look, we are both in the same boat. How could one exploit the other?

Friday—If I had a copy of the Daily Worker I could tell you. This island is so remote I don't even get Pravda.

THE GLORY WAY

NOW that the Christ is risen,
Now with the darkness gone,
The road lies out before us,
Upward, and on and on.

There are His sandal footprints,
There is His form ahead,
Straight and strong and compelling,
The Christ that they left as dead.

Nothing can dim His glory,
Nothing can stay His feet,
And countless are they who follow
Him down each lane and street;

And I would be one among them,
Along the Glory Way;
I would arise and follow
The risen Christ today.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

BY INEZ GERHARD

ALTHOUGH she now has three network programs on the air, ("Kate Smith Sings," "Kate Smith Speaks," both on Mutual, and her two-hour "Kate Smith Music Room" on ABC.) Miss Smith can sit down and talk with you as if she were just a comfortable, homey woman who knew a lot about cooking and housekeeping.

KATE SMITH

Unlike many of radio's women stars, she is not so obsessed by her own career that an absent-minded look comes into her eyes whenever anything else is mentioned. Perhaps it is that warm, human quality that makes her the most listened-to woman on the air.

When selecting "The Ten Outstanding Voices in the World" the National Academy of Vocal Arts named Ben Grauer's as the "Most Authoritative" and Dan Seymour's as the "Friendliest," because of its warmth and complete naturalness.

Production halted momentarily when Jean Dean walked onto the "Angels in Disguise" set at Monogram for her featured role in this latest of the Bovey Boys series. Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall and the crew could hardly take their eyes off the gorgeous red-head, who was the original Varga girl model. Formerly under contract at MGM, she plays the feminine lead in "Angels."

Realizing during their travels that the traffic situation is becoming worse everywhere, the March of Time editors decided to do something about it. They consulted experts, got solutions and recommendations and "Stop—Heavy Traffic" is the result. It shows how bad traffic can be, and the methods used by some towns to work out the problem.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . "County Fair" has made a mountain out of a mole hill—the town of Mole Hill, West, Va., has officially changed its name to Mountain . . . James Cagney has sold his stable of Morgans except for one fine trotter, which he kept because his children love the horse . . . Though his son is not yet old enough to crawl, Humphrey Bogart has had his swimming pool fenced in—"Better a stitch ahead of time than no stitch at all," Bogart explained, logically.

The Fiction ★ ★ GREAT MAN ★ ★ By Richard H. Wilkinson

IF PROFESSOR AARON CHESWICK was famous he was not aware of this fact. He was too busy with his experiments in the field of chemistry, with teaching the undergraduates of Mapleridge College the rudiments of elementary science, with writing papers and books in which he set forth (in an almost apologetic style) the results of his experiments, and with reading avidly the works of such great scientists as Mons. Oliver Davillier and Senor Alfredo Valle Indan, both of whom had long ago won his respect and admiration.

3-Minute Fiction

He was an unpretentious looking little man, this Professor Cheswick, with pale blue eyes and horn-rimmed glasses and a pasty complexion. He wasn't one to attract attention or to assert himself. He went about with a perpetual far-away look in his eyes.

There came a time when a problem presented itself that challenged his skill and knowledge. He labored over it for days. The days became weeks and the weeks months. At last, worn and haggard, the little man was ready to admit defeat.

Time after time he returned to it, only to find himself defeated. He visited every library within miles, read every book by Davillier and Indan, as well as other great scientists that was available, but without finding the answer.

In the end Professor Cheswick had an idea. It was summer. He needed a vacation. Why not take a month off, visit Europe and perhaps call on Davillier and Indan and ask them personally to clear up the matter that so burdened his mind?

A week later Professor Cheswick sailed for France. The little school teacher was a lonely figure. He struck up a few acquaintances. He wasn't the type to attract people. But he enjoyed the trip. This was something he had never done before.

He was glad when the boat docked. Eagerly he looked ahead to his meeting with Mons. Davillier.

But alas! The next day Professor Cheswick learned that Mons. Davillier had gone to America for his summer holiday and was not expected to return for another month.

The little scientist was depressed and disappointed. His time was short. Madrid, where lived Senor Indan was a long way off. Yet it could be reached, he thought suddenly and excitedly, by plane in a very short while.

HE WAS DELIGHTED to learn that Senor Indan was in Madrid. Yes, it was difficult to obtain an interview with the great man. He was constantly being pressed for interviews. What was it the American wanted to see him about? A problem? Ah, yes, Senor Indan was requested to solve so many problems. It was very, very doubtful if he would grant an interview for such a slight matter. However, if the American would care to take his chances, Senor Indan was to appear at a reception on Tuesday night. Possibly there would be an opportunity to ask his question . . .

Professor Cheswick attended the reception. He stood in line for hours, a quiet, unassuming, unimportant looking little man, waiting for his chance to speak to the great Senor Indan. It came at last. At last the Mapleridge school teacher and scientist stood before the man he respected more than anyone else in the world.

He was so overcome by awe that for a moment he just stared. Senor Indan frowned impatiently and Professor Cheswick found his voice. He stated his question. The Senor's brows arched in surprise.

"An unusual question, Senor," he said. "Frankly, I cannot answer it. There is only one man in the world with enough knowledge and learning to find the answer. He is one of your own countrymen. My good friend Mons. Davillier is at this moment in America seeking an interview with this wizard who the whole scientific world respects and admires, yet who is so absorbed in his work that it is difficult to persuade him to appear in public. I refer to Professor Aaron Cheswick of Mapleridge college."

PUZZLE NO. 9

YOUNG "OLD McDONALDS" . . . U. S. youths leave Paris to study European farms.

HONORED WARRIOR RETIRES . . . Armed services present the Enola Gay, the B-29 bomber that helped bring the war with Japan to a hurried end, to the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C. This is the aircraft that bombed Hiroshima. The presentation was part of a mammoth air show held at Chicago's O'Hare field. More than 125,000 persons attended the first showing of America's strength in the air. Left to right are Carl Mittman, Smithsonian Institute; Colonel Tibbest, pilot of the Enola Gay on Hiroshima bombing; Major T. W. Ferebee and Major General Rosie O'Donnell.

JOLT TO DIGNITY . . . Is suffered by one of a pair of battlers in trouble between Vichy and resistance forces in Paris, France. Serious riots broke out around Notre Dame cathedral when members of the "Miliciens," policemen who served under Vichy regime, had a mass said for Philippe Henriot, slain by Free French as traitor in 1944. The "Miliciens" were attacked by veterans of the resistance movement. The battler at the left is getting in a kick where it will do the most good. In many instances Paris gendarmes were called to quell the disturbances and to rescue cornered combatants.

INITIATION INTO DEATH . . . Robert Munday, 15, points to spot where he hanged his three-year-old neighbor and playmate, Thomas (Whitey) Laux in Chicago recently. Robert said he took Whitey into the basement to initiate him into "hangmen's nose" club. He says he put a noose around the boy's neck and threw the other end of the rope over a joist. He removed a chair Whitey was standing on and the rope caught on the joist, causing the child's death. The boy's body was found stuffed into a barracks bag. Left to right, Sgt. Jim Ryan, juvenile officer; Robert Munday, John Boyle, states attorney; and a newspaper reporter.

TRAINS FOR INDIA . . . India seems to be extending her transportation facilities with the help of Canada. Here is the presentation of a souvenir of a Canadian Indian locomotive deal. W. A. Langston (left), president of the Canadian Locomotive company, Ltd., and R. B. McColl (center), president of the Montreal Locomotive Works, present a painting of a locomotive (by Howard Foggy) to Sardar H. S. Malik, Indian high commissioner to Canada, while the high commissioner's wife looks on at right. The locomotive is one of 200 new design, heavy passenger locomotives built for the Indian government railways by the Canadian Locomotive company.
