

FIRST LADY OF THE GARDEN HOSE . . .

Oh, Can You See by the Lawn's Early Blight?

. . . BATTLES FOR THE THIRSTY BLADES

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MISS PRIDGETT'S LAWN

IN ANY PROLONGED dry spell there is in every community the man and woman who find an outlet for a full expression of their sense of sacrifice in all-out solicitude for the lawn.

the tiniest yellow patch. In our neighborhood Miss Arabella Pridgett is easily tops as the great lawn lover.

a duchess of the sprinkler. The lawn is her first thought at dawn and her last at night.

Famous battles for great human causes have shown less energy. Fighters to ease the plight of undernourished peoples have shown no greater energy.

She was marked. Her mother was frightened by a bare patch in a green hall runner or something. She has a bare-patch complex.

Her lawn is an astoundingly vivid green when everything else in hollyhock heights is sere and drab. You can see her busy about it morning, noon and night.

A grand canal mood marks her premises. "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More" is her theme song. She shoots the waterworks not only on dry hot days but even when it rains.

You hoo, move the larger sprinkler over a foot, lady! There's a blade there that seems undrenched.

Hitler's yacht Ain't so hacht; So whacht!

In a visit to the Grille, once the yacht of der fuehrer, we are sure we should imagine that great nautical figure, that wonderful exponent of all fine sea traditions.

I go to the movies, and what do I get Romance and romance, and more of it yet. I turn on the radio, I go to a show—More mushing between a dame and a schmoe.

The American association of university professors upholds the right of all teachers to be communists provided they keep it out of the classrooms.

We liked Bill Vaughan's crack in his K.C. Star column "The woman scorned is now surpassed in fury by the babe who never even met the guy, but shoots him anyway."

The active head of a yacht club is called a commodore. A commodore is a cross between a humidor and a matador.

Being a commodore entitles you to wear a matador's coat, white duck pants and a cap.

Bill Goodwin, playing a movie producer in Warners' "It's a Great Feeling," lies and lies and lies—in an oversized double bed in a pullman berth, in a lawn swing and on a chaise longue.

"Where Men Are Men" marks Chester Conklin's 310th picture in nearly 37 years; he'd have made more if he hadn't retired for eight. Then he came back strong. You will see him in the hilarious "My Friend Irma" soon.

Publicity tie-ups are queer things. Shirley May France, 16-year-old miss who aims to swim the English channel, will do it as an amphibious press agent for Edward Small's historical opus, "Black Magic."

Odds and Ends . . . Following her assignment in "The Fuller Brush Girl" Lucille Ball is booked for "Confessions of a Diaper Salesman" at Columbia . . . M-G-M has taken an option on an original story, "The Big Apple," with plans to co-star Lana Turner, Robert Taylor and Van Johnson . . . meanwhile Johnson will do "The Big Hangover" with Elizabeth Taylor . . . Alan Hale has been added to the cast of "Always Leave Them Laughing."

The Fiction Corner RAY CASHES IN

NO ONE would have believed Ray Sharon capable of stratagem. One look at him and you would have catalogued him in the reserved, conservative class of young men who adhered to the accipriety and convention.

It occurred not even to Ray that the fine reputation he had could be used as an asset, cashed in on. Not that is, until Phil Clairmont came to town.

Clairmont had been born in Southport. At 18 he had gone off to college and not returned. He had been a football hero, an All-American quarterback. After graduation he had sold bonds and coached football teams and written magazine articles on gridiron tactics and given a series of lectures over the radio. He had made quite a success.

Two winters later Phil returned to his home town for the Christmas holidays. The folks gave him quite a reception. They held parties for him and asked him to talk at this function and that. He stayed through New Year's, he stayed longer than he intended.

Sheila was a native of Southport. She had wheat-colored hair and blue eyes. She had known Ray Sharon all her life. She liked him. When they grew up and Ray began taking her around, she was quite happy.

PHIL CLAIRMONT met her at one of the many parties that were held in his honor. He remembered who she was and was quite surprised that she had grown up and blossomed into something that was easy to look at.

Sheila was, after all, only a normal girl. Phil Clairmont was famous. When Phil took an interest in her she was flattered. It gave her a recognition that most any girl would have delighted in. No one blamed her. No one condemned her for it. If anyone felt about it at all it was a sensation of envy. A few wondered about Ray Sharon. A smaller few felt sorry for him.

Occasionally she saw Ray and thus it happened that one wintry night Ray and Sheila set out in the former's coupe for the distant town of Merkdale to attend a banker's ball there. It began to snow before

Insecticides Urged In Hopper Control

Declared Better Than Use Of Poison Baits

Farmers have access to easier and better ways to protect their crops against grasshoppers than by the use of poison baits.

Another well-known insecticide, DDT, doesn't work against grasshoppers.

Experimental work with the three insecticides has been carried on by federal and state agencies long enough to be sure of the results.

Chlordane is best as a spray made from an emulsion. For half-grown and most full-grown hoppers, use one-half pound of actual chlordane per acre.

Benzene hexachloride is best as a dust, although it may be used as a spray made from wettable powder.

Toxaphene or chlorinated camphene can be used as a dust, as a wettable powder or as an emulsion.

WEEKLY COMIC SECTION

The laundress's rival tried desperately to find someone who could dispute the washwoman's assertion that she had blue blood in her veins.

"Could be," said one of those asked, "all the women on her side of the family have used washing - blue for eight generations."

Two very distinguished looking Southern gentlemen met on the street one morning after having attended a party the night before. The major greeted his ranking officer with all the respect and solemnity that the occasion demanded.

"Colonel," he said, "how do you feel, suh?"

The colonel's reply was just a bit on the brusque side.

"Major," he declared a little thickly, "I feel like hell, suh, as any Southern gentleman should, suh, at this hour of the morning."

A social climber, trying to impress a prominent member of a club she had just joined, traced her ancestry all the way back to Julius Caesar.

The prominent member admitted that went back quite a distance but pointed out that the pedigree of her own family filled six pages of parchment and in the middle was a notation, "About this time the world was created."

When Your Back Hurts -

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination, with smearing and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

Here's WHY Firestone CHAMPIONS

GO THROUGH WHERE OTHERS HANG UP!

LET'S talk facts . . . Here is a tire that has extra bar height, extra bar length, and a curved bar design that outcleans, outpulls, and outlasts any other tire. NO OTHER TIRE has ALL these advantages.

Those massive tread bars take a bigger bite, a better hold—and THAT'S NOT ALL. Because they're curved for self-cleaning, they keep right on pulling while other tires only clog and spin.

And here's another big feature. Every inch of tread-bar length does its share of the pulling because the low-pressure body design puts ALL of the tread in FULL ground contact for a FULL TRACTION BITE. Because it's patented, this tire gives you many advantages which no other tire has. Let your Firestone Dealer or Firestone Store demonstrate these facts to your satisfaction.

3 RULES FOR MAXIMUM TRACTION

1. USE FIRESTONE CHAMPIONS
2. USE FIRESTONE HYDRO-FLATION
3. USE ONLY 12 LBS. PRESSURE

NOTICE

VOTE YES:

For School Bond Issue
When: August 31, 7 A. M. to 8 P. M.
Where: Public School Building
WHY!!

1. We need additional facilities to properly educate our children.
2. We need a kindergarten for our little tots.
3. We need to separate as much as possible our grade school children from high school students.
4. We need more space for our Home Economics Department.
5. We need a room for Instrumental and Vocal Instruction.
6. We need additional laboratory facilities for our Science courses.
7. We need entire existing building to provide necessary educational facilities for high school purposes.
8. The girls' dressing and locker room and school office, which are now used as class rooms and have been for ten years can be used for the purpose they were intended.

A five room kindergarten and grade school building will give us all these and more, all of which have been recommended by the State Department of Public Instruction.

All these things we can have without affecting our taxes.

Additional costs (approximately):

Kindergarten Instructor	$2,500 to $3,000
Maintenance	$ 500
Heating and operation of plant	$ 400
Estimated interest on bonds	$1,470
Total	$5,570

Anticipated Additional Revenue:

Increased tuition from at least 20 additional high school students at $200.00 each based on last year tuition costs	$4,000
Savings on bus transportation due to new State Law	2,000
Total	$6,000

From the above comparison of additional costs and anticipated receipts you can see that any additional taxes will be negligible. We also want to point out that the assessed valuation for the village and school district has increased as follows since 1945:

1945	$1,200,765.00
1946	1,389,730.00
1947	1,675,570.00
1948	1,929,470.00
1949	2,047,418.00

This means that our tax base is broadening and which has the effect of either offsetting additional expenses or reducing the taxes to the individual tax payer.

We believe we have selected the most advantageous site and a very good architect, Alfred H. Siewert of Milwaukee, who has designed a modern and functional type of building. With this type of building it is possible to offer the best in elementary education.

We further believe that the little tots of Kewaskum are entitled to Kindergarten training which has until now been denied them.

There is only one way that we can accomplish all these things and that is by all of us getting out and voting "YES" on August 30 for the School Bond Issue.

LET'S NOT LET "GEORGE" DO IT, LET'S ALL DO IT.

Melt-in-Your-Mouth Pies Need Know-How (See Recipes Below)

Pastry Perfection

ARE YOUR PIES wonderful to look at? Do they have a melt-in-your-mouth tender crust? Is the filling a delightful surprise instead of a disappointment? Unless you can answer a resounding "yes" to each of those three questions, better take a good look at tips given in this column. They'll help you reach pastry making perfection if you put the hints into practice.

Pie is a dessert to have at any luncheon or dinner, whether light or heavy. It might be a rich apple pie, topped with scoops of ice cream if the meal itself has been shy on calories.

Pies may be baked or chilled. Their crust may be pastry or crumb. Their fillings may be fruit, berries, juice or eggs or combinations of these, so you see how much variety pie can give your meals. If you have some especially bright and lovely berries or fruit, don't hide them under a top crust. Place a lattice crust or crumb topping or a lacy fluting of whipped cream on the pie, and let everyone enjoy the handsome looks of the pie.

HERE'S a foolproof recipe for a single pastry shell. If you want a double crust, make twice the recipe:

- Pastry Shell
(Makes 1 8 or 9-inch)
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons lard or shortening
2 tablespoons ice cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut in lard with two knives or a pastry blender. (Avoid using fingers, since they're warm and will melt the fat.) Sprinkle water in, while stirring with a fork. Press dough into a ball, then roll lightly on a pastry cloth or board. Fold over and fit pie plate. Trim edge, fold under and flute. For a baked pastry shell, prick bottom and sides with a fork. Bake in a hot (450°) oven 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. If the shell is to be baked with the filling, bake according to directions in recipe.

IF PEACHES are on your mind here's a peaches and cream pie that is really delectable:

- Southern Peach Cream Pie
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)
1 unbaked pastry shell
6 peach halves, fresh or canned
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 cup rich milk
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 tablespoon melted butter
2 egg whites, beaten

Arrange peaches, cut side down in pastry shell. Mix sugar, flour and salt. Combine dry ingredients with milk, almond extract, egg yolks and butter. Fold in egg whites. Bake in a hot (450°) oven 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. If the shell is to be baked with the filling, bake according to directions in recipe.

LYNN SAYS: Wise Use of Leftovers Makes For Economy

Add variety to waffles by using any of the following leftovers: chopped bacon, 2 ounces of melted chocolate, whole kernel corn, minced ham, nutmeats or chopped raw apples.

Many dabs of leftovers can be added to French dressing to add interest to salads. Add the last bit of honey to the dressing for fruit salads, or a bit of Roquefort cheese for green salads.

Hard-cooked eggs may be added to French or cooked dressing for any kind of vegetable salads.

Omelets or scrambled eggs are another fine idea for using bits of leftover meats, fish or vegetables. Simply chop the ingredient fine and add to the egg mixture.

Any one of the following added to white sauce will make a good sauce for vegetables: capers, chopped cooked celery, hard-cooked eggs, chopped mushrooms, chopped ripe or stuffed olives, chopped pimiento or parsley.

whites; pour over peaches. Bake in a hot (450°) oven for 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350°) and bake for 30 minutes or until a knife comes out clean.

Deluxe Chocolate Pie

- (Make 1 9-inch pie)
1 chocolate crumb crust
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk, scalded
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/4 cup vanilla
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Shaved Chocolate
Combine egg yolks, sugar and salt; add milk slowly. Cook in top of double boiler until mixture coats spoon. Add gelatin softened in cold water. Stir until gelatin dissolves; add vanilla. Fold in egg whites and whipped cream. Pour into crust and chill until firm. Before serving garnish the top with shaved chocolate. (For doing this easily, use a clean razor blade on a bar of unwhitened chocolate to make the chocolate curls.)

*Blueberry Pie

- (Makes 1 8-inch pie)
2 1/2 cups washed, picked blueberries
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter

Double crust pastry
Combine blueberries with sugar which was mixed with cornstarch, salt and lemon juice. Fill a pastry lined pan and dot with butter. Top with crust and flute edges. Have gashes on top. Bake in a hot (450°) oven for 10 minutes, reduce heat to moderate (350°) and bake for 30 minutes longer.

HERE'S a delightful variation of apple pie with its crumbly, nut topping that's so delicious. This, like a regular apple pie, may be served with scoops of ice cream, if desired:

- Crumbly Apple Pie
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)
6 large tart apples
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup pecan halves
1 unbaked pastry shell

Pare apples and cut into eighths and arrange in pastry shell. Sprinkle with one-half cup sugar mixed with the cinnamon. Sift remaining one-half cup sugar with flour and cut in butter. Work mixture until crumbly and sprinkle over apples. Dot with pecan halves. Bake in a hot (450°) oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350°) and bake for 40 minutes longer until apples are tender.

Leftover biscuits, split in half and covered with cheese and bacon, then broiled make a nice open-faced sandwich for soups or salads.

Leftover cocoa may be combined with coffee and served chilled with a whipped cream topping for a delicious beverage.

Combine several different kinds of leftover fruit juices for cooling first course beverages; pineapple and strawberry juice; grape, lemon and pineapple juice; raspberry and pineapple juice.

Stale bread may be buttered, then topped with a slice of onion and tomato and broiled for a delicious sandwich.

Cocoa may also be used in place of other liquid for flavoring chocolate sauces, frostings, candy and jellings.

Float small dabs of leftover fruit in chilled milk and ice cream drinks for added interest.

Leftover prunes go easily into prune whip; or stuff them with cream cheese with or without chopped dates and nuts for a striking salad garnish.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

A-Bomb Output Hits Record Peak; House Approves Vet Pension Hike; Anderson Proposes New Farm Plan

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

ATOM BOMB:

Record Output

Maybe the atomic bomb isn't the world's most fearful weapon. Maybe the bomb's effectiveness for destruction has been over-emphasized. Maybe it doesn't mean anything at all—but if potential enemies of the U.S. could squeeze any comfort from those "maybes," they were welcome to it.

For the United States had announced that its atom bomb production had reached an all-time high in the first six months of this year, and production is now on an assembly-line basis.

In making that announcement, the atomic energy commission also announced that enormous tonnages of low grade uranium ores have been located in this country, and could be used to produce A-bombs in an emergency if foreign supplies of high-grade ore were cut off.

All these disclosures were contained in the commission's sixth semi-annual report to congress.

Pointedly enough, the report made no mention of recent to-level secret conferences relative to sharing information with Britain and Canada.

It did have a lot to say, however, about the problems behind those conferences—United States' dependence on high-grade uranium ores from Canada and the Belgian Congo.

THE REPORT revealed that reserves of semi-processed ores are being built up steadily "to assure continuity of production." Research is being pressed on new extraction methods to cut the cost of processing the low-grade ores which abound in this country. And "actions have been taken to improve and make more certain the supply of ore from abroad."

This latter statement, which was not explained, presumably referred to later negotiations with Britain and Canada for a long-term agreement on exchange of atomic information and division of uranium ore.

FARM PLAN:

Something New

Farm plans, or substitutes thereof, were still kicking around the halls of congress, despite recent legislative action retaining the current program of farm price subsidies.

Latest proposal in the field came from Senator Anderson (D., N.M.) but it was another formula which didn't appeal to everyone's taste. Senator Anderson is the same gentleman who was onetime U.S. secretary of agriculture.

BRIEFLY, his plan called for flexible government supports for some crops, rigid control plans for others, and authority to try out the Brannan plan for subsidy on some perishables.

Anderson heads a seven-man subcommittee casting about for an acceptable farm bill.

Unless the senate and house managed to get together on some program, the delayed-action Aiken law passed by the Republican 80th congress would take effect January 1. It would permit, although not compel, the secretary of agriculture to maintain supports for major crops on a flexible scale ranging from 60 to 90 per cent of parity.

The senators "try-out" proposal for the Brannan plan would be limited to "nonstorage perishables" including oranges, grapefruit, apples and vegetables.

ARMED UNITY:

Up to Truman

Final action on the bill strengthening unification of the armed services was up to President Truman—but there was no doubt that he would affix his signature to the measure in speedy fashion.

BY a lopsided vote of 356 to 7, the house gave final congressional approval to the measure in a bid for greater efficiency and economy in military operations.

The bill, which was sent to the President for his signature, sprung directly from the recommendations of the commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

THE citizens' committee for the Hoover report, headed by Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple university, immediately hailed adoption of the bill as "paving the way for savings of at least a billion dollars a year, and maybe more."

ROUGH GOING

Adversity Plagues Viking Saga Revival

The "invading" vikings had not counted on England's weather. So, what was to have been a thrilling, colorful arrival of a sleek oaken ship on the Thames, turned into a ride in a green bus, with the Vikings' horned helmets lying in their laps and their sharp spears neatly stacked in the racks overhead. It was all rather anti-climatic.

KISS:

Watch It!

In the land of the free and the home of the brave, it might be safely assumed that it would be perfectly all right for a man to kiss his own wife while the two were on the beach for a little outing.

But the state of Maryland holds differently. So, Roy Middleton, Washington, D. C., ice cream company official, was fined $12.50.

New Justice

U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark, smiling so broadly here, hesitated but a short while before accepting President Truman's offer of appointment to the United States supreme court bench. Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D., R.I.) was to succeed Clark as attorney general.

PENSIONS:

More for Vets

Veterans of World Wars I and II and the Spanish-American war stood to benefit to the tune of an additional 112 million dollars a year if a bill passed by the national house of representatives is approved by the senate.

WITHOUT a single dissenting vote, the house passed a measure raising veterans' pensions and disability payments by that figure annually.

There was another possible hurdle for the measure, however, even if it should pass the senate, for house action on the bill was taken despite objections from the White House. Whether this means that President Truman would have the political fortitude to veto such a bill if it ever came to him is an interesting conjecture. The logical supposition is that he would not, particularly if he entertains any ideas of seeking a second term in 1952.

To indicate the potential weight of the veterans' vote as interpreted by house members, despite the fact that there was no opposition, a roll call was ordered and 354 members got "on the record" as approving the measure.

THE VETERANS' administration estimated that the first year cost of the proposal would exceed 112.5 million dollars. It made no estimate of costs in subsequent years.

Principal provisions of the bill: Increase from $138 to $150 rate of pay for total disability; increase monthly payments to widows and dependents of wartime casualties; full compensation for World War I veterans with disabilities presumed to be service-connected instead of the present 75 per cent; additional pay for dependents of veterans with service-connected 50 per cent disabilities.

At present such payments are made only if the disability is 60 per cent.

GIVE-AWAYS:

No Sincere

The business of winning radio give-away prizes is not all beer-and-skittles. A Hollywood insurance man is authority for the conclusion.

He spent his vacation as a contestant on such shows and wound up with $150 in one week—much more than he could have made working. He attended 20 radio shows, averaging four a day, saying that he couldn't stand any more than that.

That's all he could stand, he said. "It's much more work than working," he explained. The questions are easy, but the nervous strain is terrific. It's too hard on me to do it more than one week each year. He made his killing, however, on one program. He was asked to tell a girl how her husband would feel about her having a baby.

He replied that "things are very convenient for fathers these days." For that he received prizes worth $150. How to get picked as a contestant? Just sit on the aisle and wisecrack as the announcer goes by.

EDUCATION:

Bicker & Strife

The proposal for federal aid to education was getting nowhere fast. Its proponents, realizing all the while upon what thin ice they skated, had believed the plan had been handled with sufficient tact and skill to win some hope of its final approval. But at this stage of the game, that appeared to be nothing more than wishful thinking.

THE explosive issue, made doubly volatile by the injection of the religious issue by a bill offered by Representative Barden (D., N.C.) and by the public row between Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, threatened to kill the proposal entirely.

The Barden bill would exclude Catholic and other non-public schools from all federal aid. Because Mrs. Roosevelt, in some of her syndicated columns, had argued for separation of church and state, Cardinal Spellman accused her of being anti-Catholic. She denied the allegation and pointed to her record as proof.

WITHOUT any attempt to argue the relative merits of each viewpoint, Capitol observers were generally agreed that these developments had done nothing to sap the plan for federal government to assist in school programs by giving financial aid.

The proposal without the added controversies was stormy enough in itself, inasmuch as there had been much hue and cry to the effect that federal aid to schools would mean ultimately federal effort to control the choice of what would be taught in the schools.

It appeared that this obstacle to the proposal might have been hurdled, but when the religious issue was injected the fate of the plan was seriously jeopardized.

ADMIRAL BYRD:

For Horizons

The lure of the frozen, silent spaces were calling again and Adm. Richard Evelyn Byrd, veteran polar explorer, was barking.

ACCORDING to reports out of New York, some 3,500 men and eight ships are earmarked for an Antarctic expedition, to be headed by Byrd, which will have as its objective the mapping of a vast area of unknown territory in the Antarctic about as big as Europe.

If present plans are finally approved, the first ships would sail in October. The expedition would establish a base in New Zealand and remain in the arctic about four months of the south polar "summer," before returning to the United States about April, 1950.

IT WAS UNDERSTOOD the venture depended upon approval of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, but planning has been under way for some time. This, certainly, would indicate a high optimism that Johnson's approval is assured.

It was said naval planes would probably participate in extensive aerial mapping, air-sea rescue work, and the scouting for ice leads. The goal of the expedition, apparently, is to be a great, oblong stretch of unexplored territory across the South Pole from Little America, site of the Byrd base camp in the admiral's expedition of 1929.

A LARGE AREA, part of which is claimed by Australia and Norway, lying south of Africa and stretching across the snowy wastes of the Antarctic toward Australia and South America, is virtually uncharted, and it is expected that aerial mapping will reveal many of its secrets.

The expedition, if finally approved, would be the admiral's fifth to the south polar regions.

Urged Arms Outlay

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who put in the major

licks favoring appropriation of approximately 1.5 billion dollars for arms to implement the North Atlantic pact, declared the aid program would prevent any aggressor from achieving a "quick and easy victory" in a future war.

WHITE HOUSE:

Tradition Wins

Score a victory for history and tradition: The White House, official abode of the United States presidents, will not be razed. Instead, the historic structure will be given a 5.20 million-dollar face-lifting job.

A GROUP of six men settled the issue once and for all between advocates of renovation and those who wanted to tear down the present building and erect a new one.

Chairman McKeller (D., Tenn.) of the senate appropriations committee, who heads the commission which had authority to make the final decision, announced the ruling after a long conference at the White House.

The commission will continue its meetings because plans must be reviewed and contracts let. Too, the work must be constantly supervised once it is underway.

THE sagging, 150-year-old mansion became so unsafe that President Truman asked congress to appropriate money for its repair

Is "determination" the secret of success? Answer: Only when it is wholehearted; that is, when it does not conflict with unconscious fears or wishes. "Grim determination" often represents a desperate effort to keep from admitting that we do not really want the success which we have been trained to feel that we must strive for. What you really want, you'll automatically keep on trying to get, and whether you get it will mainly depend upon how well you adapt yourself to the "realities" of how it can be had. On the whole, adaptability is more important than determination.

Are there limits to how far back you can remember? Answer: If you're speaking of conscious memory, yes. What is sometimes called "childhood amnesia" blocks most of us from recalling anything that happened before we were five or six years old. But this does not mean that earlier events are really forgotten. With the weakening of fear and inhibition that takes place in psychoanalysis, I have seen people remember thrills or shocks which they experienced at the age of two or younger and about which no one could have told them. And hypnosis can revive events of the first year of your life.

KEEPING HEALTHY
Eleventh Year Is Safest in Life

By Dr. James W. Barton

A FEW YEARS ago we learned from records of illness at different ages that the years between five and 10 were the ones with the lowest rate of illness and death. It is interesting to learn that the age of 11 is now found to be the safest year according to the bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The first year, and especially the first week of life, is fraught with serious hazards, most of which begin before or during birth. When the child has passed safely through infancy, the chances of surviving from year to year increase with each advance in age during the next 10 years of life. After this the chances of living to the end of the next year become less.

By the age of 11 the death rate from infants' diseases has decreased while adult or chronic diseases have not yet started. The death rate at 11 years of age is just one-half of what it was only 12 years ago.

It will come as no surprise to learn that a large proportion of the deaths at 11 years of age is due to accidents, especially among boys. Parents soon learn that when a boy does not climb fences, jump in sandpits or play strenuous games, he is not like other boys. On the other hand parents do not like to see their girls engage in any of these pursuits. Even in accidents in the home, where the hazards might be expected to be nearly equal, the death rate among the boys was three times that among the girls.

While the three diseases causing most deaths—pneumonia, influenza and tuberculosis—have been reduced from between 60 to 80 per cent in the past 12 years, accidents lead other causes of death by a higher margin than ever.

As parents we know that school principals and teachers are doing their part in educating boys and girls in safety methods. It is now up to the parents to supervise their children insofar as this is possible in and out of the home.

You are hearing and reading more about how the emotions affect the various processes of the body, causing loss of appetite, diarrhoea or constipation, rapid heart beat, rise in blood pressure and other symptoms.

A visit to our physician and dentist, once or twice a year, is our best health insurance.

One of the conditions common in the elderly that causes the family to think he or she is becoming weak mentally is depression and anxiety accompanied by slow thinking, speed and action. Mental and physical treatment may bring about a cure.

While home treatment may be safe if care is taken, the complete removal of a corn by a chiropodist or by an orthopedic surgeon is the safest and surest method of removal.

Unless severe heart or blood vessel disease or weakness of the bones of the spine is present, electroshock treatment of the elderly is considered safe.

In the armed forces it was found that recruits who had lived too much within themselves, not mixing with others, became neurotic during the training period for service.

Just as pernicious anemia patients have to eat liver or use liver extract, and those with diabetes must diet and use insulin if they wish to live, so must overweight cut down on their starch and fat foods if they wish to correct their ailment—overweight.

It is known by research physiologists that exercise is the most powerful and simplest method of dilating or opening up the blood vessels and thus getting rid of fatigue products.

INDIAN VILLAGE

● A unique feature of the Chicago Railroad Fair is the Indian village and southwestern Indian entertainment provided by the Santa Fe railway. One of the outstanding exhibits of the fair, the village is an exact replica of a southwestern Indian village, including pueblos, hogans and wickiups. More than 11 Indians, transported to the fair by the Santa Fe, live in the village. In the photo above is shown a part of the Indian village dwellers who represent six southwestern tribes, the San Juan, the Zuni, Hopi, Jemez, Apache and Navajo. At right, Susan Wachter, fair visitor, decided that although she likes dolls, the katchina dolls outside the entrance to the village were too big to play with.

● Two of the Indian women at the village (above) inspect one of the ovens of the type they use at their pueblos. These ovens are part of the authentic reproduction of southwest Indian life in the village. Shown below are two more scenes at the Santa Fe exhibit.

ST. JOSEPH'S Community Hospital

Conducted by Sisters of The Divine Saviour
Located at 550 Ridge Road West Bend Phone 800

The word "hospital" comes from the word "hospes" meaning guest. In the early Christian era there were no hospitals but there were shelters where the sick were received as guests in the name of Christ. The most profound holy and potent program ever proclaimed for social good and for the blessing of mankind is exemplified in that wonderful field in which men and women carry out the healing mission of Christ, the modern hospital where the finest ethics are upheld and practiced. Such an institution is St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend.

Caring for the sick and giving them healing are Christian traditions. In the early church, a portion of many a bishop's house was set aside for the care of the sick who had no shelters and sometimes the bishop was also a physician who treated the ill of the poor. Out of this custom grew the modern hospital of today. A fine example is St. Joseph's hospital.

This hospital is a haven of rest as well as a center of scientific care and treatment. In this review we wish to recommend St. Joseph's hospital to our readers and to point with pride to the sisters for the untiring effort they are putting forth in making this hospital an institution for the healing of the soul and body.
