Village Has Real Christmas Look

Residents of our little city have certainly entered the spirit and Kewaskum has a real Christmas look this year. Our active, public minded Kiwanis club has much to do with it. Time at one of the club's recent meetings was devoted to instilling the spirit of the holiday season into the members and the result is very evident around town.

First of all the village got behind the idea and had a variety of colored Christmas lights strung over the main streets of the village. Then the Kiwanis members and other businessmen entered the spirit and artistic decorations sprang up all over town. Now the private homes also are entering the picture with numerous decorations and at night, with the very many gaily colored lights, trees, Santa Clauses, wreaths, and beautifully decorated show windows, Kewaskum has suddenly developed into a colorful Christmas city.

We would like to mention the names of some of the business places, where so much time, effort, and expense were taken in creating really splendid holiday settings. But there are so many, and we would only be slighting someone. Come and see them and be your own judge.

By the way, business places are open evenings until Christmas for your shopping convenience.

Unbeaten Lakers Tip Fire at Utensil Co.

In a high scoring duel at Random Lake Wednesday night the Honeck Chevrolets made it four victories in a row by a score of 71-63, to maintain their undefeated, first place position in the Land of Lakes leap.

Not much trouble was expected at Random Lake, which team hadn't done much to date but they had their full team for the first time and were hot Wednesday. They gave Kewaskum's high-scoring quintet a real run for their money, especially in the first half. However, the Chevrolets have won most of their games with a big second half spurge. The locals were ahead 15-14 at the quarter but by halftime Random Lake took the lead, 29-27. Kewaskum then came back with a big third period, tallying 28 points to the Lakers' 20 and going ahead, 55-49. This lead was increased by five points in the final stanza.

Random Lake is always tough to beat on their auditorium floor and this was no exception as their big forward, Matter, led the way with 16 points. Right behind him was Bud Krier with 15 and Schmitz with 11. For the winners it was shades of last year as Augie Bilgo roared through from his guard position to take top honors for the evening with 17 points. Following him closely was Jerry Melhos with 15, Johnny Tessar with 13, and Wayland Tessar, who got 11.

Kewaskum lost two men and Random Lake four on personal fouls. A total of 57 fouls were called, which ought to be some kind of record. Free throws accounted for the large score, Kewaskum making 22 points from the charity line and the losers 15.

Table with 4 columns: Player Name, FG, FT, PF, TP. Rows include W. Tessar, Melhos, Backhaus, J. Tessar, Honeck, Bilgo, A. Tessar, Krueger.

PLYMOUTH & KEWASKUM, BOTH UNBEATEN, PLAY HERE SUNDAY

The biggest and most important contest of the season to date will be played on the home floor Sunday night. The Lakes lead will be at stake as one of the two will be knocked out of first place. Let's get out there and see to it that it isn't Kewaskum. The Rivers game of the evening will also be a dandy. It will pair unbeaten Cedarburg against the Kewaskum Standards, who have won 2 and lost 1. Don't miss this fine double attraction.

MILWAUKEE TEAM HERE

Two games will also be played in the local gym next Wednesday night, Dec. 21 in a non-league contest, the Kewaskum Lakes team will take on the strong North Side A. C. team of Milwaukee. This is the same team which came to Kewaskum last year but some of the members were involved in an auto accident enroute. The Milwaukee eagles played with only part of their team and showed real class. They played one of the finest brands of basketball seen here in a long time. This time they expect to get their entire squad here. In the preliminary, the local Rivers five will play some neighboring opponent, as yet un-named.

IRIS WRITES FROM JAPAN

The editor received the following very interesting letter from Nigata, Japan, written by Mrs. Howard Weinberger, the former Miss Iris Bartelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August C. Bartelt of Kewaskum, whose husband, Lieut. Weinberger, is stationed there with the U. S. Army:

November 4, 1949 Nigata, CIC Area, APO 547 c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.

Dear Mr. Harbeck: "Eight months ago I promised I'd write to you and tell you what little I know of Japan, that's why I've waited eight months, because the first six months in the Orient are a little confusing. I find this land and its people fascinating. My first impression was not a very favorable one, but after you live here awhile you begin to understand why these folks live as they do. It seems it is economically impossible for the Japanese to adopt modern machinery and methods as we know them. For instance, one family exists on one acre of land, most of it in the form of a rice paddy. Surrounding this 'tambo', as they call it, they use up every available space for garden purposes. The entire family will be seen out in this field tilling the soil by hand. If you chance to run across a wealthy farmer, he may own an ox to pull his cart or plow or whatever needs such strength, otherwise his wife does this work, and this is not my sense of humor creeping into this letter—odds-odds though the women here seem by far to be the stronger sex. An entire family can live in one room because they have little furniture in their homes. They sleep on the floors, which are made of straw mats. In the daytime they fold their blankets and put them behind a sliding door. They generally have a tea table, this is about eight inches high and at this they dine. They cook on the same thing that keeps their houses warm, this is known as a 'hibachi'. It looks like a large earthen crack in which they burn charcoal. I leave it to your imagination to figure out how much warmth this offers. Guess we Americans aren't the rugged type, as our homes here are either heated by electricity or steam, I say quite thankfully.

Claim National Service Life Insurance Dividend

Beneficiaries of World War Two veterans who have died subsequent to filing their application for the special NSLI dividend and prior to payment must notify the veterans administration and file a claim. George A. Kolb, county service officer, said this week.

Unless the VA is notified, he said, the check will be mailed in the normal manner and upon its return to the VA as "undeliverable" it will be processed under the claims procedure, which provides that the beneficiary must file for payment.

In the cases where the insurance was in lapse at time of his death and the VA is not notified prior to the normal mailing of the check, it will be returned and held until the estate or those shown to be entitled under the laws of descent of various states file a claim for the individual. Kilb stated.

Beneficiaries of deceased servicemen and veterans will also participate in the special dividend to be paid early next year on NSLI Widows' dependent parents, or the beneficiaries who are now receiving insurance payments will be paid the dividend automatically without filing any further claim.

In some cases beneficiaries have already received full payment of the insurance. The VA will automatically pay the dividend to the last person who received payments. There is another group of cases where there have been no insurance payments because the serviceman or veteran permitted his policy to lapse before his death.

Most of these policies earned dividends while they were in force and the special dividend will be paid to the veteran's estate through its executor or administrator if one exists. Otherwise, payment will be made directly to the persons entitled under the interstate laws of the state in which the veteran was a legal resident.

In the lapsed cases a claim will be necessary. Claim forms will be sent without request to the persons entitled. Since these dividend payments will be made automatically, Kolb said, letters to the VA will tend to delay rather than speed up settlement.

Three Accidents Near Kewaskum Past Week

Blinded by the lights of an oncoming car, Edward Braun, 52, of R. 1, Kewaskum, was unable to see the 1940 Chevrolet driven by Edward Redig, 55, of West Bend, which was backing from a driveway onto Highway 144 about one mile north of Barton late last Sunday afternoon. The Braun car, a 1938 Chevrolet, struck the right rear side of the other vehicle. Redig received slight chest injuries.

Striking a metal stock tank on Highway 28, west of Kewaskum, Sunday night, a 1949 Mercury driven by Martin Planasch, 32, of Horicon, received damages to the front end of his car. The stock tank, which had blown onto the road at the Oscar Boegel farm, broke open when it was struck by the Planasch car, traveling east.

The front end of a 1949 Mercury driven by Gilbert S.-H. Kewaskum, was damaged Sunday night when the driver lost control and his car left the road and mounted an embankment at the intersection of Highways 28 and 55 near the Bruhn and Backhaus service station. Sill was uninjured.

Junior Red Cross Thanked for Thanksgiving Favors

Members of the West Bend chapter of the Junior Red Cross this week received another letter of thanks from Mrs. Mabel C. Braden, field director of service in veterans hospitals, for the tray covers, favors, and nut cups which the group prepared for the use of veteran patients at Wood, Wis., on Thanksgiving day.

According to Miss Clara Jaehnic, executive secretary of the West Bend chapter of the American Red Cross, a total of 360 tray covers, favors, and nut cups were prepared by the local group. They were made by students at the Orchard Grove school, the Old Brick school, the Silver Lake school, St. Mathias school, and members of the Trenton Rangers 4-H club.

Addressed to Mrs. Anna Gensman, chairman of the local Junior Red Cross chapter, the letter from Mrs. Braden said in part:

"On behalf of the patients of Wood Veterans hospital, we wish to thank you and the members of the West Bend Junior Red Cross for the tray covers, favors, and nut cups.

"The turkey favors on the tray covers with the Pilgrim and pumpkin decoration provided a real Thanksgiving atmosphere for their turkey dinner. The unusually clever combination of table favor and nut cup added much to the attractiveness of the tables in the dining room.

"These evidences of thoughtfulness reminded the veterans that they were not forgotten, and gave them one thing at least for which to be thankful. We hope that both you and the juniors realize how much these things raise the morale of the men hospitalized here."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Atomic Energy Commission Tells Plan to 'Breed' A-Bomb Material; Building Trades Ask T-H Waiver

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

A-BOMB ITEMS: 'Breeder' Planned

Those duly impressed by the wonders of science through the years more or less expected the announcement—but, no doubt, it came as a surprise to many that the U. S. atomic energy commission was preparing to "breed" the scarce atomic materials that make the A-bomb explode.

HAILED as the biggest step yet taken in the attempt to harness the atom for use in industry, an engineering plant for "experimental breeding" of atomic materials actually was on paper.

According to Dr. Lawrence Hafstad, top AEC scientist, atomic materials, no matter how produced, can be used for either bombs or peacetime purposes. This would include the hoped-for generation of useful industrial power. He declared that the designers of the "breeder" device are confident it would work.

Commissioners and aids also told newsmen that by 1952 the AEC should be building the first model of an atomic engine designed to propel ships.

It will also start work next year on a reactor—an atomic furnace—expected to yield "significant amounts" of electronic power and to "breed" or manufacture more atomic materials as it goes along. THIS, AEC AID SAID, is distinguished from the experimental "breeder" whose primary purpose would be to produce new atomic materials, with power production only a sideline.

Dr. Hafstad said the "breeder" reactor would be built at Arco, Idaho. He added that if it works, it will ease greatly the difficulty of getting more fissionable material. In "breeding," the scientists put some fissionable material in the furnace with a larger amount of non-fissionable. They hope, in the process, to make some of the latter into fissionable material and thus have a net gain.

CHINESE: Trigger-Happy

The muddled China picture was getting no clearer, and the U.S. again had been put in the middle. INSULTED by China Communists who had imprisoned (but later released) the U. S. consular attaché, Angus Ward, Americans fumed anew as Chinese Nationalists, supposed friends of the U.S., were charged with firing upon a U. S. vessel, the Sir John Franklin. The incident occurred off Shanghai.

The ship's owners released a radio message from the skipper of the ship who charged that two Nationalist warships had ignored his order to halt for a boarding party and had, instead, raked the vessel with a "constant barrage" of shells, almost at point blank range. The ship's owners demanded that the U. S. act to curb the "trigger-happy" Nationalists.

The state department said it would protest "energetically" to the Nationalist government. The U. S. agency entered the picture after receiving reports of the incident from Walter P. McCaughey, U. S. consul-general at Shanghai, who said no one aboard the vessel was injured.

THE INCIDENT was the latest in a series of attacks or other misadventures suffered by the company's vessels at the hands of the Nationalists.

An unexplained angle of the situation was the question of what a merchant vessel was doing—or its rights—in ordering a man-of-war of the Chinese Nationalists to halt for a boarding party.

POPULATION: U. S. Climbing

According to a U. S. department of agriculture report, the population of the United States will increase by leaps and bounds in the next 25 years.

THE REPORT predicts that the current U. S. population of approximately 150 million will rise to a whopping 188.5 million by 1975—an increase of 25.4 per cent.

The "high level" assumptions on which the report is based are a combination of factors including high fertility, low mortality, annual net immigration to the U. S., and a high degree of internal migration—that is, moving back and forth within the United States.

NEW SOVIET CLAIM

Reds Report Vegetation on Planet Mars

The Russians, whose claims to pre-eminence in discoveries and inventions of things the western world had known and invented years before, were "out of this world" in their most recent assertion of scientific discovery.

This time, Soviet scientists were fairly sure of no contradiction, by means of visible proof at any rate. The Kremlin's telescope crews had

C-124:

Troops & Tanks

A new air force plane, designed to revolutionize the transportation of troops and guns in wartime took to the air at Long Beach, Calif., remained airborne for 55 minutes. It was the Douglas aircraft company's C-124 Globemaster designed to carry a 50,000-pound payload.

The plane is more than 127 feet long and has a wingspread of 173 feet.

CENSUS: Tell It All

Mr. and Mrs. America will be asked practically to "tell it all" when the federal census takers start by next April 1. About every fifth person contacted by the enumerators will be asked to give even additional information to that asked in the routine process.

Here's what each person will be expected to tell the census taker: Age, relationship to the head of the household, race, sex, marital status, birthplace, citizenship status, employment status and occupation.

EVERY FIFTH PERSON, in addition, will be asked:

Where he or she lived a year ago. Country of birth of parents, length of schooling and school attendance. For adults in the one-in-five category, the enumerator will press for data regarding income, employment, and status as a veteran.

And, if you happen to be No. 30 or any multiple of that number on the list, you will be asked to divulge still additional information regarding unemployment, details of your marital status and the number of your children.

When the census is completed, the bureau expects to be able to give authoritative information regarding housing, mortgages, utility bills, rentals and household conveniences.

CONGRESSMEN, as per tradition, will have a big hand in naming district supervisors for the census-taking. In March, these district supervisors will undertake the job of choosing their crew leaders and enumerators. Those chosen will have to go to training schools and be ready by April 1 to start their search for personal facts.

GOVERNMENT: 'Poorhouse' State?

The GOP was kicking around a new label for the type of government it contends the Truman administration is gradually bringing about in the U. S. This time it was the "poorhouse" state, as compared with "welfare" state as had been charged previously.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN had grabbed up the tag "welfare" state and took the line that if that was a proper tag for all the progress and improvements his administration was bringing about, then the American people ought to go all out for the "welfare" state. In that he had the support of many of the nation's newspapers.

GOP National Chairman Guy C. Gabrielson, in answering Mr. Truman, accused the President's administration of leading the U. S. to a "poorhouse" state and to aggravation of a serious unemployment problem in this country.

Gabrielson charged that recent tariff cuts ordered by the President under the reciprocal trade agreements act, reworked by the 81st congress, have resulted in the "exporting of jobs of American workers in hope of providing jobs for workers abroad."

Asserting that Democrats not only are spending money that will have to be repaid in taxes collected a hundred years from now, Gabrielson declared:

"IF WE CONTINUE under the present administration we are headed for a poorhouse state, and while the inmates of a poorhouse may have a certain amount of security, their lot is not particularly enviable."

The GOP chairman added that the policies of the present administration are directed toward "destroying the American system of free enterprise."

That's a familiar cry from the GOP, but on the basis of past ballot records, it has little weight with the majority of U. S. voters.

PHILIPPINES: Credit Endangered

In Manila, four United States senators warned the Philippines that disorders such as the post-election Batangas revolt might hurt the islands' credit.

Senator Ellender (D. La.) declared he had "been hopeful of seeing a little more development, a little more law and order." The senator's utterance was made at a press conference. Three other members of the group agreed.

One said: "I am warning not only the Philippines but the rest of the world that the well is about to go dry." Then he said that in the future the United States will give aid only to those nations that help themselves.

The spokesman, Republican, however, was speaking strictly for himself, as any observer of U. S. foreign-aid policy knew well. In matters of aid to others, the administration's intentions were clearly obvious, and the viewpoint of an individual senator would do little to change the trend.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Fascination of 'Older Women'

By Lawrence Gould

May an older woman fascinate a young man?

Answer: Certainly. And while the real source of the fascination is the man's unconscious craving to be "mothered," there are times when satisfying this need may free him for great achievements in other directions. The famous Lord Beaconsfield (born Benjamin Disraeli) was extremely happy though married to a woman years his senior, and there have been other cases like this. But more often, I'm afraid, the man whose need of love is childish is too infantile in other respects to be either a success in life or a satisfactory husband.

Is social position based on income?

Answer: No, writes Dr. Richard Centers in his book, "The Psychology of Social Classes." There are undeniably social classes in this country. But membership in a given class is not based upon birth or economic status, but on a subjective feeling of "belonging," and this in turn is most frequently determined by the way in which you make your living. A rich doctor and a poor one have much more in common than either would have with a musician.

Can you tell when you should look for a new job?

Answer: In principle, yes, though of course there are times when it's impracticable to take chances. If you've reached the point where you feel that your present job leaves you with nothing more to learn and "nowhere to go," you had better begin looking for a new one, even though it means a temporary setback. For the rule of life is that whenever you stop growing you begin disintegrating, mentally and physically. The only exception is the man to whom his job is just a way to make a living and whose real interests lie elsewhere.

Emotional Disturbances Cause Asthma

By Dr. James W. Barton

IT WAS LEARNED during World Wars I and II that emotional disturbances cause many actual organic diseases, especially ulcer of the stomach and first part of the small intestine (peptic ulcer). It was also found that serious behavior problems and mental derangements occurred during and following these wars. However, that emotional disturbances could cause attacks of asthma, not in a few but in many cases, was unknown until more recently.

When it was discovered a few years ago that cold air, hot air, dust, fresh fruit, fumes, pollen of plants could bring on an attack of asthma, it was believed that all cases of asthma were caused by allergy or by defects in nose and throat.

It may come as a surprise to many to learn that emotional disturbances can bring on an attack of asthma and bring the attack more often if allergy to pollen, dust, and other substance is also present in the patient's make-up. In "The Canadian Medical Association Journal," Dr. P. W. Hardie, Hamilton, Ontario, states that it is generally recognized that asthmatic patients are strung-up, tense, irritable, overambitious and overanxious, but too often this factor as a cause of asthma is overlooked by the physician.

By careful analysis of his asthmatic patients during the past two years, Dr. Hardie discovered that in the great majority of cases of asthma, the emotional and allergic conditions are both present, with the emotional factor the more important in some cases and the allergic in others.

Thus, in some cases the emotional disturbance is 90 per cent the cause and allergy 10 per cent, and in other cases emotion is 10 per cent of the cause and allergy 90 per cent.

The suggestion is that while treatment for allergy and any defects of nose and throat should be given, it should be pointed out to the patient that nervousness and disturbing emotions, by keeping him tensed, actually pave the way for asthma attacks, especially if allergy and defects of nose and throat are present.

Once the asthmatic fully realizes that his nervousness and anxiety are such important factors in causing asthmatic attacks, he may thereby acquire calmness of spirit and many, if not all, attacks may be prevented.

HEALTH NOTES

Eating of large meals while emotionally disturbed interferes with mixing movements and quality of digestive juices, so that it's wiser to omit the meal altogether.

It is not strawberries or shellfish that cause hives, but something about the makeup of certain individuals that causes these foods to bring on skin irritation.

Many patients with rampant decay of the teeth have had rheumatic fever.

The anterior lobe of part of the pituitary gland produces at least six hormones.

Heat applications to the back of head and neck give relief in some cases of headache.

The physician's approach must be one of unhurried interest in the patient's problems.

When the patient is in a happy mood the stomach is more active, and the lining of the stomach is a normal red.

Persons are just as individual and different to the physician as they are to each other.

There are about 200 possible causes of headache.

The old family doctor has a tremendous advantage over the city specialist, because he has known the patient for years or from infancy.

Lack of interest by the physician as the patient tells his story gives the patient the feeling there is little use in detailing his symptoms.

The pituitary gland is about the floor of the skull between the eyes size of a large pea, lying on the and between the temples.

Blue Cows, Blue Milk
 One of the milkman's regular customers complained to him one day that the quality of the milk lately didn't seem up to par. "That's because of the time of the year," he explained, "we are unable to send the cows out to graze in this cold weather, and since they can't eat green grass they can't produce milk as rich as they do in the summer. But, believe me, madam, they are just as sorry they can't give you rich milk as I am. Why, do you know, I went out to milk them just this morning and they were all crying because they realized their milk was so thin."
 "That's all very well," answered the lady, "but I wish you would see to it that the tears don't drop into the milk can."

Effective Cough Syrup, Home-Mixed for Extra Economy
 Saves Big Dollars. No Cooking.

This splendid recipe is used by millions because it makes such an effective medicine for coughs due to colds. It's so easy to mix a child could do it.
 From any drug get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial irritations.
 Then make a syrup with two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.
 Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of cough medicine, very effective and quick-acting, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.
 This cough syrup takes hold of coughs, giving quick relief. It loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, helps clear air passages. Money refunded if Pinex doesn't please.

● If there is one place in the world where art can be billed in big, bold capital letters, it is the Louvre in Paris, for centuries the cradle of the world's richest collection of masterpieces. This is the treasure house that is a "must" in the grand tour of any art lover. The tour begins in the long corridor (left) which leads to the entrance of the art gallery of the Louvre. As it now stands, the Louvre is 750 yards long, 182 yards wide and about 85 feet high. Photo below shows the "grand staircase" which leads up to the treasured "Winged Victory." This scene illustrates the architectural beauty of the palace itself, aside from its being a storehouse of art pieces.

World Cradle Of Art

Here is the original body beautiful (right), perhaps one of the most visited pieces of art in the Louvre. Aside from the Mona Lisa and the Winged Victory, the Venus de Milo is the pride of the collection. Tourists often pause for hours to admire the ageless statue.

The photo at left might seem to border on the irreverent to an art lover. But this tourist wanted a picture of the Louvre building, and if he uses the statue of Caesar Augustus, or anyone else, as a tripod, it's just a means to an end—no disrespect intended. The photographer is interested in the ceiling which is in reality a painting in itself.

Another attraction, aside from the masterpieces, are the art copyists (above). They copy originals in the Louvre and sell them, often at fabulous prices. Some are so good that it takes the expert eye of a connoisseur to tell the copy from the original.

Make Your Holiday Menu A Gay, but Simple One With Yuletide Coloring

CHRISTMAS is in the air and excitement reigns supreme. There's a tradition of hospitality that's a part of the whole spirit and idea of Christmas and no small part of this begins and emerges from the warmly fragrant kitchen. The climax is reached with a festive board on which you've placed delicious foods in holiday colors.
 Red and green are the colors which you want to push forward, and this comes easily if the menu includes ham, cranberries and avocado in the salad, and a cake frosted in white and green.

How to Bake Ham
REMOVE WRAPPINGS from ham, but do not remove rind. Rewrap loosely in inside glassine wrapping paper or heavy waxed paper. Place flat side up on rack in any shallow uncovered baking pan. (Place butt or shank end of ham cut side down on rack.) Bake in 325° oven for length of time as follows:

- Weight of ham
  - 10 to 12 pounds 14 to 16 pounds
  - 14 to 16 pounds 16 to 18 pounds
  - Over 16 pounds Half Ham
- If ham is room temperature
  - 18 min. per lb.
  - 16 min. per lb.
  - 14-15 min. per lb.
  - 20-25 min. per lb.
- If ham is chilled
  - 20-22 min. per lb.
  - 18-20 min. per lb.
  - 16-18 min. per lb.
  - 24-27 min. per lb.

Cooked hams should only be reheated 10 minutes per pound. If meat thermometer is used, remove ham when the internal temperature reaches 150 to 155°. In inserting the thermometer, be sure the bulb of the thermometer reaches the center of the thickest part of the meat away from the bone.
 Half an hour to 45 minutes before done, remove paper and rind, score fat, stud with cloves if desired, and cover with a glaze. Finish baking at the same low temperature (325°) until well glazed. Use any of the following glazes:

Glazes for Ham
Orange Glaze: Mix 1 cup brown sugar, juice and grated rind of one orange and spread over fat surface. Finish baking. Garnish with orange slices.
Jelly Glaze: Mix 1 cup bright red jelly with about 1/4 cup hot water and spread over fat surface of ham. This forms a lovely red glaze. Stud with cloves or decorate with halves of candied cherries.

Mashed Potato Puff (Serves 6)
 1/2 cup hot milk
 2 tablespoons butter
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 3 cups hot mashed potatoes
 2 egg whites, beaten
 Add milk, butter, and seasonings to mashed potatoes and beat

Beautifully glazed ham is beautiful to behold and pure joy to eat at the Christmas feast when baked properly. Use the time chart given in the column for regular ham or ready-cooked ham which needs only heating through.

LYNN SAYS:
Make your Holiday Foods Interesting with Flavor
 Large slices of ham, turkey or chicken make good sandwiches when they're served on those crusty, split and toasted rolls. Plenty of butter is indicated to make them succulent.
 Simple but festive desserts during this season include small cups of custard which have been well chilled and decorated with candied fruit. Serve with thin slices of fruit cake.
 Looking for a chicken or turkey garnish? Soak and pit some large prunes and then wrap in bacon and broil.
 Festive idea for apple pie: Before putting on the top crust, spread the apples with a tart orange marmalade into which has been mixed a few slivers of citron.
 Whip up hot spiced drinks when you come in from the cold out-of-doors by heating pineapple juice or sugar-sweetened grapefruit juice with a few spices. Use cinnamon sticks for stirring.

Your cake for Christmas can convey the holiday greeting simply if you write it in green tinted frosting with a pastry tube as shown here. Garnish the base of the cake with glossy leaves and holly berries.

until smooth. Fold in egg whites and put into a greased baking dish. Bake at 400° for 45 minutes.
*Cranberry-Avocado Salad (Serves 6-8)
 2 cups cranberries
 1 cup water
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 1 tablespoon gelatin
 1/2 cup cold water
 1/2 cup diced celery
 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
 1 avocado

Cook the cranberries in the cup of water in a saucepan for 15 minutes. Just before removing from heat, add the sugar, also gelatin which has been softened in the cold water. When cool, fold in celery and walnuts. Pour into individual molds. Chill until firm. Arrange lettuce on individual salad plates. Arrange three or four thin slices of avocado on this, then unmold the jelly in the center of it. Serve with mayonnaise.

LET THE FRAGRANCE of cinnamon in these rolls give that homey touch to the Christmas dinner. The dough requires no kneading and the rolls are simplicity themselves to prepare.

*Cinnamon Twists (Makes 30 rolls)
 1 cup milk, scalded
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup lukewarm water
 2 packages yeast, compressed or dry granular
 3 eggs, beaten
 5 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 Add sugar, salt and shortening to scalded milk and stir. Cool to lukewarm and add water. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast and let stand until dissolved. (If dry yeast is used, the time required is from 5 to 10 minutes.) Add strips 1-inch wide. Take hold of each end of strip and twist in opposite directions. Seal ends firmly. Place on a greased baking sheet 1 1/2 inches apart. Sprinkle tops of twists with remaining sugar-cinnamon mixture.
 Fold remaining third of dough over the two layers. Cut with a sharp knife crosswise into strips 1-inch wide. Take hold of each end of strip and twist in opposite directions. Seal ends firmly. Place on a greased baking sheet 1 1/2 inches apart. Sprinkle tops of twists with remaining sugar-cinnamon mixture.
 Cover with a clean towel. Let rise in a warm place free from drafts until doubled in bulk. Bake in a hot (425°) oven about 20 minutes.

Small potato balls are appropriate to serve for holiday time if they are given a frosty look with dill-seasoned sour cream.
 Brazil nuts make a nice item for those who like to nibble if the nuts are boiled for five minutes, then shelled and sauteed in butter and seasoned with salt.
 Bread and butter sandwiches served with holiday salads can be more than interesting if you add finely chopped chives or water-cress to the butter before spreading the bread.
 Anything hot and spicy will be welcome during the holidays. Try some gingerbread waffles with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and bananas for a hasty snack.
 Pineapple slices for garnishing meat platters are nothing new until you dip them in flour which has been seasoned with powdered spices before broiling or frying. Use cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg or allspice.
 Light thought for a heavy meal: Make a salad with crisp endive, onion rings, grapefruit and orange sections with tart, French dressing.

The housewife was very critical of the way a workman was putting down linoleum in her kitchen. "Look, lady," he said, "this is my business. What do you know about laying linoleum?" "Well," she confessed, "I never laid linoleum and I never laid an egg, but I can make a better omelet than a hen can."

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET Hope Diamond—Not a Jinx Gem But a Marble Carrying a Hex

By BILLY ROSE

The members of the gang squatted in a small circle on a patch of green a block away from the subway station at 242nd street. Their eyes were in fixed focus on a shiny object at their feet—the Hope Diamond.

Let me end the suspense here and now by announcing that the gang was made up of boys who had gotten together to defeat the marble championship of the Upper Bronx, and that the shiny object at their feet was not the unlucky stone of great price you've been reading about for years, but a legendary agate known to small fry from the Triborough Bridge to Spuyten Duyvil as the Hope Diamond shooter.

Now, a shooter, or "real," as the aficionados call it, looks a lot like an ordinary marble, but any kid who knows a heist-shot from a knuckle-down can tell you the difference. The shooter is heavier, truer, more cunningly fashioned than the ordinary immie, and, even more important, there exists between it and the thumb and forefinger of its owner a spiritual affinity which makes it more precious to him than all the other marbles he owns. When a player loses in a "for-keeps" game, he pays off with common, earth-bound miggles—he would no more think of parting with his shooter than a good family man would with his life insurance.

Billy Rose

As the fen-everything set recalls it, the Hope Diamond was first brought to the Bronx by a player who originally hailed from Chepachet, Rhode Island. After a series of backyard triumphs, he won the right to participate in a semi-final, but the morning of the contest one of the ball-bearings in his skates got stuck and, in the header which followed, his shooting finger was so badly bruised that he had to withdraw.

Then, for a while, the malevolent marble was owned by Ivo Sondergaard, but shortly after he acquired it, the boy developed a game leg and was forever barred by his doctor from kneeling on the damp earth.

Finally, Whitney Wizoczek, reputed to have the most skillful thumb north of the Harlem river, latched on to the shooter, but two days before the big tournament, the jinx caught up with him and he broke a couple of ribs falling off the back of an ice truck.

The easiest thing, of course, would have been to throw away the hex-heavy shooter but, as you know, the ways of men and urchins under the spell of superstition are hard to explain. Harry Winston's Hope Diamond, too, is supposed to carry a curse with it, but as you may have noticed, Harry hasn't thrown it away either.

AND SO, five minutes before the contest, Charlie Hersch, Whitey's

I Sheltered Many a Care

SHELTERED many a heavy care
And hugged them to my bosom,
I held them close and guarded them
For fear that I should lose them.
One day I sat beside the road
All spent and worn and sighing,
Too tired to listen to the birds,
Or mark the white clouds flying.

Then suddenly, a shining note
Like silver dropped from heaven,
Pierced my ears; the cooling shade
Offered its wayside leaven.
The swaying grasses bent to touch
My fevered cheek, and blessed me;
A wild flower reached its gentle hand
And lovingly caressed me.

The morning dew was like a drink
Of water for my thirsting;
I saw a lark lift from the grass,
His gold throat swelled to bursting.

I rose to take my cares again,
And carefully to bind them
About my heart—but they were gone.
I searched, but could not find them.

—GRACE NOLL CROWELL

closest friend, dropped the Hope Diamond shooter in front of the contestants with the dire words, "Wizoczek says anybody wants it kin have it, only he oughta make sure his family kin afford the doctor bills."

Eleven of the players regarded it with awe and distrust, but the twelfth—a dark horse from the swanky Riverdale section—was not impressed. He picked it up, tried a test shot, and said, "If nobody wants the Diamond, I'll use it."

"Ya be lucky if ya don't bust a leg," said Hymie Michernick.

"Well, for most of the contest it looked like the rich kid was a cinch to win. Not only did the Diamond connect with everything it went after, but it seemed to hex the other shooters that attempted to hit it. Inspired and made confident by its performance, the kid from Riverdale sighted long and carefully, considered the topography of the ground and, when the situation called for extreme measures, even shot from the stomach position.

However, as the match entered the tenth and final round, a station wagon pulled up and a hefty Swede of a nursemaid got out.

"Ja-ackie," she shouted. "Dinner's almost ready and look at your clothes. You're a sight!"

"This is the last time it's going to put the squitch on anybody," he said, and threw it as far as he could.

"Albert!" yelled the nursemaid. A chauffeur with big shoulders got out and walked toward the circle. Jackie dropped the Hope Diamond in disgust, said "Aw, nuts!" and climbed into the station wagon. And as it drove away, the blood-shot eye of the blue shooter seemed to wink at the other players.

Hymie Michernick picked it up. "This is the last time it's going to put the squitch on anybody," he said, and threw it as far as he could.

Now, if the Hope Diamond had been an ordinary shooter, the story would end here. But, as I have gone to some pains to make clear, it was not. Propelled by the Michernick muscles, the little ball of fire sailed through the air for 50 feet, bounced off a tin can onto the sidewalk, and was picked up an hour later by an intern on his way to the hospital.

"I know someone who'll get a real kick out of this," he said, handing the Hope Diamond shooter to one of the nurses. "Will you give this marble to the patient in room 218. Whitney Wizoczek—the little boy who broke his ribs."

The Fiction THE PRICE

Corner

By Richard H. Wilkinson

THERE was a strangeness about Pancho Ortega that was hard to describe. There was mystery in his eyes, a wildness, a curiously detached look. Yet he had the high forehead of intelligence, the cheekbones and nose of breeding, the erect carriage of pride. He was the type of man that you looked at twice.

I first saw him two summers ago in Cano. It was swelteringly hot outside, but with- in the dark interior of Cabello's saloon you could forget the heat.

Ortega was sitting alone at a table, an untouched drink at his elbow, an open book in his lap. No one bothered him; the dancing girls veered away; there was respect in the attitude of the waiter who served him that wasn't evidenced for other customers.

"Who is he?" I asked Juan. "Pancho Ortega, the head hunter."

"Head hunter?" I stared, drink held suspended. Juan's white teeth flashed against his dark skin.

"It surprises you, yes? That business of head hunting. Come, surely you have heard of the head hunting tribes?"

"Who hasn't?" I assented. "But who ever believed them?" "Come," said Juan. "You Americans must be shown."

"Pancho Ortega!" I exclaimed suddenly.

of what might pass as a gift shop back home. Juan spoke rapidly in his native tongue to the swarthy gentleman behind the counter. The swarthy gentleman looked at me, shrugged, and disappeared into a back room. In a moment he reappeared carrying in his hand an object that caused my flesh to crawl.

The object was a human head, shrunk symmetrically to about the size of an orange.

The swarthy gentleman offered me the head for $25. When I refused it, he shrugged indifferently and disappeared behind the curtains.

Bear, Hunting Oil Pumper, Winds Up Dead, as Usual

BROOKVILLE, PA.—A bear sort of turned the tables and went hunting for Ray Shaffer. But the end result was the same—a dead bear.

Shaffer, an oil pumper, said the bear lumbered around the corner of his barn as he returned for work. Shaffer quietly went into the house, got his gun and felled the 300-pound brute. It was the opening day of the bear season and the action was okay.

Star Dust STAGE SCREEN RADIO

By INEZ GERHARD

JOHN DALL made a hit in his first picture, "The Corn Is Green"; in his fourth, Alfred Hitchcock's "Rope", he got the big break that every actor dreams of. He has his first sympathetic role in a long time in "Deadly Is the Female", for United Artists. But his is no over-night success. He learned his trade the hard way, through six years of work in stock companies and little theaters, then as a walk-on in two Broadway plays, finally in a good part in a third one, which brought him his Hollywood contract. He stands six feet one, has brown hair and blue-gray eyes.

The public has been so enthusiastic about Milton Berle in "Always Leave Them Laughing" that Warner Bros. will produce another comedy starring him.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Lucille Ball is being considered for the Sophie Tucker role in the movie version of the singer's life, "Some of These Days"—she's about one-third as fat as the famous Sophie . . . It's no coincidence that Eleanor Parker's name in "The Rock Bottom" is Susan, the same as her baby daughter's—the script called for her to be called Lucy, a name she dislikes, so she got it changed . . . The Geraldine Farrar you'll see in "The Men" is the daughter of Franklyn Farrar.

IRISH . . . Mary Collins (center) is "Miss Ireland" of the New York area.

Teen-Agers Face Greater Traffic Dangers Now

CHICAGO—Parents do you have a teen-age son or daughter? Well, if you worried about them crossing the streets 10 years ago when they started to school, they are facing even greater dangers today, according to the National Safety Council.

Ten years ago 6.8 out of 100,000 of the children in the 5-14 age group were killed as pedestrians, and four out of 100,000 were killed in autos as nonpedestrians.

But in 1948, when they were 15-24 years of age, 3.1 out of 100,000 were killed as pedestrians—less than half the rate in 1939. But 28.1 out of 100,000 were killed in traffic as non-pedestrians—seven times the earlier rate!

In Reverse

A hunter claimed that his dog had the most sensitive nose of any animal in the world. He liked to tell of the time that he flushed a pheasant. The bird dashed for some underbrush and the dog was ordered to go in and flush it again.

The animal, unfortunately, picked up the bird's back scent and followed it swiftly for miles and miles. Finally he reached a tree. He looked up into the branches and barked loudly. When the hunter caught up with the dog he followed the dog's gaze and saw the nest from which the pheasant had been hatched two years before.

He never did explain how the pheasant's egg got into that nest.

"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine," counted the visitor in an English woman's home, "my goodness! What a big family!"

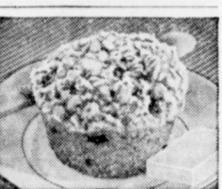

"Yes'm," agreed the woman proudly, as she held the family group picture up for closer inspection, "a fine lot of children, Hi 'ave, thank 'eaven. An' we've managed to nym them so that heath child' as a nym beginnin' with a haith."

"Really?" said the visitor. "What are their names?"

"Well, this un's Enry, that's Ugh, the one on the left his Ugh, the one next to 'im his Erbert, then Ubert, the little chap his Orrie, and the two girls are Arriet and Ety. The tall boy in front was always picking things up so we nym'd 'im Holiver."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round by Drew Pearson

McCarran as Advisor

SEN. PAT McCARRAN of Nevada, No. 1 enemy of Europe's homeless refugees, now has set himself up as chief volunteer public relations counsel to Europe's No. 1 Fascist dictator.

On his latest junket abroad, supposedly to "investigate the current refugee situation," McCarran gave Spain's Francisco Franco some shrewdly cynical advice on how to make friends and influence people.

"The overwhelming majority of the American people," he said, "are convinced that your country has been given a raw deal. It's just a question now of pounding the point home and getting enough pressure put on enough congressmen to whip the state department pink."

A "healthy bloc of senators," McCarran added, are prepared to advocate, early in the next congressional session, that the United States sponsor Spain's admission to specialized agencies of the United Nations.

"However," McCarran warned Franco, "don't let your pride keep you from blowing your own horn, good and loud. You've got to keep telling everybody that Spain deserves a place on the anti-Communist team. Don't bother about anything else, or answer any other criticism; just keep hitting that one line, and you'll make the grade."

Francisco, whose background hasn't given him much experience in molding public opinion, must have been grateful for these tips. For less than a week later, Franco followed McCarran's suggestions closely in an exclusive interview with a U. S. correspondent.

Radio Madrid, on its short-wave broadcasts to the Americas, has also begun to bear down heavily on "Spain's contributions to the struggle of western civilization against Russian Communist barbarism." High point of these propaganda blarney is the cryptic declaration: "If it hadn't been for Spain, England would now probably be the only free nation in western Europe."

Unsung Bureaucrats

Thousands of words have been rained upon the reading public about the inequities of bureaucrats. However, there are bureaucrats and bureaucrats and without some of them, the government couldn't function today.

For instance, a handful of medical bureaucrats are risking death and disease every day to safeguard the health of others. The door outside their bureaus at Bethesda, Md., might be covered with quarantine signs, but one sign alone tells the story: "Infectious diseases."

Inside, doctors and assistants are exploring with microscopes and test tubes, seeking cures for everything — from polio to the common cold. At one time or other, nearly everyone on the staff has been bedridden with some disease; at least three have died during the past decade — victims of their own research.

For such risks, these doctors are paid a modest government salary, ranging from $4,500 to $10,000, though they could earn far more in private practice. They don't work for the glory either, since their discoveries are kept anonymous by the public health service. Yet their selfless research goes on.

The doctor in charge of polio research, for example, is Dr. Charles Armstrong who spent eight months in bed and nearly died of tularemia, or rabbit fever, and also came down with dengue fever, parrot fever, "Q" fever and encephalitis on other assignments. He is now searching desperately for a serum that will prevent polio.

No Cure for Colds

Another important research task force, under Dr. Leon Atlas, is exploring the common cold. He has already isolated the elusive virus which causes colds, has proven this by dropping the virus into the nostrils of volunteers from the district of Columbia jail. However, Dr. Atlas has also discovered there are many types of colds—caused by other viruses, allergies and mild diseases that do not get past the preliminary stage.

Dr. Atlas still hasn't discovered a serum or drug to prevent colds. In fact, he warns against using any drugs, including the antihistaminic drugs which have been ballyhooed in full-page ads as a cold cure.

"As yet," he cautions, "there are no adequate and convincing studies that demonstrate unequivocally that any drug or combination of drugs will prevent or influence the course, severity or duration of colds."

The Way it Happened... IN WASHINGTON... British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery actually drank tea at a "tea" to which he was invited in the Pentagon. IN PITTSBURGH... Bystanders gazed in open-mouthed awe when a squad of firemen dashed out of a department store with the blazing body of a woman and proceeded to strip it of clothing, relaxed when they saw it was a dummy.

Yeah, Which One? An Englishman was on his first big-game hunting expedition. It was impressed upon him that he must never take a chance with a leopard, he must shoot instantly. Came the time when he did meet with a leopard. His guide shouted the reminder: "Shoot him on the spot." The Englishman, a little rattled, said: "Be more specific, my man which spot?"

Again in 1949 MORE PEOPLE HAVE BOUGHT CHEVROLETS than any other make

—just as they have done during the total 19-year period, 1931 to date!

THE men and women of America know value when they see it! Consequently, they are purchasing more Chevrolet passenger cars than any other make... and more Chevrolet trucks than the next two makes combined... thereby placing Chevrolet first in sales this year, just as they have done for the total 19-year period, 1931 to date.

Naturally, we and all Chevrolet dealers are deeply appreciative of this overwhelming tribute of preference; and we join with Chevrolet in pledging to do everything possible to give you greater and greater value in the months and years to come.
