Referendum Election for High School Addition Tuesday, Feb. 9

District Electors To Vote on Proposed $633,000 Bond Issue

A special referendum election will be held in Kewaskum Community Union High School District Joint No. 2 on Tuesday, Feb. 9, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of the school district the proposition that there shall be issued $633,000 general obligation bonds for the erecting, remodeling and equipping an addition to the Kewaskum Community High school building.

The election will be held in the high school gymnasium. The polls will be open at 7 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m.

The Kewaskum Community Union High school district is comprised of electors from the village of Kewaskum, Kewaskum, Barton, Farmington and Wayne townships, Washington county; Ashford and Auburn townships, Fond du Lac county, and Mitchell and Scott townships, Sheboygan county.

A general meeting of the electors of the district was held at 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium on Thursday, Feb. 4, to discuss the bond issue referendum and to explain in detail the proposed remodeling and addition to the high school, preceding the election on Feb. 9.

At informational meetings held by the board of education in recent weeks, which were well attended, two recommendations were made to the electors as follows:

1. To build a classroom addition on to the high school in Kewaskum to increase the number of teaching stations in the high school from 22 to 37. Included in the proposal are remodeling of the kitchen and a federal food storage area, an enlarged library, a language laboratory, an additional science laboratory, an art room, a typing and business education suite including an instructional area for business machines, a reading laboratory, an enlarged shop area, a graphic arts room, and 11 general purpose classrooms, lavatories, equipment and garage storage, a cafeteria work study area.

2. That the Union High school district be re-organized into an integrated K-12 common school district in order to provide more equal educational opportunities for the children in the district, to equalize the tax burden for education over the whole district, and to receive substantially more state aid for the operation of the schools.

The recommendations were made after extensive studies had been made by the board of education and building committee, the faculty of the high school, the administration, and the State Department of Public Instruction.

Electors of the district having questions are urged to call Mr. Boyd, supervising principal, at 626-2166 or members of the high school board for explanations of either of the two proposals.

Reasons Listed by Board for Addition To the High School

The reasons for the proposed addition to Kewaskum Community High school, as set forth by the board of education at a series of informational meetings, have been listed for the electors.

The high school building as it now stands was designed to adequately handle 480 students, each taking four academic subjects plus physical education. The high school now has 530 students with the normal academic class load per student being five subjects. Next year an enrollment of 549 is expected and the following year about 570 students will enroll. In order to handle these students, with even a minimum program, additional classroom space is mandatory.

Lack of space has already forced several undesirable features upon the present program. For example:

(a) Classes in English, mathematics and social studies have as many as 37 students per class.

(b) Some science classes are already being taught in regular classrooms where students do not have the opportunity to take part in experiments.

(c) Students have been denied certain classes because there is not room for enough classes to be offered.

(d) The library does not have enough space for the books now owned by the school and it is not large enough to allow students to use it when needed because lack of space has made it necessary to assign students to the library for study halls.

(e) Curriculum expansion and improvement has been curtailed because of lack of classroom space.

(f) The present shops are not large enough to expand the offerings in the area of vocational education.

(g) The present kitchen is crowded now and does not have room for additional ovens, steamers, etc. to handle the expected increases in lunches served.

That the boys enjoy Elsie's as a hang-out? That Harold B. tried to make Miss Dachenbach believe he didn't have time to study but she caught him at Elsie's? That D. Petermann could have won a coaster wagon but took a football—he was afraid of the speed? That the seniors are the greatest jitterbugs in school and have "rovingitis" in study hall?

The earliest record of a school meeting in the district, dated 1851, also was on display.

One of the guests who especially enjoyed comparing the present modern-day school with the past was John Rilling. Mr. Rilling, age 90, taught in the district at the turn of the century. He now resides at the Cedar Lake Home.

Refreshments consisting of cake, milk and coffee were served to the guests.

County PTA Council Meets at Hartford

Carl Zielke Receives State Recognition

Carl A. Zielke, left, Madison, for 17 years manager of the Wisconsin Press Association for the state's weekly newspapers, was one of five recipients Jan. 27 of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture's awards for outstanding service to rural Wisconsin. Dean Glenn S. Pound of the college presented the certificate while Mrs. Zielke watches. Zielke expressed the opinion that the honor was made possible because of the state's weekly newspapers' dedicated cooperation with him and the association. (ADA photo).

County Agent News Notes

By MAURICE J. HOVLAND
Washington County Agent

The extension office receives a publication from the St. Paul Bank for Cooperatives, which always has some good information. What struck my eye this month was a picture of Guido Schroeder on the front page. Mr. Schroeder serves as a member of the board of directors of this organization, and has just been elected to his fourth 3-year term on the District Farm Credit Board.

I want to mention some of the things I read in this publication that follow the same trend of thought as we wrote before. They also say that it is no secret farms are becoming fewer and larger fast.

Rex Daley of the United States Department of Agriculture projects that the number of farms in the U. S. may be reduced from the present 3½ million to as few as 2 million farms by 1980. He further suggests that only about half of those 2 million farms will be "commercial" farms and will produce something like 95% of the total farm output. The other million will be part-time and retirement type farms which will produce only about 5% of the total farm output.

While this is true it certainly means some tremendous changes in farms. Farm debts have moved up to a new record of 36.3 billion dollars. This is 50% higher than 1960 and 135% higher than 1955. A good share of that increase is the result of higher price for farm land. Unfortunately the larger debt load has not been accompanied by a larger net farm income.

Total U. S. net farm income has ranged between 11.5 and 12.5 billion dollars annually during the past ten years. It is also an accepted fact that most farmers are using increased amounts of credit for worthy purposes. This means enlarging and modernizing farms and to improve family-living conditions. These trends, say the writers of this magazine, indicate that agricultural lenders should give increasing attention to the borrower's use of credit in relation to his financial and income position. This is as it should be.

because the larger these units become the more stress there will be on sound farm business management.

See what I mean? Farming is changing and will change even more in the years ahead.

A BIT OF HUMOR

Did you hear about the father who said to his son, "Why are you sitting on that boy?" The boy said, "The kid hit me." The father said, "Didn't I tell you to count to 100 before getting mad?" And the boy said, "Sure, and I'm sittin' on him so he'll be here when I get through counting."

WATER VALUABLE RESOURCE

Farm and Home Week was good. It is always good to have a chance to listen in on some of these discussions and hear what's new. I was particularly interested in the session on water. We will try to relay a little of this information to you from time to time.

Many years ago, when this country was settled, there wasn't any concern about water because we had plenty of it. Now we realize that we had better do what we can to protect this valuable resource so it is always available.

One of the speakers indicated that the states along the Ohio River have had a real problem with pollution, primarily because of cities dumping raw sewage into the river. At the present time, the eight states have joined to collectively build the number of sewage plants that are needed to take care of the sewage from the beginning of the river to where it goes into the Mississippi. They have spent nearly a billion dollars to do it.

But look at the penalty one would pay for not taking care of the sewage. Fortunately we don't have that problem in our area. Yet who of us would like to swim in the Milwaukee river after it got beyond Washington county.

We must remember that water is a vital resource, and we must do everything we can to protect it.

More Heavy Snow, Sub-Zero Cold Hit

With 12 to 14 inches of snow on the ground on the level from storms the week before, another snowstorm hit this area Sunday night, when 5 to 6 inches of new, fluffy snow fell. Brisk winds followed the snow and again piled up huge drifts over the previous drifts.

The area has also had extremely cold weather. Up to Friday there were nine straight days of sub-zero weather. Temperatures dipped to 20 degrees below zero, ranging from 10 to 20 below nights and not getting above the zero mark most of the days. Residents, weary from the snow, frozen from the cold, and just plain sick of the extreme weather, finally got relief Friday when a wind shift to the south brought temperatures into the 20's finally. Cars failed to start and area garages were swamped with calls to help motorists get them started during the long cold spell.

Sunday's snow again added to the burden of county and village crews, who were still busy removing snow from previous storms, and brought out the plows and shovels again to pile snow upon snow. Highways drifted shut, cars became stuck in snowbanks once more, and accidents kept police busy.

High snowbanks at intersections have created driving hazards. Motorists are advised to attach warning flags or ribbons on their car aerials so that they can be seen approaching, especially those driving small cars.

La Crosse reported 31 degrees below zero Tuesday morning.

Reasons for Addition

rects the deficiencies listed and will allow the addition of art to the curriculum, it will allow special courses in reading and will provide facilities for more efficient teaching in the foreign language field.

Next year it will probably be necessary to schedule regular classes into special purpose rooms such as the chorus room, the agriculture classrooms and the home economics laboratory. These steps are undesirable not only from the point of view of teachers and students who will be affected but it will also mean some curtailing of the programs these rooms were designed to handle.

A "yes" vote on the bond issue referendum, Feb. 9, 1965 will mean that the board of education can let bids in late March or early April, a good time for competitive bidding and that the building addition will be ready for occupancy by September of 1966 when the student population of the high school will be nearly 100 students over present capacity.

KEWASKUM KITCHENETTES

The Kewaskum Kitchenettes met at the home of Mrs. Ruth Stoffel on Jan. 19. The members present gave roll call by telling what they had done for others at Christmas.

One of our members, Mrs. Mae Hanrahan, was not present. She was vacationing in Florida. She did not forget us, for she had sent a card to our president of the club, who read it to us, saying she was enjoying the nice warm weather.

The president had a few letters to read to us. One was to ask for volunteers to be host for the achievement night to be held at Kewaskum. The volunteers were Mrs. Ruth Stoffel and Mrs. Isabelle Muckerheide. They have to attend a few meetings to make arrangements for the event. The committee for the welfare made arrangements for the club to visit the county home at West Bend on the afternoon of Feb. 16.

Our health reporter handed out leaflets on high blood pressure. It is important to have a check-up by a doctor to find what some of the things are that can be done to prevent hypertension.

The project for this month was on fish and seafood. The project leaders were Mrs. Martha Forester and Mrs. Cordell Amerling. The project was started by giving out a quiz sheet to be filled out. After the sheet was answered we went to the kitchen and prepared some dishes with fish. We made a baked fish with cheese dressing, a shrimp creole and a crab salad. While the fish was baking the project leader told us what to look for when buying fresh fish. They also discussed how many different ways there were of preparing fish. After the fish was baked our hostess served us a delicious fruit salad, homemade rye bread, cut like a fish, with coffee and the dishes of fish we had prepared. The dishes we made were enjoyed by all.

After lunch our hostess had Call 626-2626 with your news.

slides she had from Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. It showed us how to contrast color for your home. The door prize was won by Mrs. Kathy Wilke.

Our next meeting will be held at Mrs. Carmen Backhaus' home on Feb. 8.

Mrs. Cordell Amerling, Reporter

KEWASKUM MODERN MRS.

Our January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Miller. After answering roll call to the topic "What did you do for others at Christmas?" we made final plans for the card party.

It will be held at the Gas Co. in West Bend Feb. 23 at 7:30 p. m. The topic will be "desserts." If anyone wishes to attend and hasn't been contacted by one of the members, please call Mrs. Jeanette Gnacinski 626-2886 or Mrs. Laura Miller 626-2859 before Feb. 10. There will be an admission charge of 75 cents. Dessert will be served and a prize at each table will be given. Circle the date on your calendar.

Our health report on blood pressure was given by Mrs. Paul Blumer. The project on "When You Buy and Prepare Fish" was arranged and presented by Mrs. Norman Held and Mrs. Oscar Hirsig with all of the members participating in the cooking. We all enjoyed eating the tasty dishes we prepared.

Our hostess, Mrs. Miller, furnished coffee and dessert of cookies, bars and candy.

Reporter, Mrs. Homer Schaub

Indians Defeat 2nd Place Bells

The surging Kewaskum Indians, who beat Grafton's champions in a major upset to end their 35-game winning streak the week before, pulled another surprise Friday when they defeated second place Campbellsport here by a 15-point margin, 75-60. The win gained a second place tie for the Indians with the Bells and Random Lake.

Conqueror of mighty Grafton, the Indians kept on the beam by storming past Campbellsport in the fourth quarter. The contest was very close until the final period. Kewaskum led by a point, 16-15, at the quarter and by two points, 32-30, at halftime. The Bells went ahead, 51-48, in the third stanza but the Indians outscored Campbellsport, who were weakened by the loss of high scoring John Wolfe on fouls, 27-9, in the last quarter to win by a big margin and avenge an earlier defeat by the Bells.

Three players did almost all of the scoring for the losers. High point man of the evening was Weiland with 20 points, followed by Jensen and Wolfe with 15 a piece. Pacing Kewaskum was Bob Coulter with 19 points and not far behind were Dick Wietor and Oelhafen with 14 each and Bob Miller with 11. The Bells outpointed the Indians on free throws, 20 to 13.

In other games Friday Grafton, undefeated champs the past two seasons until Kewaskum ended their streak, bounced back by beating Pewaukee, 67-52; Slinger bested North Fondy, 65-58, and Random Lake trimmed Germantown, 82-51.

The Indians entertain 6th place North Fondy this Friday, travel to Germantown Tuesday, and host Pewaukee next Friday.

DEEP SNOW, COLD HARD ON WILDLIFE; FEED THE BIRDS

The deep snow and below zero weather of the past ten days has been very hard on wildlife. Pheasants and Hungarian partridge have been wandering over the country-side looking for food. Now is the time for their sportsmen friends to start feeding, and if they do, keep it up until spring. The reason one finds birds on the various shooting preserves and shooting game farms in the county, is the fact that they start to feed long before the snow arrives.

Members of sportsmen's clubs that wish to feed may contact the club president. There is a limited amount of corn available for individuals not connected with a club. This may be obtained from Game manager Armin Schwengel, telephone 675-2173, Assistant Game Manager Walter Eickstedt Jr. telephone 677-5876, or myself.

Dogs Raise Havoc With Deer

This is the time of the year when dogs, not properly confined, raise havoc with the deer.

While we have not had the amount of snow we had the past few years, we have had lots of cold weather. We have also had a considerable number of deer killed by dogs and it now is evident dogs kill deer with or without deep snow.

Most of the dogs causing the difficulty are farm dogs, hunting dogs and just pet dogs.

We wish each of you could see a deer that had been attacked or killed by a dog. Not that a deer with its hind quarters half eaten (and sometimes still alive) is a pleasant sight; but I believe if you could witness this, you would be sure your dog was properly confined and not running deer.

Many times dogs are tracked home after running and killing deer. When the owner is confronted with the information, he is amazed that his dog has done such a thing. He had no idea whatever that his dog was involved.

ANY DOG THAT IS NOT CONFINED IS A POTENTIAL DEER KILLER.

We have seen beagles, labradors, cocker spaniels, and farm dogs kill deer as often as any other breed. Once they start running and killing deer they will never stop.

Conservation wardens are authorized by law to kill any dog found running, worrying or killing deer at any time. We don't want to kill your dog!

We urge you to confine your dog at all times.

Expect 7,000 at Family Holy Hour

Archbishop William E. Cousins will preside in cappa magna at the 17th annual Family Holy Hour to be held at the Milwaukee Auditorium next Sunday, Feb. 7 from 2:30 to 3:30 p. m. Final arrangements have been made so that 7000 Catholics from every state of life can participate with him in the hour of Eucharistic prayer.

Monsignor John A. Wiczorek, pastor of St. Helen Parish in Milwaukee will be celebrant at the Benediction. Father Edward Grohall, pastor of St. Dominic parish, Brookfield, will be deacon, and Father Joseph Sipek curate at St. Stephen parish, Milwaukee, will be sub-deacon. Father James R. Czachowski, curate at St. John Kantny, Milwaukee, will be the master of ceremonies. Father Harry R. Peight, director of Catholic Charities, and Father Leo L. Liebl, chaplain at St. Francis Motherhouse, will be Chaplains to the Archbishop. Father Robert G.

Sampon, assistant chancellor of the archdiocese will be master of ceremonies to the Archbishop.

Bishop Roman R. Atkielski, auxiliary bishop of Milwaukee, will also participate in the Holy Hour. Two CFM Chaplains, Father Donald B. Braun and Father Thomas E. Jaeger will act as chaplains to the Bishop.

The Minor ministers of the Holy Hour will be students of De Sales Preparatory Seminary. Christopher W. Pawlak, Michael A. Ketterhagen, Michael G. Benham and Thomas P. Eichenberger will be the acolytes. Gregory C. Kozlowski, Thomas A. Tearney, and Daniel F. Twombly will be crossbearers. Henry J. Plum will be thurifer. Trainbearer for the Archbishop will be John Staab.

Altar boys from the parishes on the north side of Milwaukee taught by the School Sisters of St. Francis will form a honor guard at the Holy Hour. The schools involved are: St. Albert, St. Anthony of Padua, St. Catherine, Holy Redeemer, Our Lady of Sorrows, St. Therese and St. Monica. The organizing of this honor guard is being directed by Father Edward Wieland of the Family Life Staff.

Father Alphonse S. Popek, pastor of SS. Cyril and Methodius parish in Milwaukee will be the procession marshal for the event, and will be assisted by several members of the usher's staff.

The format for this year's Holy Hour is entirely new and will involve a greatly increased use of Sacred Scripture. Father Donald N. Weber, the director of the Catholic Family Life Program which sponsors this Holy Hour for the Archdiocese will be the commentator. Father John B. Litzau, assistant director of the Program, will be the lector. Each vocation or state of life is represented by a separate theme: marriage, youth, the priesthood, the religious life, etc. Each theme is introduced by an appropriate reading from scripture and will feature a psalm which will be recited alternately by those in attendance. The Benediction hymns will be sung in English by the entire congregation.

A 50 voice mixed choir from St. Agnes parish, Milwaukee will sing under the direction of Joseph Fichtner. Mrs. Marie Metz will serve as organist for this choir and for the entire congregation. The entire assemblage will be led in congregational singing by Father Robert A. Skeris of the music department of De Sales Preparatory Seminary.

Almost 1000 Sisters and candidates for the Sisterhood have indicated that they will attend. The motherhouses of Sisters working in the Archdiocese have permitted the Sisters to be seated at the Holy Hour with the members of their own family who are in attendance.

Some 15 different communities of religious men have also indicated they will participate, and scores of priests from the Archdiocese have promised that they will attend. After Benediction with the Blessed Sacrament, Archbishop Cousins will speak and, finally, in unison with all the prelates and priests, will extend a blessing to all who have participated in the Holy Hour.
