Bank of Kewaskum to Join Marine Banking Group

Bank Has Been a Part of Kewaskum Ever Since 1904

AGREEMENT CONTEMPLATES ACQUISITION OF 80% OR MORE OF BANK'S SHARES

An agreement has been reached by the directors of the Bank of Kewaskum and The Marine Corporation for that bank to join the Marine banking group according to a joint announcement by the directors of the bank and John C. Geilfuss, president of The Marine Corporation. The agreement contemplates the acquisition of 80% or more of the bank's shares. The Marine Corporation is a registered bank holding company with its principal office in Milwaukee, and banking offices throughout eastern and southcentral Wisconsin.

The proposed acquisition is subject to the prior approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956. If such approval is obtained, the acquisition will be accomplished by an exchange of shares of common stock of the Marine Corporation for outstanding shares of the bank. The acquisition is also subject to approval by both the shareholders of the bank and the shareholders of The Marine Corporation.

The Bank of Kewaskum was established in 1904 by brothers Adolph L. and Moritz Rosenheimer. In 1932 the Bank of Kewaskum took over Farmers and Merchants Bank also in Kewaskum when that bank failed. Maurice Rosenheimer, Adolph's son, was elected president in 1939 and became chairman of the board in 1966 when Burns Nelthorpe, Maurice's son-in-law, was elected president. In November 1968 James Reigle was named president of the bank after Nelthorpe's death earlier in the year. Reigle is also a director of the bank and the president of Regal Ware, Inc. of Kewaskum.

The Rosenheimer family has long been known in the Kewaskum community since the Rosenheimer Malt and Grain Company was started by the family back in the early 1900's. The Rosenheimers also founded the Kewaskum Aluminum Company which was later sold and renamed Regal Ware, Inc. It is today the largest company in Kewaskum. The bank's former chairman of the board, Morrie Rosenheimer, was active in community affairs and served on the school board for many years.

Executive vice president and cashier, Wayland D. Tessar, is presently serving as chief executive officer of the bank as well as being a director. Tessar, 45, is a native of Washington county and has spent most of his life in Kewaskum and West Bend. He started with the bank in January of 1949 and has held various positions prior to being elected to his current office. A graduate of Kewaskum High school, he also attended Milwaukee State Teachers College, now the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. Tessar has been very active in community affairs, serving for eight years as trustee and six years as president of the Village of Kewaskum. He holds memberships in the American Legion, Kiwanis and the local sportsman club, as well as being an active member of Peace United Church of Christ where he has taught Sunday School and served on the church council. Tessar, his wife Adeline, and their two sons live in the Village of Kewaskum.

Romaine May, May Not Run For Re-election

LOCAL SUPERVISOR, COUNTY BOARD CHAIRMAN UNDECIDED

Elwyn M. Romaine, veteran chairman of the Washington County Board of Supervisors, who represents District 9, the Village of Kewaskum, on the board, stated "I'm not counting myself out as yet" when questioned as to whether he intended to run for re-election in the spring election April 7.

Nomination papers for candidates seeking election in spring may be circulated from Jan. 1, 1970 until 5 p. m. on Jan. 27, the filing deadline.

All 29 members of the county board will be up for election in April. Chairman Romaine was one of several veteran members of the board who had not yet determined as to whether they would run or not. None of them indicated that they would not run but "were leaving the door open." Romaine had hinted previously that he might not seek re-election.

County board members will receive their first pay increase in five years, beginning in April, following the election. This may make the decision to drop out a little more difficult for most of them. Beginning in April, regular board members will receive $150 a month instead of their present $100.

Members of the highway committee will receive $190 compared to their present $120, and the board chairman will receive $200 instead of his present $125.

Al Schmidt Retires After 31 Years With Sheriff's Department

A veteran officer of the Washington County Sheriff's Department, Al Schmidt, completed 31 years of service in the county on Dec. 31, when he retired. He was also the first man to fill the position of chief deputy upon creation of that office in 1962.

Al was appointed a special deputy in 1939 and continued in this capacity until 1951 when he was appointed undersheriff by Sylvester Naumann while he was sheriff of the county.

Schmidt was reappointed undersheriff by Naumann's successor, George Brugger, when he was elected sheriff and served as undersheriff during Brugger's two terms in office.

Schmidt himself entered the race for sheriff in the fall of 1956 and was elected as the Republican candidate. He was re-elected in 1958.

At the conclusion of his two terms as sheriff, Al was again appointed to the position of undersheriff by the sheriff-elect, William Johnson. Schmidt served as undersheriff for Sheriff Johnson until 1962 when the position of undersheriff was abolished by action of the county board and the position of "chief deputy" was created.

Schmidt was appointed to the position and has served as the county's chief deputy from that time on. He was succeeded on

Kewaskum's New Water Reservoir Placed in Service

200,000 GALLON CAPACITY TANK AUGMENTS SUPPLY

The village's new 200,000 gallon capacity water reservoir has been placed in service following a sanitizing process and pump testing last week.

The new concrete, ground level reservoir, which augments the village water supply, is attached to the No. 1 pumping station on Tower st. across from the elementary school.

Village Commissioner William Martin stated that the expansion project serves a dual purpose. Water storage capacity will be increased and a natural gas driven booster pump which could draw water from the reservoir into the village distribution system in the event our electric motors are disabled due to power or other failure, has been added.

Martin explained that water is pumped from the village well into the reservoir and from there into the existing stand-pipe tower. The second advantage is that the reservoir is equipped with a 125 horsepower fire pump connected to and capable of delivering to Regal Ware's sprinkler system 1,500 gallons of water per minute at 100 pounds pressure per square inch.

The total cost of the project, including a pump house, is approximately $72,000 and Regal Ware, Inc. shared about $17,000 of the installation expense of this amount.

Approval of the project was obtained by the village from the Public Service Commission about a year ago. The general contractor was Lauer Brothers of Neenah.

The auxiliary motor on the newest installation is the second such project in the village. A gasoline pump also provides auxiliary service in the village's No. 2 well, pumping water from the well and into the village mains.

LOCAL PROPERTY OWNERS GET 'CHRISTMAS GREETING'

Property owners in Kewaskum received their annual "Christmas greeting" from the village over the weekend when tax statements were received in the mail.

The tax rate of $36.39 per $1,000 assessed valuation on the 1970 budget is 45 cents higher than last year's.

Ambulance Calls

Saturday, Dec. 27, 11:20 p. m.—Donna Petermann, R. 2, Campbellsport, removed to St. Joseph's Community hospital, West Bend, with an injury suffered in a snowmobile accident at Hon-E-Kor Country club.

One good turn gets most of the blanket.

Jan. 1 by Allen Becker, former chief investigator for the sheriff's department, who was recently elected chief deputy by the county board.

Al plans to spend his retirement years on his farm in the town of Trenton, which is the Schmidt family homestead.

Minutes of Village Board Meeting

Regular Meeting
December 1, 1969

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in regular monthly session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building at 8:00 p. m. with President Wieter presiding and all Board Members present.

The minutes of the meetings of November 3rd, 10th and 24th were approved as presented upon motion by Trustee Yoost, seconded by Trustee Kral and duly carried.

The first order of business was the public hearing on the proposed budget for 1970. An interested citizen asked the question: "What is the anticipated cost of the proposed municipal garage and what is the anticipated cost of the proposed improvement to the sewage treatment plant and how is each going to be financed?" President Wieter replied that the estimated cost of the garage was $50,000.00 and would be financed by borrowing over a period of 4 to 5 years and that the estimated cost of the improvements to the sewage treatment plant were not yet available and that such a project would be financed through state and federal grants and by long term borrowing on the part of the village. There were no objections to the budget as presented and the hearing was declared closed.

Tom Larsen informed the board that the school district has granted permission to flood a portion of the elementary school playground to be used as a skating rink. He asked whether the village would furnish the water, hoses and the necessary small tools and some lighting arrangement. Labor to make the rink and the supervision of skating later would be donated by interested citizens. Request granted upon motion by Trustee Behnke, seconded by Trustee Herriges and duly carried.

SPEECH ACTIVITIES — INVOLVEMENT NEEDED

By Sandy Rowley

Involvement is an often discussed word today. Students are exhorted to "Get involved" with school; parents are warned that unless they become involved with their children, further breakdowns in family living will occur; the involvement of students in politics is questioned; the involvement of our government in alliances with other countries is hotly contested. It is, therefore, not difficult to see that the question of involvement does stir sharp feelings in most Americans.

In one area, however, there is no disagreement: one gets out of something just what one puts into it. In this reference, involvement is good. In one area of school activities this involvement seems to be lacking—extracurricular speech activities.

Many are familiar with the various school plays presented in the past, the most recent being South Pacific. These plays could be termed successes: large numbers of students participate and they receive wide public support.

These plays are the exception rather than the rule, however. Other speech activities are not doing so well. This fall, two speech activities were cancelled after lack of student interest—Debate and the one-act play.

Debate ranks as one of the most rigorous mental activities in education. Two teams made up of two people each challenge each other to prove a given question true or false. This year the national high school proposition is Resolved: That Congress should prohibit unilateral United States military intervention in foreign countries. Does this sound challenging? It is! Although our school has in the past been represented in this activity, the time necessary to do the job could not be justified for the few who wished to participate. The one-act play met similar defeat. Two men were needed and one tried out.

It is not fair to place the blame solely on students. The blame must also be placed on those in charge of these activities for not making participation in them as attractive as participation in sports, for example. We do have the opportunity to reverse this situation in the one remaining speech activity—and the biggest—forensics.

Forensics differs from the two activities previously discussed in that success depends on individual effort. Students have an opportunity to match their talents and interests to specific categories of competition. The categories range from extemporaneous speaking where the contestant has an hour to plan and prepare an eight-minute speech to a fifteen minute cutting from a play. The other categories include: declamation (a memorized speech), prose and poetry reading, four-minute and eight-minute original speeches, public address (a speech on a specific area—this year it is, "How can the misuse and abuse of drugs be controlled?"), and significant speeches (an analysis of a speech with historical or contemporary significance).

The coaching staff awaits this activity with enthusiasm, hoping to make up for their and the students' lack of involvement in the past. Enthusiasm is infectious. We're hoping that forensics will be a major spring activity at KCHS!

Wisconsin Electric

...a brand new symbol for a brand new decade!

THE EXCITING 70's . . . it's bound to be an exciting decade — and an electric decade. It will be electricity that makes things go — and helps to make life easier and better in the years ahead.

Our new symbol represents a company completely in step with the times. It stands not only for Wisconsin Electric — but also for the people of Wisconsin Electric — for the enthusiasm, youth and drive of its employees and management.

Over a period of years, this new identity mark will replace existing symbols on Wisconsin Electric buildings and structures, trucks and other rolling stock, stationery, business forms, advertising messages and many other items. Watch for it on television, in newspaper ads, and on billboards. As new trucks and vehicles are purchased or repainted they will feature the new symbol on a new color background of gold metallic. Watch for them!

We hope that people everywhere will begin to call us Wisconsin Electric instead of The Electric Company. Remember that  stands for Wisconsin Electric — and for the people who make it go. It's a brand new symbol for a brand new decade — the exciting 70's!

Our pledge for clean environment

The clean lines of our new symbol stand forth as our pledge that the current program to effect and maintain a clean environment at all Wisconsin Electric power plants will be continued to completion.

For example, clean air is one of the important characteristics of our Point Beach Nuclear Plant, now under construction. In fact, this plant has no chimneys at all. And the cooling water which is borrowed and returned to Lake Michigan will be safe. Fish and plant life will not be affected adversely.

We are working just as hard as we can to complete a program begun years ago to clear the skies above other Wisconsin Electric power plants. So far more than $16 million has been spent for this purpose and we are almost through with the job, except at our Oak Creek Power Plant where we will spend another $4 million to complete the project.

By mid-summer of 1970, we expect that all but two of the eight Oak Creek generating units will be equipped with the new high efficiency precipitators which remove about 99% of the fly ash before it even reaches the chimneys. And if money and effort were the only problems involved, the last two units would be so equipped too. However, our customers are using so much electricity that these last two Oak Creek units, which generate over 550,000 kilowatts of electricity, are vitally needed to help supply the demand. Without jeopardizing the continuity of your electric service, they cannot be taken out of operation long enough to install the more sophisticated smoke control equipment — at least not until some time after the second unit of our Point Beach Nuclear Plant is in operation.

Wisconsin Electric shares the concern of everyone for maintaining and improving environment in the areas we serve. We pledge that we will never lose sight of our responsibilities in this direction. But we must also never forget our prime responsibility for keeping our approximately 600,000 customers supplied with plenty of electric power.

Right now, we're working hard at both jobs!

The 32 Regional winners qualify for the Sectionals on March 13-14, and the Sectional winners (eight of them) play in the State tournament at Madison on March 19-20-21.

The draw for four-team meet matches No. 1 against No. 3 and No. 2 against No. 4 on an alphabetical basis. Games will be played in that order.

Indians to Play Lomira, N. Fondy

The Kewaskum Indians will return to basketball action following the holiday recess on Saturday night, Jan. 3, when they host Lomira in a non-conference game. They will resume Scenic Moraine conference play next Tuesday, Jan. 6, at North Fondy.

The undefeated Indians hold down undisputed first place in the Scenic loop with a 4-0 record. Overall they have won six straight, including two non-conference wins. On the other hand North Fondy is at the opposite end of the standings with an 0-4 record which they share with Washington High of Germantown. However, the Orioles gave Slinger's defending champs a close battle in their last outing.

The manager of a clothing store was pleased with his new salesman

"That fellow could sell anything," he remarked to a friend. "That so?"

"Why, yesterday a lady came in to buy a new suit in which to bury her husband, who had just died. This new fellow sold her two pairs of pants with it!"

Mrs. Cross New Secretary of Welfare League

REPLACES MRS. MARLENE SHEPHERD OF KEWASKUM

Mrs. Hope Cross was named secretary of the Washington County Welfare League at a recent meeting in the courthouse annex in West Bend, replacing Mrs. Marlene Shepherd of Kewaskum, who resigned several weeks ago.

The vacancy left by Mrs. Shepherd's resignation was noted and President Diane Neitzel thanked Mrs. Shepherd for her past service and loyalty to the club.

Mrs. Cross, an active Democrat, was recently elected corresponding secretary of the Washington County Democratic Party. Replacing Mrs. Shepherd in her other job for the league, publicity director, will be Crystal Schihl of Kewaskum.

Mrs. Shepherd resigned her positions because she said she believed her controversial participation in the welfare protest in Madison in October and the subsequent court cases would bring unfavorable publicity to the league.

At the meeting individual reports were given by committee chairmen of the toy drive and food drive. Each agreed that the response from the community was tremendous.

A discussion was held as to the advisability of charging the small sum of one penny to ten cents for the toys to defray the cost of repairs and transportation. It was pointed out that the people who donated the toys were in favor of the charge. It was voted not to charge for the toys and the sum of $8.11 was contributed by those members present to cover expenses.

A Merry Christmas was assured all due to the efforts of the community.

Snowmobilers: Observe These Trail Tips

As the snow season looms over North America, snowmobile owners in the U. S. and Canada are tuning up their machines, and prospective owners are visiting dealers and poring over catalogues.

Snowmobile racing is the glamour sport among snowmobile fanciers, but the great majority of snowmobile owners simply enjoy the thrill of driving their machines from one place to another place through deep snow. Snowmobilers include a wide spectrum of types from snow-fun seeking day-trippers to conservation agents taking extended trips into remote wildlife areas.

Now is the time, says Dave Clarkin, President of the International Snowmobile Industry Association, for all snowmobile users to review the basic safe operating tips that will assure many miles of safe snowmobile operation under almost any conditions.

Industry leader Clarkin, who is also President of Featherweight Corporation, a Bangor Punta Company, says the four most important rules for snowmobile trail riding are: "(1) Never go on the trail alone; (2) know and respect your vehicle; (3) always carry extra fuel for long trips; (4) carry a 'safety kit' of vital parts."

Know and Respect Your Vehicle. The snowmobile is not a toy. The hundreds of park rangers, lumbermen and ranchers who use them for basic transportation can attest to that. But it is essentially a recreational vehicle and as such is subject to a certain amount of abuse and neglect. Unfortunately, abuse and neglect can lead to breakdown on the trail. And a breakdown on the trail in freezing weather and miles from aid can be a serious problem.

Snowmobilers are urged to ride with a reasonable amount of caution; to leave the spectacular aerial leaps and open-throttle full-tilt charges to race drivers. The majority of snowmobile operating disorders stem not from mechanical failures but from abuse and misuse of the vehicle.

Snowmobile users are also urged to learn how their engines work. The time to check the owner's manual is not after a breakdown has occurred but before the vehicle goes out on its first long trip. Fortunately, snowmobile engines are generally quite elemental in design and construction and can be easily repaired with a screwdriver, pliers and adjustable wrench.

Never Go on the Trail Alone. There is safety in numbers. Participants in all adventurous sports from scuba diving to mountain climbing adhere faithfully to the buddy system for this reason. Always travel in pairs or groups when snowmobiling into remote areas. One operable snowmobile can travel farther in 10 minutes, when seeking assistance in deep snow for instance, than a healthy man can walk in six hours.

Always Carry Extra Fuel for Long Trips. Snowmobilers, as a rule, get excellent gas mileage and will run for great distances on a single tank of fuel. The greater the horsepower, of course, the greater the fuel consumption. But, since there are no gas stations on snow trails, and because snowmobiling is so fascinating that time and distance seem to vanish in a cloud of swirling snow once a snow trek has begun, the wise snowmobiler always carries a full one or two gallon jerrican of fuel along on every trip.

Carry a "Safety Kit" of Vital Spare Parts. Certain spare parts are easily carried aboard the snowmobile and will assure the snowmobiler of quick, easy start-up whenever necessary. These include a spark plug, spark plug wrench, a drive-belt, pull cord and light bulb. Many owners make up such a safety kit for their own use and will not go out on the trail without it.

This year, for the first time, a safety kit containing these items is being offered as a standard item by snowmobile producers such as Alouette (Featherweight Corporation), Starcraft and Arlberg.

"Snowmobiling has been a remarkably safe sport since its inception," Dave Clarkin points out. "Snowmobilers who follow these four basic trail tips and use their own God-given common sense will continue the sport's fine safety record."
