Pet Therapy Reading Program Donates New Books

Sitting down and reading a book with a furry pal is something that many area youngsters look forward to at Campbellsport School, Eden Elementary School, St. Matthew Catholic School and the Campbellsport Public Library.

For the past year, this enriching program was not available. As the Coronavirus pandemic hit the country, the program was suspended because of restrictions at schools, nursing homes and libraries. It is now slowly making its way back to the area.

Campbellsport Board Continues To Discuss Properties

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

Members of the Campbellsport Village Board, during their Monday, July 12, meeting, continued to discuss two properties within the village.

Complaints were made about these properties a few months ago. This caused the board to start discussing the status of these properties and steps to take to clean them up. In May, the board approved having the village attorney send both properties a letter from village asking them to clean up the properties and one to fix up the house to meet village ordinances.

A property on Sheboygan was cleaned up by the village many years ago. This is one of the

Two Farmington Homes To Be Featured In Garden Tour

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

Roots and Branches, a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving the natural environment of West Bend, will hold a garden tour fundraiser this Saturday and Sunday, July 17 and 18.

The event will feature self-guided tours of five private gardens in Washington County. Two of those are located in the Town of Farmington: the gardens of Janet and Randy Heberer, who live on State Road 28; and the gardens of Lynn and Don Knop, who live on Covey Place.

The Heberer Gardens

A long driveway extends from State Road 28 to the home of Janet and Randy Heberer. The driveway was originally the tractor lane that went through a 180-acre farm that had once belonged to Janet's parents.

Randy and Janet purchased 15 acres of that farmland years ago. They have since planted numerous gardens that will now be open for the public to see in the Roots and Branches garden tour.

"This was all one big open area of farmland back here. My dad used to always call it Paradise, so we have nicknamed it our Hidden Paradise," Janet said.

Janet and Randy have continually done things to add to their Hidden Paradise. Last fall, Randy

Black Sky

Dear Reader,

We live in a highly interconnected world, and things don't always go the way we want them to. Today's column therefore is about preparedness for extraordinary occurrences.

Consider these events:

- In May of this year, hackers disrupted fuel supplies for several weeks with the Colonial Pipeline ransomware attack. This had an enormous impact on anyone on the east coast who relied on a motor vehicle for transportation.

- During the pandemic, global supply chains were disturbed, resulting in shortages of some items. The turmoil for some products is expected to continue for another year or so.

- Last February, the Texas electrical grid shut down, affecting 5 million Americans for as long as 3 days.

- In 2003, the Northeast Blackout, while shorter, affected 45 million Americans and 10 million Canadians.

Is it conceivable that the electrical grid could go down over a wide region for multiple weeks? Yes it is. Disaster planners call this a "black sky" event, because when the power goes off the sky turns black over even the most populous city.

There are many scenarios in which this could happen – extreme weather events, hackers or other bad actors, even a solar storm, such as the Carrington Event in 1859, in which a solar flare dumped an enormous amount of energy into the earth's atmosphere. That incident burned up the much of the world's telegraph system, which at that time was our only electrical infrastructure.

Where would we be without power? Realistically, we'd be in a tough spot.

- Municipal wells that depend on electrical water pumps would go dry.
- Credit card processing would stop, causing a massive disruption in our increasingly cash-less society.
- There would be panic buying in most retail establishments, especially gas stations and grocery stores.
- The Internet would go down, with cascading effects in every single area of our lives.

One response to this possibility is to adopt a survivalist lifestyle and attempt to live self-sufficiently off the grid.

For most of us that's not a realistic option. But there are smaller steps that we can take to reduce the impact of a black sky event and give us a greater sense of security, so that we don't have to get swept up in the panic.

1. Buy extra bottled water, one gallon per person per day for 14 days.
2. Stock up on non-perishable food, such as jarred and canned goods and shelf-stable dry goods like pasta and rice.
3. Add a few space blankets to your kit. They are inexpensive, extremely compact, usually weighing no more than a few ounces, and 90% to 95% efficient for retaining body heat.
4. Think through how you will meet your treatment needs for ongoing medical conditions without power.
5. Lay in a supply of flashlights and batteries. Include some candles and matches in case the batteries go dead.
6. Have toilet paper and plastic garbage bags on hand. We all saw what happened to toilet paper supplies during the pandemic – they vanished. As for the garbage bags – well, the waste has got to go somewhere.
7. Have a reasonable amount of cash on hand. It may be the only way to pay for things if credit cards and ATMs don't work.
8. And buy an emergency radio that does not depend on the Internet.

What is the likelihood you will need these items? Hopefully it's not high, but no one can say for sure, so it is best to be prepared.

And one final preparation: Let your Congress-person know that you think they should consider proactive measures that will reduce the risk of a black sky event.

Rural Writes

BY G.A. SCHEINOHA CONTRIBUTOR

File this one among a growing number of relics under the title, The Good Old Days. It is a vanishing species. Though, the last time passing through, noticed there still is a thriving version in Van Dyne. We're talking about the general store, once the heartbeat of any small community.

A couple fine examples spring to the forefront. Just after I became friends with John Venski in fourth grade, his father, Gerald bought a place in Dundee. Those who remember Bud's General Store may recall the long narrow aisles that led to a gleaming glass and white enameled meat case behind which Bud sliced deli items to order.

His message to us boys was the customer is always right. That friendly attitude and the fact he knew many of them on a first name basis meant a steady flow of business.

The other emporium was one which became a handy quick stop once my family moved to Marblehead. Little more than a hard stone's throw down the road apiece August Romalia's Grocery looked as if a stiff breeze might topple that ramshackle building completely over. Any outside paint was long gone. Just the weathered siding faded to a gray brown hue.

Stepping inside was akin to being on the set of The Waltons. A creaky plank floor and sturdy shelves on bare wall behind the counter with those slant top jars completed the impression. A few posters of products likely also dated from that era; the Great Depression.

A pot belly stove kept the place stuffily warm and likely dried the structure out even further. Talk of moving it to the Galloway House grounds was dismissed for fear it'd fall apart in transit.

As noted, they are a neglected way of life as many go on their way to patronize big box grocery chains. When the last of them are gone and the pulse of small town life has flatlined, it will be a loss beyond mere words.

interaction with therapy animals. The goal of the program is to promote reading to children in area schools and bring joy to those in nursing homes around the area.

A huge part of Healing Paws is the R.E.A.D. (Reading Education Assistance Dogs) program. This program is dedicated to improving the skills of young readers by using therapy dog teams as literacy mentors. Studies have shown that reading to therapy dogs helps children relax, increases their interest and improves their reading skills.

All dogs and their owners go through a training program. They have been certified through Intermountain Therapy Animals a nonprofit organization in Salt Lake City, Utah, whose mission is to enhance the quality of life through human/animal interaction.

Before school let out for the year, Jean Hanewall, coordinator of the Healing Paws R.E.A.D. program, stopped by Campbellsport Elementary School, Eden Elementary School and St. Matthew Catholic School to meet with students and present them with a gift of books. The goodwill gesture was in lieu of Healing Paws being able to actually restart the in-person reading program with the children this school year.

The books were donated through a grant received from the Fond du Lac Area Foundation. Books were presented to all of the area schools where the pet owners and their pets work to encourage reading. The donation of new books is a way to remind the students that Healing Paws is still here for them until the classroom R.E.A.D. sessions can begin again in the near future.

“Because of the pandemic, we couldn’t go into the schools with our READ program last year, which is what prompted us to apply for a grant,” Hanewall said. “We decided we wanted to purchase books for the schools with the grant money. It’s our way of saying ‘Don’t forget about us, we will be back soon to help students have fun reading with our pets.’”

In addition to the schools, Hanewall and her dog Kenzie also visited the Campbellsport Public Library. They also donated books to the library.

“We and our pets miss going into the schools and libraries to help children become better readers,” Hanewall said. “We can’t wait to return.”

This summer, they have started to slowly get back into the swing of things. Hanewall and Kenzie visited the Campbellsport Public Library during an outdoor storytime visit in June. The kids loved it.

Pandemic Puppy

The Campbellsport Public Library received an additional book for its shelves. This was donated that same day by Lomira veterinarian Marty Greer. It is called Your Pandemic Puppy and was written by Dr. Greer during the pandemic.

During the pandemic, Dr. Greer saw people spending more time at home. This prompted many to decide to add a new pet to their lives.

Many things started going through Dr. Greer’s thoughts while seeing the rise in dog ownership. There’s no denying the joy of adding a playful pup to the family. But are you prepared to train, raise, and care for a puppy? What will happen when the kids return to school and you go back to work?

She also noticed that a lot of the material her office had for pet owners was outdated. There was also the added strain and special circumstances of adding a dog during a global pandemic. Dr. Greer decided she wanted to give them an updated guide for raising a well-adjusted puppy. “I just sat down and wrote it,” Dr. Greer said. “I know what my clients are asking. We decided to push the book out fast.”

She started writing the book in April and it was out on Amazon by December 2020. Many experts who have read the book have told Dr. Greer that they feel this is the best one out there right now for new puppy owners. She takes into account new procedures and medicines for your puppy.

You’ll find information on all aspects of your new puppy’s physical and mental well-being, from the challenges of finding a new companion through training and medical care. But more than just how-to advice, this book also explores what owning a puppy means to a family, and what to anticipate in the future, when you return to your former work and school schedule. This book is intended to help you have a great experience all along the way.

“We want to make sure the dogs are comforted,” Dr. Greer said. “There was nothing on Amazon to meet these needs.”

She recommends that if you are thinking about dog ownership, you should read this book first. It will help you all along your experience from picking out your puppy through its adulthood.

Hoogie Memorial Teddy Bear Ride To Be Held August 14 Donation Collection Held Through August 7

Law enforcement, firefighters and first responders in Washington County often carry stuffed animals in their vehicles and use them to calm traumatized children in tragic events. These are procured in various ways: some are supplied by public funds, some are donated by individuals, but often they come out of the responder's personal funds.

The West Bend and Hartford Harley owners Groups and The West Bend Harley – Davidson Dealership are coordinating a motorcycle event to collect and donate stuffed animals to Washington County law enforcement, fire departments and other first responders.

The event is being held in the name of Steve Hoogester, who was a 34-year veteran of the West Bend Police Department, member of the West Bend Common Council and acting mayor of West Bend. He gave a lot to the community, and the group would like to continue a community service in his name.

To support this effort, donate an 8- to 12-inch stuffed animal. Each donation will receive a ticket to join the group for a 125-mile motorcycle ride through the county on Saturday, Aug. 14, with stops at various fire and police departments and a closing ceremony with picnic dinner at the West Bend Moose Lodge.

The ride will start at West Bend Harley-Davidson, 2910 W. Washington St. (Hwy 33), West Bend, at 10 a.m. on August 14. Signup with coffee, water and donuts starts at 8 a.m.

Cost will be $25 bike with rider without a teddy bear; $10 bike with rider with teddy bear; $10 passenger without a teddy bear; and $0 passenger with a teddy bear.

Pre-register by depositing your stuffed animal donation and filling out the ticket at one of the donation box locations through August 7. Save your donation ticket to bring the day of the ride; no money will be collected at drop-off locations.

Donation boxes are located at the West Bend Harley Davidson; Fox Brothers Piggly Wiggly stores in West Bend, Jackson, Hartford, Slinger and Hubertus; Advanced Auto Parts stores in Hartford, West Bend and Kewaskum; Big Guys Bar & Grill in Hartford; Curve In Bar in Kewaskum; or emailing hoogiebearride@outlook.com with your name, phone number, and number of riders and passengers.

Jacob (Jake) Kilian Felix, M.D.

June 19, 2021

Jacob Felix, born May 26, 1941, to Leo and Lydia Felix, was raised in St. Kilian.

He earned his medical degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1971. He specialized in Neonatology devoting the next 30 years to caring for critically sick newborns at Sinai Hospital in Baltimore, MD, and later at Arnot Ogden Medical Center in properties being talked about. According to Police Chief Tom Dornbrook, they have started to clean up the property.

"On Sheboygan Street there is some improvement in the front yard," Dornbrook said. "I haven't gotten a chance to look in the back. It is not where it should be though."

He told the board the attorney has filed paper work through the court system to take further action on this property. This means, the village will most likely go in and clean it up again at the homeowners expense.

The board is allowing the property owners on Main Street one more month to figure out how they will be proceeding. The owners have started clean up outside of the house and have schedule a tree service to come in and take care of the trees.

They have been having some trouble finding a contractor to give an estimate on repairs the house will need. Until they can get a quote, it will be hard to move forward on any repairs or financing for this house. If the repairs are not made, then the house needs to be razed.

Former village board member Steve Schickert spoke to the board about this property.

"We've been working on this for 10 years now and all we get is excuses," Schickert said. "There's ordinances there for a reason. You have to step it up and do what you can do."

"I've been making calls all along," said Tina Ebert, speaking on behalf of the family. "I get no response. I have probably made 50 calls. That is what I do on my lunch everyday. If I would have known its been an issue for 10 years, I would have stepped in a long time ago. I am doing the best I can with no response."

Dornbrook explained that there have been concerns over the past 10 years about the property but no action was taken because it was just concern. Now that a complaint has been made, the village has to take action on this situation.

The family asked for a little more time to try to figure out how much the repairs would cost. Then they can make a decision on what to do with the house.

"I think the big thing, in all fairness to (them), is to find out how much this will cost," Dornbrook said.

"I agree, until you know what it is going to cost, how can you make those decisions," said Marianne Jarmuz. "On the other hand, our hands are getting squeezed on this. I think that (one more month) is reasonable. Contractors are backed up and it's hard to get someone in there. Until we get a dollar figure, it's hard for them to decide what to do."

Board members agreed and voted to give the homeowners one more month to try to figure out what they will do.

Short-Term Borrow

In other business, the board approved two interim borrows with National Exchange Bank. This is to help cover some of the bills that have been coming in for the village's portion of the Highway 67 road construction project.

"I got an email saying that the DNR grant for the Highway 67 project will not come in on time," said Brian Roemer of Ehlers Public Finance Advisors. "We are getting close to $800,000 in total (invoices received). We have looked into interim financing for that. We want to get this done as soon as possible."

According to Roemer, the bank is giving the village a good interest rate and costs so the total costs on this loan should not be too high. The plan is to pay off these loans by the end of January.

"I think you got a good rate here," Roemer said. "I do think this is an attractive offer from National Exchange Bank."

Board members approved the interim borrow.

Garbage Pick Up

The board also talked about the garbage pick up in the village. Since Waste Management took ownership of Advanced Disposal, there have been some problems with pick up.

The village has been working with Waste Management to fix the issues that have cropped up. Other companies have also been contacted to get some pricing on waste disposal. The village currently has a contract for waste disposal, but that was with Advanced Disposal.

"Things have been improving quite a bit with Waste Management," said Shelby Sarauer, village clerk-deputy treasurer. "We have talked to another company and got some prices from them. It is comparable to what we have."

Sarauer also said that other communities have already switched to a different company. She thought this would maybe help with the staffing problems Waste Management has been having.

"There is a learning curve with a new company, so there might be more problems," said Dave Krebs, village president.

Jarmuz agreed, "I can't say that I am all that excited about switching now that they are working on it. We could leave it sit for a couple months and see how it is working."

Board members agreed to wait and see what happens. They will revisit it at a future meeting.

Police Equipment

The board also approved up to $8,000 for the police department to purchase three more body cameras, two digital cameras, a new laptop and a wrap-around bumper for the squad car.

This money would come from the carry-over on the revenue side of the police department budget from last year. According to the auditors, the police department had around $24,000 in extra revenue last year.

Mission Trip Held At Holy Trinity In Kewaskum

BY ANNE TRAUTNER
JOURNALIST

A total of 31 middle school students from Southeast Wisconsin recently stayed at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum.

They were taking part in the “Love Begins Here” mission trip, which was held June 22-25. While some were members of other parishes, others were Holy Trinity parishioners from Kewaskum.

“Love Begins Here is a local mission trip program that we have in the Archdiocese of Milwaukee. It is for Catholic middle schoolers or high schoolers to learn how to give back to their community, but also do it in an environment of prayer and community and fun,” said Doug Ulaszek, associate director of youth evangelization for the Milwaukee Archdiocese.

“What makes the program unique is that it’s an all in-house program for churches and teens who live in the archdiocese, and we serve all within the archdiocese. It’s great to go out of state or out of the country, and we love those mission trips, but there is something really unique about serving locally,” Ulaszek added.

“Love Begins Here” is based on the teachings of Mother Teresa, venerated today as Saint Teresa of Calcutta.

“Mother Teresa said in her Nobel Peace Prize speech that we don’t have to go across oceans; look for the poor and the hurting in your community and your family, and begin love there,” Ulaszek said. “That is why the program is called Love Begins Here.”

Serving In Kewaskum

The middle schoolers who served in Kewaskum came from parishes in Campbellsport, Eden, Menomonee Falls, Wauwatosa, Cedarburg and North Lake, as well as Kewaskum.

FDL Sheriff's Department Asking For Tips

BY ANDREA HANSEN ABLER
EDITOR

The Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department is looking for anyone with tips on a robbery that occurred at Auburn Bluffs Golf Course in Campbellsport.

Someone broke into the building on Thursday, June 24, and stole money from the golf course. According to Lieutenant Christopher Randall, the biggest loss was in the damage to the property and the cost to repair it.

A video shows someone wearing gloves and a ski mask over his/her face using some type of tool to break into a door at the golf club. On the same night, The Golf Club at Camelot near Lomira was also burglarized.

“We are confident that they are related,” Randall said. “I believe there were some (break-ins) further north too. We have been in a lot of contact with agencies in the area. I am hopeful that we will be making some progress on this in the next week or so.”

Randall stated that they break-ins so forced entry and the person is targeting gambling machines and cash registers. There was no vehicle description and with the person so covered up, it is hard to identify from surveillance videos.

This is where the sheriff's office is hoping area residents can help. They are asking that anyone who noticed someone or anything strange around that time share that information.

“We’re really just looking for people who could give us some information if they saw anything strange on June 24th or 25th,” Randall said. “These can be tough without citizen help. Tips are things that can really get things going on this.”

If you have any information that can help, call the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department tipline at 920-906-477 or detective Ryan Murphy at 920-929-3380.

Washington County Drug Treatment Court Celebrates First Graduate

The Washington County Drug Treatment Court (DTC) was scheduled to celebrate the first graduation of a DTC participant on Thursday, July 15.

Started in early 2020, Washington County DTC aims to help individuals with serious substance abuse problems who have been convicted of non-violent offenses improve their lives and stay out of prison. DTC participants are on probation and agree to 15 or more months of DTC as a condition of probation and/or to avoid revocation of their probation (which would result in immediate incarceration).

DTC consists of five phases, during which participants are subjected to multiple random, observed drug tests every week, along with curfews and random curfew checks. Participants must participate in and complete all treatment required by treatment providers and case managers. They also report to court on a regular basis where the judge discusses with them their progress in DTC. Positive behaviors and progress are rewarded, while rule violations are sanctioned.

The goal is to offer support and access to treatment, while holding participants accountable for compliance with the rules of DTC. Research shows that DTC participation helps participants get sober and stay sober. Sober people stay out of prison. They work. They are good parents. They don't steal. They improve their lives and help maintain the great quality of life enjoyed by Washington County residents.

Washington County DTC is a collaboration among the Washington County Courts, Human Services Department, Elevate, the District Attorney, Sheriff's Department, State Public Defender, State Department of Corrections and UW-Milwaukee at Washington County.

decided to build a little shed beside the pond that is located on the property. He wanted a place to store aerators. It turned out to be much more than that.

“It was going to be a little garden shed, and ended up being a little cottage,” Randy said.

To build the cottage, he used old pieces he salvaged from the barn and log cabin that had been on his father’s farm. He used barnboards to create the floors and he used a pulley from the old barn to create a chandelier. The windows in the new cottage are from an old log cabin.

“Randy saved all of these things, so he has been planning it for a while. He had a vision for it,” Janet said.

The rustic cottage has become a place where the couple now gathers with friends and family. A wood-burning stove heats the cabin during the wintertime.

Randy created most of the furnishings, including the wooden tables and chairs. The cozy building is decorated with local antiques from Kewaskum. There are numerous advertising pieces from old Kewaskum businesses, such as Rosenheimer’s, the Kewaskum Creamery, New Fane Cheese Factory, Kohn Brothers, Koch Store, H.J. Lumber, Keller’s Tap and Honeck’s Garage.

The rustic pieces from the farm extend outside into the gardens as well. Cornerstones from Randy’s dad’s old barn have been fashioned into benches.

Randy has made a variety of tables and planters which can be seen throughout the property. He also built the bridges that are located throughout the property.

Numerous flower gardens are located throughout the 15 acres. The rustic theme is carried throughout the gardens, with an old wagon in the daylily bed and metal art placed throughout the gardens.

In addition to the colorful flower gardens, the Heberers have vegetable gardens filled with peppers, tomatoes, onions, asparagus, beans, pumpkins, squash, zucchini and potatoes.

There also is an apple orchard and a raspberry patch. A nut tree grove is filled with walnut, butternut and hazelnut trees.

The Knop Gardens

This weekend will be the second time the Don and Lynn Knop have had their gardens featured in the Roots and Branches garden tour. They were featured four years ago, but were asked if they would be willing to share their gardens with the public again this year.

“We felt honored that they asked us if we would do it again,” Lynn said.

When the couple moved to the home 17 years ago, wildflowers covered about half an acre along the perimeter of the property. The Knops have continued to grow those wildflowers, reseeding every so often in the springtime.

They both work on the gardens.

“She is more of the gardener than

An old bicycle is a perfect planter for flowers at the home of Don and Lynn Knop in the Town of Farmington.

I am. I am just the caretaker,” Don explained.

But both have created art pieces on the property. Lynn created a stained art sign about 40 years ago for Don’s parents; the piece now decorates a garden in the backyard. Don has used just about anything he can find in order to make birdhouses and decorations. He uses regular household items, tools and scraps of metal for his yardwork.

Everything is a potential piece of yard art. Lynn recently added a glockenspiel, which visitors will have a chance to play when they tour the gardens this weekend.

There are sitting areas throughout the property, including Lynn's favorite spot below the back porch. The serene backyard is on Ehne Lake, a spring-fed private lake.

Neither Lynn nor Don has any formal training in gardening. However, they have been going on the Roots and Branches garden tours over the past 20 years to get ideas for their gardens. They then continue working on the gardens throughout the year.

"We enjoy it, it's fun," Lynn said.

This weekend's Roots and Branches garden tour also will include herbal gardening demonstrations, shopping and a craft fair. For information about the Roots and Branches garden tour and to purchase tickets, visit www.rootsbranches.org.

The Campbellsport CARES group held an informational meeting on July 6. Anyone from the village interested in learning more about the possibility of a village administrator was invited to attend. Guest speaker Tim Schuenke, a retired city manager serving as a senior advisor for the Wisconsin City-County Management Association and International City-County Management Association, explained the benefits of having a professional administrator.

A popular local spot is looking a little different these days. Formerly Northwinds Supper Club, Northwinds Junk Post opened its doors this January as an eclectic shop of unique finds and antiques. When it was a restaurant, the owners were finding it more and more difficult to staff and closed the doors in June 2015. Prior to closing, they had opened a gift shop, which did surprisingly well. Northwinds Junk Post is a repurpose store near Eden.

The Core Action Team reconvened on July 6 to discuss feedback gathered from individuals who attended the June 27 meeting regarding a possible referendum for the Campbellsport School District. The next Core meeting and the next community meeting were scheduled.

Levi Feucht and Cheyanne Renderman were awarded 2016 Campbellsport High School Scholarships from National Exchange Bank.

Campbellsport High School will be introducing the Main Street Academy to its students this coming school year.

After about 50 people attended the Campbellsport Village Board to express concern about the cost of the proposed department of public works garage, board members decided to schedule a public hearing to give residents more information about the project.

A dumpster located on Kettle Moraine Lane in the Town of Osceola has become a sanitary nuisance. The dumpster, which has been on the property for more than a year, is being used illegally during the night as a garbage drop off. A letter to the property owner received no response so the chairperson contacted the dumpster company to remove the dumpster. The property owner called the chairperson after being notified by the dumpster company. The situation has been turned over to the county code enforcement office and the problem is unresolved at this point.

Leona Hall's residence on Highway W has been chosen as this month's Campbellsport Women's Club Garden Of The Month. She started with just one bed of flowers 25 years ago and has continued to add others since.

Because the Campbellsport Women's Club got a late start choosing a Garden Of The Month, a second winner has been announced. Joan Hoff on Fond du Lac Avenue moved there 10 years ago and there were no gardens, bushes or flowers. She now has several areas of flowers and landscaping.

It was a warm and sunny day for the Dundee Daze held July 8. Kids played a variety of games, there was food to eat, and there were tables filled with crafts, antiques, collectibles for purchase.

During the Fourth of July holiday, the front plate glass window of the Coast-Coast Store was broken. It appears that someone may have taken a flag pole and used it to smash a hole in the outside glass. A large amount of shattered glass littered the sidewalk. There were also several vehicles damaged by a key-type scratch along the sides of the car bodies.

Float winners in this year's Campbellsport Fire Department's Fourth of July Parade were Ben Franklin for the business division and St. Matthew's for the civic division.

The quarterly checks for general transportation aids, connecting highways, and Milwaukee County expressway aids have been mailed or electronically transferred to Wisconsin units of local government. Five members of the Campbellsport High School Class of 1931 attended the 65th reunion on July 3. Attending from the Campbellsport area were Fred Glass, Erwin Seifert and Ludmilla Matthew Struebing; from West Bend was Dora Hatch Schleif; and from Austin, TX, was Mae Steinacker Warren.

The Cougars have a 10-2 record in conference and 15-5 overall. The most recent baseball games included a 15-1 victory over Hilbert, a 3-2 win over New Holstein, a 5-5 suspended due to rain game with Kewaskum (which will be continued), and a 6-3 loss in eight innings to Plymouth. Campbellsport had tied Plymouth in the bottom of the seventh, but Plymouth scored three times in the top of the eighth.

Jim Mair will continue to be the president of the Campbellsport Area Development Corporation following his re-election. Other officers are vice president David Loehr, secretary and treasurer Leo J. Ketter, and directors William Bauman and Victor Del Ponte.

Six people are seeking election to the two open seats of the Board of Joint School District 23 on July 26. This is the final year that school board members will be elected in a separate election. Next year, they will be elected at the regular spring election when village and town officials are elected. Seeking election are Glenn O. Mittelstadt, Mrs. Hubert Oechsner, Neal Straub, Francis Flint, Verlyn Grahl, and Matt Klumpy, Jr. Information about each appeared in this week's issue.

Dr. Cesar V. Sison and his wife, Dr. Aurora Alonzo Sison, were greeted by over 300 people at an open house held at their new office Sunday afternoon.

A brief shower in mid-afternoon dampened and cut short the Monday Krazy Daze activity, and sent merchants scurrying to get their merchandise back into the stores. An excellent crowd had been on hand until then. The evening activity of square dancing was still held.

The summer baseball season ended for Campbellsport on July 12 with a win over New Holstein. The Cougars had played an independent season and finished with a 17-2 record.

Buildings and grounds at the fairgrounds are being renovated by the Fond du Lac Agricultural Society in anticipation of one of the largest fairs in county history. A new road from the gate is being graded. This will allow two full lines of vehicular traffic to enter the grounds.

Dorothy M. Straub, petty officer first class (yeoman) was discharged from Navy service on July 2. She went on active duty May 17, 1943; attended Naval Training School at Bronx, NY and Stillwater, OK.

The large 36x60 foot barn on the Ezra Galligan farm, located about two miles north of Waucousta, was struck by lightning during the severe electric storm last Thursday and totally destroyed. Immediately after the bolt struck the barn, it was enveloped in flames and in a short time was a total loss. A large quantity of hay and some farm machinery were also destroyed.

The annual meeting of the Ashford Farmers, Cheese Factory was recently held and officers and other business transacted. Wm. Hall is president, Frank Brath is vice president, Frank Thelen is secretary-treasurer, and Joe Berg and Leonard Hall are directors.

O.A. Kielsmeier of Manitowoc, who took over the Mammoth Springs Cheese Factory at Eden on July 1, is making some extensive improvements at the plant, amounting to practically a rebuilding of the factory. He proposes to ship at least a carload of milk a day from the Eden factory and has new machinery installed which will handle that volume each day.

Frank Enfelt, the local harness manufacturer and dealer, purchased the property which he occupies on Main Street from Jacob Braun for a consideration of $4,500 on July 1.

A petition to oil the village streets was up before the village board at its last regular meeting but was refused. The board will hold another meeting Wednesday evening to reconsider the move and will probably grant the petition.

A game of ball was staged in the M.E. Theisen field between the St. Kilian Bullet Stoppers and the Campbellsport Heavy Hitters. The former team won 58-38.

KEWASKUM'S DAYS GONE BY

5 Years Ago

Construction is underway to add about 61,000 square feet to the 156,000 square-foot Weasler Engineering facility located in the Town of Barton on Highway 45. According to Karen Bauer, communications and investor relations leader for the company that owns Weasler, the concept is based on streamlining operations and the manufacturing flow within the plant and then consolidating some work from another warehouse facility. The project is expected to be completed in April 2017.

The BP station located on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum is under new ownership, but most everything else about the store remains the same. Brandon Kohn, the owner of Kohn's Corner Mart, a Citgo station on Main Street, purchased the BP station from Myron and Becky Strobel on July 1. The Kohn family has owned and operated a business in the village for three generations.

A press release announced that Mike Wolfe and Frank Fritz from American Pickers will be returning to Wisconsin to film episodes throughout the region in August. The documentary series is looking for leads where the crew can explore hidden treasures of private collections.

National Night Out will be held August 2. St. Lucas Lutheran Church on Parkview Drive will host the block party for the community. There will be activities, displays, food, refreshments, and entertainment.

On June 25, a male was arrested and charged with first degree recklessly endangering safety after he drove through the Piggly Wiggly parking lot at a high rate of speed, nearly striking his girlfriend and another male with his vehicle. He then drove over the landscaping and left the scene.

It was July 2015 when Krier Foods Inc. of Random Lake announced that it was bringing back production of Jolly Good Soda, an area favorite from years ago. It was available only at four Random Lake area outlets. On July 12, Krier Foods announced plans to increase production and begin a statewide sales campaign through Piggly Wiggly Midwest. Piggly Wiggly announced that Jolly Good Soda will be available in all its stores beginning next week. Geidel's Piggly Wiggly in Kewaskum received its first shipment last Thursday.

Kewaskum won its first Regional game 10-6 over Nicolet on July 12. The Indians had swept Nicolet in North Shore action this season. Kewaskum lost the Regional final game 4-0 to Menomonee Falls.

Jason Piittmann, coach of the Kewaskum football team, was a coach on the Wisconsin Football Coaches Association's South team, which defeated the North team 17-7. He didn't have any interaction with the two Kewaskum football players also on the South team, saying neither was in his position group. But Piittmann said Ben Watzig, who saw action at linebacker, and Steven Nurkala, who saw action in the secondary, were very good on the field.

School is out for the summer, but some students from Kewaskum Elementary and Farmington Elementary are busy reading books they received from the school. The storybooks were specially made for the students by eighth-graders during the last two weeks of their English language arts class at Kewaskum Middle School.

Roger A. Bauer, 82, Kewaskum, passed away July 12.

15 Years Ago
July 20, 2006

Last month, a number of property owners in the Town and Village of Kewaskum received a shocking notice in the mailbox: copies of the cost assessments made to properties in the Village's Tax Incremental Finance District. The assessment costs increased 300 percent. Because the work has already been completed, residents really have no voice in the assessment figures. The village is the final authority on the dollar amounts assessed to the property owners. If they choose, they can lower the assessments and have the increased costs come from the TIF district fund. Before accepting the assessments, village president Matt Heiser directed village engineer Ken Ward to have the assessments recalculated.

The Village of Kewaskum has been full of activity in recent months. Kewaskum's Department of Public Works Director, Jerry Gilles, and others commented on progress made on various projects around the village. Work has commenced on the new pump house that is being constructed behind the Kewaskum Fire Station. The village will borrow an estimated $3.4 million for the project. The green and gold building is being renovated as a group of West Bend area businessmen formed a partnership with incredible plans of modernizing the structure and making it Kewaskum's premier retail center. Those plans are becoming a reality. Work on Kewaskum's TIF continues. The rebuilding of Pleasantwood Drive, Bel-Ric Drive, Linde-Lane and a portion of Lazy Lane should be completed next week. The project will cost taxpayers $109,977.

Months ago, the Kewaskum Women's Club donated money for a bench to be placed on the new Eisenbahn Trail. The bench has been installed on the trail behind the Kewaskum Village sign at the south end of the village.

Bobby Bannasch, 26-year-old science teacher at Kewaskum Middle School, will be the new head coach of the boys basketball team. The two parents and the student athlete on the interview team felt he was the right man for the job, as did Kewaskum High Athletic Director Jason Piittmann. Bannasch served as the JV coach for the past two seasons.

The day after the Rock River League All Star Game, the Kewaskum Athletics ended their three-game losing streak with a 10-3 win over Waupun.

With a unanimous vote, the Kewaskum School Board approved a two-year contract to officially hire Dr. Charles Johnson as superintendent of schools. The announcement was made by board president Jean Goeden to the public at a short open meeting Monday night. She said the board reviewed 20 potential candidates from across the country and interviewed three finalists. Johnson has been serving as the interim superintendent.

Town of Kewaskum board members appointed David Dorn as town chairman, effective August 1. He has served on the board as town supervisor for 11 years and is in his sixth term of office. The appointment follows the resignation of George Allmann, who served as town chairman for 19-1/2 years. Dorn will complete the term and the position will be up for re-election in April.

Attendance was sparse at a public hearing called by the Kewaskum School Board before the monthly meeting to hear what residents had to say about the district's possible purchase of the Central Village Complex on Main Street. Members of the community came to voice strong opposition against spending district money on the village-owned building, with an asking price of $200,000. It was originally purchased by the village for $100,000 from West Bend Savings, which relocated to Fond du Lac Avenue. Cost estimates for remodeling could be $550,000.

The Kewaskum School Board agreed to ask district taxpayers to accept a plan to reduce the long-term debt by adding one dollar per thousand of equalized value onto the 1996-97 tax levy. If accepted, residents will be paying $11.42 per thousand instead of $10.42, which is still lower than the previous year's rate of $14.42.

For the past year, the Kewaskum Pride Twirling Show Team has been training in preparation to compete for the first time at the Wisconsin State National Baton Twirling Association Championships and at America's Youth on Parade National and World Championships. On July 14, the team competed in two categories at the Wisconsin State Competition in Pewaukee, earning a first place in each.

Beginning July 17, Heidi Olsson will be serving as the Kewaskum School District's director of pupil services. The appointment as approved unanimously with a two-year contract.

Finishing the baseball season with one win and two losses gave Kewaskum a record of 13-12 (11-7 in EWC). The Indians won the first WIAA playoff game, beating Cedarburg 5-4.

The Badger State Games Mountain Biking competition was held June 28. Two young men with Kewaskum ties participated. David Gildersleeve won third place with a time of 48:51 and Brian Prom finished in 13th place.

Diane Van Assche, 54, West Bend, passed away July 9. Douglas Nieskes, 56, formerly of West Bend, passed away July 10. Vaclavs Rudzitis, 77, West Bend, passed away July 9.

The Kewaskum School Board voted Monday night to explore an alternate approach to solve the building needs of the district. Superintendent Floyd A. Brenholt was given instructions to get more firm plans and figures regarding his plan.

Members of the Kewaskum Village Board passed an ordinance adopting a new building code for Kewaskum when they met Monday night. The new code went into effect Tuesday. The code calls for more stringent rules, which it was felt are needed, and higher fees for building permits.

The combined efforts of six Milwaukee area builders and the Metropolitan Builders Association to show what can be done in the truly moderate priced home field was opened to the public Saturday in a new subdivision in the Village of Kewaskum.

Alphonse J. Flasch, 67, Town of Wayne, passed away July 10.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM AT EDEN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The summer reading program at Eden Elementary School is in full swing. This year the Campbellsport Public Library is providing books for students to check out at EES. On Tuesday, June 29, new books arrived along with Chris and her reading dog Clover. After the kids browsed and picked out books, they could choose a treat of sno cones, ice cream cones or candy. Pictured above are Lydia Wettstein and Miliyah Posey reading to Clover. Mrs. Joas is in the gym lobby at EES every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. to help families with their book choices.

Check It Out!

LORI KREIS
KEWASKUM LIBARIAN

I consider myself a modest crafter. I can do a few things very well and many things reasonably well in the world of arts & crafts. I was not born with this talent, but through practice and good intentions, I think I have created some nice designs.

I started young. My Great Aunt Jenny taught me needlepoint and embroidery when I was nine. I loved it, being able to follow patterns and learn new stitches that increased in complexity. That led to crochet as a teen and eventually I branched out to accomplish other crafts as an adult.

Crafts are a major offering in library programs which I support wholeheartedly. Whether it involves storytime activities, take home kits for teens or in-person classes for adults, all staff at the library are involved in providing programs that heighten artistic skills in our patrons.

For one, we have an ongoing crafting club that meets every Monday at 11 a.m. This group, called the Knit Wits, mainly consists of people who knit. That is one skill I have yet to attempt. This club is for anyone who has a project they are working on or would like to start, whether it be knitting, crochet or truly any craft.

You couldn't find a sweeter, more welcoming group than the Knit Wits. I love how they collaborate on projects and have poked my head in several times to witness them viewing a video completing new patterns.

We have distributed Grab & Go kits for all ages. Most of these involve a craft of some sort. I have been told that some of the adult kits can be a bit difficult to complete, but I always love a challenge. I do try to complete the craft on my own before distributing it to our patrons and not always with success.

However, I encourage feedback from anyone that takes a kit home. Better yet, send me a picture of your completed project or post it to our Facebook page. I love to see the results.

This coming fall, we are going to implement more in-person programs for adults. Our popular iris folding workshop will be back in time for holiday card making. For those who enjoy culinary arts, our recipe club will also be resuming.

There is something Crafty, New and Exciting that was just released which our Kewaskum Public Library card holders can take advantage of. Hoopla digital, a resource we have offered since the beginning of the year, introduced Crafty this month.

These are videos which cover a wide assortment of crafts. There are step-by-step instructions for interests such as cake decorating, quilting and knitting to name a few. If you have not downloaded Hoopla yet with your library card, you should get right on that, especially now with all the new craft videos. I think I might start with easy knitting.

Hope to see you soon.

and others who arose as peers. Queensrÿche built a dedicated legion of fans traveling the globe on tour with fellow rock giants like Iron Maiden, Guns N' Roses, Metallica, Judas Priest and Def Leppard. In recent years, the group consistently delivered high-octane live shows combining the hungry fire of a new band with the tempered experience of master showmen. Even with 11 gold and platinum plaques and a several Top 10 hard rock anthems woven into the very fiber of the genre, QUEENSRÿCHE won't relent. In fact, the band is in the throes of a jaw-dropping creative resurgence.

Opening for QUEENSRÿCHE, Autograph left an everlasting imprint on Rock 'N' Roll. The platinum-selling Southern California hard rock juggernauts gave the world the ubiquitous hit "Turn Up the Radiom" seminal albums such as Sign In Please (1984), That's The Stuff (1985), and Loud and Clear (1987), as well as unforgettable sold out shows alongside everybody from Mötley Crüe and Ronnie James Dio to Van Halen and Aerosmith. Given those accolades, when the group disbanded in 1989, the band never left the hearts and minds of millions of fans around the globe. Simply put, a reunion was both inevitable and essential; and successfully touring again since the beginning of 2014.

BRANTLEY GILBERT
with Joey Hendricks

Performing on Saturday of the Fair is Brantley Gilbert who lives in Jefferson, Georgia, rather than – like so many country stars – Nashville. It's not that he's not serious about his music, or his career, but somethings run deeper.

Or as he sings in "Grown Ass Man" from his platinum Just As I Am, "I got a home." That home is rich with life, truth, friends, history – and those are the raw materials that have made Gilbert one of only four country artists with back-to-back platinum certified albums. For Gilbert, who's done USO Tours, put together and headlined a benefit show for 80,000 on the river bank in Chattanooga after a sniper killed five servicemen at a recruiting facility, met with countless Make-A-Wish kids and wrote the number-one "One Hell of an Amen" to celebrate a life lost after a hard fight to cancer and a pair of friends – one who died in the other's arms – in the Middle East, it's how we hold each other up that matters. It's also what made The Devil Don't Sleep take so long – and be so large.

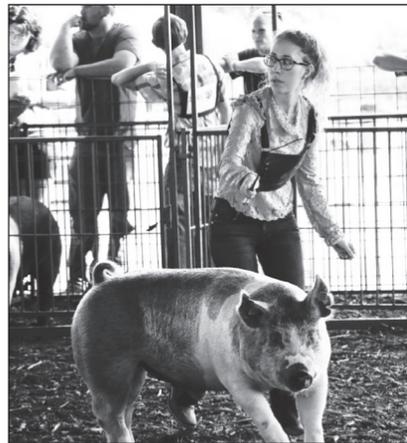

To buy tickets for any of these shows, go to www.wcfairpark.com. Any tickets purchased in 2020 are valid for the 2021 events.

New Wrestling Coaches At CHS

BY THOMAS GRIESEMER
CHS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

The Campbellsport High School wrestling program is excited to announce a new co-head coach, Al Costello who will be joining returning co-head coach Dan Heisdorf. Al is replacing his brother Ryan as co-head coach, in fact, this isn't much of a switch at all.

Al and Dan have both played major roles in the school wrestling programs. Al has coached the high school wrestling team for the past two years at Campbellsport. Dan has been a part of the varsity wrestling program for the past 24 years.

Head coach Al Costello was a 2015 graduate from Campbellsport High School where he was a four-year varsity wrestler under Coach Peterson. He went on to the University of Wisconsin-Platteville where he graduated in 2019 with a Bachelor's of Science in agribusiness.

Coach Costello had the opportunity to wrestle for UW-Platteville under Coach DeRoehn. While attending school, he also coached the Belmont-Platteville Youth Wrestling Club.

Aside from wrestling, Coach Costello is a financial officer for Compeer Financial located in Fond du Lac. Outside of work and coaching, you can find him enjoying the outdoors, hunting, and spending time with friends and family.

Al is aware of what wrestling has provided him over the years. He stated that "Wrestling is something that has taught me a lot and has given me tremendous opportunities throughout my life. The best part of all, are the people I have met along the way. I'm excited to give back to the program that has given me so much."

Coach Costello looks forward to continuing his work with the returning wrestlers. He not only wants to help shape them into great wrestlers but more importantly, great people. He pledges that the team will work hard and have lots of fun as well.

To the parents and community, Coach Costello said, "I am honored to be able to have the opportunity to coach your son or daughter. Wrestling is the greatest sport there is and there's really no explanation unless you experience it first-hand." He encourages anyone in elementary, middle, or high school to come out for wrestling.

Taking over for his brother Ryan will be a tough position to fill but the transition will be as smooth as possible. He stated that, "We have been through the same program and have been coached by the same coaches. Our wrestling styles are quite different, but ultimately we still have the same vision for the Campbellsport wrestling program... to get Campbellsport back to the top and become one of the elite programs in the state, all while instilling strong work ethics into the student athletes of Campbellsport High School."

The Campbellsport School District athletic department extends well wishes to Coach Ryan Costello in his future endeavors and expresses appreciation for his great contributions to the wrestling program.

CHS Students Make Spring All-Conference Teams

Several Campbellsport High School students were named to the Eastern Wisconsin All-Conference teams for the 2021 spring seasons.

In softball, eight athletes were named all-conference picks. Catcher Lauren Heisdorf and infielder Allysa Klahn were both named to the first team. Outfielder Carissa Heisdorf, pitcher Brooke Flitter and utility player Kylie Krueger were all named second team all-conference. Infielder Alexis Feucht, utility player Kylie Zehren and outfielder Kaitlyn Goebel all made the honorable mention team.

In soccer, Alyssa Johnson was the lone Cougar named all-conference. She is an honorable mention pick.

Four baseball players were named all conference this year. Outfielder Joey Nerat and utility player Jalen Gellings were both named first team all-conference. Infielder Mitch McCarty was a second team selection and Logan Faris was an honorable mention pick.

In track, Kendra Hewitt was first team all-conference in the pole vault. Hewitt also set a new school record this year. Second team picks were Joseph Gardner in the long jump and Santana Ryan in the 400m. Aubree Koenings is an honorable mention in the shot put.

What Are We Going To Be? Champions

One of Jerry "Sarge" Markings favorite things was to round up the team in a circle at the end of practice or a big meet and give them a little pep talk. The guy had a knack for firing up his wrestlers and when he got on a roll, look out! He'd get the wrestlers so jacked up they were ready to run through cement walls for him.

The legendary Campbellsport High School wrestling coach passed away a few weeks ago and left behind a legacy that still runs vibrant to this day. The memories this man created for so many people is simply astonishing. The man was like a rock star, everywhere he went people knew him from coaching, teaching industrial arts at CHS, or teaching students how to drive through driver's education.

The Hall-of-Fame wrestling coach had just a mind-boggling career when it came to numbers. His career record of 320-31-1 from 1966-1995 is one of the best winning percentages in Wisconsin High School wrestling history. His Cougar wrestlers became a national phenomenon, winning 101 straight dual meets from 1971-1979.

He never lost a conference dual meet in the Flyway Conference, going a perfect 200-0. He brought home a team state title in 1980 to go along with his two state runner-up finishes in 1979 and 1993. Sarge also coached hundreds of individual conference champions and eight individual state champs.

I was fortunate to be his assistant wrestling coach for seven years before he handed me the keys to one of the biggest wrestling factories in the state of Wisconsin. The bond we formed during that time is like something right out of a movie. I'd like to share a couple stories about my experiences with Sarge that I think locals will find interesting and certainly hilarious.

Before every home dual Sarge and I would go to the Amber Hotel to grab a bite to eat before we had to be back to school for weigh-ins. Sarge and I would finish off a sandwich and he'd be like "I can't eat another bite," then the ladies would bring out the homemade pies and all of a sudden he had room for dessert.

When we'd get back to school after a big win, Sarge would always pull out the albums and crank some Boots Randolph on the old record player up in the old wrestling locker room. He'd be dancing around like a little kid and the wrestlers would be laughing their butts off.

Speaking of butts, not many people know this story. One day Sarge comes up to practice, this was when we moved from the old wrestling room dungeon to the balcony. Sarge slides down on the bench next to meet and gets a sliver in his buttock. Believe it or not, I had to pull a two inch piece of wood out of his butt.

Sarge was famous for his motivational speeches and he would use any prop needed to get his message across. It was common for him to bring a store bought chicken to the locker room and tell the kids they didn't have any guts and they were chicken. One time he brought an old car battery to practice to get the wrestlers all charged up for one of his classic speeches.

One time we were wrestling for the sectional championship down in Jefferson and Sarge made a bet with wrestler Billy Bowe. He said to Billy, "you wrestle too nice, when you plant a crossface on a guy I want to see blood." He bet Billy a Big Mac and Bowe delivered giving his opponent a bloody nose. The smile on Sarge's face was priceless.

I could go on for days writing about this man that not only meant the world to me but to many people in the Campbellsport community. Ironically as I was writing this column, I received a call from Steve Engelland. Steve was Sarge's right hand man on the coaching staff when I arrived at CHS. Sarge just adored "Engie" and I know the feeling was mutual as Steve made Sarge the godfather to one of his children. The lives this man touched will last forever, rest in peace Sarge.

Kewaskum Eagles Have A Successful First Season

The Kewaskum Eagles, a boys basketball program located in Kewaskum that is affiliated with the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), recently wrapped up their inaugural season.

“It turned out to be better than our lofty expectations,” explained Casey Scheel, program director.

What are the Eagles? The Eagles are a faith-based organization, focusing on making boys into leaders in the community by using basketball as that outlet. They focus on skill training and character development.

Tryouts were in late winter and they played a spring and early summer tournament schedule. The team going forward will not play in Sunday tournaments so they can spend time with God and family.

At the beginning of the year, the Eagles organized a cleanup date for the Holy Trinity Parish Campus. Other volunteer opportunities will be done as things progress.

“We try to talk to the players at every learning session about things like responsibilities, body language, communication, work ethic and all the things that will turn them into great men in our community. And we ball out too. We are trying to get better,” Scheel said.

Captains had leadership meetings to discuss their responsibilities. Coaches were recent alumni, the Bocher triples, Joe, Jon Mark and Josh, and other area experienced youth coaches.

See an ad in this paper to help support the program’s only fundraiser, a nine-hole golf outing in August.

Grade School Team

The following players played on for the Elementary School team (U11): A.J. Droese, Michael “McBuckets” Missall, Marcus Fleischman, Quinn “Q-tip” Dornacker, Carter Unger, Easton “Big E” Derge, Easton Sabish, Jace Wichtoski, Oliver Grover and Jake Behn. Captains, as selected by the players, were Jace Wichtoski and Marcus Fleischman.

The grade school team players improved greatly on the effort they put out and the defense they played. They were super positive and cheered wildly for their teammates on the bench. They have a ton of talent on the team, and they beat several AAU teams that had the best player from different teams to combine to one team.

“They were a pleasure to work with. And I have very high hopes for this group. They work very hard on their own to improve. That is the key,” coach Katie Gruber relayed.

The players won on the court much more than they lost; however, their improvement was the most noticeable.

Middle School Team

U13 Eagles work together as a team, work incredibly hard, and have fun with each other on and off the court. They have great leaders and captains in Chase Cook and Charlie Gambino, using their verbal skills as well as setting the example. They are starting to believe in the process of improving versus results. And for all that effort they have seen success on the court as well the inset picture shows them after a first-place finish in an area tournament.

Players include: Charlie Gambino, Bryce Wildt, Chase Cook, Gabe Halopka, Mitchell Wittig, Johnny Hooker, Eli Steinbauer, Sasha Luokka and Anthony Thull.

JV Team

The following players played on the

JV Team (U15): Riley Kuehl, Kenny Grensavitch, Landon Daniel, Luke Graf, Dawson Stahl, Matt Oelhafen, Josh Koenig and Sam Rinzel. Captains were Matt Oelhaefen and Dawson Stahl.

This team struggled to compete against some of the best teams in the state on several occasions. However, the players never gave up. They never got down on themselves. And many individuals have recommitted to improving both mentally and physically.

“While the score was not always what we wanted, we improved. That was the key,” stated coach Ty Cook, former Kewaskum High School varsity standout.

Varsity Team

The U17 Kewaskum Eagles finished with a 9-4 mark in the inaugural season. Of those nine wins, three came down to the final possession where the Eagles were able to dig deep and close out the games by making clutch free throws. Throughout the season, the team improved tremendously on its shooting and aggressiveness offensively while still remembering the importance of playing good hard-nose defense. The team took some hard losses, but those ultimately led to them working harder the following week.

The U17s were led by the two voted team captains Antoine Coleman-Thull and Luke Baumann, along with Jackson Fleischman, Matt Buechel, Miles Surprenant, Owen Schmitt, Brody Kral, Donny Zillmer, Owen Parish and Ryan Cook.

Gerrits, Schmidt, Loehr, Hitsman Emerge Victorious In PDTR A-Main Action

As the Plymouth Dirt Track Racing season eclipsed the half-way point, three drivers added to their 2021 A-main victory tallies, while another visited victory lane for the first time this year in main-event competition at The Plymouth Dirt Track at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds in Plymouth, on Saturday, July 10.

In the PDTR 360 Sprint Car A-main, Waupun's Will Gerrits earned his first 25-lap Kristine Hartmann Pleasantview Realty 360 Sprint Car A-main victory of the 2021 campaign.

Three-time and defending PDTR Late Model champion Justin Schmidt of Cleveland notched his third 25-lap Sheboygan's County 93.7 Late Model A-main victory of 2021.

2018 PDTR Grand National champion Matt Loehr of Dotyville claimed his second 25-lap Oostburg Automotive Grand National main-event win of the 2021 season, while Jonathan Hitsman of Sheboygan rolled to his second Cellcom B Mod A-main triumph of the year.

On the drop of the green flag of the 25-lap 360 Sprint Car A-main, 2008 PDTR 360 Sprint Car champ Lance Fassbender of Burnett jumped into the lead from the pole position.

On lap two, lone caution flag of the race appeared when PDTR 360 Sprint Car rookie Matt Rechek of Beaver Dam spun on the backstretch after making contact with Alex Pokorski of West Bend. Rechek was done for the night, while Pokorski went to the work area for repairs before returning to restart at the rear of the field.

Fassbender controlled the restart as Will Gerrits worked the high line to move up to second from his sixth starting spot on lap three. Meanwhile, ninth starter Travis Arenz of Sheboygan Falls also rode the high groove of the smooth and slick track surface to seize third on lap four.

On lap six, Gerrits powered around Fassbender to take over the top spot exiting turn four, while Arenz slipped into second one lap later. As Arenz tested the high, middle and low lines in an attempt to close the gap on Gerrits, the leaders caught the rear of the field on lap 15.

Three laps later, Arenz moved in to challenge Gerrits for the lead with a daring low move in turn two. However, Gerrits successfully fended off Arenz's spirited charge to maintain the top spot.

On lap 20, Arenz nearly lost control as his car spun sideways along the outside groove in turn four, which allowed the low-riding Fassbender to regain second. Meanwhile, out in front of the field, Gerrits skillfully maneuvered through lapped traffic to nail down his third career PDTR and Midwest Sprint Car Association 360 Sprint Car A-main victory.

Fassbender held on to finish second, Arenz was third, fourth starter Jack Vanderboom of Dousman took fourth and second starter Tyler Tischendorf of Waupaca rounded out the top five.

Justin Schmidt used his outside front row starting spot to out-power Late Model rookie Justin Green of Sheboygan Falls, who started on the pole, to grab the lead in turn one of the opening lap of the 25-lap PDTR Late Model A main.

The first of two caution flags appeared on lap two when 2016 PDTR Late Model champ Tim Buhler of Greenbush made contact with the turn four wall.

Schmidt bolted out into the lead on the restart with Green and seventh starter Justin Ritchie of New London in tow. The second and final caution flag flew on lap 10 when Jayme Zidar of Greenfield spun in turn one.

On the restart, Schmidt bolted away again while Ritchie moved past Green into second and fifth starter Charlie Schmidt of Cedar Grove claimed third in the running order.

Justin Schmidt held firm control of the lead along the extreme inside groove of the third-mile clay oval until he got hung up behind a slower car for several laps, which allowed Ritchie to cut the gap significantly.

Ritchie closed to within striking distance on lap 22 before Schmidt maneuvered around the lapped car and extended his lead over the final three laps en route to his 16th career PDTR Late Model A-main win.

Ritchie had to settle for second, Green posted a career-best third place showing, Charlie Schmidt placed fourth and Turk Letizia of Milwaukee, who started eighth, finished fifth.

Polesitter Steven Weber of Plymouth grabbed the lead on the opening lap of the 25-lap PDTR B Mod A-main, while second starter Dick Hed of Plymouth and Matt Loehr, who started sixth, dueled for second in the early going.

Loehr moved into second on lap two before setting his sights firmly on the lead. On lap three, Loehr used the high line to shoot past Weber into the lead in turn four.

Five laps later, 2019 PDTR Grand National champ Tyler Kulow of Plymouth moved up from his eighth starting spot to take second.

The first of two caution flags appeared on lap eight when Derek Kaat of Plymouth spun in turn one. On the restart, two-time PDTR Grand National champ Don Sorce Jr. of West Allis used the high groove to move past Kulow into second from his seventh starting spot.

Kulow battled back to mount a spirited duel with the high-riding Sorce Jr. for the runner-up spot starting on lap 10 before the second and final caution flag appeared on lap 13 for a debris.

Kulow and Sorce Jr. reengaged in their heated duel for second following the restart as the tandem moved in to pressure Loehr for the season over the final 12 circuits.

In the closing laps, Loehr held strong to secure his eighth career PDTR Grand National A-main victory. Sorce Jr. finished second, Tyler Kulow placed third, Donny Kulow of Elkhart Lake, who started fifth, placed fourth and 10th starter Luke Scholten of Oostburg rounded out the top five.

Steve Lorier of Sheboygan Falls jumped into the lead of the 25-lap PDTR B Mod A-main from the pole as Boltonville's Brandon Knepprath, who started second, dueled with Grafton's Rory Welch, who started third, for the runner-up spot.

Just as sixth starter Jonathan Hitsman was making his presence felt at the front of the field, the first of seven caution flags appeared on lap four for debris. Another caution flag was displayed on the ensuing restart for a five-car incident in turn two.

On the restart, Lorier maintained control of the lead as Welch and fifth starter Shane Long of Sheboygan Falls dueled for second starting on lap four. The third caution flag was thrown on lap six for a two-car incident in turn four.

Following the restart, Hitsman made his march to the front primarily utilizing the outside groove. Hitsman worked his way into third on lap eight before moving into second lap 11 and eventually powering around Lorier and into the lead on lap 14 exiting turn four.

After the fourth caution flag appeared on lap 17 for a two-car incident, Hitsman bolted out to a full-straightaway lead while ninth starter Gary Glander of Sheboygan Falls moved into second.

The fifth caution flag came out on lap 21 for a single-car spin and on the restart it was Spencer Long of Sheboygan Falls, who started 16th, who was turning heads and he seized second on lap 21.

The sixth caution period appeared on lap 22, which set up a battle between Spencer Long and Glander for second in the closing laps.

However, no one had anything for Hitsman as he pulled away to notch his second career PDTR B Mod A-main victory in a race that was flagged as complete following the seventh caution flag of the race for a single-car spin on the 25th and final lap.

Glander finished second, Spencer Long was third, Shane Long placed fourth and eighth starter Rick Kretschmann of Sheboygan Falls placed fifth.

Adam Miller of Plymouth won the 15-lap 360 Sprint Car B-main.

The 11th PDTR program of the 2021 season, which was sponsored by Jensen Sales and Service, drew 71 total cars, including 31 360 Sprint Cars, 17 B Mods, 13 Late Models and 10 Grand Nationals.

PDTR action is scheduled to resume on Saturday, July 17 with action in the 360 Sprint Car, Late Model, Grand National and B Mod divisions. Spectator gates open at 4:30 p.m. with hot laps at 5:30 p.m. and racing at 6 p.m.

“It’s been really fun. I’ve learned a lot,” said Eve, a 13-year-old girl from St. Francis Borgia parish in Cedarburg.

“It’s fun to help your community. It just feels good afterwards,” added Molly, an 11-year-old from Cedarburg who took part in the mission trip.

The teens spent two full days doing service work in Kewaskum before they departed on Friday, June 25.

They did a variety of jobs, such as helping at Kettle Moraine Gardens assisted living facility, painting walls inside the St. Michael rectory, scraping the porch of the Holy Trinity rectory and working on the playground at Little Folks School House day care center. They also did some gardening and work in the cemetery at St. Matthias in New Fane, as well as pulled weeds and picked stones and debris from the grounds at Reigle Family Park.

“Our hope is that it will inspire to help out at home or wherever they are and to teach them to just to encounter God in a deeper way. We also hope it will teach them some practical skills, like a lot of the teens had never painted a room before,” Ulaszek said.

The teens did more than just work. They were able to bond with the people from their own parishes. And they spent time in prayer. But one of the favorite parts of the trip was making new friends.

“It is nice to meet new people,” said Anna, a teen from Holy Trinity.

“It is also fun at night because we talk a lot when we are supposed to be sleeping,” 12-year-old Sarah admitted with a smile, quickly adding that they weren’t too tired.

“It has been a fun experience here because we get to see different points of view and meet other people from other parishes. And they serve great food,” stated Elizabeth, a 12-year-old who is from Cedarburg.

Bringing The Program Here

Although “Love Begins Here” mission trips have been held in other Catholic dioceses in Wisconsin before, this is the first year that the Archdiocese of Milwaukee has offered the program.

“I was a youth minister in Madison for seven years and I would take my teens to Love Begins Here trips in Madison. So, when I started working in the Milwaukee Archdiocese, this was one thing that we really wanted to do right away,” said Ulaszek, who began working as associate director of youth evangelization for the Milwaukee Archdiocese in 2019.

However, because of the covid pandemic, the mission trips were put on hold for the past two years.

“It really is kind of surreal to have it be going on. It feels great to finally be here. Everyone in Kewaskum has been so warm and welcoming,” Ulaszek said.

Holy Trinity parish has offered other mission trips for teens before, but this is the first time it has taken part in the “Love Begins Here” program.

“It is easy to go out of state and tie a bow on that experience and just go back to your normal life. It’s a little harder when it’s your school or it’s your church that you are serving at for a week,” Ulaszek said.

The Milwaukee Archdiocese is offering five weeks of the program for middle schoolers this summer. In addition to Kewaskum, the middle school program will be held in Fond du Lac, Kenosha, Waterford and Menomonee Falls. In total, over 160 teens will be taking part.

In addition, there will be three “Love Begins Here” trips for high schoolers, where the teens have four full days of local service.

“We are all based around the life and teachings of Saint Teresa to do great things with love and reaching out to those who need it,” Ulaszek said.

Middle school students from Cedarburg have fun doing service work during the Love Begins Here mission trip held in Kewaskum.
