Deputy Andrea Dowland Hired as Campbellsport Police Chief

VILLAGE OF CAMPBELLSPORT

After six years of service to the Village of Campbellsport, and more than 45 years of service in law enforcement, Chief Tom Dornbrook has decided to retire from the Village of Campbellsport effective Tuesday, Jan. 3, 2023.

The Village extends its thanks and gratitude to Chief Dornbrook for his years of service and commitment to Campbellsport and the community at large.

The Village of Campbellsport has chosen Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Deputy Andrea Dowland to be the next Campbellsport Police Chief.

Andrea Dowland is a Fond du Lac County resident and has worked for the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Office since 2010.

Dowland is excited to build a strong relationship between the police department and the Village of Campbellsport residents and business owners.

Her goals include educating parents on drug signs and symptoms, rewarding teens for wearing seatbelts, education and awareness of building security for business owners and continuing the department's goal of school safety, emphasizing improved school crossings.

Chief Dowland will begin her duties on Jan 4, 2023.

Details regarding a public meet and greet will be announced at a later date.

Kewaskum Boy & Girls Club Members Spread Christmas Cheer at K.M.G.

The Boys & Girls Club of Washington County members from Kewaskum made Buddy the Elf proud by bringing the gift of song to those within the community.

On Tuesday, Dec. 20, a group of Boys & Girls Club members joined Kewaskum Elementary music teacher Mrs. Sherry Gerhartz on an end-of-the-day school-trip to Kettle Moraine Gardens (KMG) Assisted Living center to sing for the residents.

And what joy they brought!

The impact this had on the community members is enough to warm any Scrooge's heart.

"It's going to make [KMG residents] even more ready for Christmas and bring out that child-like awe to see all of their faces and to hear all of their songs. They love it!" said Carol, the activities director at KMG.

And she was right about that.

The smiles and joyful atmosphere in the room was jolly and up-lifting.

Carol believes this has made a positive impact on the children, saying, "I think it makes them not afraid. I remember visiting when I was in Girl Scouts as a youth and to see the people in this place compared to what it was back when I was going as a Girl Scout is a 100-percent change."

With smiles on their faces, the children performed a variety of classic Christmas songs, from "Winter Wonderland" to "Holly Jolly Christmas".

The crowd favorite was "Jingle Bells", which got all of the residents clapping and singing along.

Stefanie Ulma, unit director at the Boys & Girls Club, said, "I think that they're going to see the smiles on the resident's faces and realize the impact that they make within the moment they're making it. When they come back we will talk to them about that impact, in case they missed it, of how important it was for them to be a part of our community and to continue to do things like that."

This event has beautifully bridged the gap between the children and the senior citizens of the community and it's something that Ulma states the Boys & Girls Club will be adopting and expanding on for years to come.

New Meaning in the New Year

Dear Reader,

Another year will soon be in the rear view mirror. We are approaching the celebration of New Year's Eve and then a day of relaxing on New Year's Day watching football games, eating leftovers from the previous night's celebration, and perhaps sampling the cookies and chocolates still hanging around and beckoning.

Beyond that is the ritual of making New Year's resolutions to somehow, if possible, become our best selves by making changes in the year to come. Such resolutions might include losing weight or drinking less. At the same time, we can look deeper inside to assess those innate qualities we have not yet developed, such as patience, humility, and kindness.

Whether you're on the right track or not, here's a chance for renewal, a chance to try again. Go, do it!

I used to dislike New Year's Eve, its too swift approach once Christmas had scarcely passed. Probably because of a familiar ritual the occasion called for. After church, my family went straight home.

Unlike Christmas Eve, where we each recited our memorized "piece" of the Nativity story and received a paper sack filled with an orange, popcorn ball, a few chocolate drops and a passel of peanuts. Frequently followed by a cruise up to Fond du Lac to see holiday lights. Lakeside Park streetlamps had glass globes, inside shone red or green bulbs. On the bandstand rotating colored spotlights showed choir figure cutouts. Someone sat below the platform to change the records blaring carols through the area. Sometimes, the ride stretched through the streets to glimpse other decorations.

On New Year's Eve Dad was nervous about folks drinking and driving. Homeward we sped to a seemingly endless night, made more so with a regularly replayed rendition of Auld Lang Syne by Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians. Often, I wondered why everybody was in such a hurry to rush the new year in. Mom took down the tree the next day. Sawing or ripping boughs off by hand, the air heavy with the forest scent of pine sap.

One year I was spared the sight. I slept over at my friend, John Venski's place. Where we stayed up all night while his parents went out to celebrate. We played board games, before wandering in his father's store. Soon bored, we hit the basement. Party poppers emptied, John filled each with flour and a firecracker to simulate explosions in war movies. A thorough floor sweep required afterwards.

Despite the mischief, we watched for his parents return in the early hours – diving into bed and feigning sleep when they came in. And for that year, leastwise, the hours slipping away mattered a whole sight less.

Revelations Over Resolutions

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
ACTING EDITOR

Every year since I can remember, near the end of the calendar year, I would hear the adults around me talk about "New Year's Resolutions."

It is, potentially, an ancient human ritual; some historians allege there is evidence the Babylonians took part in an early form of resolution making (though it should be noted it was much different than cutting back on cupcakes).

In modern times (where people are, often, trying to cut back on cupcakes), I noticed as an adult that some actively (and loudly) participate in this tradition, while others seemed indifferent to the idea.

I am one who has come and gone with the concept of year-end "resolutions" – Some of my efforts have been more official than others, I've had private resolutions and I have also gone into a new year with none at all.

Approaching 2023, I noticed I hadn't had a resolution for a few years. I wondered for a minute if that meant anything (not really), but it did inspire me to look up the denotative meaning of "resolution", and I realized what gives me that take-it-or-leave-it feeling about the practice (and it's correspondence with the new calendar).

The first definition (via Oxford) of resolution is "a firm decision to do or not to do something."

On it's own, it's a fantastic word with a specific purpose that is, typically, used in a positive sense. Similar words include "determination", "aspiration" and "aim."

I suppose, for my own purposes, the idea of making a "firm decision" isn't really effective. Having worked in professional sports and with newspapers, flexibility in the face of constant change has been mandatory, and sometimes having tunnel vision toward a singular goal was not advantageous.

Briefly, on a personal level, I've also made the leap into homeownership and got engaged in spring of this year. While those two facts represent new constants, being the best version of myself as a homeowner and future husband will, again, require adaptability and less bullheadedness.

Maybe, instead of resolutions, from now on I will try to find New Year's Revelations.

A revelation (according to Oxford) is a "surprising and previously unknown fact, especially one that is made known in a dramatic way."

Now, this seems more my style!

While I admire anyone making resolutions, and I sometimes envy those who find success in being more deliberate and steadfast with their goals, I also recognize that I enjoy the excitement of making changes, being thrown curveballs and navigating choppy waters.

There are countless things I learned this year that I did not know (and many were dramatic and surprising!). I think as we close out the calendar, I will ruminate on those experiences and see what's worth carrying with me into January.

One specific revelation I had: The newspaper editor writes a weekly column.

Truthfully, I knew this, and while it's not set in stone, it is a good tradition.

As our young newsroom adjusted in 2022, I think 2023 is terrific time to bring back a weekly editor's column, and while I cannot 100-percent commit to 52 pieces, that is my stated goal.

The purpose of the editor's column is to highlight, inform and entertain outside of the constraints of the news pages. I will challenge myself to provide this weekly, starting next week.

Topics might vary wildly, and I'll try to stick to subjects I understand, such as: the newspaper industry and mass media, sports, nature and pop culture.

I am also not so vain that I think our readers want so feverishly to hear from me (it's absolutely understandable if you don't). Instead, this revelation goes hand-in-hand with leading by example and starting new traditions for the future readers of this newspaper.

I hope everyone stayed warm and safe this last week, and I offer the sincerest of gratitude to each and everyone who picked up a paper in 2022.

Have a Happy New Year!

See you next week.

My First Term in Congress

CONGRESSMAN SCOTT FITZGERALD
(WI-05)

As my first term comes to a close, I've been reflecting on everything that I've been a part of over the last two years. I'd like to share candidly a little bit about my experience and what I'm most proud of.

After being sworn in, Members of Congress are responsible for taking up work on their assigned committees. My experiences in the Wisconsin State Senate prepared me to cover a wide variety of issues. As a result, I was placed on three committees – Judiciary, Education and Labor, and Small Business. I've enjoyed the work we set out to do and am grateful to have served as a voice for Wisconsin on the critical issues they cover.

Despite the demands pulling me in many directions, providing quality constituent service will always be one of my top priorities. I'm proud that over the last two years, my office responded to 92,000 constituents, with letters, calls, and emails and my team helped over 2600 constituents with services ranging from complex IRS and Veterans' Affairs casework to military service academy nominations and arranging tours of the U.S. Capitol.

Working in the minority party to make meaningful progress on the issues and needs of our district presented a unique challenge. Despite this, five bills I introduced passed the House and two pieces of legislation I authored will be signed into law. I was selected to represent the Small Business Committee in bipartisan, bicameral negotiations to reauthorize critical small business development programs. And as a veteran, it was my honor to help pass the bipartisan PACT Act which provided more than 3.5 million toxic-exposed veterans with the benefits and healthcare they deserve.

Wins like these don't always make the most noise, but the positive impact they have is well worth the effort. It's truly an honor to represent the community I grew up and raised my family in, in Congress. Thank you for trusting me to be your voice; I'm looking forward to continuing to work on your behalf in the 118th Congress.

Local Reflections from the Y.P.F. Young Leaders Breakfast

The Young Professionals of Fond du Lac (YPF), a program of Envision Greater Fond du Lac, recently hosted its second annual Young Leaders Breakfast event at the Radisson Hotel & Conference Center in Fond du Lac.

On Tuesday, December 6, 2022, the Young Leaders Breakfast brought 68 young professionals and 178 high school students together to share ideas, impart wisdom and develop relationships that will support the continued growth of Fond du Lac County communities.

The participating young professionals represented nearly 20 different industries, including education, agriculture, engineering, skilled trades and entrepreneurship.

Among the young professionals and speakers were several individuals with ties to the Campbellsport area.

Below are their reflections on the event.

Rachel Zachar-Tirado, PsyD

Licensed Psychologist SSM Healthcare - St Agnes

This was my first year participating in the Young Leaders Breakfast through YPF and it was an awesome experience.

I became involved with YPF last year after hearing about this organization through my spouse. We both have always had the goal of making connections within our community and expanding the care we can provide.

Last summer, my spouse, our cat Raji (named after my favorite Packer player) and I found our dream home in Campbellsport. It's honestly the perfect place for us and our own personal retreat. We were drawn by how close-knit the community in Campbellsport is, especially as this was exactly the type of community we were looking for.

At the breakfast, it was amazing to meet so many students with so many different career interests and goals. Everyone had such astute questions and thoughtful responses to our questions as well.

It was so fun to be able to share my personal experiences on how I got to my current career as a Clinical Neuropsychologist and to be able to answer many of the same questions I myself had when I was their age.

This was an event that has clearly had a positive impact on a lot of people in our community as it continues to grow bigger each year. I wish this was an event I had when I was in high school as it would have helped me navigate all the unknowns that come with post-high school career exploration.

I very much look forward to participating in this event and other YPF events in the future!

Christopher Zachar-Tirado, PsyD
*Clinical Neuropsychology
SSM Health Waupun Memorial Hospital*

This was my second year participating in the Young Leaders Breakfast, and it has been such a great experience each time.

I joined YPF in the fall of 2021, not too long after moving into the Fond du Lac area. It has been really fun making friends with other members and helping out in my local community as that is something I have become passionate about.

Myself and my spouse, Rachel, work as clinical neuropsychologists for the area and really have enjoyed our time offering these services locally. We have thoroughly enjoyed the eastern Wisconsin area, and we were lucky enough to find our home in Campbellsport. We are first-time homeowners and hope to live out our days in Campbellsport, as it has been such a welcoming community. Everyone in the local village department and businesses has been really helpful so far and made Campbellsport feel like home. I hope to get a chance to meet even more folks from the community and share in what makes Campbellsport great.

At the breakfast, the local students were quite the motivated and passionate group and had many ideas for their future.

It has been fun for me to help answer their questions on how to navigate the potential next choices in life, whether that be college or otherwise. It has also been nice to showcase that I also was once in their shoes, didn't know my left from my right and took multiple twists and turns on what I ultimately wanted to do with my future.

I wish I had this opportunity at their age and that thought fuels me and my work in the community, as working with students in the local community on opportunities for life after high school is a passion project of mine.

Raina Lyman

*Director of Small Business & Entrepreneurship
Envision Greater Fond du Lac
Self-proclaimed Campbellsport Enthusiast*

My favorite portion of the event was listening to Charlie Kudy respond to questions during the final panel. As a Campbellsport resident, I felt very proud of the way Campbellsport was represented at the Young Leaders Breakfast.

OBITUARIES

Carol Ann Stanchfield

Carol Ann Stanchfield, 87, of Fond du Lac, passed away peacefully on Tuesday, December 20, 2022, at her home.

Carol was born on April 8, 1935, in Fond du Lac, the daughter of Roy and Laura (Wietor) Salter. Carol was born into a quaint family farm, where she learned the value of family and hard work. Carol would tell stories of going to church with her mom on Sundays, and getting home in time so her mom could watch the Packers. While Carol didn't carry on the same love for the Packers that her mom did, she often spoke of the lessons learned from her parents like hard work, kindness, caring, compassion and always treating people well. Carol went to LP Goodrich High School in Fond du Lac, where she met the love of her life, George. Upon George's return from the Korean War, they were married in 1953 and began their wonderful life together.

Both growing up on farms, Carol and her husband, George, began their own family farm, which celebrated its 100th year in the Stanchfield family this year. This is where Carol exhibited her never-ending dedication to hard work as she worked the farm while George worked his job at Mercury Marine. The two made a great team, George giving Carol the Farm to-do list before he left for work and her enjoying every task on the list. Carol would work the fields to ensure George could plant when his working day was done. Carol's dedication to hard work through the operation of the family farm while being a mother was never lost on anyone and showed her true strength.

George brought a passion for agriculture and fairs to Carol's life and the two quickly made that a focal point of their relationship, family, and life mission. As George would serve on the fair board, Carol would work just as diligently as a volunteer to make the annual event a success. Carol's giving was recognized in 2005 as the recipient of the Wisconsin Association of Fairs VIP and in 2009 as the Friend of the Fair award winner from the Fond du Lac County Fair. She valued what fairs meant to the community as she experienced that value first-hand when she watched her daughters participate as exhibitors as well as many of her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Carol's family members were not the only exhibitors, Carol herself was an exhibitor at the Fair through 2021. Carol always had her camera and loved to exhibit her photos in the photography project every year. The subjects of her pictures were always kids, mostly her grandkids, but sometimes kids she didn't even know. She loved to capture people when they were happiest. Beyond capturing smiles on her camera, Carol loved sunsets and clouds. Carol loved the beauty and uniqueness in every single one, no two were alike and you would often find her looking to the sky reminding anyone around to look with her and recognize the masterpiece. Carol's recognition of these simple things was a constant reminder to her family to slow down and take in the beauty around you. And if you missed it, Carol has a picture of it.

Carol has much to be proud of and has lived a wonderful life, but her biggest pride and source of joy was her husband. There was no greater role that Carol cherished than being George's sidekick. Wherever George went, Carol was right by his side. The perfect pair spent countless hours raising their children together, taking care of their grandchildren and great-grandchildren, driving in the van touring Wisconsin to hit every county Fair or go on a road trip or make it to the next ball game. No matter what they were doing, they did it together and adored every minute of it. The greatest legacy Carol leaves behind was the example of true love she exhibited throughout her life. From this love, Carol and George had four wonderful daughters who gave them 11 beautiful grandchildren that then blessed them with 16 great-grandchildren and one great-great grandchild. This family was Carol's purest source of joy. Carol was small in stature and quiet in nature, but her heart was big, and she shared it with many. It would not be right to talk about Carol and not mention the one thing she shared the most often, 'grandma bars' - her simple chocolate chip bars that cannot be reproduced no matter how often people try. Her family is sure the magic ingredient was grandma's love, because love she did.

Carol is survived by three daughters, Sue (Gary) Edwards of Fond du Lac, Pat Immel of Eden, and Jean (Gerard) Kohlman of Fond du Lac; 11 grandchildren, Rick (Cathy) Van Buren, Dawn Van Buren (Mark), Nicole (Anthony) Lo Bionco, Nathan Van Buren, Angie Benson, Tim (Erin) Edwards, Matt (Ramsey) Immel, Lisa Immel, Kim (Brad) Wagner, Jennifer Kohlman and Kayla Kohlman; 16 great-grandchildren; one great-great grandchild; and nieces and nephews.

Carol is preceded in death by her parents, Roy and Laura; her husband, George; her brothers, Robert and James; and her daughter, Mary Meinke.

While Carol was an angel to many, her family certainly was surrounded by a team of angels in her final days. They would like to extend an enormous amount of gratitude to the hospice nurses, the CNA, and the entire staff at SSM hospice; you are all truly angels.

A visitation will be held on Saturday, December 31, 2022, from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. at Uecker-Witt Funeral Home. A funeral service will follow the visitation at the funeral home at 1 p.m. Private family burial will follow the service at Rienzi Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family will accept donations which will be forwarded to a charity of choice in Carol's name.

Services are in the care of Uecker-Witt Funeral Home, 524 North Park Avenue, Fond du Lac, WI, 54935. Additional information and guestbook can be found at ueckerwitt.com

K.I.C. Program at K.H.S. Helps Students Help Students

EMILY MILLER
KEWASKUM HIGH SCHOOL
STUDENT CONTRIBUTOR

Since 2021, select students at Kewaskum High (KHS) and Elementary (KES) have been chosen to participate in what is called the Kewaskum Impact Crew (KIC) Mentoring Program. It is a program slightly modeled after Big Brothers, Big Sisters. Currently there are sophomores, juniors and seniors that have gone through training before being matched with an elementary student – typically referred by the elementary school counselor or teacher. The high school student goes over to the elementary school to join their “sidekick” for lunch or recess once per week.

KHS’s ACP (Academic Career Planning) Coordinator, Kevin Pratt, introduced this program after running it at his previous school. Kewaskum started with 20 mentors and is now capped at 40.

KHS counselors Mrs. Jamie Leoni, Mrs. Rebecca Bryant and Mr. Pratt explained the criteria for linking up students.

“The elementary school counselors are really who we rely on to get the referrals,” said Leoni. She added, because the program is capped at 40 mentors, it is important to select elementary students who really need the support of positive role models the most.

Mrs. Bryant continued by explaining how the mentors become eligible for the program.

“There are pretty strict requirements. The attendance has to be there; reliability and attendance is huge, because if you’re not showing up for that ‘sidekick’, that’s going to hurt that relationship.”

It is also important that the mentors are meeting graduation requirements. They are evaluated based on character and good behavior before they can be labeled a mentor.

One member of the program is senior Braeden Scoles. Many readers may know Scoles through his impressive titles in wrestling. However, he is more than just a wrestler. Scoles has been a part of KIC since last year, and he was actually one of the very first students to be chosen, along with fellow senior Delanie Vogt.

Scoles said the program is great, because it helps him connect with others on topics outside of wrestling and sports.

“[Wrestling] is obviously a lot of what I’ve put my time into and my life into, so I don’t see it as a negative, but there’s definitely a whole circle. They see that as the whole circle when that’s maybe 20 percent of me,” said Scoles, explaining the other 80 percent. “I have this other side where I am compassionate, and I am a good person. I do care about other things. I do care about people. I think that was always in me, but I think maybe this program and... since I’ve become an upperclassman, it’s allowed me to show that side.”

He also said he didn’t know whether people saw him differently, but he’s appreciative nonetheless to have the opportunity to express it for himself.

After getting a bit deeper into the discussion, I asked both Delanie Vogt and Scoles how working with their sidekick impacted the kids themselves. Vogt talked about her sidekick and expressed that, at first, he had no interest in her. However, as time went on, he would beg her to go outside and do activities with him.

She spoke about how she enjoyed the relationship and the reassurance that she was actually helping.

Scoles concurred. Although he said it was hard to measure growth, he did say that his personal relationship with his kids has increased significantly and feels as though he’s making a difference.

At KES, I spoke with one of the kids in the mentor program. He will be referred to as “J”.

When I met J, I noticed right off the bat that he was very quiet and reserved. Nonetheless, he was very willing to talk to me about the program. He’s been a part of the program since the middle of last year. I asked him if he knew why they chose him to be a part of the program, and he said it was because his dad was a part of the military, so he never got to meet him.

“They chose [a mentor] to help make me happier and play games,” said J.

I then asked if having his mentor, Caleb, did make him happier. He simply nodded with a slight smile on his face. We continued to talk and J said that, before Caleb, he would always feel sad and lonely. However, he now feels much happier and considers his mentor a friend.

The students and advisors at Kewaskum High School are doing an amazing job helping the students at the elementary school.

It warms my heart to hear of kids like J and know that they are being helped by my peers.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio Fame

Two men, each wearing a Campbellsport Cougars' wrestling singlet, were the buzz of the "Drew & K.B." radio show (97.3 FM) on Wednesday, Dec. 21

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER

"In the future, everyone will be world-famous for 15 minutes," is a quote erroneously credited to Andy Warhol (though, no one really knows who said it, first, or if Warhol ever did, at all).

It is unlikely "Joe and Dean" – two guys known only by their first names who showed up to a live broadcast of the 97.3 FM sports/talk radio show "Drew & K.B." – made waves internationally as a result of their mention over the airwaves, but they sure entertained the program's hosts for at least a quarter hour last week Wednesday.

It was "Thursday Night Feast" at Buffalo Wild Wings in West Bend for the Drew & K.B. show – which features former Brewers beat writer Drew Olson and Marquette Lecturer Kevin Brandt – but it was rescheduled to the night prior, as last week's winter storm altered the original plan.

Early on in the show, Olson called out two gentlemen at the restaurant on-air for their peculiar garb: They were each wearing a Campbellsport Cougars wrestling singlet.

For Olson, the men he got to know as Joe and Dean served as an example of when fandom really works.

"This is why I love our listeners," said Olson, off-air, noting that Joe and Dean were picking up on a joke from another Thursday Night Feast held in Central Wisconsin.

"In mid-October, we were headed to Stevens Point," detailed Olson, "and a listener contacted the show and said his son was going to come in from the UW-Stevens Point wrestling team."

Olson and Brandt bantered with the caller, saying if the team showed up wearing wrestling singlets that Brandt would buy them all beverages

Dean, left, and Joe fashion Campbellsport Cougars wrestling singlets at Buffalo Wild Wings in West Bend on Wednesday, Dec. 21, during a live broadcast of the "Drew & K.B." radio show for 97.3 FM The Game. The pair made quite the impression on the show's hosts – Drew Olson and Kevin Brandt – who mentioned the Campbellsport singles throughout the Wednesday evening show.

"Alas, the guys never showed up," recalled Olson.

Fast-forward to last week, and in walk Joe and Dean.

"We are firing up the broadcast at Buffalo Wild Wings in West Bend, and two guys roll in, take their jackets off and, boom, they were wearing Campbellsport wrestling singlets and demanding beer and wings," said Olson.

Brandt, whose dedicated listeners will know is a stickler for rules, pointed out to the gentlemen that this was a one-time offer for the Stevens Point wrestlers and that, also, the Blue-and-Gold-clad duo chose to wear clothing underneath their singlets, which Brandt said was grounds for disqualification.

Off-air, however, both Joe and Dean did get to share a free beverage with Drew and K.B., as the on-air pair was gracious for the "commitment to the bit."

"[K.B.] bought them beers," Olson confirmed.

The discussion of Campbellsport wrestling prompted other listeners to chime in with their thoughts, as well.

"We got a couple different texts telling us how the wrestling program is at Campbellsport," said Olson, sharing some of his new knowledge. "A powerhouse, and highly-respected. The more you know, right?"

While Joe and Dean probably won't be able to make careers out of their 15 minutes (nor did this journalist have adequate time to track them down for comment), Olson said they were a big boost to an already fun night.

"It tells you everything you need to know about our listeners," said Olson. "Not only did they remember an off-hand comment from eight weeks earlier – uttered by guys who can't remember their wedding anniversaries – but they committed to the bit and went through the trouble of wearing singlets in public."

And, maybe, the Campbellsport wrestling team has gained two new fans?

"It was a great night, and all I can say is, 'Go Cougars!'" concluded Olson.

5 Years Ago December 28, 2017

Students of the Month for November have been announced by Campbellsport Middle School. Two students from each grade are recognized for exemplifying the core values of Cougar Character - Respect, Responsibility, and Resourcefulness. Kaydence Hodorff and Lucas Beck are the sixth graders, Brady Loehr and Alex Voss are the seventh graders, and Brooklyn Gliniecki and Connor Lemke are the eighth graders who were chosen for November.

The third and fourth grade reading class at Waucousta Lutheran Grade School have been reading Little House in the Big Woods. As the class reads and enjoys the book, they are getting to experience some of Laura and Mary's life back then. Recently, the boys in the class built log cabins made of pretzel rods and frosting, the girls made rag dolls, and the students made and sampled beef jerky and butter.

The Lady Cougar bowlers traveled to Pioneer Bowl in Richfield on December 18 for a battle with the undefeated conference leader West Bend West and won. The win brings the Cougars' season record to 11-3 and gives the Campbellsport team sole possession of second place in the conference. There are four matches remaining.

In this edition of the paper, a synopsis of the news during the first half of 2017 was included. This remembrance of the year is called Year In Review.

Leo C. Brown, 84, Dundee, passed away December 20. June E. Glatzel, 89, Campbellsport, passed away December 22.

15 Years Ago January 3, 2008

Winners of the Campbellsport Cub Scouts annual Rain Gutter Regatta have been announced. Matt Kieffer took first place, Danny Kieffer took second place, and Austin Dreikosen took third place. The Scouts made sailboats and then used their own wind to power the boats and see whose design would go the fastest.

Members of the Mayville Fire Department, especially Chief Roger Williams, made a little boy and his family very happy. The memories created that evening will go a long way when the going gets tougher for them. Two-and-one-half-year-old Isaiah Van Beek of Campbellsport has been battling leukemia for a year. Isaiah loves John Deere tractors and Roger works at John Deere Horicon Works. The Van Beek family - Isaiah, his parents, and his brother and sister - arrived at the fire station thinking they were going to see the fire trucks. They got that and more as the children received great toys and games from the firefighters. The family also got to ride in a fire truck during a short trip around Mayville.

The Fond du Lac Metropolitan Statistical Area has been named the 20th safest community in the nation in the 14th edition of Crime Rankings. The 2007 rankings, recently released from CQ Press, examined data for 333 MSAs throughout the United States. The Fond du Lac MSA consists of all of Fond du Lac County.

The IOOB Club will host its annual All-Lake Fisheree on January 19.

Crooked Trails Snowmobile Club held its annual Christmas party for the children on December 15 at The Roadhouse in Dundee. The children were treated to crafts, cookie decorating, and a wonderful visit with Santa Claus.

With aggressive wrestling, the Cougars got out to a 24-0 start against Plymouth, winning 54-19. The victory improves Campbellsport's record to 8-2.

The Lady Cougars lost to Sheboygan Falls 59-48. Campbellsport fell behind 18-5 after one period but pulled to within two points by halftime. The Cougars were outscored 16-6 in the third quarter. The girls lost 49-43 to Madison Edgewood.

A son, Elijah Matthew, was born December 20 to John and Rebecca Van Beek of Campbellsport. A son, Sam Stephen, was born December 20 to Tim and Alyssa Foster of Campbellsport.

Imelda Kissinger, 87, passed away December 23. LeRoy F. Schneider, 70, Fond du Lac, passed away December 25. Helen L. Schultz Geiser, 86, Oakfield, passed away December 24. Harvey W. Schmidt, 88, Campbellsport, passed away December 26. School Sister of St. Francis Magdalita Gubels, 90, Campbellsport, passed away December 24.

25 Years Ago December 25, 1997

The Village of Eden board approved a 10 percent hauling rate increase for holding tanks when the group met on December 18. The rate will go from $7 per thousand gallons in 1997 to $7.70 per thousand gallons in 1998. Phosphorus removal played a role in the increased cost, which will become effective on January 1. At that same meeting, the board gave its final approval to regular sewer rate increases effective upon posting the ordinance at the village office. A "tentative" agreement has been reached with East Central Regional Planning regarding the development of a comprehensive land use plan in and around the village.

Although there are some trouble spots in the Village of Campbellsport regarding parking, the board agreed with business people in attendance at the December 17 meeting that to force parking restrictions on everyone was not the solution. Restricted parking had been recommended on Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue after an earlier hearing by members of the Committee on Protection of Persons and Property. But it was pointed out that the estimated cost for signage and manpower for installation of the signage could be as high as $6,000. Manpower for enforcement would be additional costs.

Danielle Joslin, science teacher at Campbellsport High School, has been hired as the new head coach for girls volleyball. She replaces Linda Boehlke, who had resigned.

The Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance has designated the Campbellsport School District as one of the top 20 percent school districts in Wisconsin. The ranking was published recently in the WTA's September 1997 edition of the Wisconsin Taxpayer, and is based on student performance on a number of statewide standardized tests. Campbellsport students scored consistently in the top 20 percent of all Wisconsin school districts on all of the state tests in reading and math and the ACT.

In 1986, Stephen Lentz of Campbellsport invented the Lessco Air Vapor Barrier Box and formed the Low Energy Systems Supply Company. In 1987, he received a United States Patent for the Lessco Box, which completely eliminates cold air infiltration and warm air exfiltration that occurs through electrical boxes in exterior walls and ceilings. In September 1997, a new, improved Lessco Air Vapor Barrier Box was introduced and is now available.

Last week was a pivotal week for the boys basketball team. The Cougars won two games in two days; 44-36 over Ozaukee and 58-37 over North Fond du Lac. The defense against Ozaukee's front line of players 6'6", 6'5", and 6'2" was key to the victory, as was free throw shooting, which included 11 of 15 in the fourth quarter. Defense once again was the stepping stone against North Fondy. The Cougars jumped out to a 12-point lead in the first quarter and never looked back.

The CHS wrestling team destroyed the Orioles 53-18 on December 18 in a battle of unbeaten Flyway wrestling teams.

A son, Steven Edward, was born December 10 to Jackie and Ed Braatz of Eden. A son, Jacob Thomas, was born December 13 to Tracy and Dan Johnson of Campbellsport. A daughter, Alexis Rose, was born December 14 to Sandy and Rick Olig of Mt. Calvary.

Maryann K. Koepke, 78, Campbellsport, passed away December 18.

Included in this edition of the Campbellsport News was the 1997 Holiday Greetings special section. This included holiday messages from local businesses, recipes for holiday goodies, and more.

75 Years Ago January 1, 1948

Notice was given by the village treasurer that the tax roll for 1947 was in his hands, and that the taxes charged were to be paid at the clerk-treasurer's office from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays prior to February 1.

The all-school play of the high school, presented by the student body, will be given at 8 p.m. on January 5. It is a light comedy written by the well-known author Patterson Green. Supervising the play will be Mr. George Lehner with Alice Kippenhan and Beverly Scheid directing. The cast includes Betty Hatch, Wm. Schlaefer, Wallace Luckow, Charlene Uelmen, Patricia Conrow, and Richard McDougal.

If you have been wondering who is responsible for the installation of the village's only Christmas decoration on the streets, this is to inform you that the lights and ball on the corner were installed by the Campbellsport Chamber of Commerce. Due to the lack of individual businessmen operating in the decoration of the village streets, the officers of the Chamber decided to erect some type of Christmasy decoration. Through the assistance of Ray Luckow, local electrician, the Wisconsin Gas and Electric Co., Lester Butschlick, R.J. Hensen, and A.J. Sukawaty, local telephone manager, the present design was constructed and installed.

According to Harold Lueders, who takes it upon himself each year to build a skating rink, the children should have a place to skate within the next few days if the parties with the machinery cooperate. Originally, he was going to place the rink in the park, but circumstances would not permit it. Permission was granted for the use of the spot, but the terrain did not lend itself to flooding. The new site selected is in the rear of the post office on what is known as the Kleiber property. The terrain lends itself to flooding without too much preliminary leveling. A contractor has promised to bring in his equipment soon to do the work. As soon as the ground is prepared, the flooding will take place.

Victims of looting in the village on October 25 were in Appleton Monday to identify some of the stolen property belonging to them and returning with it. Mr. Lueders was able to bring back three personal watches, several other stock watches and many jewelry items. Mr. Kleinhans was able to identify a radio, and Mr. Bueckel identified a tire. Arrested and now serving jail sentences for the crime are Clifford Anderson of Oshkosh and Thomas and Jerome Flucer (brothers) of Appleton.

The American Legion Lakes team broke the jinx last Sunday afternoon at Hustisford by gaining its first league victory when the local team defeated Hustisford 49 to 28.

Carrie Wenzel, 86, formerly of Campbellsport, passed away December 26.

| KEWASKUM'S DAYS GONE BY |5 Years Ago
January 4, 2018

"It's Packer day! It's Packer day!" Eight-year-old Alexya Ebert squealed as she ran to her parents' room and jumped on their bed. It was 6 a.m. on December 23. Not even Christmas Eve yet. But it was Alexya's big day, and she was excited. And Alexya's parents, Debby and Scott Ebert, were thrilled. At noon, a limousine arrived to take the family and Alexya's best friend, Leo Gerhartz, to Lambeau Field. For one day, Alexya could forget about the fact that she was sick. When she was born on June 23, 2009, her intestines were growing outside her body, through her belly button. Although Debby and Scott were advised to stop treatments and begin palliative care when Alexya was four months old, they did not take the advice. Alexya is now eight years old. She is the fifth person in the nation to be diagnosed with neonatal marfan syndrome, and is the longest living person with the disorder. Thanks to the generosity of the community, Wayne Sargent, Kilian Management Services-McDonalds, and the West Bend Firefighters Charities, Alexya got to attend the Green Bay Packers game.

Although it was about three degrees outside, Kewaskum Village Board members met at Reigle Family Park on December 28 to discuss logging trees to make room for soccer and baseball fields. The area's oldest, independent, weekly newspaper has entered fourth-generation ownership. After 20 years as publisher, Lana Harbeck-Kuehl has sold the operation to her son, Andrew, and daughter-in-law, Nicole Kuehl. Andrew is the great-grandson of the late Don Harbeck, who began the Harbeck family's now 91-year stint of continuous family ownership. Harbeck-Kuehl purchased the newspaper from her parents, Marcie and the late Bill Harbeck in 1988, who had purchased the Statesman in 1954 after Don's death. The family had been planning the most recent change since late summer. There are currently 3,400 subscribers to the Statesman. Most of the staff remains, with the exception of Sheri Baldikowski, who has retired. Although readers will not notice any changes at the present time, Andrew said plans are in place to begin offering a completely digital version of the paper on the website, which receives an average of 150 hits per day.

There was a definite difference of opinion expressed among members of the Town of Scott Board of Supervisors during a public hearing related to the 1998 budget and again during the special and regular meetings which followed. With Irene Gnacinski appointed to fill the unexpired treasurer term of Maire Edeler, who resigned, Supervisor Richard Bemis thinks the county should collect the taxes. Other board members feel the new treasurer should be the one to make that decision. After much discussion and motions, a motion was passed 3-2 to allow payment of $300 for a deputy treasurer for three months of work during the tax season to help Gnacinski.

Mike and Julie Desterhofs invested in the Northern Kettle Moraine area two years ago when they purchased Parkview General Store. The couple is the chamber member of the month.

Greetings from the Campbellsport Library!

We would like to wish all of you a happy and healthy holiday season. We hope that during this busy season you will be able to slow down and enjoy a nice book or movie. The library is open from 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Monday through Friday, with the following exceptions – we will be closed on Monday, Jan. 2.

Story Time at the Library

Children ages 3-6 are invited to join Ms. Azra at the library for story hour every Wednesday from 10:30-11:30 a.m. Children will enjoy reading stories, making crafts and participating in other themed week activities. Story hour offers the opportunity for young children to socialize with others and also encourages growth in language development, motor skills, and helps to promote a love of learning. Children and families are welcome to stay after story hour to play and explore at the library.

• Please note that story hour will not be held on January 4. Join us for our first story time of the new year on Wednesday, Jan. 11. We will be heading off into space to explore the stars!

Foodie Friday

On Friday, Jan. 27, kids of all ages are invited to join us for Foodie Friday from 4-5 p.m. to make their own personal pizzas. Supplies will be provided, limiting one pizza per child, on a first-come, first-served basis, and will be available while supplies last. We hope to see you for this fun Friday event!

Music of the Great Masters

Attention music lovers! The library is looking for six or more patrons to join retired music teacher, Dave Dahlke for a free, music education series titled “Music of the Great Masters.” Dave will discuss works and pieces by musical masters such as Chopin, Beethoven, Bach, Mozart and more. Classes will be held in the library basement for one-hour a week. Individuals who are interested in this free class can join by calling the library at 920-533-8534 or by signing up at the front desk. Dates for the class will be set once we have enough participants. (Hopeful-start date will be Wednesday, Jan. 11.)

Food for Thought

The library is excited to announce that beginning in January we will be starting a new cooking club at the library. If you enjoy sharing and trying new foods, this is the place for you. “Food for Thought” meetings will take place on a bimonthly basis on the fourth Tuesday of the month at 1 p.m. On Tuesday, Jan. 24, we will be exploring the wonderful world of soup! Interested parties should bring along their recipe and a soup to share with others. To get a head count for this event, interested patrons should sign up at the front desk, or call the library.

Monday Movie of the Month

The Monday Movie of the Month for January 30, will be “Mrs. Harris goes to Paris.” The film tells the story of a widowed cleaning lady in 1950s London who falls madly in love with a couture Dior dress and decides that she must have one of her own. After she works, starves, and gambles to raise the funds to pursue her dream, she embarks on an adventure to Paris which will change not only her own outlook, but the very future of the House of Dior. This 2022 historical comedy-drama film stars Lesley Manville, Isabelle Huppert, Lambert Wilson, Alba Baptista, Lucas Bravo, Ellen Thomas, Rose Williams, and Jason Isaacs.

Check It Out!

LORI KREIS, DIRECTOR
KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

Cheers to the end of another great year at Kewaskum Public Library. Annual statistics will be available in the next several weeks, but now I would like to highlight some stand out programs and other great happenings that occurred in 2022.

We gradually converted our Grab & Go kits to all in-person programming involving crafts. We were able to have pop-up kit distributions and will continue to do that if we have an overabundance of supplies after a program. The best way to find out about these is either on our social media or in the library as these are random and unplanned. Some popular crafting programs for adults we hosted included iris folding and diamond art. Look for more similar programs in the new year.

For adults, we completed our partnership in 2022 with the Tower Heritage Center of Washington County which included local historical programs, many with touchable artifacts. Some standout topics were, The Spirit of the American Doughboy, Women’s Suffrage and The Aluminum Cookware Industry. Eleanor Roosevelt visited us one evening in a performance by Jessica Michna. The library also hosted programs about lighthouses, garlic and calligraphy.

With the grant we received in 2022 for East Asia in Wisconsin programming, besides calligraphy, we had events focused on haiku, origami, and a fantastic Saturday kite day with perfect weather for flying. We also added many books and films to our collection that supported the grant.

For children, our quality programs were well-received. Due to a staffing issue, we supplemented our weekly preschool story times in early 2022 with guest readers. The community stepped up when I put out the request for help and we had each story time scheduled that included tales about quilts, monsters, and reader favorites. Dinosaur Days, Pokémon Party and a costume tea party were programs that all young attendees enjoyed. For teens, we had a few escape rooms during the year that were a lot of fun.

The library was present at several community events during the year including but not limited to Trunk or Treat, Washington County Fair and Kewaskum’s 125th celebration.

We overhauled a few things in the library such as new computer chairs, shifting some of our collections including local history and refreshed the toys in the children’s area. You may have also noticed new faces serving you in the library in 2022. I am proud of our friendly, exceptional library team.

Our patrons and the community was very generous with a notable year of donations, many earmarked towards a new building. We plan to continue with this project in the new year, so keep checking in with us for progress reports.

I look forward to 2023 and a new year of updated collections, fresh databases, and quality programs.

Have a safe and Happy New Year!

end to remember at a simulated deer camp with mentors from KAMO guiding each hunter on properties as far as 20-miles away.

We receive support from staff in the kitchen and maintaining law-and-order at our camp.

Our first "Joe" was held back in 2008, and we had to take the last two years off due to Covid.

I have become friends with the Tyler and Patsy Thiede family out of Mayville, and they have been helping mentor two of their children – Conner, 11, and Carsyn, 12 – in youth turkey hunts, and this year's youth deer hunt.

For The Joe, Tanner Webber, Tyler's 19-year-old stepson, was mentoring Carsyn, and I was mentoring Conner.

These kids are tough, polite and fun.

We hunted on the Eugene and Marcia Vangen farm near Otsego. The Vangens are brother and sister, old family friends and have the prettiest farm this side of the Mississippi.

Last weekend, KAMO members held a three-hour safety class for the mentees and then Tyler, Carsyn, Conner and myself came here to scout.

Today, we all drove here in a very challenging snowstorm, and it was day-one of our hunt.

To make a long story short, Conner and I were hunting a well-managed food plot and, just before dark, a two-and-a-half-year-old buck made the mistake of standing in some corn stalks at 90-yards for a bit to long, and Conner made an excellent shot.

The buck had already shed its horns, but would be aged and checked for chronic wasting disease at the end of the weekend.

Tonight, at camp, it was the start of fun and games. These kids come from all over the state and, like a bunch of puppies, are always playing in the snow and getting to know each other.

Two doe were also harvested, and day-one had three deer on the pole.

Volunteers and donations are a must, as – not even counting the donations – this is about a $4,000 endeavor.

Volunteers that I want to give a shout out to: Jeff and Patti Rouse who run our kitchen and have never missed a year. Peppermint Patti and I were great friends growing up and we would be starving without these two ordering and cooking our food.

Another quality shout-out is due to the Sassy Cow Creamery out of Sun Prairie. They give us all of our chocolate and white milk as well as ice cream for the weekend, and we are feeding 50 people five meals.

SATURDAY, DEC. 10
HIGH: 27. LOW: 18.

We all sleep in dorms at this facility, and the place is a classic that is owned and managed by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Breakfast is served from about 4:30 to maybe 7 a.m., and then every mentor and mentee hits the woods for a morning hunt, lunch and an afternoon hunt.

Then, tonight, lasagna and a bingo party for the kids where a ton of donations create the prizes.

Today, six more deer were added to the pole and, tonight, 12-year-old Jameson Brodeur of The Lake Wisconsin Chapter "Poynette/Lodi" won the night's final game, which was emceed by Greg Wagner of The Baraboo River Chapter and that was a Savage 308.

I started this column saying that covid really kicked KAMO's behind, but we are on a major rebound and one example would be Bob Brodeur's Lake Wisconsin Chapter. Bob has been a friend since we were kids in high school, and this event brought a bunch of new-energy people to his chapter.

The last day of our hunt was Sunday and, by then, everyone is physically and mentally exhausted.

Today, we had a special story when 17-year-old Braedyn McMullen of Winneconne, who was mentored by Randy Hines – who is from The Coulee Chapter of KAMO – spotted a real nice eight-point buck that was bedded down. When they spotted the buck, there was not a good shot, and Randy told Braedyn to try and sneak up a bit closer. Randy was able to watch the entire experience, and Braedyn was smooth on his stalk, put the bullet where it had to go and both of these guys and, later, Braedyn's mother Whitney, were about as happy as three people could be.

KAMO is always looking for mentors, mentees and financial help. We are open to starting new chapters and are a 100-percent volunteer organization dedicated to getting kids outside.

I had backed off as president due to the loss of the love of my life, Michelle Chiaro, last June.

I never left, the position was never filled and I will fill it until we do if everyone in KAMO is good with that.

MARK WALTERS
 COLUMNIST

This week's column is all over the map on a very positive subject.

Back in 2006, I had an idea to start an organization through this column to get kids outside.

In 2007, that thought became action and would become KAMO "Kids and Mentors Outdoors" (kamokids.org).

These days, we have chapters in Poynette, Wisconsin Dells, Marshfield, New Lisbon, LaCrosse and Beaver Dam of which each chapter covers the region.

What we do is offer kids, hunting, fishing, outdoor education and just about anything under-the-sun type-of-experiences.

To be perfectly honest, covid really hit us hard, but we are currently on what may be our most positive and energetic path ever.
