The Kewaskum Village Board held a meeting on Monday, Jan. 16, with all members in attendance.

To begin the meeting, Officer David Knepfel and Officer Aaron Roth were sworn in to the Kewaskum Police Department. Both officers recited the oath and have recently begun patrolling the village.

After the introductions, Police Chief Tom Bishop gave his monthly report.

He stated that a digital speed sign located by Ace Hardware has been permanently installed.

"There has been lots of talk in the community about the new sign, people know it's there," said Bishop.

The chief went on to mention that it is solar powered and was put in place to count traffic and keep track of speed as cars travel through the area.

Other Notes

During the unfinished business portion of the meeting, a short discussion on the shared facilities building took place. Trustee Richard Knoebel made a motion to put a hold on the project until mid-March so the board can gather more information on future buildings.

Next, the board agreed to put the Washington County and municipalities shared sales tax advisory referendum on the April election ballot to allow for citizens to vote on the concept. Trustees mentioned that this topic was introduced at the end of December. Washington County would like citizens to take a stance on if the county should share a portion of the sales tax revenues to fund road work projects in surrounding areas.

Based on similar, local referendum questions, a proposed advisory referendum question in Kewaskum could read:

"Washington County currently imposes a 0.5% sales tax throughout the county and none of these dollars are shared with the local municipalities. Municipalities are putting forth a proposal to the County for sharing sales tax revenues. Would you support an agreement where the County would annually share 20% of the revenues with the cities, villages, and towns to apply to local road maintenance and construction?"

Back to Her Roots, Chief Dowland Excited and Ready to Lead the C.P.D.

Campbellsport Police Chief Andrea Dowland says she's prepared and eager to get to know the community

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER

After an extensive search to find a new Chief of Police for the Campbellsport Police Department (CPD) – which included 12 applications, six candidate-interviews and three closing interviews with four finalists – the Village Personnel Committee's recommendation of Andrea Dowland was confirmed by the Village Board late last year, and the former Fond du Lac (FDL) County Sheriff's Patrol Deputy got right to work earlier this month, Wednesday, Jan. 4.

Last week, with her family in attendance, Dowland was recognized at Village Hall with a ceremonial lapel pinning on Thursday, Jan. 12.

After the intensive interview process, the formality of municipal procedure and the flurry of new information that has come with the transition, Dowland said she was excited to meet the community, and she's ready to put her years of

Age Eclipse

Dear Reader,

Like many of you, I am married and have had children. Now that they have grown up and moved out, I have noticed a pattern in our family dynamics as one generation ages and the younger generation matures to adulthood.

When our children were little, they listened to just about everything we said, following our guidance like sunflowers tracking the sun across the sky. After they grew to adulthood and completed their studies, they reached parity and their opinions counted as much as ours. And now as we move on to accepting senior status, they have taken the reins we have relinquished in advance of our departure.

Each generation eclipses the preceding one. That's an integral part of the cycle of life. In some ways, it fosters hope for regeneration and improvement. Within the intricacies of this complex network of relationships, there lies a secret to being here happily—welcoming and extending love and compassion to those who accompany us on our journey to the next world of spirituality.

Sing the praises of the humble silo. Though you might wonder why. They're a common sight on any horizon round these parts. Nothing particularly outstanding about them.

But we're not talking about the commonly seen huge blue wonders better known as Harvestores. No, this harkens back to the days of solid brick or cement circulars. Duck your head under the cross bars beyond the low entry way from the barn and you caught the scent of the farm firsthand. Especially when concrete cooked in a hot summer sun. The silage was ripe. Leastwise not as up close and personal as shoveling manure on a similar scorching day.

Gawk upwards to where swallows sometimes swooped and rode the thermals near an open window at the top. The courageous might scale the rungs upward, no vertigo... or problem with heights. Such as my friend Randy Luckow, at his grandfather Ed Rucks spread near Brownsville.

It's said daredevil motorcyclists spun their way ever higher on the walls in sheer defiance of gravity. Perhaps bored with the mere vertical ascent of hill climbing. Or just to prove it could be done.

Once, if you wandered through the countryside, drove along back roads around Germantown, the silos were topped with crenels, those grooved edges atop a castle parapet. Maybe, after all else of their native culture; language, folk dances and songs had vanished in America's melting pot, this was the last bit of Europe they couldn't let go of.

Practical and aesthetic, perhaps the sight of them cured Old World homesick hearts while holding a bountiful harvest. No need to go back because feudal architecture was as near at hand as the barn.

Often when acreage is sold, or abandoned, long after all other structures have collapsed from the weight of the years, silos remain as last refugees, stoic survivors from the past.

'What's a Newspaper?' P. II

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

A media archeology exercise continues this week, as I ask readers to ponder, "What is a newspaper?"

"Freedom of the press" is an incredibly vague term that is interpreted in countless (sometimes manipulative) ways. One of five protected freedoms listed in the U.S. Constitution's First Amendment, the opportunity to press and distribute a news publication in this country is largely unbound by government influence and control.

The longest-held translation of this right is exemplified in a quote credited to a 20th century American journalist:

"Freedom of the press is guaranteed only to those who own one."

That is not exactly tongue-in-cheek: Since the creation of this nation, laws have repeatedly been passed solidifying and legitimizing the validity and value of newspapers. The power to print is largely given to the publisher or publishing company, and no outside entity or author can force or restrict what the publisher decides to press (minus the regulated exceptions like obscenity, threats, defamation [libel and slander] and material that exploits children/minors).

Even the federal laws and court decisions that grant powers to or regulate the news use the tangible terms most closely related to newspapers: press and publication. That vocabulary in the modern era, though, serves as catchall terms for the media or news (including digital and broadcast news).

Here in Wisconsin, statutes are written favorably for print publications. Take Wis. State Statute 985.05(1), which details how municipalities must handle legal notices:

"Except as otherwise provided by law, a legal notice shall be published in a newspaper likely to give notice in the area or to the person affected."

If no such newspaper exists in the municipality, the officials are, essentially, directed to find one; either the next town over or a county news-

Gov. Evers Signs Executive Order Banning TikTok, Other Technologies from State-Issued Devices

Order directs technology division to prohibit use of certain technologies that could pose potential cybersecurity risks, threats to state

Gov. Tony Evers on January 13, signed Executive Order #184 banning TikTok from state-issued devices, as well as directing the division charged with managing enterprise technology to prohibit the use of certain other technologies, software, and vendors that could pose potential cybersecurity threats.

At the end of last year, the governor indicated members of his administration and the Department of Administration's Division of Enterprise Technology (DOA-DET) continued to be in regular conversations with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Wisconsin Emergency Management, and counterintelligence specialists, among others, in making decisions about cybersecurity for state government devices, including potentially banning TikTok. Last week, Gov. Evers, in an interview with WISN 12 News, announced that, as a result of continued conversations with state and federal partners, he had made the decision to ban TikTok from state devices.

"In the digital age, defending our state's technology and cybersecurity infrastructure and

Juniors Helping Seniors

This past fall, the Washington County Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) focused on the isolation and depression of senior citizens in this community.

They reached out to schools in the area for any ideas of how to address these issues.

Kevin Pratt, the ACP Coordinator (Academic Career Planning) at Kewaskum High School (KHS), responded to that question. He proposed a "Seniors and Technology" class, with an emphasis on cellphone technology. These classes would help seniors who struggle through the multitude of choices and features these new phones contain.

These classes were designed, and conducted, by three juniors at the school: Mia, Katelyn and Addy.

I can't say enough about these young ladies, of course, Mr. Pratt. They gave their own free time to instruct us and received no school credit for their efforts. Their patience and explanation of material was outstanding!

In addition, the respect shown to us is a testimony to the quality of the students at KHS.

Our experience didn't end there.

Incorporated into our last class, we were offered a brunch! That was an unexpected surprise putting "icing on the cake" of our experience there.

After that, our young teachers quizzed the senior students about the information we were taught during the six-week course.

The concept, and brainchild, of Mr. Pratt has gotten well-deserved recognition. It even caught the attention of the media, specifically Fox 6 News. This has led to many inquiries about the availability of more classes in the future.

Mr. Pratt mentioned there may be an accelerated class coming next year, which will be dependent upon the interest of students to conduct the class.

I am grateful I had the opportunity to be a part of that learning experience.

Many thanks!
Debra Kison

Free Online Mental Illness Support Groups Available State-Wide

The National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) Wisconsin is expanding its mental illness support groups to help people who live with a mental illness and their family members throughout the state.

Program Director, Emilie Smiley, says the new online model aims to reach people in rural areas of Wisconsin who otherwise would not have access to in-person support groups.

"Mental illness does not discriminate," she said. "There are people all throughout Wisconsin without access to proper support. We hope these support groups can help bridge the gap."

Smiley says many people feel isolated and alone, especially with the stigma still surrounding mental illness.

Boltonville Firecrackers January Update

ELLIE STEINERT
CLUB REPORTER

Hi! This month we had a very short meeting because we had our holiday party.

We made Valentine cards for patients at the hospital, we made snowflakes using coffee and milk filters. We made our own trail mix using lots of different ingredients including marshmallows, crackers, candy, pretzels and more. It was delicious! Finally, we played the Saran Wrap game. Each Saran Wrap ball was filled with lots of prizes such as candy, pens, stickers, 4-H play money and more. This was so much fun! We enjoyed spending time with each other and making new memories.

Next month we will be back to regular business. Talk to you then!

Community Church of West Bend Opens Second Campus at Former School Building in Wayne

Open House to be held on Sunday, Feb. 5

Community Church of West Bend will open a second campus at the building which formerly housed Wayne Elementary and i4Learning Community School located at W5760 Mohawk Road. The new campus will be named "Community Church North." An open house is being held on Sunday, Feb. 5, with a church service at 9:30 a.m. and a reception to follow. Everyone is invited to attend this casual gathering to learn more about the church.

Over the past several years there has been an increasing number of people from Kewaskum and the surrounding areas attending the church in West Bend.

"With the availability to lease the former school building, God has blessed us with the opportunity to use this campus to expand the reach of our mission which is to: Love Jesus, Love Others, Serve. Our members have been working diligently to remodel and update the building to accommodate church services and activities. Over 100 people who were attending the church in West Bend are now able to worship and serve in their own community. We hope that other people in the area will feel welcome to join us," Pastor Vince Cardarelle said.

Community Church North is an extension of Community Church in West Bend and is affiliated with the Christian and Missionary Alliance. The leadership of Community Church is shared by both campuses. Services are held every Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

The atmosphere and dress are casual. Those who attend will experience biblical preaching by one of the pastors or elders, a warm welcome, and time for worship, praise and prayer. A children's ministry called Discovery Land includes a nursery for ages 0-3 and preschool through fifth grade large group classes. Both campuses offer many ways for people of all ages to get connected. These include groups and activities for teens, young adults, women, men, seniors, focused Bible study and small home groups.

More information can be obtained by calling the church office at 262-338-0725 or visiting the church's website at www.communitychurchnorth.com.

leadership experience to work in a place that feels a lot like home.

"I grew up in Elkhart Lake, and then I transferred to Plymouth High School; that's where I graduated from," explained Chief Dowland earlier this month after she had officially been sworn-in to the role. "I've been in this area my whole career. Elkhart Lake... it's a community very similar to Campbellsport; small-town living."

Dowland said the "Campbellsport Charm" reminded her of home. When she saw the advertised vacancy of Campbellsport Police Chief, she believed the fit would be a natural one.

"I wanted to get back to my roots, but still be in Fond du Lac County," said Dowland, who served as patrol deputy with the FDL Sheriff's Office for 10 years. "I love Fond du Lac County and the community."

She said Campbellsport was unique in that – because of its size and rural setting – the police chief is required to do patrol work and be "on the road."

"I still get to be a police officer, which I love doing, and then I get to do the administrative side of it," added Dowland, who did not view the hybrid role as double-duty but, instead, a privilege. "I get to do both jobs. To me, it's the best of both worlds."

Dowland was as much confident that Campbellsport would be a good fit for her as she will be for the village. She started her career in law enforcement at the county jail, and her last decade as a patrol deputy has allowed her leadership skills to shine across a broad range of specialties.

"I was a Drug Recognition Expert (DRE)," detailed Dowland, listing just one of her several areas of expertise. Dowland was trained to recognize subjects who might be intoxicated, which included an identification of what drugs might have been ingested. "If [an officer] would arrest somebody who was high, they would call me up – doesn't matter the time of day – and I would run them through additional tests and determine what drug category they might be on."

The former deputy was also on Honor Guard with the Sheriff's Office and worked on the peer-support team. Fellow officers could contact Dowland in privacy about anything "work-life related or personal-life related" if needing a friendly colleague to talk to.

Village Administrator Charlie Kudy said Dowland's specialties were an enormous reason she stood out to and was selected by the village.

He added that Dowland had "diverse experience in law enforcement and in her specialized training." In addition to being a DRE, Kudy noted she served as a Field Training Officer (FTO), a Standardized Field Sobriety Test (SFST) instructor and had experience as a crash reconstruction team member for the FDL County Sheriff's Office.

Added on, Dowland also started a recruiting program for the Sheriff's Office, which sought to engage younger residents across the county and introduce them to the benefits and responsibilities of a career in law enforcement.

Of all her leadership roles, Dowland seemed distinctly proud of this initiative.

"It's hard times for all law enforcement agencies to get new employees, and the [Sheriff's Office] was struggling hard," said Dowland, who turned the problem into an opportunity. "I approached our captain about accepting lateral transfers and opening up [officers] to job fairs."

Dowland recruited several peers to help with program, and the team visited college campuses to talk about the profession.

The combined knowledge and boots-on-the-ground know-how has provided confidence for Dowland, who plans to bring a fresh perspective and new ideas – learned from her past – into the present.

changes to help align the ideas with current practices and ordinances of the department,” said Groeschel. “The major change included creating a clear path to follow if adoptions or amendments need to be addressed in the bylaws.”

The chief also included that the group updated the format and grammar within the document.

Members of the board decided to wait on passing this agenda item until the attorney finishes reviewing the updates and legally approves the document.

Burr Oak Court

Finally, the board discussed the Burr Oak Court assessments. Gary Gavin, property owner, asked the board to look at creating a new subdivision for the Burr Oak lots.

“This area was developed in 1997 and creating a subdivision here was the original plan,” said Gavin.

It was stated that the area already has utilities set up; it would just need curbs, gutters, sidewalks and a finished road installed.

There are four lots that would be included in the cul-de-sac plan, two of which include vacant land, one contains a residence and one is owned by the village.

Upon discussion, trustees agreed to wait on this idea until they are able to look at the different cost options for the possible project.

To end the meeting, the board convened into closed session with plans to discuss TID 4.

Diana Lynn Kobishop

Diana Lynn Kobishop (Dolly), age 60, died peacefully at her sister's home in Kewaskum with her daughter and sister at her side the evening of January 11, 2023.

Dolly was born in Fond du Lac and grew up in the Kewaskum area. She later moved to Mayville, where she raised her daughter.

Dolly worked in the manufacturing industry and worked hard for the things she had in life until she was put on disability.

Dolly was a very independent and private person. Never wanted to be the center of attention. She would be there for anyone and do anything in her power to help. Even if you just needed to talk. She was the best listener. She also had a feisty side. For those that knew her, they would say "that's the Ebert in her". She loved being outside just enjoying the fresh air with her dog, Melah. Her grandchildren were the apple of her eye. Definitely spoiled grandchildren. They adored her just as much as she adored them. Dolly was the best mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, cousin and friend anyone could ever ask for. She will be missed by everyone and anyone that had the privilege to know her.

Dolly had some very special people in her life as well. Her best friend of over 50 years, Torri Wood, was there anytime she needed anything. They talked daily. Her niece, Corrie Karpin, and her husband, Chris, along with her great-niece, Crystal Furrenes, were also helping her with anything she needed as well. Her daughter and grandchildren were living with her and were a great help to her everyday needs. Her sister, Patsy Gavin, and her husband, Tracy, opened their hearts and their home to care for her. She had 24/7 care there. Patsy is truly an angel and never hesitated to have her in her care for her final days.

Dolly is survived by her daughter, Jennifer Torres; her grandchildren, Koby and Kaylee; and her dog, Melah; brothers and sisters, Bev (Dale) Gavin, Leo (Janice), Patsy (Tracy) Gavin, Mary (Joe) Wallner, Terry Ebert, Jackie Ebert.

Dolly is preceded in death by her parents, Dorthy and Louis Ebert; brothers, Jim and Alan; and sisters, Elaine and Louise.

There will be no funeral service for Dolly. Her wish was to have a celebration of life and her daughter will be setting that up for a future date.

The Myrhum-Patten Funeral and Cremation Service has been entrusted with Diana's arrangements. More information and online guestbook may be found at www.myrhum-patten.com.

Cut The Salt

Excess salt can impact our drinking water and freshwater ecosystems

WIS. DEPT. OF NATURAL RESOURCES

While salt keeps Wisconsin roads safe during winter, using more salt than needed comes at a price.

In Wisconsin and much of the U.S., chlorides from salt are infiltrating lakes, streams and groundwater. According to Wisconsin Salt Wise, one teaspoon of salt is all it takes to make five gallons of water toxic for freshwater organisms. Fifty lakes and one stream in Wisconsin have been designated as impaired by high salt concentrations.

Increased chloride levels have significant impacts on our daily lives, including environmental and economic effects. Nationwide, winter salt causes $5 billion in damage to infrastructure each

Allen Kreif

Allen "PeeWee" Kreif, age 68 years, of the Town of Auburn was unexpectedly called home to be with the Lord on January 8, 2023, at his home surrounded by his loving family.

Allen was born on December 19, 1954, in Port Washington to Albert and Avila Kreif (Kurth). He was united in marriage to Donna E. Theisen on March 1, 1975, at St. Matthew's Catholic Church in Campbellsport.

Allen graduated from Kewaskum High School in 1974. In his younger years, he was a member of the Beechwood Fire Department. Allen retired from RegalWare after nearly 47 years, where he was jack-of-all-trades and his last position was as setup person in the factory.

Allen loved to go bow and gun deer hunting with Kelly, Aaron, James and Tim. He was especially proud, during the youth hunt with James the past three years, when James got a deer every year.

Allen lived and worked on the family farm for most of his life. His hobbies were International Harvester (IH) Tractors, collecting anything IH, and going to tractor shows. Allen loved to build random things – including trailers, dog stairs, hunting shacks, and anything else he could come up with.

Those Allen leaves behind to cherish his memory include his wife of 47 years, Donna; children, Kelly Kreif and Aaron Kreif; grandson, James Gallas; sisters, Carol Aupperle and Bonnie Kreif; sisters-in-law, Toni Kreif, Diane Piwoni, Anita (Jerry) Schladweiler, and Carol Theisen; brother-in-law, Don (Deb) Theisen; and godsons, Dan A. Theisen, Jeffrey A. Kreif, and Dante A. Theisen. He is further survived by nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives and friends.

In addition to his parents and Donna's parents, Allen was preceded in death by his son-in-law, Tim Gallas; brother, Albert "Butch" Kreif; step-mom, Lorinda Bartelt-Kreif; brothers-in-law, Jim Aupperle, Tom Piwoni, and Mark Haack; and nephew, Jimmy Aupperle.

At Allen's request there will be no service. He will be cremated and a celebration of life will be held at a later date.

Myrhum-Patten Funeral & Cremation Service has been entrusted with Allen's arrangements. Please consider signing our online guest book (www.myrhum-patten.com) to share your condolences with the family.

Celine M. Wanke

Celine M. Wanke (nee Ellenbecker) was born to Eternal Life on Friday, January 13, 2023, at the age of 91.

She was born in Frankfort, WI, the daughter of the late Clarence and Marie (nee Decker) Ellenbecker on December 14, 1931. Celine was raised in Dorchester with her 12 siblings. She married the love of her life, Ervin J. Wanke, on May 20, 1950, at St. Anthony Catholic Church in Athens, WI. They later lived in Butler and Kewaskum.

Celine absolutely loved being with her grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren. She also enjoyed quilting, sewing, drawing, bingo, and scratch tickets. Cooking was something she loved; it brought her family together and that is what made her the happiest. She was a kind and giving person, her mothering instinct made her a foster parent for children in Butler and special needs adults.

Celine was a member of St. Frances Cabrini Catholic Church and volunteered to cook meals with the Butler WI Lions Club for many of their fundraisers.

Celine is survived by her children, Michael Wanke, Marlene (Daniel) Herriges, Dorene (John Van Cleave) Burton, Jeannette (John) McLeer, Kevin (Christine) Wanke, Joan (Brian) Brown, and Cindy (Todd) Giese; grandchildren, Ryan Wanke, Scott (Wendy) Muckerheide, Stacy (James) Henricks, Carla (Tyler) Barrett, Christina (Matt) Noble, Shannon (Michele) Burton, Joseph (Mike) McLeer, Jenny (Sean) Meade, Travis (Samantha) Wanke, Cassandra (J.J.) Kneifl, Benjamin Wanke, and Wyatt Giese; 17 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren plus one on the way. She is further survived by siblings, Floyd (Joanne) Ellenbecker, Roger Ellenbecker, Adele Reidel, Joyce Ampe, and David Ellenbecker; and son-in-law Chuck Muckerheide.

Celine was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Ervin; daughter, Diane Muckerheide; son Daniel Wanke; daughter-in-law, Sandra Wanke; seven siblings; son-in-law, Penny Burton; and other relatives.

A visitation will be held on Sunday, January 22, from 1 p.m. until 2:45 p.m. with a 3 p.m. Prayer at the Phillip Funeral Home, 1420 W. Paradise Dr., West Bend. A second visitation will be held on Monday, January 23, from 10:30 a.m. until 10:45 a.m., with the Mass of Christian Burial at 11 a.m., at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, 331 Main St., Kewaskum. Burial will take place following at 1 p.m. at Wisconsin Memorial Park, 13235 W. Capital Dr., Brookfield. In lieu of flowers, memorials to St. Jude's Childrens Hospital or a charity of your choice would be appreciated.

A special thank you to Preceptor Home Health & Hospice.

Most of all she was one of God's special Angels put on this earth, to bring joy and happiness into so many lives. She will be missed by those who have been blessed to know her.

year, causing corrosion of bridges, roads and other infrastructure.

Salt Tips

Reducing salt use is key to decreasing chloride loads. Follow these steps to right-size your salt use:

- Shovel: Clear walkways and other areas before the snow turns to ice. The more snow removed manually, the less salt you will need and the more effective it will be.
- Scatter: When using salt, scatter it so that there is space between the grains. A 12-ounce coffee mug of salt is enough to treat an entire 20-foot driveway or 10 sidewalk squares.
- Switch: Salt won't work when pavement temperatures drop below 15 degrees.

The Campbellsport CAREs (Community Action Revitalization Efforts) Group has put together two videos to help market the Campbellsport community. One focuses on business development, and one focuses on bringing new residents to town. Campbellsport CAREs group is part of the Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce. The group meets once a month and the goal is to try to bring businesses and people to the small community to help revitalize it. In trying to accomplish this goal, the group has held informational meetings to find out what people want to see in Campbellsport. Brochures and postcards have been made about the community and hundreds have been sent to businesses in the hopes of getting some interest in Campbellsport. The videos are a new way to promote an item or idea with everybody communicating with i-Phones and tablets, so it is the way to advertise.

St. Matthew's Catholic School hosts its Cabin Fever Fest every year on the last Saturday of January. This year is no exception, but the difference this year is the focus of the event. Much of this year's event will be dedicated to former school secretary Lois Thull, who passed away unexpectedly last spring. Lois had been the secretary at the school for 30 years. This year, some of the auction items will be used to raise money for scholarships in Lois' name. It is hoped there will be a few items each year at future auctions dedicated to raising money for the Lois Thull Scholarship.

The Campbellsport Knights of Columbus Bishop Salvator Schlaefer Council #11301, in conjunction with the Wisconsin State Council, has announced the winners in the local Christmas Poster Contest, which was held in December. Winners from Shepherd of the Hills Catholic School included Lucia Loehr, Liam Holzmann, Lauren Taylor, Chloe Masarik, Sophia Wilke, Clayton Ottery, Ellie Smith, and Carly Masarik. Winners from St. Matthew's Catholic School included Loralei Rusch, Violet Berres, Ayla Garvey, and Jack Mowry.

Students from Campbellsport Middle School joined more than 2,300 students from the greater Fond du Lac area to experience 70 different career opportunities during a hands-on career fair held January 9-11. Through interactive activities, the students learned about five different career pathways: agriculture, healthcare, services, skilled trades and manufacturing, and information technology.

Brooke Cooper and Abigail Eiche of the Campbellsport High School FFA Chapter attended the Wisconsin Association of FFA Half-Time Leadership Conference held January 12-13. More than 350 FFA members, advisors, and state FFA officers participated.

Campbellsport's boys basketball team beat conference rival Kewaskum 43-40 on January 11.

The Lady Cougar bowlers traveled to West Bend on January 8 and came home with two victories by beating the Port Washington Pirates and getting the league bye.

The varsity girls have come up short the past four games, losing 52-40 to Winneconne, 37-27 to Cedar Grove-Belgium, 55-35 to Ripon, and 60-18 to Plymouth.

Matthew William Beekman, 12, Jackson, passed away January 14. Gerald V. Staehler, 86, passed away January 12.

Things will stay the same on the Eden Village Board for the next year. After the caucus that was held before the January 17 meeting of the Village board, Cory St. Mary, Dennis Immel, and Glen Gade were nominated for positions on the village board. The three are up for re-election this April. No one else was at the meeting, and no one else showed interest in running for the seats.

A picture appeared in this issue of the artwork created by Tom Miller of Campbellsport. He had created the artwork on his front lawn with the G-Force symbol that is the theme for the Packers for the 2007 season. Unfortunately, the Packer season ended this past weekend after Green Bay was defeated by the New York Giants in the NFC playoff game.

Students in the special education classes sold hundreds of pizzas. The students spent last Thursday and Friday making all of the pizzas.

Campbellsport Building Supply held its annual contractors appreciation banquet recently. Proceeds from a 50/50 raffle were donated to the Campbellsport Food Pantry. The group raised $961, then matched this amount and gave a total of $2,000 to the food pantry.

The Campbellsport Junior High School Cheerleading Team took third place at the Raider Classic Cheer and Dance Competition in Wisconsin Rapids recently. Those pictured with the trophy were Coach Sarah Desiderio, Carol Gaines, Abby Donigan, Britney Foster, Brittany Koenigs, Brianna Baumhardt, Jessica Kleinhans, Morgan Muras, Haley Fricke, Cassie Gatzke, Brittany Stremke, Stephanie Fell, Aubrey Hart, and Maggie Langenecker.

First through third place winners in the Campbellsport Fire Department's coloring contest were pictured in this issue. First place winners included Mariah Warnicke, Bridget Ebert, Austin Dreikosen, Michaela Thelen, Hannah Herbeck, Cade Heisdorf, and Ryan Martin. Placing second were Jack Malloy, Abigail Emma Cochran, Macayla Soyk, Jennifer Zimdahl, and Hannah Lavrenz. Rosemarie Warosh, Allice Malloy, Aisha Ullius, Brittany Hill, Madilyn Danza, and Jacob Carlson.

The Campbellsport Lady Cougars won in convincing fashion over the New Holstein Huskies by a final score of 64-49. The local basketball team has a 7-6 overall record and is 6-2 in conference action. Brittany Narges set the pace for the Lady Cougars, scoring 18 points.

Mayville's boys basketball team came to town on January 15. This was an important game for Campbellsport as the two teams may end up playing each other in the Regionals. The Cougars overcame a five-point deficit early in the second half to win 49-42.

Codi Wilch and Billy Mayer took first place at the Wisconsin Dells Invitational on January 19, and the Cougar wrestling team finished second at the eight-team tournament.

The Lady Cougar bowlers pushed their winning streak to 12 games, and Campbellsport does not have a loss yet this season.

A daughter, Kaylei Ann Urban, was born January 8 to Jason Urban and Rochelle Lob of Campbellsport. A son, Phoenix Anthony Kropp, was born January 8 to Josh Kropp and Jessica Weinert of Campbellsport. A daughter, Claire Marie Schloemer, was born January 8 to Shawn Schloemer and Ruth Boehm of Campbellsport. A son, Wolfan Inuyasha German, was born January 11 to Timothy German and Melanie Farley of Campbellsport. A daughter, Rose Elizabeth, was born January 12 to Dean and Dana Schommer of Campbellsport.

Clarence Schneider, 80, passed away January 14. Darold Seresse, 75, Fond du Lac, passed away January 16. Harold L. Feuerhammer, 70, Campbellsport, passed away January 17. Bernadine Lingenfelter, 80, Fond du Lac, passed away January 19.

A picture published this week showed Ren Blakely and his son, Jay, at the December 31 Eden Blood Drive. Ren had donated his 100th pint of blood while Jay was giving blood for the first time. Forty-eight productive units of blood were donated during the drive. Lisa A. Pankratz and Joe Pentek each reached the gallon donation level while Colleen Costello has now donated three gallons.

Members of the Campbellsport Fire Department responded to 38 fire calls and made 243 ambulance runs during 1997, according to the report submitted to the Campbellsport Village Board by Fire Chief Don Stoffel.

The Fond du Lac District of Marcus Cable has donated more than $7,500 worth of audio/visual equipment to various public and private schools across Wisconsin. Campbellsport Elementary School received a TV as did Eden Elementary School.

A daughter, Carissa Valeria Bernetta, was born December 29 to Debra and Todd Schill. A son, Nickolas Christopher, was born January 2 to Lisa and Chris Ditter of St. Cloud. A daughter, Meghan Elizabeth, was born January 2 to Terri and Bill Lamb of Malone. A son, Alec Michael, was born January 4 to Wendy and Jeffrey Compton of Mt. Calvary.

Dorothy Kaehne, 76, Campbellsport, passed away January 12. John Battaglia, 80, Kewaskum, passed away January 9. George A. Buettner, 87, formerly of Campbellsport, passed away January 8. Kathleen M. O'Malley, 68, Fond du Lac, passed away January 9. Della M. Vogt, 75, Eden, passed away January 9.

A much talked about program, that of serving milk in the school during the day, was finally inaugurated this week at the high school with both grade rooms participating. The program is government subsidized, wherein a youngster is given the opportunity to have milk served while at school at approximately one-half price. This is one of the "School Lunch" programs the government is interested in for underprivileged children. The milk is being purchased from the Wayside Dairy of Belgium, which is servicing customers in the village.

The annual meeting of the Campbellsport Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Baptist church basement on February 9. Speaker of the evening will be R.W. Mills, secretary of the Fond du Lac Association of Commerce.

Richard Koenigs, playing on the local Legion Land O'Lakes basketball team, has been selected to represent the team at an All-Star game to be played against the southern division at Cedarburg on January 27. In the second game of the double-header, the Major All-Stars will play the Shooting Stars of Milwaukee. The entire net proceeds will go into the Land O'Lakes accident benefit fund, which takes care of all medical, dental and hospitalization costs of players injured in play and practice during the entire season.

The Boy Scouts will be back on the job collecting paper this Saturday. The continued fine cooperation of the people in the village is again sought. Gather papers and magazines in handy size bundles, tie them up and have them at the curb by 9:30.

Among the entries for the third annual Golden Gloves tournament January 26-28 at Armory E in Fond du Lac is Clarence Marx, 17, a 175-pounder entering the novice division from east of the village. The training of Clarence Marx is in the hands of Douglas Uelmen, according to the announcement.

In the last two weeks, the Belles have lost two games. The first was to Kewaskum by the score of 62 to 34; the second to Lomira by the score of 33 to 32.

Janis Chapman, director of pupil services for Kewaskum School District, was named Wisconsin Council of Administrators of Special Services Outstanding Director of the Year. She was presented the award during the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction Leadership Conference on January 17. Chapman appreciates the recognition, but she simply enjoys creating programs that support the education of kids with special needs.

After nearly an hour-and-a-half of discussion Monday night, the Kewaskum School Board unanimously approved spending up to $1.2 million on building a new baseball field and a new softball field on school property. The plan is to locate the new ball fields where the current middle school stands, which will be razed once the new middle school is completed. Artificial turf on the infields and natural turf on the outfields is planned. The plan hinges on approval from the DNR as the district will need to obtain a permit from the DNR because part of the outfields will be situated in wetlands on the east side of the middle school and high school near the Milwaukee River.

Three area residents will compete in the Harley-Davidson Snow Hill Climb to be held January 25-28 at the X Games in Aspen. Dan Lauters, Louie Lauters, and Josh Mueller are three of the eight riders who will participate in the event. This will be the first time the Harley-Davidson Snow Hill Climb will be held at X Games Aspen as a medaled event.

January 27 is the date for the 34th Annual Crooked Lake Sportsman's Club Fisheree. Cash prizes will be awarded in each fish category.

On January 18, Kewaskum Elementary School hosted Math Counts 2. Teachers planned the event, which included fun games and activities, in order to encourage family engagement and highlight the importance of mathematics. Families moved through the school completing a math treasure hunt, which families said was challenging and rewarding at the same time.

Approximately 50 children from the area performed in the musical King Arthur's Quest at Kewaskum High School on January 20.

Kewaskum's boys basketball team held a 26-24 lead at halftime over Kettle Moraine Lutheran. Coach Don Gruber pointed out that the Indians had momentum in the first half, but "switched vehicles" in the second half. The attempts that KML missed in the second half led to put backs. After the Chargers tied the game 24-24, KHS missed three attempts and had several turnovers. Kewaskum lost the game 53-38.

The Shooting Stars performed during half-time of the girls basketball game between Campbellsport and Kewaskum on January 18. The Shining Stars dance team consists of dancers from both areas.

Maxine Paulowske scored 26 points in a 47-43 loss to Campbellsport on January 18. She had nine of the first 11 points scored by the Lady Indians.

Clayton C. Stautz, 91, Kewaskum, passed away January 20.

A building that once was the scene of a mock diaster became a real disaster scene. No one was injured at Sunburst Ski Area and operations have resumed. The fire ignited after an employee completed a welding project. It is believed that sparks started some nearby cardboard on fire after the employee left the vicinity. The metal pole building used for vehicle maintenance and storage was almost completely destroyed by the fire.

Kasey Bandy and Dan Dymond were named Kiwanis Students of the Month for the month of January.

Kewaskum's lady bowlers had their best meet of the season on January 15. The team defeated West Bend West and Campbellsport Junior Varsity. Courtney Meyer had a fill rate of 100 percent during the meet.

Coach Dennis Aupperle decided it would be advantageous for his wrestlers to be on the mat at the 16-team Zelinski Dual Meet Tournament at Whitnall High School. Kewaskum won the first two rounds, but ran into tougher competition in the final two rounds and lost both. Aupperle said it was great preparation for the end of the year.

Keeping their conference record perfect, the Kewaskum wrestlers defeated Campbellsport 42-21. The Indians took a 19-0 lead before CHS got its first victory.

A daughter, Kaitlynn Rose, was born January 10 to Kristin and Lawrence Sabel of Kewaskum. A daughter, Liliana Marie, was born January 10 to Jenna and Christopher Heppner of Kewaskum.

Robert C. Guse, 68, West Bend, passed away January 13. Harold L. Feuerhammer, 70, Campbellsport, passed away January 17. Margaret S. Fahney, 87, Saukville, passed away January 17. Randall Grover, 46, Random Lake, passed away January 12. Bernadine Lingenfelter, 80, Fond du Lac, passed away January 19.

Approximately 40 taxpayers braved the snow storm in order to express their interest and concerns during the Kewaskum School District open house. During the open house School District Administrator Clark Pearson explained some of the complexities of repairs needed at the 72-year-old Kewaskum Elementary School. The building committee has three recommended facilities building programs. The K-4 Model is $23,600,000; the K-5 Model is $14,000,000; and the K-6 Model is $13,285,000.

Sarah Bausch and Brad Hermann were selected as the December Kiwanis Students of the Month.

A Working People is the mixed-media collage by Kewaskum Middle School seventh grader Sarah Kurer that captured ninth place in the statewide 1997-98 Student Art Awards. She will receive a certificate and $50 savings bond.

Carrie Wiesner, a senior at Kewaskum High School, has been selected to receive the 1998 Award of Excellence from the Women's Sport Advocates of Wisconsin, Inc. She has lettered in basketball, volleyball, and track while maintaining a 3.3 GPA.

The Kewaskum Lady Indians cruised to an impressive 51-35 victory over Sheboygan Falls on January 16.

Kewaskum's boys basketball team won a thrilling 62-59 game over Sheboygan Falls.

Walter Buslaff, 83, Campbellsport, passed away January 17. Robert J. Stellflug, 35, passed away January 17. Elsie A. Schloemer, 105, West Bend, passed away January 14.

Two Wisconsin banks, the 2.8 million-deposit Allenton State Bank in Allenton and the 15 million-deposit Bank of Kewaskum in Kewaskum, have reached an agreement in principle to merge as the Valley Bank, subject to approval by bank regulatory agencies. The proposed Valley Bank will conduct full-service banking with offices in both Kewaskum and Allenton and will be affiliated with Valley Bancorporation.

Glen Asch, a senior at Kewaskum High School, is among the 76 young artists entering the sixth annual state-wide competition sponsored by the Milwaukee Symphony Women's League.

On a series of votes, the Kewaskum Board of Education set a general direction for school building in the district at its January 15 meeting. There was consensus that the necessary building must be done to eliminate split shifts. The actual resolutions will be voted on at a later meeting, probably January 29.

Fumes which escaped from a gas leak in the garage and seeped into the house caused Allen Broecker of Kewaskum to lapse into semi-consciousness. Before being overcome, he was able to call for an ambulance. Broecker was trying to reach the door knob when rescue squad members found him. After being released from the hospital and recuperating, Broecker has returned to his place of employment.

Arthur Moths, 84, of Kewaskum, was recently awarded an emblem and plaque from the Warren Kane Post 410 of the American Legion of Fredonia, Ozaukee County, for being a Legionnaire for 50 years.

According to the article, the Kewaskum Indians may not be going anywhere in basketball this season but the wrestling squad won two more matches last week to hike their fine record to 8-1-1.

A son was born January 13 to Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Thull of Kewaskum.

Myrtle Backhaus, 70, Kewaskum, passed away January 11. Louisa A. Klug, 94, Town of Scott, passed away January 9.

A combination machine shed and chicken coop on the Leo Zehren farm, a mile west of St. Kilian, burned to the ground in a fire early Monday evening. Destroyed with the building were the farm tractor, about 135 chickens, a small quantity of straw, and other smaller items. Firemen remained at the farm for four hours protecting the other nearby buildings and putting out the blaze in sub-zero weather.

Of the players selected for the northern division teams for the Land O' Lakes Major all-star team, there is one Kewaskum player, W. Tessar. The doubleheader is scheduled for January 27. The entire net proceeds will go into the Land O' Lakes accident benefit fund.

Between 50 and 60 sportsmen attended the meeting of the Kettle Moraine Sportsmen's Association Inc. of Kewaskum on Monday.

Alice in Dairyland Applications Open Through Feb. 3

WIS. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE, TRADE AND CONSUMER PROTECTION

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) invites individuals with a passion for promoting agriculture to apply for the 76th Alice in Dairyland through February 3, 2023.

As one of the most widely recognized communications professionals in Wisconsin agriculture, Alice in Dairyland travels extensively throughout the state promoting Wisconsin's agriculture industry and its impact on the state economy. In this highly visible and fast-paced position, Alice in Dairyland serves as a full-time spokesperson, cultivates relationships with television, radio, and print media outlets throughout the state, writes and delivers speeches at events, and utilizes social media to tell the stories of Wisconsin agriculture. Additional duties include developing and executing marketing plans, delivering classroom presentations, and networking with industry professionals. Alice must also learn and retain information about the diversity of Wisconsin agriculture and be able to tailor that information to educate both urban and rural audiences.

"My time as Alice in Dairyland has grown my appreciation and passion for Wisconsin agriculture," said 75th Alice in Dairyland Taylor Schaefer. "As Alice in Dairyland, I have had the opportunity of a lifetime to expand my knowledge about Wisconsin's diverse, vibrant agriculture communities and share that with the citizens of Wisconsin. I have created countless connections and built on skills that will help me in my career and beyond."

Alice in Dairyland applicants should have an interest in Wisconsin agriculture, at least three years of experience, education, or training in communications, marketing, education, or public relations, and public speaking experience. Applicants must also be female, Wisconsin residents, and at least 21 years old.

This one-year, full-time contractual position starts July 5, 2023. The chosen candidate will travel extensively and be in-person weekly at DATCP's Madison office. The annual salary for Alice in Dairyland is $45,000 and includes holiday, vacation and sick leave, and use of a vehicle while on official business. Reimbursement is provided for an individual health insurance premium up to $450 a month and professional travel expenses.

To apply, provide a cover letter, completed application form, resume, 150-word personal bio, and contact information for three professional references to DATCPAlice@wisconsin.gov or PO Box 8911, Madison, WI 53708 by 4:30 p.m. on February 3, 2023. Application materials are available on the Alice in Dairyland website.

Qualified applicants will have a preliminary interview on February 18, 2023 at DATCP's Madison office or via Zoom. Top candidates are required to attend a two-day in-person program briefing and press announcement March 10-11, 2023 and the three-day final interview process May 11-13, 2023 in Walworth County.

Questions about the position or application process can be directed to DATCPAlice@wisconsin.gov. For more information about the Alice in Dairyland program, visit aliceindairyland.com.

D.N.R. Urges Snowmobilers To Operate Safely As Ice Thins Statewide

International Snowmobile Safety Week is Jan. 14-22

WIS. DEPT. OF NATURAL RESOURCES

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is reminding snowmobilers to operate safely as current warming trends thin ice across the state and make certain areas extremely unsafe.

"With these unusually mild temps and International Snowmobile Safety Week coming up January 14-22, we urge snowmobilers to be extra careful when driving on ice," said Lt. Jake Holsclaw, DNR Off-highway Vehicle Administrator. "Remember that no ice is ever completely safe, and that even areas that seem thick and covered with snow may be hiding patches of black ice that could break apart under the weight of the machine and riders."

Ice Safety Reminders

- Contact local sport shops to ask about ice conditions locally on the lake or river you want to cross.
- Wear proper clothing and equipment, including a life jacket or float coat should you fall through the ice and to help retain body heat.
- Do not travel in unfamiliar areas.
- Slow down when traveling at night.
- Know if the lake has inlets, outlets or narrows that have currents that can thin the ice.
- Watch for pressure ridges or ice buckling. These can be dangerous due to thin ice and open water.

There were 16 fatal snowmobile crashes in 2022 (widnr.widen.net/s/w6vnfvjldkg/snow2022).

Visit the DNR's snowmobiling webpage for additional information on snowmobile safety classes, regulations, safety tips and how to register your snowmobile (dnr.wisconsin.gov/topic/Snowmobile).

DNR Violation Hotline

Anyone with information regarding natural resource violations, including unsafe snowmobile operation, may confidentially report by calling or texting the Violation Hotline at 1-800-TIP-WDNR or 1-800-847-9367. The hotline is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Trained staff relay the information to conservation wardens. Reports can also be filed online (dnr.wisconsin.gov/contact/Hotline.html).

protecting digital privacy have to be a top priority for us as a state,” said Gov. Evers. “I trust the professionals who work in this field, and it was important for me to consult with and get advice from experts in law enforcement, cybersecurity, and counterintelligence, including the information technology experts working within DOA-DET, to make the best decision to protect state technologies, and ultimately, the people of Wisconsin.

“New and evolving technologies will continue to present risks to privacy, safety, and security, and this order ensures we will continue to be vigilant in monitoring these technologies while trusting the advice of these experts on evolving cybersecurity issues facing our state.”

DOA-DET is responsible for managing the state’s information technology assets and the use of technology to improve government efficiency and service delivery, and helps develop strategies, policies, processes, procedures, guidance, and standards for enterprise and multi-jurisdictional use of information technology resources. In the course of providing information technology and cybersecurity support, DOA-DET also regularly consults with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, the FBI, and counterintelligence specialists in making decisions about cybersecurity for state government devices and services. DOA-DET also utilizes federal guidelines, industry trends, collaboration with other states, and other intelligence sources and experts on potential cybersecurity threats in providing support to executive branch agencies. DOA-DET services a variety of entities under Ch. 16 of Wisconsin State Statutes, including and primarily executive branch agencies.

The governor’s order, among other things:

- directs DOA-DET to bar certain foreign technologies, including TikTok, as well as other certain vendors and software, from being utilized, connected to, or installed on state-issued devices, which includes but is not limited to desktop computers, laptops, tablets, cellular phones, and other mobile devices;
- reiterates that DOA-DET should continually reevaluate and identify applications and vendors that could present a potential risk to state information or state information systems, as they currently do, as well as monitor and update the directives of the order based on new and emerging information;

- directs DOA-DET to use its authority under Ch. 16 to identify foreign vendors that might pose security risks to the state and to implement safeguards to protect state interests; and
- directs DOA-DET, where statutorily authorized, to monitor adherence to issued guidance, policies, standards, procedures, and processes, to assist impacted executive branch agencies to ensure they are able to abide by all technical standards and directives of DOA-DET and the State Chief Information Officer and the State Chief Information Security Officer.

DOA-DET has legal authority to impose and mandate cybersecurity standards on executive branch agencies, as prescribed under Ch. 16 of Wisconsin State Statutes, including Gov. Evers and the Office of the Governor, although Gov. Evers has never used or maintained an official TikTok account, nor has a TikTok account on Gov. Evers’ behalf ever been managed or maintained on any state-issued device. Under Ch. 16, DOA-DET does not have the legal authority to mandate that the University of Wisconsin System (UWS) abide by these requirements. Additionally, the Departments of Justice (DOJ) and Public Instruction (DPI) are headed by duly elected constitutional officers, and management and control of information technology systems have been delegated to those agencies. DOA-DET will continue to work closely with agencies across the state enterprise, including agencies such as DOJ and DPI, as well as UWS, to ensure that all relevant cybersecurity standards, associated risks, and requirements are shared, discussed, and met where appropriate. This order does not apply to the judicial or legislative branches of government.

Narrow exceptions to this order will only be granted for limited use, subject and pursuant to DOA-DET implemented policies and standards, for example, to entities with responsibilities paramount to ensuring public safety and the well-being of kids and families, such as situations in which the Department of Corrections must review content of an individual on supervision or when the Department of Children and Families needs to gather evidence from TikTok in a child abuse and welfare proceeding. DOA-DET will continue to work closely with agencies across the state enterprise to ensure that all relevant cybersecurity standards, associated risks, and requirements are shared, discussed, and met, where appropriate.

KEWASKUM PUBLIC LIBRARY

In partnership with the Monarch Library System, I am thrilled to announce that we have a new electronic resource available free to our patrons. UniversalClass provides online courses that anyone with a library card through the Monarch Library System can access. Courses range from entrepreneurship to exercise and fitness to cake decorating. Similar to Gale Courses, which are no longer being offered as a free resource through our system, UniversalClass is an online learning website that can be accessed in a few different ways.

UniversalClass is powered by Overdrive which means, yes, it can be found through the Libby app which I know many of our patrons regularly enjoy. The portal on the app to the classes are located under extras. Just tap on the “get” button and you will be directed to the registration page. You may also find the registration page through Kewaskum Public Library’s website under online resources and databases or the direct link at universalclass.com/library/monarchlibrarysystem.

Although UniversalClass is similar to Gale Courses as an online learning tool, there are features that make it stand out. The courses are self-paced, so you can start and end them at any time. They are designed and led by professional instructors to help you build a deeper understanding and mastery of the subject matter. For many of the options, you can choose to take the course as continuing education credit which includes lessons, assignments, exams, and classmate interactions. You would then receive a certificate with CEU credits at successful completion. There is also a video only audit option which would not provide a completion certificate but should deliver a sense of accomplishment and more knowledge of the subject matter.

With more than 500 courses in more than 30 subject areas, there should be something for everyone. For our homeschooling families, there are more than 45 online courses to assist with math, science, social studies and literature. If you need some help in your career, or looking to change your profession, start with UniversalClass. Some featured courses on this topic with continuing education credits are criminology basics, management essentials, and customer service 101. Looking to improve your office skills? Credit courses in Excel, Windows and Google applications are some of the offerings.

For those wanting to enhance their personal development, check out the arts, crafts and hobbies tab on UniversalClass. Topics such as couponing, etiquette, cooking and calligraphy are covered. There are also some interesting classes I want to take including haunted places, kinesics, geology and aromatherapy. I encourage you to check this resource out on your own to discover all there is to learn.

Kewaskum Public Library’s mission encourages lifelong learning and bringing you UniversalClass is just another way we are providing that. It’s free, easy to access and includes classes for everyone. Try it out and be sure to stop in and let us know what you have learned.

Greetings from the Campbellsport Library!

We wish you all a happy and healthy new year! This community is so wonderful, and we are thankful for all that you do to help us throughout the year. This month we are feeling extra blessed as two different community groups have come forward and are working to raise funds for our library in January. These fundraisers help support book purchases, summer programming supplies, audio books, DVDs and much more. Check out how you can support us through these fundraisers below:

- This month Kohn's filling station in Campbellsport is Fueling it Forward for us. Pump gas at pumps seven and eight during January and two cents of each gallon will be donated to us at the library.

- Jennifer Thompson and the Pampered Chef are also helping to raise support us this month. Use the link www.pamperedchef.com/party/libraryfund2023 to browse the Pampered Chef Catalog, and shop from the comfort of your own home. You can also stop at the library to look at the catalog and a variety of the new items on display. Pampered Chef will donate 15% of the sales to the library and Jennifer is going to match that, so, 30% of sales will go to our library! Feel free to pass the link on to family, friends and anyone who loves to cook and bake.

Story Time at the Library

Children ages 3-6 are invited to join Ms. Azra at the library for story hour every Wednesday from 10:30-11:30 a.m. Children will enjoy reading stories, making crafts and participating in other themed week activities. Story hour offers the opportunity for young children to socialize with others and also encourages growth in language development, motor skills, and helps to promote a love of learning. Children and families are welcome to stay after story hour to play and explore at the library.

- Jan. 25 – Aliens

Childrens Movie – 'Rumble'

On Friday, Jan. 20, children of all ages are invited to join us at 1 p.m. in the library basement for the showing of the kids movie "Rumble." Popcorn will be served.

Foodie Friday

On Friday, Jan. 27, kids ages 10 and older are invited to join us for Foodie Friday from 4-5 p.m. to make their own personal pizzas. Supplies will be provided, limiting one pizza per child, on a first-come, first-served basis, and will be available while supplies last. We hope to see you for this fun Friday event!

Music of the Great Masters

Attention music lovers! The library is looking for three more patrons to join retired music teacher, Dave Dahlke for a free, music education series titled "Music of the Great Masters." Dave will discuss works and pieces by musical masters such as Chopin, Beethoven, Bach, Mozart and more. Classes will be held in the library basement for one-hour a week. Individuals who are interested in this free class can join by calling the library at 920-533-8534 or by signing up at the front desk. Dates for the class will be set once we have enough participants. (Hopeful start date was on Wednesday, Jan. 11.)

Food for Thought Cooking Club

The library is excited to announce that beginning this month we will be starting a new cooking club at the library. If you enjoy sharing and trying new foods, this is the place for you. "Food for Thought" meetings will take place on a bimonthly basis on the fourth Tuesday of the month at 1 p.m. On Tuesday, Jan. 24, we will be exploring the wonderful world of soup! Interested parties should bring along their recipe and a soup to share with others. To get a head count for this event, interested patrons should sign up at the front desk, or call the library.

Monday Movie of the Month

The Monday Movie of the Month for January 30, will be "Mrs. Harris goes to Paris." The film tells the story of a widowed cleaning lady in 1950s London who falls madly in love with a couture Dior dress and decides that she must have one of her own. After she works, starves, and gambles to raise the funds to pursue her dream, she embarks on an adventure to Paris which will change not only her own outlook, but the very future of the House of Dior. This 2022 historical comedy-drama film stars Lesley Manville, Isabelle Huppert, Lambert Wilson, Alba Baptista, Lucas Bravo, Ellen Thomas, Rose Williams, and Jason Isaacs.

Campbellsport Art Market and Vendor Fair

Attention shoppers! We will once again be hosting the Campbellsport Art Market and Vendor Fair. Stop in the library basement to check out home-made products such as soaps, jewelry, signs, kitchen wares, and health products. Additionally, you will be able to check out vendors including Loretta's Originals, L'BRI, Pampered Chef, Family Affair, Uniquely Yours by Jenny, Thirty-one, Avon, Epicure, Monat, Crafts by Mabel, Norwex, Potter Design, and Tastefully Simple.

The first of five markets will take place on January 28, from 9 a.m. until noon. The market is held in the lower level of the library, so please enter using the marked entrance, located on the side of the building. Elevator access is available. There is no entrance fee for shoppers. Additionally, if you are interested in being a vendor at the market, please contact Jenny Thomson at 920-960-3254 for more details. Other market dates will be:

- Feb. 11, from 9 a.m.-noon
- March 11, from 9 a.m.-noon
- April 1 and April 29, from 9 a.m.-noon

Stop in and shop to support the people who live in your neighborhood!

Wisconsin Homeowners Receive Holiday Gift from the Lottery

This month, Wisconsin homeowners received a holiday gift from the Wisconsin Lottery. The estimated $213 average credit, while slightly lower than last year's average credit of $230, is higher than the 2020 credit of $160 or the 2019 credit of $184.

"The high average Lottery Credit this year is due to another very healthy year in the Wisconsin Lottery," said Peter Barca, Wisconsin Department of Revenue secretary. "Strong sales pushed the average credit above $200 once again."

Cindy Polzin, Wisconsin Lottery director noted, "It has been another great year thanks to our retail partners and our players, and Wisconsin homeowners are winners too!"

Overall, the Lottery Credit has over $319.8 million available for distribution to Wisconsin homeowners for property taxes levied in 2022. Since 1988, the Wisconsin Lottery has provided over $5.1 billion in property tax relief to eligible Wisconsin homeowners. The amount of the credit varies throughout the state depending on the tax rate of the school district.

The Lottery Credit is shown on tax bills as a reduction of property taxes due. If a taxpayer pays their taxes in two or more installments, the credit is applied to the first installment. The credit is paid by the state to counties or municipalities on the fourth Monday in March. The county or municipality receiving the payment settles with overlying taxing jurisdictions.

Kewaskum Native Pleads Guilty to Federal Environmental Criminal Charge in California

Tim Miller, 65, faces a maximum sentence of three years in federal prison

U.S. DEPT. OF JUSTICE
 LOS ANGELES — The former owner of a wastewater treatment facility in Orange County, Calif. and his company each pleaded guilty last week to a federal environmental criminal charge for discharging untreated industrial wastewater into the county's sewer system.

Tim Miller, 65, of Kewaskum, and his company, Klean Waters Inc., pleaded guilty to one felony count of knowingly violating a requirement of an approved pretreatment program.

According to their plea agreements, from 2013 to April 2015, Miller was the owner and president of Klean Waters, a wastewater treatment facility in Orange. Klean Waters was permitted to receive non-hazardous industrial wastewater, treat it for pollutants if needed, and then discharge the water into the Orange County Sanitation District's (OCS D) sewer.

OCS D runs a pretreatment program that was approved under federal law and that implements and enforces the national pretreatment standards established under the Clean Water Act (CWA). Pursuant to the CWA, any violation of any requirement imposed in OCS D's local pretreatment program is a violation of federal law.

In 2013, Miller applied for and received a permit from OCS D for Klean Waters to discharge wastewater into the sewer. Klean Waters' permit from OCS D required defendant to, among other things, test and, if necessary, treat wastewater so that the level of pollutants in it remained below permitted levels when it was discharged to the sewer.

In April 2015, without testing the wastewater, Miller knowingly caused Klean Waters to discharge wastewater into the sewer, so that the type and concentration of pollutants in the wastewater remained unknown.

United States District Judge Josephine L. Staton scheduled an April 14 sentencing hearing, at which time Miller will face a statutory maximum sentence of three years in federal prison and Klean Waters will face a statutory maximum sentence of three years' probation and $50,000 in fines.

The FBI and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Criminal Investigation Division investigated this matter.

Assistant United States Attorneys Rosalind Wang of the Santa Ana Branch Office and James A. Santiago of the International Narcotics, Money Laundering, and Racketeering Section are prosecuting this case.

paper. If no such publications exist, the municipality (based on classification and/or size) must open a bidding process for a legally-recognized newspaper to publish a legal notice (the bid dollar amount paid by the municipality to the publisher).

This is just one strand in a complex web of statutes in Wisconsin that make it very clear: the state views newspapers as a necessity to operating transparent government.

Laws and regulations just like these are common across all 50 states.

Time-and-time again in the nation, federal courts have validated the practices of print journalism. Entire series of books have been written on this matter, but if I can point to a prime example of how strong the “freedom of the press” is, I’d gesture towards a study of the Pentagon Papers.

As quickly as possible:

The Pentagon Papers (Papers) is a U.S. Department of Defense history on the United States’ political and military involvement in Vietnam from 1945-1967. Then-Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara commissioned the initial study in 1967 for the intent of creating an “encyclopedic history of the Vietnam War.” The study was conducted in secret; not even then-President Lyndon Johnson was aware the details were being compiled.

Inside the history is additional information about America’s involvement and – perhaps most controversially – intent during the U.S.-led conflict in Vietnam. Discrepancies on the scope of the war were also uncovered.

The classified history was leaked, and the New York Times published a fraction of the details.

One of the most detrimental revelations was records showing four executive administrations’ (Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson) direct involvement in perpetuating the conflict; key notes were hidden from the public until the Pentagon Papers went to print. Also revealed were previously unreported U.S.-led bombings in Cambodia and Laos and coastal raids in North Vietnam.

The U.S. government sued to halt publication of the exposé, but the Supreme Court sided (6-3) with the press in New York Times Co. v. United States.

Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black summed it up in one sentence.

“Only a free and unrestrained press can effectively expose deception in government,” he wrote in his opinion.

The result of the decision allowed journalists to approach their jobs even more unfettered, a timely consequence with the Watergate Scandal mere years in the future (at the time the Papers were published).

All of what resulted created (generally speaking) a foundational trust in newsrooms and investigative journalists. Still trying to remove the stains of yellow journalism in the earlier part of the century, newspapers reigned as the “foremost” and “reliable” source until the 21st century.

The ride came crashing down with the advent of the internet – a place where tried-and-true researching and reporting is replaced by opinion and conjecture – at which point “the news” and its ultraistic value was exchanged for “content” made to earn capital or to perpetuate viewpoints.

The irony, of course, is that far too many Americans absorb information online as “news” (and I realize “news” does exist in this medium, too), but a webpage, blog or social media platform is not regulated by the same standards as the press. Ultimately, the internet and its users enjoy a fully guaranteed “freedom of speech.” This can be troubling when bad actors exploit that freedom while presenting their opinions as news.

Newspapers, compared to online platforms, are held to higher ethical standards with punishments far harsher for those who violate libel laws (up to $5,000 fine and a maximum jail sentence of six months to one year). On the flipside, intentionally misleading Tweets and posts, or even open threats, might lead to a user simply being “banned” from a specific app (for a few minutes).

This is an important fact to note in the social media age; these spaces are protected by freedom of speech and, as such, do not carry the same consequences as a news entity.

If you think I am griping, I am not. The value of speaking freely on the internet – while occasionally eye-rolling – is clearly a right awarded by this country’s Constitution.

It is vital to note, though, that – in the future – the American public will need to find a way to differentiate “news” from “content” – and it will need to agree on reliable mediums and institutions from which to receive the news. This will be a difficult task, as – in an effort to increase the bottom line – many established news entities (particularly on television) have blended these two ideas.

That is not to say, however, that newspapers are not allowed to be entertaining. In fact, the opposite is true, as the success of regional and national print in the U.S. has hinged on colorful perspectives from innate storytellers, gifted photographers and complicated characters.

Next week, I will examine some aspects of the lighter side of newsprint and how it helps foster community, engagement and joy.

See you next week.

AN Outdoorsman's JOURNAL

A New Frontier

MARK WALTERS COLUMNIST

This week's column is going to be all over the map, because there is a lot to tell in the space that I have to tell it.

So, I am at one of those F-and-F stores that outdoorsmen and farmers love. I am in the parking lot and a fella comes up to me and asks about The Kids and Mentors Outdoors sticker on my truck.

Next, he asks me if I remember who he is.

I don't; this happens a lot.

Long story short, it's Mike Kindschi who - along with his father, Rick, and brother, Kurt - farms a couple-of-thousand acres near Mazomanee in Dane County.

I met Mike back in 2002 at Judd's Resort, which is on Lake Winnibigosh in northern Minnesota. I was with a couple of buddies, we were fishing perch - not catching squat - and Mike showed us where they were.

My new, old buddy tells me I am welcome to hunt pheasant or just about anything I want on his family farm.

FRIDAY, DEC. 30

HIGH: 27. LOW: 17.

We'll start with the tour, and it was a dandy.

In Mike's UTV, I was shown the 2,000 acres, which is more three miles in length, has 17 miles of ditch, a trout stream and a few ponds that have fish.

To make things even more perfect, the Kindschi farm is almost surrounded by public land known as The Lower Wisconsin State Riverway. Pheasant, duck, deer, turkey, goose and coyote country and, yours truly, has just decided he has a "new" best friend. Heck, I even gave my old buddy an elk roast and bear backstraps to seal the deal.

Interesting side note, this farm was a sauerkraut operation until the late '50s when it burnt down.

During WWII, German POWs were used to do much of the work, and they were housed in Lodi. The prisoners became popular with the locals and, after the war, some of them settled in this area.

Red had a minor misadventure from which she required saving. "All's well that ends well," said Mark Walters, who needed to lay out on the ice to pull the young pup to dry land. MARK WALTERS PHOTOS

Secret note, other than the basics, I have done very little hunting-type training with my nine-month-old golden retriever, Red. After Michelle passed away last June, training a pup to hunt was not a priority. There even is a chance she is partially gun shy, but on the other hand, she is very smart, tough and likes me.

So, I began my walk, which would cover ditch banks, unpicked corn, forest and brush and lots of harvested land that was in soybeans or corn. I am well aware that I may not see many pheasant as a brutal blizzard one week earlier had quite possibly killed them.

We walked maybe two minutes when Ruby and Red both broke through some ice on a ditch, and I watched Ruby literally blast herself out by digging her front paws in the ice and lunging. Red was thoroughly enjoying her swim and was not able to do what her mother did. If I had not been there, she would have been a goner. I tried getting to her, but the ice was weak, and the water was over my hip boots. I had Ruby stay on shore, grabbed her collar for an anchor, spread my body on the ice, grabbed Red's collar and gave her a jerk.

All's well that ends well.

Red and her rabbit.

Ruby, left, and Red compare their rabbit specimens.

So, I walk and the dogs are really trying to find something to chase, but I am not seeing much sign of pheasant in the way of tracks in the snow. Now, in the end, I would do this over two days but what I did see was a piece of land that I would like to explore a few times a year and maybe even bring some KAMO kids to hunt, fish or camp, and I think I can get permission to do that.

Ruby and Red did kick up some rabbits, and I was accurate, and Red had no fear of the gun and absolutely loved bringing the rabbits to me.

This piece of property and the surrounding public lands, which are in-part being developed for duck and mourning dove, may well become a part of my outdoor smorgasbord.

No matter how good or bad your day is, the sun always comes up the next morning!

A big mission of Dowland's is to increase awareness on the presence of illegal drugs in the community. She hopes to use her skill as a DRE to teach CPD officers and the community on how to identify if subjects or loved ones are addicted.

"The drug problem is huge, and it's an issue everywhere," said Dowland. "It's here in Campbellsport. There's no doubt about that."

Dowland explained how drug addiction could be a double-edged sword for both the user and the surrounding community.

"They need to feed their drug habit, and they may do that by stealing. Whether it's from their employer, another business or their family members," said Dowland, adding that recognition of addiction can be a great first step in preventing future unlawful activities or potential dangers to the community. "A lot of parents don't realize when their kids are using drugs. When you educate parents on what to look for... it can be preventative."

Dowland added that she wants to educate the community more on human trafficking, continue and improve relationships with the schools and, overall, foster a healthy connection with village residents.

"Cops are good," she said with a smile. "I want to be a positive role model and create that good relationship with [the Campbellsport community]."

In the future, after she completes a series of trainings and acclimates in her first month or two as chief, Dowland will meet with local business owners, and she offered her knowledge on loss prevention to anyone looking to further secure their business or home from intruders.

She's also champing-at-the-bit to learn what concerns the community has, and how she and her department can address them.

It will be just the start of a series of introductions for Chief Dowland, who lives in the St. Peters area just north of Fond du Lac.

"It's like 20 minutes from here," said Dowland, noting that – even off-duty – she will always be a short drive away in an emergency.

She and her husband, Travis, settled there several years back with a lot of life's biggest moments being celebrated at their homestead.

"We bought land up there. We got married on the land, and now we built our house on the land," said Dowland, adding that the pair has three kids at home to keep them busy. "When we have some free time, which isn't a lot, we are either taking the dogs for a walk or we're outdoors. We love metal detecting and magnet fishing."

A follow up question was asked.

"It's like this huge, heavy-duty magnet," explained Dowland, enthusiastic to share her information. "You throw it in the water and there's interesting, cool stuff you can find."

As for being the first woman to be named Campbellsport Police Chief, Dowland noted that becoming a department leader – regardless of gender – is an honor, but she added that nugget of what will now be village history was something she thought about.

"I think it's really neat to be apart of all these females that are police chiefs," said Dowland, noting that – in just the last few years in Wisconsin – the figure of female chiefs quickly went from single digits to double figures. "It's such a male-dominated field, so it's very neat to be a part of that history."

Yet, like a true law enforcement pro, Dowland noted that it doesn't change her duty: to serve and protect the people of Campbellsport.

"All-in-all, that's my job. That's what I'm here to do," she said.

Cougar Wrestlers Beat N.F.D.L., Take Second at Valders

ASST. COACH DAN HEISDORF
CHS WRESTLING

Last Thursday, the Cougar wrestlers beat North Fond du Lac/St. Mary Springs 72-5 to improve to 4-0 in the conference.

Winning by pin were Jacob Allickson, Chris Meyer, Ostin Blanchard, Sam Koth, Aydan Meilahn and Porter Klotz. Klotz was down 9-4 with 15 seconds left when he hit his opponent with a firemans carry and pinned him with seven seconds left.

Winning by decision were Gavin Pickering and JJ Ksioszk.

Winning by forfeit were Karsten Krueger, Joseph Volz, and Conner Sitzberger.

The Cougars are at home for a huge conference dual this Friday, January 20 against Lomira. Lomira is 5-0 in conference. It will also be alumni and youth night. Varsity starts at 7:00 p.m. Our youth wrestlers will be introduced around 6:30 p.m., alumni will be introduced throughout the night.

On Saturday, January 14, the Cougars traveled to Valders and took second out of 17 teams with Winneconne winning the event.

Ostin Blanchard (30-1) cruised to the 126-pound title with three pins, a technical fall and a 17-4 major decision in the championship against Garrett Ulness (20-10) of Valders.

Karsten Krueger, Brody Nolan, JJ Ksioszk and Joseph Volz all went 4-1 on the day to finish in second place. Krueger (25-6) had four pins before getting caught and pinned in the finals against Averick Deshon (27-6) of Winneconne. Nolan had two pins, a major and regular decision to get to the championship where he would fall to Ayden Hart (27-3) of Winneconne by technical fall. Ksioszk (24-9) had three pins and a major decision before losing by major decision to William Becker (30-2) of Pardeeville. Volz had four pins, including one over the seventh ranked wrestler in the state before losing to Curtis Downy (25-5) of Green Bay United by major decision.

Kyle Murphy (15-12) moved up to 285 and went 3-2 to take third place. Murphy got three pins. Jacob Allickson (12-10) and Aydan Meilahn (16-13) each took fifth place. Chris Meyer (23-7), Mac Jacobs (9-19) and Jake Bowe (5-6) took sixth. Sam Koth (25-8) and Conner Sitzberger (5-1) took ninth and Gavin Pickering (5-5) took 13th.

The Cougars will travel to the Sheboygan North Invite on Saturday, January 21. Wrestling starts at 9:30 a.m.

Scannell Bowls 802... Again

Jeff Scannell celebrates an 802 series. The 1984 Kewaskum High grad bowled an 802 in three games (236/266/300) last month on Tuesday, Dec. 27, at King Pin Ale House in West Bend. It's Scannell's eighth 800, and he's bowled 17 300-games. "What's weird is I already had an 800 earlier this year, and it was the same score [802]," noted Scannell. "[This last one], I ran 23 strikes in the last 24 frames." SUBMITTED one make on four attempts. That difference at the line helped contribute to a 52-43 defeat and the Indians fifth loss of the year.

Winneconne

Kewaskum began round two of conference play last Friday in Winneconne.

The Indians forced 16 first-half turnovers and Julia Steger had six offensive rebounds to help jump out to a 25-17 halftime lead.

Kewaskum struggled to shoot from three-point land against the Wolves zone defense (1-12).

The Indians were much more efficient in the second half by attacking inside. Morgan Adams and Madi Dogs each scored 15 points, and Kewaskum did not allow Winneconne to get back into this game.

Julia Steger and Brooke Gruen each had eight points to help Kewaskum to a 58-38 victory, moving the Indians to 5-2 in conference and 11-5 overall.

Kewaskum will host Ripon on Thursday.

Lady Indians Keep Pace in East Central, Kewaskum is 3-1 in 2023

ASST. COACH MIKE DREWNIAK KHS GIRLS BASKETBALL

The Kewaskum Indians girls basketball team continued its solid season in the new year, as the team currently sits in third in the East Central behind Waupun and Kettle Moraine Lutheran.

The Lady Indians helped their case for continued season last week, as they went 3-1, losing only a non-conference tilt to top-ranked Freedom on Jan. 10.

West Bend East

The girls hosted the West Bend East Suns on Jan. 3. Due to a rescheduling conflict, this home game had a different feel to it as it was held at the middle school.

Seniors Madi Dogs and Julia Steger felt quite comfortable in the gym they starred in just four years ago, as the pair combined for 27 first-half points to help the Indians jump out to a 38-21 halftime advantage.

Senior Morgan Adams had a career high eight steals to go along with her eight points as the Indians lead grew early in the second half.

The Suns made a late surge, but it wasn't enough, as the Indians prevailed, 62-50.

Dogs finished with 20 and Steger added 14 and grabbed eight rebounds.

Plymouth

Two days later, Plymouth visited

Senior Madilyn Dogs shoots a free throw for the Indians. Dogs scored 12 points and hauled in 12 rebounds during a win over Plymouth.

Kewaskum.

The Panthers talent may not be as high as other conference teams, but they always seem to bring toughness when they play Kewaskum.

Julia Steger and Madi Dogs each found themselves in early foul trouble in this one.

Kewaskum found success in the paint in the first half as the starting frontcourt of Dogs, Adams and junior Brooke Gruen combined for 22 of the Indians' 29 first-half points to lead by 16 going into the break.

Kewaskum proved they were the superior team in the second half as they continued to grow their lead with a balanced attack.

Dogs finished with 12 and grabbed 12 rebounds. Adams contributed 11 with four blocks, and Gruen tallied 10 points and eight rebounds.

Final score: Indians, 55 over Panthers, 30.

Kewaskum also welcomed W7 Productions to broadcast this game as well. W7 is in its fourth year and is growing to help promote girls' high school sports. This was their only scheduled game with the basketball team, but look for them to cover the softball team this spring.

Freedom

On Jan. 10, the Indians had the opportunity to knock off the once-beaten, second-ranked (Division 3) Freedom Irish in Kewaskum.

Freedom has size, a good shooter and a talented all-around point guard.

The first half was very entertaining, as the lead changed multiple times. Kewaskum showed flashes of what their ceiling could be offensively with superb ball movement, timely cuts and shot-making.

The Indians trailed, 30-24, at half.

Madi Dogs finished with 15 points and 10 rebounds and her frontcourt mate, Morgan Adams, had 11 points and four blocks.

It seemed Kewaskum played even or better in almost every aspect of this game with one exception: Freedom converted 13 of 17 free throws compared to Kewaskum's
