Kewaskum Plan Commission Votes Against Kettle Kountry Estates Rezoning

Approves Site Plan for Dog Kennel

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

The Village of Kewaskum Plan Commission met on Tuesday, Oct. 24, with more than one dozen members of the public and press present for a public hearing on the rezoning of parcels in the Kettle Kountry Estates subdivision.

Kettle Kountry Estates Rezoning

A request for the public hearing came from developer Gary Gavin who sought to rezone eight parcels in the Kettle Kountry Estates subdivision (on the village's east side) from RS-1 (single-family residential) to RD-1 (two-family residential development). Changing from RS-1 to RD-1 would allow Gavin to build condos on the parcels.

More than a half dozen people spoke, all of them residents of Kettle Kountry Estates, and all opposed the change in zoning (except for one resident who noted she was neither for nor against the plan).

"We moved from West Bend for the smalltown feel," said Ben Schiller, who lives on Drumlin

Indians' Soccer Season Ends in Sectional Game at Plymouth

KHS BOYS SOCCER

The first ever sectional game for the Kewaskum High School men's soccer team was a microcosm of their season.

Hosted Thursday, Oct. 26, by their conference rivals and the two-seeded Plymouth Panthers, Kewaskum was confident going into the game after coming off a big week that saw them win a home playoff game against Luxemburg-Casco and then travel to Fox Valley Lutheran to capture their first Regional final.

Despite the fact that Kewaskum's history with Plymouth is not great, with only one victory against the Panthers in school history, the Indians were not going to let that dampen their spirits.

The first half started the same as the season did with a slow start from the Indians. Just seven and a half minutes into the game, Plymouth used their substantial wind advantage to go up 1-0. The speed and size of the Plymouth attack caused the Kewaskum defense difficulties all first

Cougars Finish 15th at State Meet

COACH MIKE KULIBERT
CHS CROSS COUNTRY

The Campbellsport High School boys' cross country team wrapped up a memorable season with a 15th place finish at the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association State Cross Country Championships in Wisconsin Rapids on Saturday, Oct. 28.

It was the first Cougar boys team to run at state in 39 years.

The meet was held at The Ridges Golf Course, and 16 teams and 40 individual runners competed in the Division 2 boys race.

Freshman Garrett Pickering led the team finishing in 61st place overall and in 35th place among the competing teams. Out of the 152 runners, Pickering was the third best freshman in the race.

Brody and Logan Nolan have competed individually at the state meet in the past. Logan ran in 2021 and Brody in 2022. The brothers improved on their previous times at state, and both agreed that the start of the race was one of the fastest they have participated in.

Jon Thelen and Aydan Meilahn ran the last race of their career on Saturday. As it has been for much of the season, the two seniors crossed “Hallo” Halloween!

Dear Reader,

Halloween, rooted in ancient Celtic traditions, has evolved over centuries into a beloved modern holiday. Originally known as Samhain, it marked the end of the harvest season and the beginning of winter. Celts believed that on this night, the boundary between the living and the dead was blurred, allowing spirits to roam the Earth. To ward off these spirits, people lit bonfires and wore costumes.

Fast forward to the present day, Halloween has become a time of camaraderie for families and communities. It's a night when families come together to create and share memories. Parents and children often collaborate on costumes, turning their creativity into a memorable experience. Neighbors decorate their houses and open their doors to trick-or-treaters, fostering a sense of community.

This sense of togetherness extends to the tradition of trick-or-treating. Children excitedly go door-to-door, building a sense of neighborhood unity as they collect sweets and treats. This simple act of giving and receiving candy fosters a sense of belonging and creates lasting memories.

In essence, Halloween bridges the past and present, connecting us to our ancient roots while celebrating the bonds of family and community in the modern world. It's a time when history and camaraderie come together to make this holiday special for all generations.

County Executive Statement on Closure of UW-Milwaukee at Washington County

Josh Schoemann, Washington County executive, issued the following statement regarding the upcoming closure of the UW-Milwaukee at Washington County branch campus:

“As a past school board president in Washington County, I understand the difficulties of making tough decisions that affect a community and its students. One thing I learned from navigating such difficulties is that it is essential to keep schools focused on students. I remain wholly committed to keeping students first as we work through this transition, fighting to keep higher education opportunities in our community for the students of today and the future.”

| RURAL WRITES |

G.A. SCHEINOH
CONTRIBUTOR

Just another Sunday at the Outpost, down the road apiece from Eden, huh? Not by a long shot. Busy as all getup. Game on. Every team but our green and gold gridiron warriors. Their matchup came later in the day. Two men sat nearby.

While they ordered food, a woman aimed her phone, grabbed a swift screenshot. Amused in the extreme, I tossed off a glib, naive comment. They laughed at a joke beyond my grasp.

A faint light crept in as though someone cracked open the door to a darkened room. More patrons took photos or asked to pose with them. Even a dim bulb must emit a wee bit of luminance.

“Do you play for the Packers?” I asked rather sheepishly.

They conceded both had but were retired. One of them, Michael Wyche showed me a flyer for a book he'd written, Grief Through His Eyes. Previously he'd been a defensive tackle. Now he described himself as an entrepreneur, author and businessman. The other is Brandon Bostick, who was a tight end.

A sudden awareness of near complete ignorance, avoidance of football since childhood dawned. When, during Phys Ed, a skinny kid experienced how much the sport hurt. Lined up to scrimmage against much larger boys. Not to mention pick-up skirmishes with a maternal friend's young'uns at Greenwood Street in Fond du Lac. Tag turned to tackle. Once sacked on asphalt, dives for the grass just shy of the sidewalk became a standard move.

Embarrassment faded; I followed the crowd. Outside the former Packers stood beside a table laden with memorabilia, full size and mini helmets, footballs and jerseys. A few more in depth, intelligent questions were asked. How could any writer spurn a column thrown into their lap? Isn't like the NFL blows into a small town every day.

What A Treat

MITCHELL BRADLEY KELLER
EDITOR

As a somewhat recent new homeowner, I am still enjoying some of the smaller things in life.

For instance, for the last three years, we've been able to participate in our citywide trick-or-treat. I don't really like Halloween; I don't enjoy dressing up, candy hurts my teeth, and I can't watch scary movies (well, I can, but only if I don't need to sleep).

But I once loved Halloween, and I've found that my enjoyment of the holiday has returned, at least an iota, but for the sake of the roughly 100 or more children who stopped by last Sunday to ask that alliterative question.

“Treat” it was, all around, and throughout the afternoon tradition.

It was cold, but everyone was in good spirits, and I did manage to make it through most of the three-hour session by staying outdoors. Perhaps the allegorical warmth of the community kept me going.

In covering trick-or-treat events in this readership area on Saturday, I enjoyed the varied costumes (there didn't seem to be a “favorite” this year) and the combination of people filling the streets surrounded by gorgeous fall foliage.

I had so much fun, in fact, I thought: Why don't we do this every month?

I do still have about five pounds of candy...

See you next week.

‘That’s Just a Theory...A Food Theory’

CLARICE CASE
JOURNALIST

Maybe you recognize this week's title, maybe you don't.

This is the catchphrase said at the end of every YouTube video by Matthew Patrick, a.k.a. MatPat, the creator of The Game Theorists, The Film Theorists, The Style Theorists and, as we will be referring to today, The Food Theorists, channels.

On Saturday, Oct. 22, a video was posted to The Food Theorists channel titled, “Food Theory: Burger King is the WORST burger in America!”

Recently, a study was released ranking fast food cheeseburgers from most to least healthy. The article sharing the study was published on Gambling.com, and cannot be found anymore, prompting MatPat to conduct his own study and determine how accurate the ranking was.

Topping the list of the original study was Whataburger with In-N-Out taking second place. Our beloved Culver's was ranked fourth.

MatPat determined the true winner and healthiest fast food cheeseburger was Rally's All American Cheeseburger. It has 330 calories, 18 grams of total fat, 40 milligrams of cholesterol and 31 total carbs. However, it did have the lowest dietary fiber and protein values. If you ever find yourself in Springfield, Ill., you can give it a try as that may be the closest location.

Also earning healthiest cheeseburger bragging rights were Del Taco, Dairy Queen, In-N-Out, and you guessed it - Culver's!

A single ButterBurger Cheese with the “default” fixings is 500 calories, 23 grams of total fat, 75 milligrams of cholesterol, 940 milligrams of sodium, two grams of dietary fiber and 23 grams of protein. It ranked poorly in total carbs with 48 and sugars with 12 grams.

It is nice to know that my go-to order is a “healthier” option. Can't say the same for the onion rings and custard I usually add on.

And the title was not clickbait, Burger King truly has the least healthiest cheeseburger, which the original study also concluded. As for the original winner, Whataburger, it is also unhealthy.

MatPat also ranked Wendy's, Carl's Jr., Five Guys and McDonald's which were middle of the road in healthiness.

Congratulations, Craig Culver!

Fitzgerald Statement on Election of Speaker Mike Johnson

Congressman Scott Fitzgerald (WI-05) issued the following statement on October 25 regarding the election of Rep. Mike Johnson (LA-04) to serve as Speaker of the House in the 118th Congress:

“First and foremost, I'd like to congratulate my colleague and friend Mike Johnson on his election to lead the People's House. It's been a tough few weeks of building consensus, but I am proud of the candidate our conference has coalesced behind. Speaker Johnson is an honest Member of Congress who not only has strong conservative values but lives those values out through his work,” said Rep. Fitzgerald. “I've gotten to know Speaker Johnson through working together on the Judiciary Committee, and I couldn't be happier to have him at the helm. I look forward to getting back to work and passing conservative policy priorities under his leadership.”

Don't Get Stuck with Bogus Stamps

U.S. POSTAL INSPECTION SERVICE

Are you looking online for a good deal on postage stamps? Is there an ad for a substantial discount of up to 50% off an order of United States Forever Stamps?

Keep scrolling! They're probably counterfeit.

To ensure your trusted communication arrives at its destination without delay, the Postal Inspection Service wants you to be aware of—and avoid—phony postage.

The number of counterfeit stamps being sold from online platforms has escalated. Scammers peddle fake stamps on social media marketplaces, e-commerce sites via third party vendors, and other websites.

Counterfeit stamps are often sold in bulk quantities at a significant discount—anywhere from 20 to 50 percent of their face value. That's a tell-tale sign they're bogus.

Purchasing stamps from a third-party wholesaler or online websites can be unpredictable. You have no way to verify whether they are genuine or not.

The Postal Inspection Service recommends purchasing from Approved Postal Providers. Approved vendors can include legitimate "big box" or warehouse retailers who do provide very small discounts on postage stamps, but this is through resale agreements with the Postal Service.

Learn more about stamps and where to safely buy them at faq.usps.com/s/article/Postage-Stamps-The-Basics#foreverstamps.

Report counterfeit stamps and sellers at uspis.gov/report.

Information about the Veterans Day programs scheduled at area schools was included in this issue. Campbellsport Elementary School, Eden Elementary School, and Waucousta Lutheran Grade School are honoring Veterans with programs on Friday, November 9. The latter will honor veterans at a chapel service. Following a light breakfast at CES, a program will be held in the gym. Veterans can visit students in the EES classrooms for 15 minutes before their program and then a luncheon.

A local piece of history was destroyed by a fire in the early morning hours of October 24. The chapel at Camp Vista near Dundee was fully engulfed in flames when members of the Campbellsport Fire Department arrived shortly after 5 a.m. The main chapel, an approximately 50-foot by 80-foot building, is considered to be a total loss. No animals were lost and no injuries reported. The archives of Camp Vista were located in the chapel. At this time, the cause of the fire is unknown and is being investigated.

A new activity has been added to Columbus Parc. The Campbellsport Family Trail is underway. It is a new Born Learning Trail, which currently is along one side of the playground area at Columbus Parc. It is hoped to expand the trail to go around the playground. Born Learning began in 2005 as United Way's first national public engagement campaign. It made public service advertising, parent materials and online tips, tools and templates available to help United Ways advance early childhood impact strategies.

Students in the four-year-old kindergarten classes at Eden Elementary have been learning about apples. They learned about the apples and how they grow. Each student brought in an apple and took turns peeling the apples with the special apple peeling device; and the apples were then turned into friendship applesauce.

The Campbellsport Fire Department Auxiliary will host its annual Soup Sampler on November 3. In addition to sampling different soup and chili recipes, attendees can visit vendors, participate in raffles and auctions, and enjoy homemade desserts and refreshments.

Shepherd of the Hills Catholic School in Eden was awarded $9,987 in this round of grants from the Wisconsin Department of Justice School Safety Grant program, which focuses on advanced initiatives to bolster student mental health.

Harvey R. Kutz, 65, Fond du Lac, passed away October 25. Eileen D. Strassman, 85, Brownsville, passed away October 29.

Village of Campbellsport residents voted against an ordinance that would allow the creation of the administrator position. Unofficial election results showed 554 voting no to the referendum question and 352 voting yes. The second question was just advisory; asking residents if they felt the village needed a village administrator at this time. There were 657 no votes and 230 yes votes. If the village board would want to consider creating this position in the future, the question would again have to be put on the ballot as a referendum question.

Kettle Moraine Players has been busy rehearsing the production of Amateurs, a comedy by Tom Griffin. The production is being presented by the Campbellsport Lions Club, with proceeds benefiting the fire department. Amateurs will be performed November 7, 8, 9, 14, and 15.

The Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Campbellsport Volunteer Fire Department, is embarking on a project to build a playground and picnic area in Campbellsport that will be located at the CFD park area. "No Name" playground has an anticipated opening of July 4, 2009. The "No Name" Playground has already raised more than $10,000 from the co-ed dodgeball tournaments at the Campbellsport Picnic on July 4. However, more donations will be needed to make this playground a reality.

The Campbellsport 4-H Club held its first-year member admission ceremony. New members include Kara Martin, Abigail Gierach, Cheyanne Rendermann, Izabel Janz, Caitlin Carlson, Alexia Janz, Emily Ciriacks, Alyssa Gruenwald, Brianna Gruenwald, and Caitlin Oelke.

Several pages of this issue were dedicated to Veterans either from or now living in the area. The Veterans and/or their families submitted photos along with the name, military branch, final rank, and era served; and the photos and information appeared on the special pages honoring these Veterans in recognition of Veterans Day.

Five men who have all volunteered for the Beechwood Fire Department are veterans who served during the Vietnam War era. On October 13, the group went together on the Stars and Stripes Honor Flight to Washington, D.C. Bob Hartmann, John W. Klahn, Frank A. Poos, Jr., and Donald K. Ruplinger were amazed by the reception they received on the Honor Flight. Although they were treated like royalty throughout the trip and experienced a zealous welcome upon their return, their experience wasn't over yet. Members of the Kewaskum Fire Department greeted the veterans at Weasler Engineering and a fire truck escorted the bus they were riding all the way to St. Michael Catholic Church. From there, a Boltonville fire truck led the caravan until they were greeted by the fire trucks from the Beechwood Fire Department, which then escorted the bus to the fire station for a midnight snack.

Members of the 9/11 Memorial Committee and WTMJ Radio answered phones during a radio-athon on October 31. More than $34,000 was raised during the event for the memorial that is planned for Kewaskum.

A special school board meeting was requested by board member Timothy Ramthun. He and board president Troy Hanson set the agenda and posted it. Although there were members of the district's administrative staff and community members at the meeting, no one from the school board was there, so the meeting was not held.

Kewaskum High School will present The Wizard Of Oz on November 9 and 10. Grace Kober portrays Dorothy. She said it's fun, but there is a challenge...keeping track of Toto. Since the dog's real name is Maggie, the dog doesn't answer to Toto so the crew tries to keep the dog on track by giving her treats.

Property taxes for the Kewaskum School District are going down 5.14 percent for the 2018-19 school year from what they were in 2017-18 under a budget the Kewaskum School Board approved on October 29. The mill rate of $8.53 is down 46 cents from last year's rate of $8.99. That is one of the lowest tax rates this school district has ever had, according to Superintendent James Smasal. The school board voted 5-2 to approve a total tax levy of $11,537,057 and budget of $38,729,716. Jim Leister and Timothy Ramthun cast the no votes, neither giving a reason why they were voting no during the meeting.

Jon Leister was the only member of the Kewaskum Indians football team to be selected for an All-Conference spot. He earned unanimous first team selection on offense and is also a member of the first team defense.

Gary Ivan Sampson, 69, Campbellsport, passed away October 27.

Kewaskum's football team will host Port Washington on Saturday in the WIAA level three semi-final game. The Indians defeated Notre Dame 14-0. Kewaskum opened with a 15-play, 89-yard drive, and Eric Turowski punched the ball in from four yards out on an option for the touchdown. The other Kewaskum score came in the third quarter. Ray Wollner intercepted three yards from his own goal line. The Indians methodically moved the ball 97 yards in 14 plays. Quarterback Nick Olla took the ball in from one yard out.

Best-selling author and speaker Dr. Hal Urban will be leading a discussion on Character Education in Kewaskum at the high school on November 6. The public is invited to this free event. The next day, Urban will speak with school faculty and support staff.

Once Upon A Mattress will be presented in the Kewaskum High School Theatre on November 7, 8, and 9.

In past years, members from Holy Trinity, Peace United Church of Christ, and St. Michaels Catholic Church have come together with strong voice for the annual Ecumenical Service on Thanksgiving Eve. They will continue to do so as singers are encouraged to participate in the annual event.

The Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs will sponsor a Wisconsin Snowmobile Safety Course next month. Classes will cover snowmobile safety features, pre-ride inspections, basic riding skills, snowmobile rider responsibilities, and outdoor emergencies.

A daughter, Ayla Brynn, was born October 21 to Heather and Peter Rank of Kewaskum. A son, Frankie Donald, was born October 20 to Heather and Jeffrey Tennes of Kewaskum.

A record number of voters turned out at the polls for Tuesday's General Election, locally defeating the $17 million Kewaskum School District referendum. Question one of the two-part building referendum asking taxpayers to approve a new elementary school, reopen Beechwood Elementary School, and expand other district schools failed: 2,340 no votes to 1,682 yes votes. Question two, seeking approval of a $200,000 recurring referendum to staff and maintain new building projects also failed: 2,339 no votes to 1,571 yes votes.

At a recent meeting of the Washington County Council of the American Legion, Joe Enright, fire chief of the Boltonville Volunteer Fire Department, was honored as Firefighter of the Year. Chief Enright won all three levels and was so honored at the State American Legion Convention.

Drive. "There are covenants registered with the county. The expectations when we moved here was that this stays where it is."

These sentiments were mirrored by others, with some pushing the Plan Commission members to consider their opinion over any potential economic boons.

"I don't think that your decision should be all about economics," said Jim Geiger during the hearing. "You should also have the consideration of what people want in that area."

Gavin also spoke during the hearing and noted that the subdivision has been paused in development since roughly 2005. He said allowing a developer to put condos on the parcels would be beneficial for both the developer and the village. In the long run, he believed, the value of the new builds would also benefit village taxpayers.

"The subdivision has been sitting basically still since 2005," said Gavin. "Many developers have looked at it, and it's not feasible the way it is. I understand the concerns of the neighbors, but I really don't believe a duplex is going to diminish their value at all."

Gavin noted other duplexes he's developed sell for roughly $280,000.

Ultimately, Gavin said if he or another developer can't get a rezone, it's likely the subdivision will remain unfinished for the time being.

"If it doesn't get rezoned, it's going to sit empty," he postulated.

Once the public hearing was closed, discussion was had between commission members and Village Administrator Adam Gitter.

Gitter noted that the main issue with developing the parcels as single-family is the needed water and sewer infrastructure underneath the unfinished sections. There are also road sections that remain unfinished. The burden would be on the village and/or the builder/property owner to pay for this infrastructure, which has turned away potential suitors in the past.

"People have looked at this and an individual did buy [land] thinking he would build a single-family home on five acres," explained Gitter, who said that once the mounting costs added up, the plan was no longer possible. "They had to build the roads... they could never make it financially work."

Gitter continued that the value of duplexes helps offset the infrastructure costs for any developer.

"The conversation we've had, and why this is coming about, is duplexes tend to sell for $300,000 to $380,000 in the village. That's per unit, so $700,000 in value per building [which] allows... the roads to go in and [the projects to] still be cash-flow positive."

Gitter said village staff recommend the Plan Commission approve the rezoning.

Ultimately, the commission members found the concerns of the public more vital than the need to rezone. In discussion, each member expressed trepidation with setting a precedent wherein rezoning becomes too common an action of the village.

"The majority of people here are against it," said commission member Bret Klapper. "The reasons for it were economics. I don't know if people want to live in a community where they can change the zoning and build whatever they want."

The commission voted unanimously not to recommend the rezoning to the Village Board.

Dog Kennel

Also discussed was the creation of a dog kennel and boarding facility, located inside a village tax incremental finance district, off Prospect Drive on the village's south side. The future address of the kennel would be located off Trading Post Trail near Daco Precision Tool.

The dog kennel, which is a joint venture between Gavin and Tom and Ali Krueger (under the business name Kravin LLC), was discussed at a public hearing last month. At that meeting, residents of nearby condos as well as the condo developers took issue with several features of the plan, including the location and the possibility of offering alcohol on the premises.

At last week's meeting, Gavin said he discussed some of the major issues with the condo developers, adjusted his plan and said the site plan he presented the commission was given a blessing by the developers.

"We addressed the concerns," said Gavin, listing some of the alterations. "Individual dog runs from inside to the outside, that's been eliminated. We were proposing to put in a beer bar, we took that out. We did flip the building [in the design], so now everything toward Prospect... is going to be dog groomers."

Gavin added that the building moved 150 feet away from residential housing in the area, which he said was to help concerns about noise. He also stated that a surrounding fence will be eight feet instead of six.

Gitter noted that the inclusion of the kennel and boarding facility in the tax incremental finance district would require a conditional use permit, which is what the commission was considering on the evening.

"Don't have any feedback as far as concerns from the fire chief or public works director," said Gitter, adding that earlier engineering concerns were also rectified. "We've received the proper submittals as M1 limited manufacturing, which is compatible with that conditional use permit."

The Plan Commission approved the conditional use permit, the site plan, the architectural review and zoning permit. The final approval will go before the Village Board, which is scheduled to hold a public hearing and vote on the matter at the Nov. 20 meeting.

It’s November and the weather is getting chilly. That is a perfect time to cozy up to a new book and we have plenty for you to choose from.

In adult fiction, look for a new Alex Cross by James Patterson, the next David Baldacci’s 6:20 Man, Danielle Steel’s historical fiction about debutantes in The Ball at Versailles and many more. Thriller author, Gilly MacMillan releases The Manor House. In this suspenseful novel with a tag line of, “be careful what you wish for”, Nicole and Tom are a very much in-love couple. With a huge lottery win, they begin living a luxurious dream with fancy cars, a new mansion and everything they could have wanted. Until one of them is found dead in their swimming pool. Best-selling author Jacquelyn Mitchard releases a book about a woman returning home with exciting news, but in turn, her family and friends have upsetting news for her. In A Very Inconvenient Scandal, Frankie goes home to Cape Cod, newly engaged and pregnant and can’t wait to tell everyone. Instead, her father is also getting married, and her best friend is having a baby of her own. Add in a visit from Frankie’s estranged mother and all sorts of turmoil arise. We celebrate Native American Heritage in November and A Grandmother Begins the Story by Michelle Porter is a great read for this commemoration. It follows five generations of Métis women and their relationships with each

Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department Offers Safety Tips During Lead Awareness Month

October is Lead Awareness Month, so the Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department is raising awareness about childhood lead poisoning. While there is no safe level of lead identified for young children, and lead exposure in children can lead to developmental delays and learning and behavioral difficulties, there are many ways to test for and prevent lead poisoning.

Screening programs are the best way to identify children who are at risk for lead poisoning. Blood lead testing is provided by a primary care provider or health screener around one year and years years of age, or at least once between the ages of two and six. Children with elevated lead levels should receive regular health monitoring and follow-up testing.

Next, it's about controlling or eliminating the sources of exposure. Sources of lead exposure could be contaminated paint, soil, consumer products and water.

The Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department suggests several actions to keep children safe from potential lead exposure.

- Play safely – Keep children away from chipping paint; wash hands, toys, and pacifiers frequently; and dispose of recalled toys.

- Live safely – Use bottled water or a filter if you have lead in your water. Eating foods that are high in calcium, iron, and vitamin C can help children absorb less lead. If you are exposed to lead in your workplace, remove contaminated clothing and shoes before leaving work.

- Renovate safely – For homes with an identified lead issue, use contractors certified by the EPA. Clean your home using a vacuum with a HEPA filter, clean floors, walls, furniture, and windowsills to remove lead dust.

“This awareness month is another opportunity for us to be mindful of the ways we can prioritize the health of our families and community,” stated Kim Buechler, Director/Health Officer of the Washington Ozaukee Public Health Department. “These actions can prevent long-term effects associated with childhood lead poisoning.”

Additional information is at the following resources:

UW-Richland Campus to Close, Two Other UW Campuses to End In-person Instruction

Universities of Wisconsin President Jay Rothman announced on October 17, his decision to end in-person instruction at two additional branch campuses and to close one branch campus. Rothman also directed chancellors overseeing the remaining two-year campuses to work with local officials to determine the best uses for facilities to meet student and community needs.

The two campuses at which in-person instruction will end are UW-Milwaukee at Washington County and UW Oshkosh, Fond du Lac campus; the goal date is June 2024. UW-Platteville Richland will be closed. The decision follows Rothman's earlier directive to chancellors to explore the long-term viability of the branch campuses.

"It's time for us to realign our branch campuses to current market realities and prepare for the future. The status quo is not sustainable," Rothman said. "This decision is a response to an evolving student marketplace. Offering students an educational experience they deserve while working with local leaders to ensure it meets their expectations is key to our long-term success."

Rothman recently informed chancellors of his decision.

The actions would leave 10 remaining branch campuses located in Barron County, Baraboo, Manitowoc, Marinette, Marshfield, Menasha (Fox Cities), Rock County, Sheboygan, Waukesha, and Wausau.

Rothman charged the chancellors overseeing the 10 campuses to discuss future options with local county governments that own the buildings in which classes are offered.

"We want to work with the counties to determine the best way for our universities to serve their communities," Rothman said. "This reassessment is designed to ensure facilities are used in ways that meet community needs and provide long-term stability."

He said those conversations will involve utilizing the existing campuses or other possible locations in a range of ways, including offering four-year and graduate degree options, upskilling and reskilling opportunities for the existing workforce, expanding dual enrollment, or opening 'navigation centers' for high school and nontraditional students seeking guidance on their university journey. Rothman said retaining the remaining branch campuses is an option that will be determined by community needs and the ability of the Universities of Wisconsin to meet those needs.

Choices made by the vast majority of traditional and nontraditional students are driving the decision, Rothman said, not cost savings.

"We are seeing freshman enrollment rising at most of our four-year campuses while enrollment at the two-year campuses has been falling at a rapid rate for years," Rothman said. "Moreover, online enrollment has been trending up as well. The market is telling us that increasingly students are pursuing a degree at our four-year campuses or online."

Rothman added that the student experience is waning on some branch campuses because of the decline in enrollment. Existing students attending the campuses where in-person learning will be no longer available will be offered enrollment options at other universities.

Rothman told chancellors to embark on the negotiations promptly with the goal of cementing a clear pathway by early spring 2024.

SSM Health Greater Fond du Lac, Fond du Lac Fire Rescue Offer Parents Child Car Seat Safety Assistance

Each year, thousands of young children are killed or injured in car crashes. Proper use of car seats helps keep children safe. In addition, four out of five car seats are not used or installed correctly. Because so many different seats are on the market, many parents find this overwhelming.

The good news is that help is available locally through SSM Health Greater Fond du Lac and Fond du Lac Fire Rescue. Before parents travel with their child or children, it's important to have a child's seat checked for free by a certified child passenger safety technician. Certified technicians can help make sure a car seat is properly installed. They will teach parents so that they can always be sure any car seat is used correctly. This free service is available for all Fond du Lac County residents. Thanks to a $4,000 Bureau of Transportation safety grant, Fond du Lac County has access to a variety of child car seats for eligible families facing financial barriers.

Child car seats are not all the same. The type of seat a child needs depends on several things, including the child's age, size, and developmental needs. So, it's important to read the vehicle owner's manual and the car safety seat manual each time the seat is installed. All parents can benefit from getting professional installation help to ensure that their child's seat is properly installed. SSM Health Greater Fond du Lac currently has two certified child passenger safety technicians, and the Fond du Lac Fire Rescue has two. A complete safety check takes 30-40 minutes.

To access certified child passenger safety technicians within SSM Health, call 920-926-5774 for Maria Vossekuil, Fond du Lac, or email Devan Nehls, Waupun, at devan.nehls@ssmhealth.com. At the Fond du Lac Fire Rescue, Jason Roberts and Jennie Mildebrandt offer these services within the Community Risk Reduction department. Call 920-322-3808 for an appointment.

Fond du Lac County is fortunate to have four certified child passenger safety technicians to help parents ensure child car seats are safely utilized. In addition, thanks to a safety grant, eligible families facing financial barriers can access free child car seats. A few of the available car seats are shown with from left, Devan Nehls, Jason Roberts, Jennie Mildebrandt, and Maria Vossekuil. SUBMITTED

"This resource is crucial for our families who face financial barriers," according to Vossekuil. "The funding for Fond du Lac County has blessed us with the ability to lift that financial burden for many families by not only offering a free safety seat to eligible families, but also educating on the proper use and installation of that seat.

"This really can empower that family that they are not only making a choice to actively participate in their child's care, but also promote their safety," Vossekuil adds. "It can also allow them to breathe that sigh of relief when they know they can allot that money to other monthly expenses such as food, clothing, gas, etc. To a family that is facing financial hardships, every little bit helps!"

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and Safe Kids Worldwide jointly offer a standardized course to teach a variety of professionals how to help parents do a better job of protecting their children by developing technical skills regarding child passenger protection, identifying misuse and correcting it, becoming a community resource, educating others in child passenger safety issues, and reducing potential liability.

This course involves hands-on experience, critiquing and installing car seats. Individuals who complete the course and pass required testing will become entry-level technicians certified for two years by Safe Kids Worldwide.

"As an emergency department nurse, traffic accidents are sometimes out of our control," Nehls explains. "But as a parent, ensuring your child is safely secured in the car seat preventing a major injury is something we can control. I look forward to how many families we can impact providing car seat education and assistance in our community."

D.N.R. Seeking Hunting Instructors for Hunter Safety and Learn to Hunt Programs

WIS. DEPT. OF NATURAL RESOURCES

Are you a safe, ethical hunter with at least five years of hunting experience and a passion for passing this historic Wisconsin tradition on to future generations? We need your help to teach Hunter Education and Learn to Hunt programs.

Wisconsin's Hunter Education program has a standard, internationally approved curriculum that focuses on the basics like firearm safety and specific hunting scenarios. Hunter Education is required for all Wisconsin hunters born after Jan. 1, 1973.

The Learn to Hunt program is a Wisconsin-specific program intended to teach novice hunters additional skills beyond those covered in the Hunter Education program. These classes are a great opportunity to share your first-hand knowledge and experience with the next generation of Wisconsin hunters.

Learn more about each of these great programs on our outdoor skills webpage (dnr.wisconsin.gov/Education/OutdoorSkills/lth).

Through both programs, the DNR can offer a variety of opportunities to help facilitate hunting for people of all ages, experience levels and backgrounds while ensuring that hunting in Wisconsin stays safe and relevant for future generations.

These critical programs are only possible with the help of volunteer instructors across Wisconsin. If you have hunting experience, please consider becoming a volunteer instructor for either Hunter Education, Learn to Hunt or both!

Know a lot about hunting but not a lot about teaching? No problem – we can help train you. Reach out to your local outdoor skills trainer for more information about becoming a certified volunteer instructor, including information about training opportunities.

Campbellsport Playoff Run Ends in Level 2

BEN PRIESGEN
 JOURNALIST

The Campbellsport Cougar's football season came to an end following a 35-0 defeat at the hands of the Two Rivers Raiders in Level 2 of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association (WIAA) Division 4 playoffs last Friday night in Manitowoc.

The game was moved to Ron Rubick Municipal Field in Manitowoc due to the field condition concerns in Two Rivers after the rainy week.

The Cougars (8-3) were focused the week of practice prior to Friday's playoff game.

"They were focused on their gameplan and doing their job assignments in preparation of the playing the number-one seed on the road," confirmed Head Coach Todd Wondra.

Campbellsport received great news on Monday when their star senior running back Ben Timm was cleared to play for the contest.

Two Rivers (11-0) started the game with a flash. Max Matthias opened play with a 93-yard kickoff return for a touchdown, which gave his Raiders an early 7-0 lead with the made extra point.

Two Rivers continued its big-play ways with another by Matthias; a 63-yard reception for a score, giving the Raiders a 14-0 after the extra point with 2:45 remaining in the first quarter.

The Cougars stuck with their gameplan but couldn't finish drives to get much needed points against the high-scoring offense of Two Rivers.

The Raiders scored another touchdown – a Chase Matthias one-yard score – to give them a 21-0 lead at halftime.

Campbellsport lost a key defensive piece in JJ Ksioszk, which forced the coaching staff to adjust their defense in an attempt to slow down Two Rivers.

The Raiders added two more second-half passing touchdowns by Justin Klinkner to put the final score at 35-0.

Timm led the Cougars with 141 yards on 26 carries. His fellow backs, Evan Wilcox (23 yards) and Mason Willacker (35 yards) combined to support the rushing totals.

"There is no shame losing to a team like Two Rivers, but that doesn't reduce the sting of the loss to end the season," said Wondra, noting it was a solid year all-around for the Blue-and-Gold. "Friday night was the ending of good season for Campbellsport football."

W.I.A.A. Board of Control Approves Rule Changes in Two Spring Sports

TODD CLARK
 COMMUNICATIONS DIRECTOR

The Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association (WIAA) Board of Control approved coaches advisory committee rule change recommendations in baseball and track & field at its October meeting.

Beginning in June 2024, the higher-seeded team at the State Baseball Tournament will be declared the home team for each game in all divisions. For regionals and for the sectional semifinal level, the higher-seeded team will be the home team in all divisions. For the sectional finals, the higher seed will be declared the home team in Division 1, and a coin flip will determine the home team in Divisions 2, 3 and 4.

The Board approved two recommendations advanced by the track & field coaches, effective in the spring of 2024, both pertain to the Tournament Series schedule. The first establishes the same order of field events for all divisions at the sectional meets and the State Meet to mirror the existing Division 1 order. The prescribed order will be girls high jump, girls long jump, girls shot put, boys pole vault, boys triple jump followed by boys discus, and then, flip the gender in the same order of events.

The second change impacts the Division 2 and 3 regionals and sectionals in 2024. The 200-meter dash preliminary heats will be eliminated to again mirror the existing Division 1 schedule. In addition, the schedule will be adjusted to conduct the boys 110 hurdles preliminaries followed by the girls 100 hurdles preliminaries. After a 15-minute break, the girls will run the finals of the 100 hurdles with the boys 110 hurdles final to follow.

On another action item, the Board approved the 2024-25 and 2025-26 fall season co-ops, which includes two new co-ops. Marion/Tigerton as well as St. Ambrose/Abundant Life Christian will operate as co-op cross country programs for boys and girls.

Among the discussions with the Board were a review of the 2023 Area Meetings, including feedback on the Menti polls and the coaching contact and membership expectation breakout discussions, as well as the ongoing efforts to recruit and retain licensed sport officials.

The Board was introduced to several possible Constitutional amendments that will be reviewed by the committee process to determine if they advance to the membership for a vote at the Annual Meeting. The

AN Outdoorsman's JOURNAL

Green Bay/Elk Hunt on My Mind

MARK WALTERS
COLUMNIST

This week I spent a day, a night and part of a day in my 18.6 War Eagle with my golden retrievers – Ruby and Red – fishing for walleye.

Though I was very into this adventure I cannot get the next one off my mind, which is living in the mountains of Montana and hunting mule deer and elk.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 11
HIGH 55, LOW 42

My goal for this trip was at least a limit of walleye and to have a genuine go-for-it experience with Ruby and Red while we fished, cooked and slept in the War Eagle; exploring many miles of the incredible fishery called Green Bay.

I might add that I knew difficult weather conditions were approaching, but they were not supposed to hit until my drive home on Thursday night.

One of my first decisions was where to launch at: Suamico, Geano Beach or Peshtigo.

That decision was made simply because Suamico was first on my drive, I know how to fish in all of these areas and so it did not really matter. Some bad news came repeatedly when I was preparing my rig at the landing and every fishermen that I spoke with talked about fish that simply were not feeding.

Nothing was going to kill my excellent mood, and I motored out to big water and started setting out three lines, all with crankbaits, and began to troll towards Green Bay, which was maybe five miles away.

At first, I was not very smooth, as running planer boards alone takes focus, but I got good at it and was very happy and knew that soon big walleye would come in large numbers.

In reality, I am on crunch time for my elk/mule deer hunt. Gear and the weather forecast are constantly on my mind; a spike camp up high, a base camp down low.

I did my first elk hunt 20 years ago and have done four in total. Every single hunt, I have been hit with a major blizzard either the day before or on the opening day of the season. That is why so much planning is required. Last year a blizzard hit on opening morning. I shot my 6x6 an hour after daylight, it snowed for two days, and I did not see another hunter until day four of the season.

So, today, I am trolling while catching nothing and not seeing any other fishermen put their net down either.

Here is what I thought about with almost zero wind as I headed toward Green Bay: The Packers and how huge they are for the NFL, how they kind of suck this year and how fortunate we are to have such reliable professional sport teams in Wisconsin.

Just before dark I had my first hit, and it was the largest striped bass that I have ever caught or seen.

At dark, I idled to shore, but it was too shallow to make it to shore. I had the dogs swim/wade to shore to do their business and I anchored the boat and set up a very comfortable bed.

Over the course of the night I had several setbacks.

One, the Green Bay tide went out and my boat became very stuck. I noticed this late in the evening and had to put on my hip boots and bull dog my rig to deeper water. Two, my sleeping bag was becoming soaked through due to a heavy dew, I covered up and with a tarp and that took care of that. Three, both pups want to sleep with their heads literally on my neck/chin and Red dreams a lot, which means she groans, purrs and yelps while squirming around.

Before first light, the wind picked up and this was the real story. I was three miles from the landing and had planned on fishing all day. I set out three lines began trolling and, at times, I had four-footers and sometimes they were less than two.

I took in a lot of water, but I had a bilge pump and that is critical. Eventually I got used to the high seas; I could only work my lines on my knees to avoid falling overboard.

I put in five hours hunting walleye and never had a strike before the waves told me that I had pushed my luck long enough.

One of the premier hunts that is left, maybe, in my lifetime is next. I really do not care about antler size, but I would love to whack a muley, an elk or both.

Time will tell.

Wash. Co. Trail Sharks End Season at State Championships

WASHINGTON COUNTY
TRAIL SHARKS

It was the Washington County Trail Sharks' fifth and final race of the season on Sunday, Oct. 22, at Trek Trails in Waterloo for the State Championship. The Trail Sharks had 41 athletes representing the team with over 1200 participants in the race.

This is a fun yet challenging venue from rocky terrain, steep technical single track hills, cornering and roll downs. This venue is typically closed to the public – only open for special events, Trek employees and their pro riders – making it one everyone loves to come to.

With a frosty, fall morning start, the riders had to worry about wet grass on fast, tight turns especially coming into the home stretch to the finish line. The crowd of spectators piled into the woods to cheer on their athletes – wearing Halloween costumes, ringing cow bells and cheering at the top of their lungs. It is always a sight to behold.

The team had three athletes on the podium bringing home medals for their individual race and also took fourth in team standings. Since this was the State Championship, overall race season medals and trophies were awarded based on points earned. half and on the first goal's occasion they exploited the defensive back line of the Indians. It was a high bouncing long ball over the top of the mid-field to a charging striker that was able to corral the ball, make a touch or two towards the middle of the field, and sneak a shot just past a collapsing center back that had the Kewaskum goalkeeper's view shielded so when he finally got a view of the ball it was heading into the side netting for the game's first goal.

Kewaskum was able to not panic and regain their composure and had a golden opportunity, less than two minutes later, to equalize as Hayden Johnson played a perfect timed through ball to streaking winger Charlie Gambino who was able to put a quality shot on target. The Plymouth keeper was up to the challenge though and pushed it to the side of the goal which was very unfortunate as he deflected it back into play striker Eli Steinbauer who was waiting with baited breath to redirect it into the net.

The opportunity did not materialize in the form of a tying goal; it did give the Indians their first corner kick of the evening. Kewaskum has been lethal on corner kicks this season and needed some magic once again.

The well prepared Panthers weren't having it on this day though, thwarting every set piece the Indians looked to capitalize on with a header or clearance from their sizable defensive back line.

Both teams generated multiple opportunities, but no one was able to capitalize and the first half looked to end at a 1-0 lead for the hosts. That is until Plymouth's speed on the left side, once again, was too much for the Kewaskum defense to keep up with. With a bit of miscommunication and poor closure of space from the Indians, they allowed the Plymouth attacker to pick his spot and slot home their second goal of the half.

With about eight minutes left, Kewaskum feverishly tried to pull the score closer, but heading into a stiff wind and Panther defense, they just couldn't crack the scoreless barrier.

It was 0-2 at halftime. We've seen this before.

Of course, that stiff wind advantage the home side had in the first half inconveniently died down at half time as the two teams changed sides. With the memory of last Saturday's come from behind win against Fox Valley Lutheran, even mother nature wasn't going to discourage Kewaskum from fighting back into the game.

And fight they did, as just eight minutes into the second half, Johnson fought a very physical defensive unit into the penalty area with the ball and drew a penalty kick (PK). His normal calm, cool and collected manner prevailed again as he banged home the PK.

The "cardiac kids" from Kewaskum were back in the game.

With continued pressure and a number of opportunities generated, it seemed as if it was just a matter of time before the equalizing goal was going to come. As the minutes evaporated away, Kewaskum moved pieces around to try to unbalance Plymouth's defense resulting in multiple shots on goal.

After a fantastic sequence that had Kewaskum in possession for a number of passes in a row, Gambino directed a shot on goal that was saved.

Then the best chance for Kewaskum in the second half came as the closing minutes continued to tick away when Luke Grover deflected a desperate clearance back into the danger area to a waiting Mac Hasse who gathered it and put a left-footed strike on target, with pace, and with elevation that had the Plymouth goalkeeper backpedaling. With a leap and a poke over the crossbar, it felt like that was the last chance for the Indians.

As was the case all evening, Plymouth was able to get to the following corner kick before any of the crashing Indians.

As all well coached teams do, the Plymouth Panthers controlled the final few minutes of the game by keeping the ball away from their opposition and stalling on any out of bounds plays, free kicks or possession away from their end of the field.

The time ticked by and eventually ran out on the game and the season for the Kewaskum soccer team.

In it until the end and fighting the whole time, the young men from Kewaskum had nothing to hang their heads about. It was a good comeback in the game and on the season.

After a 0-5 start, no one may have thought the season would have been as successful as it ended up being, but these guys did. The tears in the teams' eyes shows the passion and desire to have been able to carry on with the season. The tears in the seniors' eyes showed the finality of it all.

Though there was disappointment in the air, there is nothing for this group to be disappointed about. The game, like the season, showed the never quit attitude, the trust in one another, the passion for the game, team, and competing.

This team accomplished so much including the first ever Regional Final trophy, which rewarded them with their first ever Sectional Semifinal game, and percentage wise, their best season in school history at 12-9-1.

With the foundation this senior class has laid and the excitement of the returning members, the future looks bright for the Kewaskum High School Indians Men's Soccer Team.
